

LITERATURE. REVIEW OF NEW BOOKS.

From Turner Brothers & Co. we have received the sixth volume of the "Household" edition of Thackeray's works, published by Fields, Osgood & Co. This volume completes the series as originally announced, but the favorable reception that this edition has met with has induced the publishers to extend it so as to include Thackeray's miscellaneous writings. This will be pleasing to the lovers of good literature, as some of the best things that Thackeray ever wrote are to be found among his minor works. It is gratifying to note that the public appreciation of Thackeray is growing, as his writings deserve to be more widely known than they are. It is probable that he never will be as popular as some of his contemporaries, but his reputation will last longer, and his works will obtain a more permanent place in English literature. A cheap and elegant edition like this will have a tendency to make Thackeray's works better known among general readers, while it will be appreciated by those who already admire them.

From J. B. Lippincott & Co. we have received "Lamps, Pitchers, and Trumpets," by Edwin Paxton Hood. This is a series of lectures on preachers and preaching, mostly delivered to the students of the Pastors' College of which Rev. C. H. Sprague is director. The work gives the author's ideas about what preaching ought to be if it is to be effective, the training that preachers ought to have to fit them for their vocation, and other practical ideas that ought to be useful to those who are studying for the ministry. The subject is illustrated by biographical, historical, and elucidatory anecdotes of every order of pulpit eloquence from the great preachers of all ages.

From Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger we have received the "Elements of Astronomy," by Elias Loomis, LL. D. This is an abridgment of the larger work on astronomy by Professor Loomis. It being designed as an elementary book for academies and high schools, the more abstruse mathematical calculations are omitted, and only such retained as will be easily comprehended by the class of students for whom the work is specially prepared. The treatise is a clear and comprehensive exposition of the subject, it is copiously illustrated, and it appears to be exceedingly well adapted for a class-book.

The same house sends us "The Physiology of Women," by C. Morrill, M. D. This is a useful treatise on the diseases and complaints peculiar to the female sex. It contains a number of practical hints for the preservation of health.

"My Daughter Elinor" is the title of a new novel that we have also received from the same house.

NEWS SUMMARY.

City Affairs.

William Muthart had a hearing at the Central Station yesterday, on the charge of horse-stealing. Policeman Gill, of the Schuylkill Harbor force, testified that he and Policeman Smith arrested the prisoner on Saturday night week, at which time he admitted that he stole a set of harness he had at a stable near, and said that he had stolen the horse he exchanged for the bay mare he then had in his possession; that he offered $500 to let him go, asking that he should not be taken to the Central Station, where a standing reward, which had been offered for him, was known to the detectives. No owner had been found for the harness recovered. Muthart was committed for a further hearing. As he was being conducted to the lock-up, he broke away from the officers, and ran at full speed through Independence Square, towards the southwestern gate. He was pursued and captured before he reached the street.

Mr. Thomas F. Bell, so long and favorably known to the book-buyers of Philadelphia, died yesterday afternoon, after an illness of several months. Mr. Bell was about fifty-five years of age, and was born in the city of London. He came to this city with his father when he was a lad. His father was a bookseller in Philadelphia, and he had two brothers also booksellers here. Mr. Bell was connected with the old house of Cowperthwaite & Lord, afterwards Lord & Carlile, and then George W. Lord & Son. When this firm finally went out of business, Mr. Bell became associated with M. Thomas & Sons, where he remained until within a few months of his death. He was a genial, kind-hearted, and courteous gentleman, and was esteemed one of the most intelligent and popular "eriers" of books in this country.

Yesterday, in the Supreme Court, Justice Agnew delivered an opinion in six cases brought to test the constitutionality of the act of August 25, 1864, known as the Tonnage Tax law. Six railroad companies disputed the constitutionality of the act in the courts in Dauphin county, and obtained judgment in their favor. The Supreme Court now reverses the judgment of the Court below, thus declaring the act constitutional. The opinion is very long and elaborate, reviewing the constitutional provisions in regard to commercial intercourse between the States, and declaring that the Pennsylvania act does not hinder the commerce between the States.

Howard H. Jones, colored, eight weeks old, died yesterday from an overdose of laudanum, administered in mistake by his mother, at No. 344 Centre street.

Henry Bruckemuller committed suicide at his residence, No. 1116 North Fourth street, yesterday, by hanging himself to a bed-post with a clothes-line. Cause assigned, business difficulties.

The Society of the Army of the Potomac met yesterday in New York. Next year it will meet in this city.

General John Cochrane has declined the appointment of Collector of the Sixth district of New York.

The schooner Volunna, with a cargo of brandies and cigars, has been seized at Pensacola. The vessel was from Tampico.

The Treasury Department yesterday confirmed the sale of fifty-three hydraulic presses, which sold for $150 each and cost $2000 each.

Senator Cameron is in Washington, endeavoring to have his son-in-law appointed Attorney-General, in the event of Hoar's resignation.

The Cuban General Goicoechea, arrested on the last New York expedition, has been remanded to jail for a further examination into his case.

The commissioner under the Mexican treaty to adjudicate the claims between that country and our Government has not yet arrived in Washington.

The President yesterday appointed a colored boy, who had constructed a model of a steam engine, to an apprenticeship in the Bureau of Steam Engineering.

A special Treasury agent, who has been examined, denies that any funds have been perpetrated in the New Orleans Custom House, under Collector Kellogg's administration.

Some New Yorkers, having failed to defeat Secretary Boutwell at the Gold Board, where he has interfered with their operations of keeping gold up, are trying to effect his removal.

Foreign Affairs.

London, July 6.—In the House of Lords, last night, the Irish Church bill was resumed. Lord Lyford moved an amendment, granting the value of their manuses to the Presbyterians.

Earl Granville opposed the amendment, on the ground that it would aggravate the mischief of the decision arrived at by the House on Friday night, when it rejected the amendment to permit churches to retain their ecclesiastical residences without payment therefor.

Lord Lyford withdrew his amendment, and the Archbishop of Canterbury moved an amendment to clause 29, that private endowments made since 1660, instead of 1660, be retained by the Church. He pointed out that large endowments were made prior to 1660, and said there was no reason why they should not be dealt with in the same manner as those made after that date. To show such an unjust discrimination he thought was most dangerous, and it would shake the faith of the people in private endowments.

Lord Hardly opposed the amendment, on the ground that private endowments made prior to 1660 were purely mythical, and he said the Ulster grant was an appropriation to church uses of public lands and money won by the English while putting down a rebellion, and was in no sense a private endowment.

The Bishop of Peterborough supported the amendment, urging that neither on the ground of justice nor of legal right ought the Church to be deprived of these early endowments.

Earl Granville said the difficulty in establishing the legality of those early endowment rights would swallow up the whole amount of their value in litigation, and he proposed to grant half a million sterling, in money, instead.

The Marquis of Salisbury objected to the bringing in at the last moment of fresh proposals by the government, and proposed that the consideration of clause 29 be postponed.

Lord Cairns suggested the passage of the clause without date or amendment, leaving Earl Granville's proposition to be considered in the report.

The Archbishop of Canterbury then moved an amendment that all glebe lands granted by the crown since 1560 be given to the new church body. After a long discussion the amendment was carried by a vote of 195 to 55.

Clauses 30, 31, and 32 were agreed to, and clause 33 was taken up.

The Earl of Limerick moved an amendment providing that poor rates be deducted from any rent charge sold in lieu of tithes.

The Marquis of Salisbury remarked that this amendment was an arithmetical puzzle, but was evidently intended as a sop to Irish Catholics. The Government proposed to act fairly, but the bill was the most penurious and exacting measure ever devised. If the Government had come boldly forward, and avowed the clauses which distinctly represented their principles, they would have commended themselves more to all classes of the community.

The House divided on the Earl of Limerick's amendment, and it was adopted by a vote of 91 to 64.

Clause 33, as amended, and clauses 34, 35, 36, 37, and 38 were agreed to.

The Earl of Courtown, believing the feeling of the House was against the amendment to cancel the "Regis et Donum" and the Maynooth College clauses, withdrew it, and the former was agreed to.

Lord Fitzwalter renewed the amendment to strike the Maynooth clause from the bill, and the Earl of Bandon objected to the clause as a violation of the preamble.

Lord Cairns admitted that that was a good ground for objection, but he would not vote for a rejection of the clause, because it would result in throwing the Maynooth grant on the consolidated fund.

The Duke of Argyll defended the clause, and the Duke of Rutland opposed it.

The House voted to retain the clause as it stood, by a vote of 146 to 22.

Clauses 40 to 67 (inclusive) were agreed to, and the House adjourned.

Dean Stanley preached a sermon on the 4th of July, in which he made allusion to American independence, and to the relations of England and the United States. He strongly deprecated the use of irritating expressions by those in authority in either country.

London, July 6.—The Fourth of July was celebrated in the principal cities of Europe. At Vienna a banquet was given, at which Mr. Hay presided, and on toasting the mind of the Emperor of Austria, called to the head of the despatch sent by Secretary Seward to Mr. Motley, in 1862, in which a tribute was paid to the dignity, moderation, and justice which had marked the policy of Austria at the beginning of the rebellion in America, and, added Mr. Hay, these qualities continued to characterize the conduct of the Austrian Government throughout the war. Minister Jay gave a toast to the health of Baron von Beust.

At Stuttgart two hundred Americans and their friends had a dinner, at which Mr. Herman presided, and toasts were drunk to the independence of America, President Grant, Congress, the Army and Navy of the United States, and to the King of Wurtemberg. At night a ball was given, at which one thousand people were present.

London, July 6.—Banquets were given on July 4, in Paris and Berlin. At the latter place the King of Prussia and the King of Saxony, Bismarck and the Emperor, were present, and the speakers compared the American anniversary with that of Koniggratz.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 27, via HAVANA, July 6.—Mariscal, Minister to the United States, leaves on July 25 for Washington. Minister Rosecrans yesterday delivered his letter of recall to Juarez, and Mr. Nelson, the new Minister, presented his credentials. Speeches were made complimentary to the people of both countries, and it was decidedly the event of the year.

Board of Control. Yesterday afternoon the stated meeting of the Board of School Controllers was held in the Athenaeum, Sixth and Adelphi streets, Daniel Steinmetz, President, in the chair.

A number of communications were received, among which was one remonstrating against the manner of distributing the tickets for the commencement of the Girls' High School. Referred.

A communication was received from the Twenty-second section, asking for an appropriation of $7000 for the erection of a new school house. Referred.

The Committee on Accounts reported bills amounting to $40,039.88, for which warrants were directed to be drawn in payment of the same. Referred.

The Committee on Property reported a resolution recommending the purchase of two lots of ground, one at Thirty-eighth and Story streets and the other at Thirty-eighth and Elm streets, in the Twenty-fourth ward, for school purposes.

The Committee on the Boys' High School reported a resolution granting the use of the telescope to Professor Coffin, for the purpose of making observations of the eclipse of the sun at Burlington, Iowa, in August next. Agreed to.

Also, a resolution recommending the degrees of Master and Bachelor of Arts for certain graduates of the High School. Agreed to.

Also, a communication giving the names of the pupils dropped from Division H of the Central High School, their term averages being less than 50—some of the averages were as low as 30 1/2—and were sent back to their schools. It should be remembered that about eighteen months since a resolution was adopted to admit candidates in the Boys' High School and the Girls' Normal School without an examination. The teachers of the different schools send a certain number, with their averages at an examination made by them. This course was at the time deprecated, deeming it unwise.

The Committee on Girls' Normal School reported that ten pupils, admitted in February, having attained very low averages, were returned to their schools.

A resolution from the Committee on Grammar, Secondary, and Primary Schools, recommending the confirmation of a number of teachers, was agreed to.

A resolution, dispensing with the meeting of the board in August, was not agreed to—yeas, 10; nays, 13.

Mr. Green presented a resolution admitting Mary A. Keyser, of the Wyoming School, into the Normal School, she being below the age, but having attained a high average. Not agreed to—yeas, 8; nays, 15.

Mr. Armstrong, from the Committee on Ventilation, made a lengthy report, with a resolution attached, recommending that no school-house shall hereafter be erected unless special attention is paid to the matter of ventilation. Agreed to. Adjourned.

VIROGINIA. The Elections. RICHMOND, July 6.—The election, as far as it has progressed, is the quietest ever held in Virginia, and the city presents the appearance of a Sunday. A body of troops are bivouacked in the public park, and the balances of the two parties, covered with national flags, are driving about for the weak and infirm. A number of blacks have openly voted the Walker ticket, without any of the hostile demonstrations from their brethren which characterized the last elections. The whites, up to 1.30 P. M., have 430 majority in the three wards.

RICHMOND, July 6.—Evening.—The elections here closed quietly, and the ballots are being counted. Both parties claim the State. The returns show a large colored vote for Walker, and it is thought he has carried the State by a large majority.

Despatches from conservative sources from the south-side counties state that the colored vote for Walker is very large, and that several members of the Legislature have been gained.

RICHMOND, July 6.—The election passed off quietly. After midnight the streets resounded with cheers for Walker and the victory in the State. A meeting of Walker men was held, and addressed by six colored men and several whites, including Mr. Hunnicutt.

Prominent Walker men here claim the State by 30,000 majority, and a decided majority in both branches of the Legislature, but prominent Wells supporters claim that they have a decided majority in the State, although they give no figures. Nearly every telegram received here by either side shows large gains for Walker, and a serious split in the colored vote, which it was claimed, could be controlled for Wells.
