NEW YORKISMS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NEW YORK, April 10, 1869. The enemies to an amended Excise law have met tegether in solemn conclave and determined that it s a sin and a shame that beer should be sold on Sunday, and have likewise appointed a deputation of three to wait, in earnest protestation, upon the Senate at Albany. The meeting was composed of all good citizens who objected to beer as a beverage, or manything else, and the addresses were made by a quantity of well-intentioned old fogies who knew nothing whatever of the subject they were speaking o', excepting that they were dead-set against beer. Beer, they thought, was but another name for brandy, and to permit it on Sunday would only be inserting the small edge of the wedge. Meantime, there is a likelihood of the Germans gaining the day.

there is a likelihood of the Germans gaining the day.

Unless they have their beer they threaten to desert their Republican friends and to go over to the other aide. They will, it is not unlikely, be granted, as a matter of expediency, a privilege which could never be extended as a right. The facts and the figures which demonstrate that everybody is so much better off without anything stronger than strong water or weak tea, weigh just nothing at all against the clamorousness of the Tentons, who despise the anti-lager Americans as much as John Bull does for our not possessing any "bloody 'ops." Under the present dispensation, Harlem or Hoboken upon the Sabbath is the beer-drinker's only choice, and the Excise law and the "Mulberry street myrmidons," as the Hersery styles Kennedy's right-hand men, are to them a horror and a disgust.

Miss Elise Holt, who is to the Waverly what Miss Lydia Thompson is to Niblo's, has been ill for several weeks with diptheria, but has recovered sufficiently to reappear on Monday night. In consequence of Robinson Crusoe not being quite ready, Miss Mariott will do Hamlet for another week at Wood's Museum.

Mrs. J. H. Allen, who, several seasons ago, made Unless they have their beer they threaten to desert will do Hamilet for another week at wood's studenth.

Mrs. J. H. Allen, who, several sensons ago, made such a pretty support to Mr. Forrest, is achieved in health, and sails for Europe this noon. At Miss Markstein's concert the other evening, you might have thought you were in a synagogue, so muniticent was the sprinkling of Jews. The general verdict, not of her friends, but of the critics, was that she has much to learn and more to unlearn. But then she is only fourteen, quite a child. She has been badly taught in many respects, and her present teacher, Mr. Von Inten, is not the best that could be desired. A new sensation is on hand at the establishment which, during the winter, was known as the Empire Skating Rink. It is now known as the Mammoth Velocipediome, and the entertainment consists of a "fancy dress and masquerade velocipede carnival," admission to which is fifty cents, fancy dresses to be hired on the spot. This evening a ran for $1000 is to come of, and for next week some "velocipediam acrobats," constituting a "velocipede troupe" (Parisian, of course), is announced. It conhave thought you were in a synagogue, so muniticent troupe" (Parisian, of course), is announced. It consusts of two sisters and three brothers, and the costames they are to wear are described as "the most gorgeous the world can produce." How long will it take for this velocipede mania to wear out, I wonder? The velocipede manufacturers think not for some months, calculating from the present quantity of their advertisements.

CITY INTELLIGENCE. THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Annual Report Additional Information Concerning the Operations of 1868. We have received from Mr. George E. Chambers, the Registrar of the Board of Health, a copy of the completed report of the Board for the year 1868. The statistics of births, deaths, and marriages for the year have already been published. The following table gives the misances that need abatement are of importance to the public:

"This board desire to call attention to the condition of things in Bedford street, between Sixth and Seventh streets, and some of the adjoining streets. It is not necessary to enter into particulars, as they have been fully detailed in most of the daily papers on the occasion of a recent visit of the Sanitary Committee to the locality in question. The board have adopted measures to remedy the evil, so far as the mere removal of filth is concerned; but any such measures can only be partial in their effect, so long as the buildings in question are allowed to remain and be inhabited, as they now are, by crowds of human beings, victims of the most revolting wretchedness and vice. The efforts of the Redford Street Mission, and of its most self-denying missionary, the Rev. John D. Long, size in great measure paralyzed by the character of the surroundings to which the wretches among whom they labor are subjected. Some outbuildings in which they are horded are in every respect more like pig styes than residences for human beings; and ret we are informed that the annual amount axtorted from those poor creatures sometimes greatly exceeds in amount that of the whole value of these miserable pens. Cellars, also, without other ventilation than the door, are inhabited, and as a night crowded.

"The plain remedy for all these evils is beyond the power of this board, and we beg leave to call attention to the subject as one of the most crying evils in our mists. We are glad to observe that the Grand Jury, in a late presentment, calls attention to this subject, and suggests that sail juries be instructed to visit tenement-houses, and such recents of crime and filth, and slad to observe that the Grand Jury, in a late presentment, calls attention to this subject, and suggests that said juries be instructed to visit tenement-houses, and such resorts of crime and filth, and immortality and squalor, as Bedford and St. Mary streets. So long as these dens of wretchedness, where every species of crime finds votaries, are permitted to exist, so long will our courts be full of petty cases of bareeny, riots, unisances, and drinkenness. We may add that so long, also, will our critizens be subjected to additional danger from the spread of contagious diseases by means of the constant circulation of beggars between their several residences and the districts in question.

"We also wish to call attention to another sanitary measure, which appears to be imperatively demanded. We understand that some of the divisions of the public schools are ill adapted to the purpose, and very prejudicial to the health of the children. Large numbers of children are crowded into recome much too small for the purpose, and without other ventilation than the window. The health of the teachers is said to have suffered so much in some instances, from breathing such a foul atmosphere, that they have been obliged to abandon their duties for a time, and have their places supplied by others.

"The great importance of ventilation in rooms where large numbers of persons are collected together, even for a short time, is universally acknowledged. How much more important, then, when the same individuals are subjected daily, for many hours, to breathing over and over the same pitiated atmosphere."

WASHINGTON

The Last Hours of the First Sassion of the Forty-first Congress.

Special Despatch to The Boening Telegraph. The Adjournment of the House and Senate.

Washington, April 10.—The Senate talked against time on the bill to pay the Southern Senators during the Fortieth Congress, and killed it. All the bills passed, except one for the relief of Rollin Walte, were signed by the President before the adjournment.

The Cubans and their friends are in great gies over the passage of Banks' resolution of sympathy with and for the recognition of Cuban independence.

Fifty-one Executive nominations remained without action when the Senate adjourned, including all of the New York city internal revenue appointments. The Adjournment of the House and Senate.

the New York city internal revenue appointments. These will, of course, fall, and the President will be ompelled to renominate them or other persons in helr places.

their places.

The House adjourned amid much confusion, occasioned by the auxiety of members to get through pet resolutions and measures at the last moment; sometimes nearly all the members were on their feet at once, but Speaker Biaine declined to recognize any one until order was restored. In this way a number of these measures were defeated.

CONGRESS TO-DAY.

Senate.

Washington, April 10.—The Senate continued in Executive session until 4 o'clock, A. M., when it resumed the regular session, agreed to the conference report on the Amendatory Tax bill, and then adjourned till 10 o'clock

A. M.
At 10 o'clock the Senate reassembled.
The bill relating to the Attorney-General of the United States was amended and passed.
Mr. Murton moved to take up the resolution to pay the Senators from the reconstructed States, from the commencement of the second session of the Fortieth Congress. Senators from the reconstructed states, from the commencement of the second session of the Fortieth Congress. Mr. Terry moved to amend so as to compensate the Senators only from June 25, 1868.

After some discussion of the resolution, Mr. Wilson moved to postpone it and take up the joint resolution declaring the meaning of the act regulating the hours of labor. Lost.

The discussion was continued until 12 o'clock, when the President pro tem., Mr. Anthony, declared the Senate adjourned without day.

House of Representatives. House of Representatives.

The House resumed its session at 10 A. M.
Mr. Banks offered the following.—Be it resolved by the House of Representatives, That the people of the United States sympathize with the people of Cuba in their patriotic efforts to secure their independence and establish a republican form of government, guaranteeing personal liberty and equal political rights of all the people; and the House of Representatives will give its constitutional support to the President of the United States whenever, in his opinion, a republican government shall have been established, and be may deem it expedient to recognize the independence and sovereignty of such republican government.

A vote on the resolution developed the absence of a quorum, and a call of the House was ordered. While the roll was being called a quorum appeared, and all further proceedings under the call were dispensed with.

Mr. Banks inoved to suspend the rules for the purpose of passing the resolution.

The rules were suspended and the resolution passed—yeas, 98; nays, 25.

The following is the negative vote:—Messrs. Adams, Beaman, Biggs, Burr, Cleveland, Davis, Eldridge, Golladay, Hall, Hawkins, Kerr, Niblack, Parker, Paino, Rogers, Sargent, Stevens, Sweeney, Townsond, Van Trump, Wills, Willard, F. M. Wilson, and Winchester.

Mr. Upton moved to suspend the rules and take up the contested election case in the Fourth South Carolina District. Eldridge moved the House adjourn. Negatived, 26: nave 106. Mr. Eldridge moved the House adjourn. Negatived. Yeas 26; nays 106.

Mr. Bardett moved to suspend all rules for the purpose of pressing a resolution reported from the Committee on Elections, setting forth that in the contested election case of Wallace vs. Simpson, from the Fourth district of South Carolina, Mr. Wallace is entitled to a seat in the House.

Mr. Holman moved a call of the House.

The Speaker decided the motion out of order.

Mr. Holman appealed from the decision of the chair.

The Speaker decided to entertain the appeal, adding that the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Holman, was familiar with the rules.

Mr. Brooks moved that the House adjourn, on which the yeas and nays were ordered.

Mr. Brooks moved that the House adjourn, on which the yeas and nays were ordered.

The House again refused to adjourn—Yeas 22, nays 99.

Mr. Paine stated that it was so near the close of the session that it was impossible for the resolution offered by the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. Burdett) to pass without unanimous consent. He therefore appealed to the gentleman to withdraw it.

Mr. Burdett said under the circumstances he would with-

Mr. Burdett said under the transmission of the wit.

Mr. Dawes called up the joint resolution relative to a site for the building of a new State Department. Passed.

Mr. Ferry, from the Committee on Rules, offered a resolution that the name of the Committee on Roads and Canals be changed to that of Railways and Canals. Adopted.

Mr. Laflin, from the Committe on Printing, reported a resolution of a resolution of the resolut Air. Latlin, from the Committe on Printing, reported a resolution in favor of printing 30,000 extra copies of the report of the Commissioner of Patents; 5000 copies of the Message of the President relative to the depredations of Rebel vessels; 60,000 extra copies of the Land Office report, and 20,000 copies of the letter of E. B. Elliott, on international coinage. All of which were adopted.

Mr. Jenckes called up the bill for the relief of Rollin White. Passed. White. Passed.

Mr. Jonekes offered a resolution authorizing the Select Committee on the Ninth Census to appoint a sub-committee, to sit during the recess, and send for persons, and take testinony, and to report a bill at the next session of Congress. Adopted.

The Speaker appointed a committee on the part of the House to wait on the President and inform him that unless he had some further communication to make the two houses were ready to adjourn.

he had some further communication to make the two houses were ready to adjourn.

Several attempts were made to introduce various resolutions, but objections were made.

Mr. Dawes reported the committee appointed to wait on the President and performed that duty, and that he informed them he had no further communication to make.

The hour of 12 o'clock having arrived, the Speaker declared the House adjourned without day.

The Tax Bill. The Tax Bill.

In the House last night, during the debate on the Tax bill, Mr. Marshall, member of the conference committee, also explained and advocated the report.

The debate was further continued by Messrs. Dawes, Voothees, Marshall, Jones (Ky.), and Schenck.

Mr. Schenck, answering to the argument of Messrs. Logan and Butler, remarked that some people make their charges openly, while others insimute lies, and thus add cowardice to insuit.

Mr. Logan asked Mr. Schenck whether he alluded to him in speaking of those who insimuate lies, and thus add insult to falsehood?

Mr. Schenck.—No, sir.
Mr. Butler—I ask the gentleman whether Pharisee did not say, "I thank God that I am not like other men?"
Mr. Schenck—I think it very probable. Anything that hypocrasy may have attered I dare say will be familiar to the gentleman in whatever form it may come.
The discussion closed, and the conference report was arread to.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE. House of Representatives.

House of Representatives.

Hannisurno, April 10.—Mr. McGinnis moved that the Senate bill known as the Philadelphia cattle bill, be put upon the private calendar of next week.

Mr. Kleckner objected.

Resolutions being in order, Mr. McGinnis then presented his motion in the shape of a resolution.

Mr. Kleckner raised a point of order, which was sustained, that it would require a two-thirds vote to adopt the resolution, the bill having been reported with a negative recommendation. A viva roce vote was taken, when the resolution was defeated by a decided majority.

The Senate resolution relative to the final adjournment of the Legislature next Thursday was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The House then adjourned until Monday afternoon at 2½ o'clock.

Movements of the Congressmen-The Foreign Appointments-Secretary Borie and President Grant-Doingsof the Philadelphia Delegation.

Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph.

The Breaking Up. Washington, April 10.—Several members will leave for their hours this evening. A majority, however, will remain to look after nominations from their districts and other matters islating to their constituents. Messrs, Kelley and Myors have been constituents. Messrs, Kelley and Myers have been so exhausted by the labors of the last day's session and fearful outside pressure for appointments that they are completely worn out, and will not leave for home for several days.

Messrs. O'Neill and Randall will probably go home to-night. Mr. O'Neill will return on Monday to attend to some business connected with his district. The President will send in the nominations for foreign appointments at the beginning of next week. It is understood that a majority of them were agreed than the Cabbat analysis. upon at the Cabinet meeting vesterday.

The Philadelphia Delegation. The Philadelphia Delegation.

A delegation from the Union Lengue, headed by ex-Mayor McAllchael, called upon the President to-day and pressed the claims of George H. Boker for a foreign appointment. As Boker wants a first-class mission, it is doubtful if he will get it, inasmuch as Curtin has already been selected for Russia, and the programme is not to give two first class missions to any one State.

The Philadelphia Pension Agency. Among the nominations not acted upon was that of A. R. Calhoun, to be Pension Agent at Philadelphia. The President will have to send in his name to the Senate next week. He is so strongly recommended that there is little doubt but that he will be again nominated for the place Secretary Borie.

Secretary Borie.

It is understood that the attacks which have been made upon Secretary of the Navy Borie in newspapers are inspired by the staff officers of the navy and their friends. The President has perfect confidence in Mr. Borie, and approves his administration of the Navy Department. The demands for his removal will not therefore be acceded to, and he is likely to remain at the head of the Navy Department during Grant's administration, except he should Amendments to the Southern Reconstruction Bill.

Among the amendments to the Mississippi, Texas, and Virginia Election bill, which were agreed to by both houses, was one offered by Senator Sawyer, providing that the election shall be held under the new Registration law. It is stated that this will admit about 16,000 additional white voters in Virginia, and throw out several thousand fraudulent negro voters who were enrolled in the First district. Itt will also admit quite a number of additional white voters in Texas and Mississippi.
