To the Subscribers and Friends of the Phila-delphia Fountain Society.

Remarks and criticisms having been made from time to time apon the fountains which have been erected by the Philadelphia Fountain ociety, I beg leave to state that every effort has been made, and will continue to be made, on the part of the officers, to render their fountains, as they are intended to be, useful and ornamental to the city; that the funds in the hands of the Treasurer at the present time do not authorize an expenditure of their means in ornamentation, would only prevent their extension and contract the line of their usefulness, but that they hope in time, as their subscribers and donaions increase, to exercise more taste, and make their fountains not only a blessing to all, but an ornament to the city of Philadelphia. At the present stage of their organization, and the limited means at their disposal, the officers can only hope to provide water in the streets for both man and beast—the main object of their care and solicitude. The model which has been adopted is plain and substantial, and as well dapted for the purposes intended as any to be found in other parts of the world, and our friends should consider that, where usefulness is the chief object, architectural beauty becomes a econdary consideration.

The objection made to the foam sometimes remaining in the horse-trough opposite Seventh and Walnut streets, from there being no overlow to carry it off, is natural and just-a defechat has not escaped the vigilance of the Fountain Committee, and which has been corrected in the construction of the fountain in Chesnut street, above Fifth. The necessity of avoiding the waste of water has limited the supply at the fountains, which otherwise might be a serious objection to the Water Department, in the large number of fountains proposed to be erected by

With these explanations I hope that a liberal celing will be extended to the humane purposes of the society, and every encouragement given to make our city deserving of the name of the City of Fountains. W. C. SWANN, President.

NOTICE .- THE UNDERSIGNED NOTICE.—THE UNDERSIGNED would call the attention of the public to his NEW GOLDEN EAGLE FURNACE.
This is an entirely new heater. It is so constructed as to once commend itself to general favor, being a combination of wrought and cast iron. It is very simple in its construction, and is perfectly air-tight, self-cleaning, having no pipes or drums to be taken out and cleaned. It is so arranged with upright flues as to produce a larger amount of heat from the same weight of coal than any furnace now in use. The hygrometric condition of the air as produced by my new arrangement of evaporation will at once demonstrate that it is the only Hot Air Furnace that will produce a perfectly healthy atmosphere.
Those in want of a complete Heating Apparatus would do well to call and examine the Golden Ragle.
