CITY INTELLIGENCE.

The Chernut Street Theatre. — Elise Holt's mariesque Troupe having nearly finished its day in this city, and being about to relinquish the occupancy of the Chesnut Street Theatre, that building will soon be yielded up to workmen for remodelling. And it really needs such a reconstruction, as even its most infatuated shampions and patrons are compelled to confess. Mr. Cochran, its owner, some time since determined upon an entire change in its interior arrangement, and only awaited the end of the dramatic season to carry his intentions into effect. The work will be done under the superintendence of Mr. J. C. Sidney, the architect, who proposes to make an entire change in the arrangement of seats and ornamentation of the house. The first fidor is to be changed so as to include a parquet and parquet circle. The seats will be eatied now in both as well as in the dress circle, THE CHESNUT STREET THEATRE. - Elise Holt's the house. The seats will be entirely new in both as well as in the dress circle, and will be much enlarged and improved as to comfort. The fronts of the parquet circle, dress circle, and family circle will be of the semi-circular form, somewhat like the Academy of Music. The proscenium will be entirely new, as well as the stage boxes, and arranged so that every seat in the theatre will afford a porfect view of the stage. The staircase is to be removed, and four handsome dights put up so as to give ample ingress and egress. The seats up so as to give ample ingress and egress. The seats will be uphoistered in the best manner, and the decoration will be finished in white, crimson, and gold, set off by handsome chandellers around the curves. If the work is carried out as proposed the proprietor will give our city as handsome a theatre as any in the country, and much enhance the value

Negroes Assaulted by Policemen.—At moon to-day Recorder Givin heard the cases of John B. Noonan and John McLaughlin, both pelicemen of the Third district, who were charged with breaking into the house of Miss Priscilla Emerson (colored), No. 618 Middle alley, and committing assault and battery on that lady and Clement Harred (colored).

committing assault and battery on that lady and Clement Harred (colored).

Priscilla Emerson sworn—I live in the rear of No. 618 Middle alley: know defendants; about 12% o'clock on Thursday they came to my door; they bursted it open; McLaughlin came up and grabbed me by the breast, and drew me down stairs, and struck me on the shoulder with a blackjack; he did not arrest me; they did not show any warrant; Noonan did not attempt to strike me.

Clement Harred, residing in the same vicinity, testified —I was present on the occasion of the assault on Mrs. Emerson; McLaughlin was dressed in citizen's clothes; I saw him burst the door open and make the assault on Mrs. Emerson, during which he dragged her down the stairs; I remonstrated with him, when he struck me in the face with his fat; he then caught me, and attempted to strike me with a blackjack; he had no warrant; Noonan morely obeyed McLaughlin in catching hold of me; I was arrested.

Several witnesses were examined and corrobo rated the above witnesses. Noonan was discharged and McLaughlin held in $1000 ball, Alderman White Another charge was preferred against McLaughlin of assanting Alexander Martin, a colored lad.

Annie Owens, residing at No. 621 Middle alley, testified that she saw McLaughlin on Wednesday enter that house and ferk the lad down the stairs; he dragged the lad into the yard, where he was breather down and struck over the head twice with knocked down and struck over the head twice with a blackjack by the policeman.

A number of witnesses corroborated this testimony, and the prisoner was held for trial.

THE STREETS .- As the public learned several days since (on the ist of the month), the warrants of a number of the street contractors were withheld because their districts had not been properly cleaned, the action of the Board of Health in this matter, while it secured the approbation of the citizens, of course could not fail in awaking disappointment, if nothing more, in the minds of the contractors. Evidently some of them imagined, as under the old system, they could do as they chose, clean or not clean, and still receive their pay. When the first of the month caffe, and their final reports showed their sections yet far behind, they asked but didn't receive. The Board of Health couldn't see the matter in the same light, and pay was minus. The derelict contractors, at any rate some of them, were rather vehement in the language they employed when re-fused, but to no avail. Spurred on by the fear that, in case their districts were not broomed and sho-velled hastily they would lose both pay and contract, within the past two or three days they have been making superhuman exertions. Several of them will probably, in consideration of the efforts they are now honestly making, get their warrants in a few days, but others stand a very poor chance of retain-ing their contracts at all. Other parties, more capae, experienced, and honest, will have to take their

THE NEW EXCURSION HOUSE, ATLANTIC CITY .-This splendid structure is rapidly approaching com-pletion. When unished it will be found to be the largest, most complete, and convenient edifice of the kind in the country. But little remains to do now, before opening it to the public, save putting in which, we understand, will be accomplished in a few days. The dining-room will seat eight hundred guests at one time, comfortably, and quite an army of silver castors, plates, tureens, knives and forks, etc? are on exhibition at the manufacturers', in this city, preparatory to sending them to Atlantic. The articles are all of the best manufacture, and cost from six to eight thousand dollars. Colonel Mundy, the active and efficient agent of the Camden and Atlantic Railroad, superintended the filling of this large order, and his good taste and judgment are clearly discernible throughout the whole extent of it.

A BARTENDER BADLY BEATEN, John Gafagan anpeared at the Mayor's office this morning, with a frightful looking head. He stated that he was a bartender for a saloon at Second and Walnut streets and yesterday he. was waited on by a couple of roughs, to whom he refused to sell liquor. They then knocked him down and beat him fearfully. He had had one of them arrested and taken before Alderman Dougherty, who required bail in the extremely small amount of $300. The injured party wanted another warrant for the other parties, and he wanted that justice should be administered. He he wanted that justice should be was directed to Alderman Kerr.

SUSPECTED OF BURGLARY .- Jacob Davis was arrested yesterday at the North Pennsylvania Railroad Depot on suspicion of burglary. It seems that during the previous night one of the offices on the line of the road was broken into, and among the alternative the were two tickets, one of which the prisoner gave the conductor for his passage to the city. He had in his possession a lot of skeleton keys, two loaded revolvers, and other burglarious implements. On being taken before Alderman Heins the prisoner was held for a further hearing.

Finding that he could not catch him, the policeman drew his revolver and fired a couple of shots. He then slipped, and while attempting to recover himself the revolver went off headentally. The ball carried away the foreinger of the left hand.

A FEMALE SHOPLIFTER.—Last evening two women went into the store of Southwick & Co., at No. 17 S. The Annual Session of the General Synod—The Proceedings This Morning.

This morning at 9 o'clock the fourth day of the session of this body commenced its proceedings in the church northwest corner Seventh and Spring Garden streets, the President, Rev. Charles H. Stitt, D. D., presiding.

The roll was called by the clerk, and the minutes of the proceeding day being approved, the devotional exercises were held as usual, and participated in by Rev. J. H. Pitcher, Rev. J. H. Suydam, Prof. W. H. Crosby, Rev. Z. Eddy, D. D., Rev. J. S. Hartley, and Rev. H. Hermann.

At the expiration of the devotional exercises the regular business was proceeded with, as allows—

A number of members asked leave of absence for the remainder of the session on account of different causes, which were respectively granted.

Rev. Peter Stryker, D. D., delegate from the New School Presbyterian Church, addressed the Synod, and was responded to by the President.

Rev. Dr. S. S. Smucker, D. D., delegate from the Evangelical Lutheran Church, addressed the Synod at much length, and was listened to with much attention.

An address was made in reply by the President, who referred to the similarity of the teachings of the two doctrines, Lutheran and Reformed, both of them being animated by the spirit of Martin cutter, beyond which the Protestant sect did not care to go. He did not consider a fusion or consolidation of the churches necessary, but thought work could be as well if not better accomplished by oach one preserving its mini-vituality and special forms.

The special order for the morning being reached, a report from the Committee of the chairman, Rev. J. M. C. Holmes reasons why the action proposed by the committee should be adopted.

1. Resolved, That the Synod considers it desirable to form a new particular Synod, and that the Classes of Borgen, South Bergen, Monmouth, New Brunswick, Paramus, Passaic, Philadelphia, and Faritan, be and are dismissed from the particular Synod of New York, to constitute a new particular Synod.

The resolution was adopted, and considerable discussion taking place as to the name by which the new Synod should be designated, it was finally determined to call it the Synod of New Brunswick.

The other resolutions referred to the appointment of a time for the meeting of the new Synod, and the appointment of a certain number of m uistors and eiters to attend the same, which were adopted, together with the following:

The Classes of Kingston and Orange are to be transitived from the bynod of Aibany to the particular Synod of New

Rev. Dr. Phelps protested against the attempt to direct the proceedings of particular synods by specified r from this General Synod. What the Reformed Chu from this General Synod. What the Reformed Church wanted was liberty and not fetters, and he was free to say, that he disliked the idea of the particular Synods being bound up in this manner by synodical resolutions.

Dr. Vermilye thought that if, instead of agreeling to have a service of a prescribed character, saying certain prayers at certain hours, and other services as set forth, something could be done to bring the churches together in a spirit and feeling of common brotherhood, it would tend more directly to the advancement of religion.

Rev. Isaaci S. Hartley thought that while the hours for certain services, sermons, etc., might be agreed on, the subject chosen for those particular occasions should not be designated by this General Synod, but that each particular Synod have authority to dispose of the subject as hereetofore.

E.Dr. Holmes, chairman of the committee, defended the resolution, saying it had cost the committee much consideration and axiety. It had been agreed on as one of the most important features to the conducement of synodical progress. He gave the reasons which to a great extent influenced the committee in selecting 3 o'clock in the afternoon for the hour of meeting instead of 10 o'clock in the morning, and urged that such a course would prove of advantage.

In reliation to the dedication exercises to be held, he contended that the spiritual good which would emenate from them would be very great, and he believed that if the action of the committee were set aside and a simple resolution adopted to the effect that religious services be held, without naming them, the whole object and purpose of the committee would be lost.

Dr. Hartisy proposed an amendment to the resolution of the committee, substantially recommending that such devotional exercises shall be held, and discourses preached as shall be consonant to the teelings and desires of the especial neighborhood, and churches in which such particular Synods are held.

Dr. Phelps proposed an amendment to the amendment, in effect stating that the teneral Synod recommend to the particular Synods certain devotional exercises, which said particular Synods may or may not accept at pleasure. In this manner there would be no conflict of authority, and the particular Synod would use due care in moving in a matter of so much importance.

Edder legemind, from New York, was of the opinion that the particular Synod would use due care in moving in a matter of so much importance.

Elder Jersmiah, from New York, was of the opinion that the Synod had full and complete authority to prescribe the services, and he believed their doing so would be found of general advantage and benefit.

Rev. Mr. Raality (from the Classis of Holland) made a spirited address, contending against any attempt of the General Synod to curb the action of the particular Synod. He thought it appeared too much like the government of the Pope of Rome, which possible fact he especially depressized.

The preacher and his alternate and a theme shall be fixed at the preceding annual session.

Dr. Phelps moved to recommit the resolution and the balance of the series to the committee.

Dr. Suydam moved that when the Synod adjourn

The Beneficial Savings Fund Society Receive Back their Stolen Securities.

It will be remembered by our readers that some time since the office of the Beneficial Savings Fund, at the southwest corner of Twelfth and Chesnut streets, was entered by burglars, who quietly and systematically devoted the labors of an entire Sunday to the task of opening and rifling the safe. The total value of the money, securities, and other valuables secured by the thieves was over $800,000, including $15,000 in greenbacks belonging to the Society and $10,000 in diamonds and about $250,000 Society, and $10,000 in diamonds and about $220,000 in securities belonging to outsile parties, placed in the custody of the society for safe keeping.

As soon as the loss was discovered a large reward was offered by the Society for the recovery of the stolen property. The directors also appointed a committee from among their number to make every endeavor and all necessary arrangements for secur-ing the return of the property. We are not familiar, ing the return of the property. We are not familiar, of course, with the measures adopted by this committee for accomplishing their task, but whatever they were they have at last been crowned with success. Last night the officers of the Savings Fund received by the Adams' Express Company a package which, on examination, proved to contain nearly everything that had been taken from the safe. All the securities belonging to the society, and the $250,000 of this character which had been placed on deposit for sate keeping by outside parties, were deposit for sate keeping by outside parties, were found in good condition in the package. The only things that were lacking were the $15,000 in green-backs and the $10,000 worth of diamonds, which some simple-hearted lady had thought entirely secure in their safe.

The whole story of the restoration of these documents presents, and ments presents a sad commentary on these docu-ments presents a sad commentary on the looseness and inefficiency of our present police system, as well as serving to illustrate the manner in which these first-class, high-handed, and open-day burglaries are usually compounded, to the disgrace and inse-curity of the community.

Admiral Hoff's Despatch Continued from Second Edition,

The news from Nucvitas is meaure. All the American citizens desirous of going to the United States, spoken of in a previous letter, have left that vicinity, and although the Penebscot was there on the 14th nst., no claimants for passage to Havana appears Lieutenant Commander Eastman reports that the railway to Puerto Principe has been so far repaired that the locomotive and freight fars can come down to Nuevitas at a slow raie, taking three days to make a journey of forty-eight miles, and requiring a guard f 2000 men for protection.

About the 8th or 10th of May some bands of insurents attacked the convoy of a train, defeated them, and destroyed the bridges the Spantards had built. and captured forty-three officers and men, incl. and captured forty-lines officers and men, including a colonel. This is the only decided success of the revolutionists that has been recently reported. The Admiral is informed that General Lescas, Governor of Puerto Principe, has been removed by the Captain-General for crucities in bombarding a the Captain-General for crueities in bombarding a camp composed of women and children, and General Letona is ordered to succeed him. This action has caused great discontent among the Havana volunteers, who have placarded the streets with satirical caricatures of Dulee.

The Spanish authorities at Neuvitas, and in fact, of every part of the island, excepting Carbarien or Remedios, have been exceedingly polite, offering every facility to our officers, and manifesting a friendly desire to please. There are rumors that Trinidad is environed by a large force of insurgents, and there is also a report that the place is in their possession. At Geantamo, on the south side, near the eastern end of the island, the insurrection is the eastern end of the island, the insurrection is said to be exceedingly strong in consequence said to be exceedingly strong in the expedition of the supposed landing of the expedition in that district, and that in a recent engagement with the Spaniards the latter were defeated. It is a fact that the actual or supposed successful landing of these expeditions has infused new life into the insurrection, that to all apinfused new life into the insurrection, that to all apinfused new life into the insurrection. Narragansett is expected from Neuvitas, and the Carribean on the 29th of May, when Admiral Hoff hopes to give the department some news of the progress of affairs in the vicinity of those places.

Postal Arrangements with China.

The Postmaster-General has concluded an arrangement with the General Post Office of the colony of Hong Kong, China, for the reciprocal exchange of of Hong Rong, China, for the reciprocal exchange of book packets, including printed papers of all kinds, photographs, lithographs, sheets of music, etc., in the mails transmitted between the United States and Hong Rong and dependent Chinese ports of Ceylon, Amoy, Swatow, and Foochow, by means of the line of United States mail packets running between San Francisco, Yokobama, and Hong Kong. Francisco, Yokohama, and Hong Kong.

Heretofore letters, newspapers, and prices current only have been admitted into the mails exchanged by this line of steamers with Hong Kong and the Chinese ports above-named, and hence the new ar-rangements furnishes correspondents with greatly enlarged facilities of postal communication with China. The rate of postage established for book packets, including printed matter of all kinds, posted in the United States and addressed to Hong Kong, Canton, Amoy, Swatow, and Foochow is ten cents for each weight of four ounces, or fraction—prepayment required-of four ounces, which is in full of all charges to destination. This arrangement goes into operation immediately.

What is Said of his Anticipated Return to this Country.

The Liberal Christian, announcing the speedy return of George Peabody to spend the remainder of his days in his native land, forcibly adds;—
"We sincerely hope that he will be spared the necessity of living under lock and key to protect himself from beggars, and of keeping a private secretary to burn the appeals to his generosity sent through the mails. Having given away seven millions two hundred and five thousand dollars in money, at a gold valuation, for public and charitable purposes, he has certainly earned the privilege of spending the remainder of his useful life as he chooses without disturbance, and of giving the rest of his fortune to whom and what he will. He has set a nuble example to our rich men, and has done of his fortune to whom and what he will. He has set a noble example to our rich men, and has done mere than any one to make public spiritedness and beneficence popular. We are largely indebted to him for the public sentiment in favor of charity—a sentiment which grows with what it feeds upon, and already is so strong that few men of wealth can resist its demands. We hope our people will not punish him for his munificence by teasing him for more and greater gifts, thus doing what they can to neutralize the force of his example.

"Many rich men are deterred from acts of generosity by the fact that no sooner is it known that a man is generous that he is besleged with an army of mendicants, and his door-bell is ruing to pieces, his mendicants, and his door-bell is rung to pieces, his counting-room is filled with unscrapulous applicants, and his steps are dogged by men who make up in impertinence what they lack in everything else. The few rich men who are generous, notwithstanding the evil it exposes them to and the trouble it incurs, are all the more deserving of respect and gratitude. we would have a class of generous, public-spirited rich men, we must see to it that the path of benef-cence is not hedged about with too many thorns, and cance is not hedged about with too many thorns, and made impassable with unnecessary obstructions. But the worst beggars are not puspers who ask for a few pennies to buy a breakfast or a loaf of bread. They are men and women who solicit endowments for impecunious institutions, and make appeals for all sorts of 'causes.' They are respectable people who have a 'mission,' and sacrifice all their own modesty and make everybody else miserable in its behalf. They are the religious beggars who have a sectarian axe to grind or an ecbeggars who have a sectarian axe to grind or an ec-clesiastical object to further. When men beg on their own account they are somewhat reticent and humble; but the respectable solicitor for a sectarian enterprise throws away all such weaknesses, and, when once fairly hold of a rich man of known gene-rosity, sticks to his victim like a blister to the skin. and to dry up the springs of generous giving, than is generally imagined. Every dollar they wring out of their special purposes subtracts ten from the charitable circulation of the world."

Reverdy Johnson.

The Baltimore Sun of this morning says of the return of Ex-Minister Johnson:— The North German steamsip Ohio, Captain Bosse, The North German steamsip Ohio, Captain Bosse, having on board the Hon. Reverdy Johnson, late Minister to England, his wife and son, arrived at this port yesterday morning. The cordial satisfaction with which the people of his own State and city welcome Mr. Johnson on his return to this country is increased by the pleasure of seeing the veteran jurist and statesman looking hale and vigorous after the ordeal of a sea voyage and the more trying political buffetings to which he has been subjected in his efforts to promote an amicable adjustment of the questions at issue between Great Britain and the United States. Mr. Johnson looks as if he might live long enough yet to see the establishment of a perpetual bond of peace between the two countries on the fundamental elements of his own action. Indeed, the friendly response with which the English journals acknowledge the conciliatory tone of our new minister's ledge the conciliatory tone of our new minister's addresses is in itself an indication of the result of Mr. Johnson's labors to cultivate a friendly feeling in Great Britain for the United States. On the eve of his departure from Southampton, Mr. Johnson, in reply to an invitation to the banquet, said, in a letter to the Mayor, "I shall return to my home with the assurance that the amicable relations between the two nations are not to be seriously disturbed." And he finds, on his arrival, that the tem-porary excitement on both sides of the Atlantic has subsided under the influence of the adoption by Mr. Motley of the same—as inspired, of course, at Wash-ington—rational and pacific spirit towards a kindred nation which was manifested by Mr. Johnson.
