WHAT IS A TONIC?-Bear this in mend-that although a tonic is, to a certain extent, a stimulant-a stimulant, un modified by any medicinal substances, is not a tonic, but A DEBILITANT, In HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS there is a stimulating element of the purest grade manufac bured in this or any other country. Every fiery and corro sive oil or acid which contaminates the ordinary liquors of commerce, is expelled from the recepirit which forms the alcoholic basis of the BITTERS, by careful and repeated rectification. The juices of the valuable roots, barks, and herbs infused into this wholesome product of the finest grain, still further modify its nature; so that it becomes, in fact, a simple diffusive agent, wiew all the heady and brain exciting properties which belong, more or less, to all liquors in a raw state. It is merely the safe and harmless vehicle which renders the medicinal virtues of the prepa ration effective-increasing their active power, and diffusing them through the system. Hence the pleasant and gentle glow which is experienced after taking a dose of the BITTERS. Instead of creating headache, as unmedicated stimulants are apt to do, this salubrious tonic is the best known remedy for that complaint. It calms and soothes serebral excitement, strengthens the nerves, promotes the secretion of the gastric juice, invigorates the bowels. determines the fluids to the surface, improves the appetite, increases the animal vigor, regulates organic action. and, from its mild yet effective alterative qualities, is the very best preparation that can be administered to the weaker sex in the peculiar difficulties to which their or ganization subjects them.

A DESIRE.—It has long been a desire with medical men to have an agreeable tonic which will act beneficially upon the different functions of the system without deleterious effect. Speer's "Standard Wine Bitters" fully meet the want so long felt. Their base is his pure wine, withou any medication, except by herbs and roots. Sold by drug-
