CITY INTELLIGENCE. TWITCHELL AGAIN.

An Alleged Confession How the Murder was The melancholy tragedy which commenced with the murder of Mrs. Hill and ended with the suicide of George S. Twitchell, Jr., in his cell on the night previous to his appointed execution, would seem to have no ending as far as reports about its various details are concerned. During the past few hours a ramor of a full confession by the suicide to his counsel has been widely circulated, and on tracing it to its source, we regard it as of sufficient importance and reliability to be laid before the public. It is necessary to state in advance, however, that Twitchell's counsel feel unable to give the public any direct light on the subject, being bound, by the rules of professional etiquette, not to divulge any secrets confided to them by their client.

The confession which Twitchell is reported to have made to his counsel is substantially as follows:-On the day previous to the murder of Mrs. Hill, Twitchell, bent upon effecting her death with his own hands, made a slung-shot at his place of busi-ness in Camden. With this murderous weapon he struck the old lady a formidable blow, no one but the actors in the tragedy being present, and then, mnassisted, threw the body from the window into the pard. He then walked down stairs into the yard, and proceeded to wash the blood from his hands at the hydrant. While so engaged he noticed that the body of his mother-in-law lying near him still exhibited manifestations of life. As soon as this discovery was made he hastened into the house, entering the kitchen first. The first mur-derous weapon which he encountered here was the poker found near the body of the murdered woman. This he seized, and hurrying back to the yard deait the dying woman another blow on the head, finishing the murderous work. He then repaired to his room, and the deed was discovered in the manner with which the public is already familiar.

Such is the substance of the alleged confession, and we give it for what it is worth. It will not be amiss, however, to recall a circumstance which tends in some measure to confirm this story. Mr. Mann, on the trial of Twitchell, endeavored to prove that the weapon which inflicted the fatal blows was a siung-shot, and not the poker. If, as reported, Mr. Mann really knew that a slung-shot did the work, his earnestness in pressing this point can be readily ac

The Board was first organized June 1, 1968, and already numbers upwards of 60 members, among whom will be found most of the wall known among whom will be found most of the well-known

A NEW MAP OF PHILADELPHIA .- A new map of this city, 50 by 62 inches, has just been published by Mr. H. J. Toudy, No. 505 Chesnut street. It is beau-tifully colored, showing the different wards, and Fairmount Park complete, with correct limits of park as prescribed in the act of Assembly approved March 26, 1867. The map is reduced from a large survey of the city belonging to the Department of Surveys, and carefully corrected from plans and draughts in the Department of Surveys. It is also highly recommended by Mr. Kneass, Chief Engineer of the city. A correct map is greatly needed and should be used by every business man, as it gives all the different streets, alleys, courts, etc., with a directory of public and private institutions in the city. An examination of the map will convince any one of its superiority over all others ever published in the city.

THE TABERNACLE METHODIST CHURCH .- During the past few months this church has grown rapidly in numbers, and now compares favorably with some of the largest congregations of this denomination in the In order to carry forward some of the benevo lent movements of the church, the services of Rev.
J. T. Gracey have been secured, for the purpose of grving two lectures on his extensive travels in "India." These lectures will be given by "India." These lectures will be given in the church, Eleventh street, above Jefferson, on Thursday and Friday evenings of the coming week. The description of the empire of the Moguls, its learning, art, and science, of the Himalayah Mountains, and other subjects, form material for an evening of instruction and amplement.

IMPORTANT TO THE WHISKY TRADE.—The following important order has been issued by the Commissioner of Internal Revenne to the various collectors:—

"In all withdrawals of distilled spirits from any old class A or class B warehouses, you will collect the tax of sixty densy per gallon upon the quantity as shown by the guage at the tax's said spirits were deposited in or transferred to the warehouse in which they now are.

"The above rule will apply to all spirits produced prior to July 20, 1883."

The promulgation of this order is based upon the Commissioner's construction of the law passed by the last Congress in reference to the extension of the time for withdrawing spirits from the old bonded warehouse, and effectually closes the question of leakage and evaporation for which, under the previous act, an allowance was made. IMPORTANT TO THE WHISKY TRADE .- The following

DROWNED.—An unknown white man was found drowned in the Schuyikill near the Point Breeze Gas Works this morning.

UNSUCCESSFUL BURGLARY. LETTER OF MESSRS, DAVID DOWS & CO. NEW YORK, April 10, 1868. HERRING, FARREL & SHERMAN,

No. 251 Broadway. Gents:-On the night of the 22d ultimo, our store, No. 20 South street, was entered, and a desperate attempt made by burglars upon one of your safes in our counting-room. The key to the safe in which we kept our securities was locked inside of our fire-proof book safe, the doors of which were literally cut to pieces; from this they obtained the key to the other safe and opened it. Fortunately we had one of your Burglar-Proof Banker's Chests inside, in which our valuables were deposited. This they went to work at with a will, and evidently used up all their time and tools in vain attempts to force it. The night was dark and stormy, and the fact of their knowing where our key was kept shows that their plans were well matured. They tried wedging the door and body of the Chest, and the faithful safe bears evidence of the labor and skill devoted to the work. All was useless, and it is with great satisfaction we report that upon opening it we found our securities all safe, and can therefore cheerfully indorse the Burglar-Proof work recommended

You will please send the new safe purchased by us to our counting-house, and take the old one, to show that some safes are still manufactured worthy of the name. DAVID DOWS & Co.

Opposition to Diplomatic Nominations-Chinese and Spanish Missions-Treaties with Great Britain.

ADVICES FROM EUROPE.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Diplomatic Appointments. Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The President has not replied to the hint from the Committee on Foreign Relation relative to the unfitness of some of the appointments for foreign missions. It is understood that he wants to throw the responsibility of their appointment or rejection on the Senate. In the mean time, they are hung up in the committee, and will likely remain. Among those in peril are J. Russell Jones, Pile, and Sanford. The Committee on Commerce having read the charges of Copperheadism preferred against several persons nominated for Consuls, has sent to the State Department to know how they are recommended, and how they came to be appointed. Among those certain to be rejected are Edward Stephens, Ann S. Stephens' son, nominated for Leeds, and a man named Wittemore, from Pennsylvania, nominated for Manchester.

The English Naturalization Treaty. An effort was made in the Executive session to-day to reconsider the vote by which the English naturalization treaty was ratified. After considerable debate the motion failed.

Confirmations. The nomination of Riotte, Minister to Costa Rica, was taken up, and after debate he was confirmed. A motion was made to reconsider the case of Howard as Minister to China, and debated for a long time, and he was finally confirmed by a close vote. Considerable opposition is developing against Carliste, Minister to Stockholm. Sanford will also be strenuously opposed, but Sumner hopes to get him

The United States Senate.

Washington, April 17.—The Senate was called to order at noon, after the reading of the journal.

Mr. Willey presented petitions for the removal of political disabilities, which were referred to the Committee on Disabilities.

Mr. Sherman presented the memorial and resolutions of the Ohio Legislature, protesting against further grants of lands to railroads, or for other purposes.

Mr. Edmunds then moved to take up the resolution offered by him yesterday, providing for an adjournment today at 5 o'clock, and signified his intention to offer an amendment fixing next Monday as the day of adjournment.

Mr. Chandler suggested making it Tuesday, but the Chair announced that the resolution was not yet before the Senate.

the Senate.

Mr. Summer expressed a hope that it would be taken up, and urged the propriety of letting it lie over till Monday, when, perhaps, the Senators could see their way through the press of accumulated business, which could only be finished at as early a day as Tuesday.

Mr. Conkling thought a time should be fixed for the guidance of both the Senate and the President, and suggested the advisability of appointing a committee to wait on the President and ascertain what amount of business remained to be considered. The session could readily be extended by a simple vote of the Senate.

Mr. Morton also thought it would be best to fix a time for the adjournment. Mr. Morton also thought it would be best to fix a time for the adjournment.

Mr. Ramsay argued that it would be impossible in a few days to examine properly the large number of nominations still pending, and which are coming in at the rate of one hundred and fifty a day.

BERLIN, April 17 .- Bismark has accepted the interpretation of the responsibility of ministers bill which has just been passed by the North German Parliament. The design of the measure is to check opposition to the actual management of business. 1 Discussion on the Irish Church Bill.

LONDON, April 17.—The debate in the House of Commons on the Irish Church bill was resumed last evening. Mr. Disraeli moved to omit the following clause from the bill:—"On and after lowing clause from the bill:-"On and after the 1st day of January, 1871, said union, created by act of Parliament, between the Churches of Engof freland, hereinafter referred to as said Church, shall cease to be established by law.

Mr. Disraeli supported the proposition in a speech of considerable length, contending that the above clause destroyed the supremacy of the Crown and placed the Church at placed the Church at a disadvantage.

Messrs. Collier and Roundell Palmer spoke in oposition to the amendment. Mr. Gladstone spoke against the amendment, traversing the statements made by Disraell. He thought, notwithstanding this clause, that the premacy of the crown would continue to exist, but in an altered form. If the amendment were successful it would absolutely destroy the bill. The union of the Churches would continue, but that union must not be enforced by Parliamentary bonds. Disraeli admitted that his intention was to aim a mortal blow at the bill, but if his motion was accepted, the Government could still continue their is decidedly the best Sofa Bed ever invented. It can be extended from a Sofa into a handsome French Bedstead, with hair spring mattress, in ten seconds of time. It requires no unscrewing or detaching, has no separation between back and seat, no cords to break, and no hinged foot attached to the top of the back to support it when down, which is unsafe and liable to get out of repair. It has the conveniences of a bureau for holding clothing, is easily managed, and it is impossible for it to get out of order.

Price about the same as an ordinary sofa.

WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA?

DYSPEPSIA HAS THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

1. A Constant Pain or Uneasiness in the Pit of the Stomach, which is caused by a permanent contraction of the stomach upon undigested food. It generally begins immediately or a short time after eating; is generally very severe and obsti-

2. Flatulence and Acidity.—Those symptoms arise from the indigestion of food, which ferments, instead of digesting.

3. Costiveness and Loss of Appetite.—These symptoms are the effects of the unnatural condition of the food in the stomach, and the want of pure bile and gastric julce. The stomach is often painfully distended by wind; the appetite is sometimes voracious.

4. Gloom and Depression of Spirits.-This state unfits many for the enjoyment of life, and is caused by the impure blood furnished by imperfect digestion. In this stage of the disease many persons commit suicide. There is a constant foreboding of evil, and an indifference and positive inability to perform the offices of life. 5. Diarrhea. - After being at first costive, the sufferer is afflicted with diarrhoa, which is owing to a diseased condition of the bowels produced by the undigested food, which is evacuated in the same condition as when caten, and of course gives no strength to the system. 6. Pains in all Parts of the System-Arise from the action of impure blood upon the nerves. They are felt chiedy in the head, sides, and breast, and in the extremities. In many cases there is an uneasiness in the throat, with a sense of choking or suffocation; the mouth is often clammy, with a bad taste and furred tongue. 7. Consumptive Symptoms and Palpitation of the Heart. Many persons pronounced as having these diseases have, in fact, nothing but Dyspepsia, the lung and heart disease being only symptoms. 8. Cough,-This is a very frequent symptom of Dyspepsia, and leads very often into confirmed Consumption.

9. Want of Sleep.—A very distressing symptom, resulting often in mental derangement. 10. Symptoms of External Relation,-The patient is affected painfully by cold and heat, which is owing to unnatural dryness of skin, and the skin is often affected by eruptions and tet-ters. The gloomy dyspeptic avoids society as much as possible. 11. Vomiting .- A frequent and distressing symptom. It relieves the pain, but emaciates and wears out the patient. 12. Dizziness, Dimness of Vision, Headache, and Staggering in Walking.—These are very alarming symptoms, which are speedfly removed by our medicine, but if neglected are quickly followed by numbness and sudden death, 13. It is impossible for us to give all the symptoms of Dyspepsia in so small a space, but the above are considered sufficient, if we add that the patient loses his memory and regard to surrounding objects, and frequently becomes morose and sour in disposition. We should say, however, that pains in the joints and stiffness of the limbs, which go by the name of Rheumatism and Neuralgia, are produced by Dyspepsia. Also, a hardness of the muscles of the abdomen, which becomes contracted and hard; and in some cases the belly sinks, instead of being gently prominent. A touch of the Dyspepsia has changed a man's whole life, and an irregularity of the bile has made many an angel almost a fiend. If the gastric juice is all right, and the blood in swimming order, the world is a nice, bright, pleasant place, from which nobody is in a hurry to move; but if in that queer, mysterious fluid there is an alloy, the sky of life is all cloud, the winds howl, and everything is dark and dismal. If you want to feel happy, look after your digestive and circulating systems. One box of Dr. Wishart's Great American Dyspepsia Pills will cure the most aggravated and long standing cases of Dyspepsia, where physicians and all other remedies fail.
