All Boston Jubilant-The Second Dayof the Hubbub-The Reception of President Grant. and a High Old Time.

Performance in the

From Our Own Correspondent. Bosron, June 16 .- The second day of the great festival brought with it a new sensation. President Grant arrived here early this morning. accompanied by Generals Bates and Underwood, of Governor Clafflin's staff. He was met at the depot by his Honor the Mayor and the Clty Committee, and was driven in an open barouche to the St. James Hotel. At 91/2 the Boston School Regiment was reviewed by the President, At 10.20 the President was driven to the State House in a barouche drawn by six horses. The carriage was flanked by a guard of cavalry. At the State House the usual speech-making and hand-shaking was gone through with, and the President was then escorted to the Boston Highlands, where he reviewed about eight thousand troops under command of Major-General B. F. Butler. At the Coliseum, meanwhile, the rehearsal for to-day's concert took place. It was reported early this morning that the crowd to-day at the Coliseum would be immense, and report in this instance proved to be true; for at 3 o'clock, the time for the beginning of the concert, the vast edifice was perfectly jammed. There must have been fully 40,000 people present. Shortly after three the President and Admiral Farragut and staffs entered the building. Mr. Zerrahn gave the signal, and the full chorus and orchestra performed "See the Conquring Hero Comes," the audience cheering most enthusiastically. After this nine cheers were given for the Psesideut, amidst waving of handkerchiefs, President Grant, by the way, waving one of the largest handkerchiefs in the crowd. When quiet had been restored, the day's programme began with Nicolai's Festival Overture, based on Luther's choral, "A

The overture, a splendid work, was finely rendered, especially the introductory ekorus. This was followed by two choruses from the Messiah, "Glory to God in the highest," and the glory of the Lord." The effect of these master-pieces of choral composition was superb, and have never been surpassed in the world.

Miss Phillips next made her appearance and was cordially received. She sang an aria from Mozart's Clemenza di Tito, with accompaniment of a small orchestra, and It is but just to say that it was done exceedingly well.

The chorus next sang "He Watcheth Over Israel," from Mendelssohn's Elijah, in an admirable manner. The planes and fortes were observed finely. In fact, the rendering of this composition was superb. This was followed by Mme. Parepa-Rosa's singing of "Let the Bright Scraphim," with trumpet obligato, by Mr. Arbuckle. This performance elicited great applause, and an encore was insisted on and given. During the repetition of this piece a photographer took a picture of the audience, or rather a part of the audience, including that section in which the President sat. The first part of the programme was then concluded with Handel's "See the Conquering Hero Comes," the introductory duet being sung by thirteen sopranos and twelve altos. The first part being finished, President Grant was conducted to the conductor's stand, and immense cheering followed, while the guns stationed on the side of the Coliseum were fired by the electrival apparatus in the building.

After this Mr. Gilmore took the baton, amidst much applause, and at the general request of the public repeated the "Star Spangled Banner" and the "Anvil Chorus." These were performed, as in yesterday's programme, with cannon obligato, and the firemen beating the one hundred anvils with admirable precision. The great popularity of Verdi was shown in the overwhelming and almost deafening applause which followed the "Anvil Chorus," President Grant joining with a will in the signs of approbation.

Such an enumeration call for an encore there was no resisting, and the reputation was given amidst even greater applause than before. The extra performances and the great anxiety of the spectators to eatch occasional glances of the President, prolonged the performance considerably beyond the time originally intended for it; and it became necessary to curtail the programme somewhat. Instead, therefore, of the entire symphony of Schubert's, only two movements-the andante con moto and the finale-were played. The andante was undoubtedly the best played of the two. As a whole, however, the symphony falled to make any impression, owing partly to the length of the programme and partly to the enthusiasm preceding its performance; for, as you know, after every storm there is a calm. This was folowed by "The marvellous works from Haydn's reation," and the concert then concluded with 'The Heavens are Telling." Both these pieces vere finely rendered, the solo in each being given by the following series of gentlemen:-Sopranos.—Mrs. H. M. Smith, Mrs. Sophia Mozart, Miss L. M. Gates, Miss Annie M. Granger, Miss A. L. Whitten, Miss Grazielia Ridway, Mrs. D. C. Hall, Miss S. W. Barton, Mrs. J. W. Weston, Miss Nelly Fiske, Miss Lizzie M. Ailen, Miss Hattie M. Safford,

An American Composition.—There is but one purely American piece of music performed at the Jubilee, and that is the work of a Massachusetts composer.—Mr. C. C. Converse. He has prepared a grand symphonic composition on the national air of "Hall Columbia," for full orchestra, chorus, organ, etc., which has been deemed to be of such genuine excellence, by the most competent judges, as to lead to its publication for the use of the orchestra generally. Mr. Converse is the author of several overtures, symphonies, etc., which have been performed in public.

He obtained his musical tuition in Germany, at the Conservatory of Leipsic and elsewhere. Such composers as Richter, Hauptmann, Liszt, Sterndale Bennett, etc., have manifested great interest in his musical career, prophesying that it would be a distinguished one. Mr. Gilmore, in bringing Mr. Converse's new composition out in such a magnificent manner, has done a most laudable thing for American art, and Mr. Converse, by thus identifying himself with the grandest musical event of the age, has attained a most envisable distinction.

We would say of his overture "Triamphale" that its freshness, beauty, and musician-like treatment and magnificent effects have given Mr. Converse's friends a decided surprise as to his abilities for the use of the most difficult forms of the art. So soon as we obtain a copy of the work, which Ditson & Co.

I understand that every seat for the various performances is disposed of, and the audience therefore may be expected to rival, if not surpass, the immense one of to-day.

To-morrow night the great ball occurs in the Colisseum. A colossal orchestra of 500 will perform the dancing music, under the direction of Mr. Gilmore, and a mammoth military band. under the baton of Mc. H. B. Dodworth, will perform the promenade music. The attendance will be large.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

MEETING OF THE FRANKLIN INSTITUTE.-A regular meeting of this Institute was held last evening, Mr. J. V. Merrick, the President, in the chair. After the usual business, the Resident Secretary, Professor Morton, in his report on "Novelties in the Arts," in-troduced the Shaw and Justice pumping engine, which was then described by Mr. Thomas Shaw as follows:

"The appliances for pumping water are perhaps more numerous than any other apparatus for accomplishing a single purpose, and it might naturally supposed that modern pumps could neither cheapened nor simplified to any great extent, for the reason that the hydraulic engineering falent of the world, for the last half century, has been spent in world, for the last half century, has been spent in improving pumping engines; yet, notwithstanding the improvements, the pump I am about to explain, when constructed of large size, can be furnished at less than one-half the cost of any other pumping engine, will perform the same duty, and possesses not a tenth of the complicated apparatus.

Various engineering works and mechanical improvements were then described, and some pictures presented by Mr. William Sangdenheim were shown in the lantern. Among these an instantaneous view of a dog's head elicited much admiration.

of the Protestant Episcopal Church took place this morning at St. Luke's Church, Thirteenth street, below Spruce, and the services on the occasion indicated the rapid growth of the school. Its faculty comprises many of the most distinguished divines of the Episcopal Church, and it is attracting a class of students destined in the future to make a decided mark in the theological affairs of the country.

The exercises this morning were high y interesting and attractive, and a large congrega 'n was assembled. Shortly after 11 o'clock the procession entered the church in the following order:—Preparatory Department, Junior Department, Middle Department, Senior Department, Faculty, officiating clergymen.

A hymn was sung by the choir as the procession passed up the main aisle. Then morning prayer was read by Bishop Lee, Rev. Dr. Goodwin, and Rev. Dr. Howe, after which the 123d Psalm, commencing "Oh! praise ye the Lord," was sung by the choir, the congregation taking part.

The speakers on the occasion were then introduced by Bishop Lee in the following order:—

Henry C. Mayer, Brookline, Mass.—"The Threefold Evidences for Christianity."

V. Hummel Berghans, Harrisburg, Pa.—"The Life and Character of Athanasins the Great."

William F. C. Morsell, Smyrna, Del.—"The Minister as an Educator."

as an Educator."

The 216th Hymn, "Glorious things of Thee are spoken," was then sung with great effect, after which the degrees were conferred upon the graduating class by Bishop Lee. The following are the graduates:

V. Hummel Berghaus,
H. Henry K. Brouse,
R. H. Howe,
H. C. Mayer,
C. H. Mead,
J. K. Mendenhail.
In conferring the degrees Bishop Lee delivered an ddress full of sound and wise coussel to the young men about to enter the sacred ministry.
The singing of the 164th Hymn and a prayer concluded the exercises.

THE ALUMNI. The annual meeting of the Alumni of the Divinity School of the Protestant Epiacopal Church, located at Thirty-seventh and Walnut streets, was held yesterday afternoon in the lecture-room of the Church of the Epiphany. The following named ministers were elected officers of the association for the ensuing year.

sning year:
President—Rev. Robert A. Edwards. Vice-Presidents—Bev. Calvin C. Parker, Rev. John J. Forbes, Rev. Charles E. Griffith.

Vice-Presidents—Rev. Calvin C. Parker, Rev. John J. Forbes, Rev. Charles E. Griffith.

Secretary—Rev. Washington B. Erben.

Theasurer—Rev. J. H. Eccleston.

Executive Committee—Rev. Samuel E. Smith, Rev. Joseph K. Moore, Rev. A. B. Sines, Preacher for 1870—Rev. Frederick Brooks.

Substitute Preacher—Rev. Benjamin H. Latrobe.

Last evening the annual sermon was preached before the association by the Rev. William P. Orrick, Rector of St. John's Church, York, Pa. A large number of the Episcopal clergy were present, and a large congregation was also assembled.

The Diocesan Training School of the Protestant Episcopal charron in Philadelphia, which was organized by the late Bishop Potter in 1857, was in 1862 adopted as the nucleus of the Divinity School. The graduates after the incorporation of the institution organized this society of the Associate Alumni of the Philadelphia Divanity School, and, with the sanction of the Faculty, admitted to full membership in the association those who had taken a partial course in the Divinity School, and thosy who had taken a partial course in the Divinity School before its incorporation. The whole number of Alumni at present is 82. The annual breakfast of the Alumni took place at the La Pierre House this morning, and was well attended.

Another Steamer to Aid the Rebels in Hayti. Despatch to The Evening Telegraph, NEW YORK, June 17.—It is stated that the steamer Delaphine, which arrived at Boston on the 13th with a load of coal from Philadelphia, sailed last evening from that port without going through the formality of getting a clearance from the Custom House authorities. The Haytien Consul; at Boston says that the vessel is going to aid rebels in Hayti. He tried to stop her, but failed, not being able to find proper Government officers. He asserts that he has positive evidence to prove that she took arms, men, and military stores in large quantities.

Fatal Accident. The evening papers have the following: By an explosion in the coal mines at Brazil, indiana, Grugen and Jacob S. Belgrairs were killed, and others hurt.
