CITY INTELLIGENCE. REPUBLICANISM.

A Day of Conventions.

Twenty-five in Full Blast This Morning.

The Nominations for Coroner, Recorder of Deeds, City Treasurer, City Commissioner, Clerk of Quarter Sessions, Prothonotary of District Court, and State Legislature.

Yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, the delegate elections of the Republican party were held at the usual places, representatives being elected to each of the fifty-three conventions which assemble to-day for placing candidates in nomination. The elections continued until eight o'clock in the evening, and, as far as we have heard, were attended with no unusual excitement and disgraced by no unseemly hand-tohand contentions. There was, perhaps, as much interest displayed as is usual, but, except in a few cases where there was a spirited contest between two rival aspirants, there was but little interest taken in the proceedings by the great mass of the Republican voters. The people are not yet thoroughly aroused to the necessity of wresting the machinery of the party from the hands of the professional poli ticians; but if these enterprising and zealous gentlemen do not accomplish a better day's work than has been their custom of late, the people who yesterday stood quietly by with folded hands will be certain to display their power, either positively or negatively, on the second Tuesday in October next. Below we give full reports of the proceedings of all the city and county conventions, and the result of the deliberations of the conclaves in the different legisla-

CORONER.

Proceedings of the Convention This Morning. The delegates to the Coroner's Convention met at quarter past 10 o'clock this morning, in the Assembly Buildings, corner of Tenth and Chesnut streets.

James F. Neall, Esq., of the Eleventh ward, was elected temporary chairman, and Jesse Tittermary, of the Second ward, and R. C. Popham, of the Fifteenth ward, temporary Secretaries.

The several divisions of the twenty-eight wards were called over, and the delegates elected therefrom presented their credentials.

A committee, consisting of one delegate from each ward, on permanent organization, and a like committee on contested seats, were then appointed.

The roll was next called, and the delegates were supplied with tickets of admission.

In this emergency the Chairman directed that the hall should be vacated, the delegates then again coming forward by wards with their credentials. This plan was readily acquiesced in by the Convention and worked with success. It was not until noon, however, that all the certificates had been presented, inspected, and the holders of them allowed seats. This was but the beginning of the permanent overalization. could not be detected.

At ten minutes of 1 o'clock the secretaries commenced calling the roll in alphabetical order.

It was then moved and carried that a Committee on Permanent Organization be appointed, consisting of one delegate from each ward, named by the body of delegates from that ward. In pursuance of this CITY TREASURER.

Proceedings of the Convention This Morning. The Convention for the nomination of a City Treasurer convened this morning at 10 o'clock, in Washington Hall, at the southwest corner of Eightl and Spring Garden streets. The Convention was called to order by Mr. J. C. Martin, who moved that General Louis Wagner be elected to preside temporarily. The motion was agreed to, and General Wagner assumed his duties. J. Alexander Simpson and J. P. Sipler were elected as temporary Secretaries. Doorkeepers, Messrs. Reiliey, Rhoads, Zanc, Patton, and Lamb.

The credentials of the delegates having been presented in numerical order, Committees on Organiza sented in numerical order, Committees on Organization and Credentials, composed each of one representative from the respective wards, were appointed.

During the deliberation of the committees, addresses were delivered by Messrs. H. Huhn, Goneral Wagner, R. J. Hanna, W. Halnes, and others.

The committee on perinanent organization then reported as officers the following, viz.:—President, II.
Huhn; Vice-Presidents, General H. G. Sickels, William B. Hanna; Secretaries, J. Alexander Simpson, John Sipler; Treasurer, James N. Hackney; Doorkeepers, James Zane, John Williams, Joseph Patton, Philip Rilley; Tellers, James Zimmerman, James W.
Sayre.

The report was unanimously adopted, and upon assuming his duties the President, Mr. linhn ad-dressed the Convention as follows:

> On assuming the daties of the chair I thank you for the honor you have been pleased to confer upon me in calling me to preside over a convention com-posed of gentlemen of so much ability, intelligence and patriotism. In the performance of the duties you have assigned me, I promise you a strict impar-tiality in the enforcement of the rules governing this body. In the preservation of the order, dignity, and decorum, which should characterize the delibera-tions of the convention, I ask your cordial aid and co-operation. As the representatives of the great Republican party of Philadelphia, to whom the important and delicate task has been confided of selecting a proper person to control and manage the finances of the city during the ensuing term, let us each seek to discharge that trust in term, let us each seek to discharge that trust in such manner as will not only give satisfaction to the great masses of our party, but insure the respect, confidence, and support of every citizen who desires an honest, economical, and faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon the Treasurer of this great metropolis. Gentlemen, again thanking you for the people conferred. Law ready to proceed with the nonor conferred, I am ready to proceed with the business of the Convention.

CITY COMMISSIONER.

Proceedings of the Convention This Morning Preceedings of the Convention This Morning.

The Convention for nominating a candidate for City Commissioner met at Broadway Hall, at the corner of Broad and Spring Garden streets. The meeting was called to order at 10 A. M. by calling Dr. J. H. Seitzer to the chair. Mr. S. W. Henderson and Mr. Cooper were chosen Secretaries protem. There was a full delegation present from the wards. On motion the Secretaries received the credentials of the delegates from each ward by precincts. The room was then cleared, and none but delegates being admitted, the Convention went into regular organization. While the Chairman was calling the precincts the hall presented a very lively appearance, the delegates being gathered in knots, and every one talking on his own hook.

On motion, the delegates chose a delegate from each ward as a committee on organization.

The seat of the delegate from the Third division, Twenty-fourth ward, was contested, it being alleged

After the organization of the committee they retired to decide the contested election of delegate from the Third division of Twenty-fourth ward.

The meeting was then adjourned, on motion, for half an hour, to enable the committee to make their report. While the recess continued quite a lively mass meeting was held on the corner to discuss the nerits of the various men who were to appear before the convention. On reassembling the report of the committee was read, as follows:—For President, Dr. J. H. Seltzer; Vice-Presidents, W. S. Kochersperger, Twentieth ward, L. Chandler, Seventeenth ward, Secretaries, W. P. Cooper, Fifteenth ward; G. W. Henderson, Tenth ward, Treasurer, James Boyd, Ninth ward, Doorkeepers, Messrs, Noble and Albright.

The contested seats were reported as follows:—
That the two contested seats be declared vacant by reason of irregularity of election.

A motion was made and seconded that the Convention proceed to nomination. Amid much confusion, repeated calls were made to put out several who were not members of the Convention. It was moved that the room be cleared in order that none but members of the Convention he allowed to enter but members of the Convention be allowed to enter

Proceedings This Afternoon. On reassembling the President read a communica-tion from the delegates of the Eighth ward, protest ing against the admission of one of the delegates, h ing against the admission of one of the delegates, he not being a resident of the precinct. A motion was made and seconded that he be excluded from the Convention. On the question being put a division was called, and it was decided to exclude the person indicated. The nomination for City Commissioner was then proceeded with.

The following were proposed:—Captain H. Conner, Twenty-fourth ward; Sergeant Miller, Seventh ward; William D. Wattson, First ward; T. Dickson, Twenty-fifth ward; John M. Locke, Twelfth ward; John Kurtz, Sixteenth ward; H. McGinley, Twenty-fourth ward; H. Poulterer, Twenty-third ward; James Shaw, Twenty-first ward; James H. Lambert, Seventh ward.

Proceedings of the Convention This Morning. The delegates to the Republican Convention to nominate a candidate for Clerk of the Court of nominate a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions assembled at 10 o'clock this morning, in the American Mechanics' Hall, Fourth and George streets. Hon, William B. Mann called the Convention to order. He hoped that the pro-ceedings would be marked with decorum, and made a contrast with the conventions of the opposition party; that the sense of the Convention be final, and such a candidate be nominated as will secure the entire vote of the Republican party. He nominated Christian Kneass, Esq., as Chairman. Mr. Kneass was unanimously elected. On taking the chair he said it would be his endeavor to be impartial, to be inst, and to be fair to all. In a convention of this kind, said the Chairman, there should be harmony, concord, and good will—sure indications of success. When we make our selection of Clerk of Quarter Sessions, let if be a candidate with whom we can go to the community and ask and feel confident of securing the full vote of the Republican party, When we do this, we do our duty to the party and the country.
On motion of James H. Thompson, of the Ninth ward, Alderman David Beitler and Henry L. Smith were elected secretaries. After the appointment of two temporary doorkeepers, the credentials of the delegates were re-ceived by the secretaries. This occupied about one

"Judge Nicholson may dream dreams about another constitutional amendment providing a new mode of electing the President, but the remedy lies in no such device as that. It lies simply in bringing back the Government in its administration to original first principles. This is to be done not by secession, however rightful and efficient a remedy that might be. That is abandoned. Nor is it to be done by force or violence of any kind, except the force of reason and power of truth. It is to be done, if at all, at the ballot-box. It states that the Naval Academy is in a better condition now than at any former period of its existence. Many important improvements have been introduced, and the general efficiency of the management is much praised. The Board attribute much of the success to Vice-Admiral Porter, whose energy and good judgment have contributed to it.

Despatch to the Associated Press, The President and Sons of Temperance. Washington, June 9.—Representatives to the National Division Sons of Temperance of North America, now in session here, many of them accompanied by members of their families, proceeded to-day to the East Room, in accordance with prior arrangement. The visitors, about two hundred and fifty in number, formed in a semi-circle, when Pre-sident Grant entered the room and was addressed by Robert M. Foust, of Pennsylvania, Most Worth Patriarch of the organization, who said those pre-sent were from all parts of the Union and the British provinces, and they came to pay their profound respects to the Chief Magistrate of the nation. In granting this interview, they looked upon the President as recognizing their motives in the interests of humanity.

Dr. Lees, of England, was introduced. He expressed the hope that the President's administration would have the effect of strengthening the friend ship between the two greatest nations of the earth, and that the cause of freedom as well as temperance and morality may be preserved.

The President bowed, but made no verbal reply.

The visitors then approached in line, were introduced, and shook hands, and when this ceremony was completed retired.

Internal Revenue Decisions—Important Announcement.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, replying to a letter from John Conneil, Assessor at Toledo, Iowa, concerning his construction of the law that packing pork in bulk, putting it up in barrels, and rendering the lard for sale, was manufacturing within the meaning of the act, and that parties engaged in the business should assessed accordingly, Says paragraph 318, Section 79, of the act of June 30, 1884, as subsequently amended, defines a manufacturer as any person, firm, or corporation who shall manufacture by hand any goods, wares, ormerchandise not otherwise provided fer, exceeding annually the sum of $1000, or who shall be engaged in the manufacture or preparation for sale of any article or compounds, or shall put up for sale in packages, with his own name or trade mark thereon, any articles or compounds, in the language of the law; all such whose sales exceed $5000 ahall pay for every additional thousand dollars in excess two dollars, etc.

Persons emgaged in the business of pork and rendering lard, and packing the same in barrels, kegs, or otherwise, are something more than more dealers in pork and lard. They are clearly embraced in the definition given of a manufacturer, and are included among the persons, firms, etc., who are required to pay a tax, as thoir sales are in excess of $5000 annually, inasmuch as they prepare these articles for sale, and put them up in packages with thoir own name or trade marks.

The Commissioner is clearly of the opinion that persons engaged in the business above referred to should be required to pay a special tax as manufacturers, and to return their sales in elecses of $1500 annually, and pay the tax of $2 per thousand on such excess.

The New York Money Market.

"The Money market was more active to-day, and gold interest was paid in some rare and exceptional instances. The demand was quite irregular, however, and variously reported in different portions of the street. While some were unable to lend at seven per cent, at the close of banking hours, others found difficulty in getting funds at that rate. The country demand is hardly large enough to create the present activity, and hence the suspicion of artificial influences in connection with the stock market. Commercial paper was insettive and rates had a tendency to a little wider range, the quotation being seven to nine per cent, for prime double names.

"Foreign exchange was active and higher at the close, the prime bankers advancing their rates to 169% for sixty days and 110% for sight bills. The demand for the steamer revealed a scarcity of bond and commercial bills. Bond bills have been entirely absorbed, and the present equality of the quotation From the Herald.

and commercial oils. Bond bills have been entirely absorbed, and the present equality of the quotation for Five-twenties in Europe and this country prevents a further supply. The steadiness of gold is opposed to a better supply of commercial bills. "Governments were quiet and dull. At the opening there was some realization in anticipation of activity in money, but the buyers were numerous

"The gold market was strong, with an advance on extreme quotations from 138% to 139. The rise was due to the firmer tone of the foreign exchanges, and particularly to the rate for sight sterling, which is within a very small fraction of the specie shipping point. The better quotation for bonds in London resisted this advance, but ineffectually, as the home market for Governments also improved and left no-margin between the domestic and foreign quotation on which to make bond bills.

"The demand for each gold was quite fair up to Clearing House time, and the rate for carrying ranged from seven to five per cent. In the afterneon the highest paid for carrying was four per cent, while a single transaction was recorded at "flat." This fact indicates a large short interest, but the Clearing House figures to-day show little desire to add to this side of the speculative movement," Markets by Telegraph.
