It was the dinner hour, when the officers were engaged inside of the corridors, and the men got into the yard unperceived, from which they seem to have had but little trouble in escaping. They were observed by persons on the outside, and chase given. General Quesada has hitherto respected the rights of prisoners. This policy is giving dissatisfaction in his camp, and many of his followers demand the right to retaliate.

Cuban partieans here have the following advices from Nuevitas and Puerto Principe to June 27, and Puerto del Padre and Las Tunas to June - There has been no movement of a decided character in either district. The Spaniards have been reinforced at Nuevitas, and are thus ea abled to retain possession of the railroad from that city to Puerto Principe, and to give succor to the garrison of the last-named place, which is threatened by the Cubans under Quesada. In the district of Puerto del Padre there have been several skirmishes. The health of the Cuban army is reported good, and the soldiers well organized. There is great anxiety to know the views of the United States Government, and the position it will occupy in the contest. New YORK, July 11.—Advices from Mexico to the 3d instant have been received. On July 1 the Cabinet Ministers of Juarez entertained General Rosecrans at a breakfast. United States Minister Nelson had entered upon his duties. On the 25th of July Minister Mariscal and Commissioner Palacio will sail from Vera Cruz for the United States. Intelligence from Sisal reports that on the 8th of June a force of five thousand Indians made a raid within fifteen leagues of Menda, the capital of Yucatan, captured one hundred and fifty of the State troops, and then retreated, threatening to return in October and besiege the city. The State autho-rities guarantee the lives of all who abandon the movement and submit to the Government.

HAVANA, July 10 .- Advices from Mexico to instant state that Cueva had been the 4th elected Governor of the province of Colima. The volcano of Colima is in a high state of eruption, throwing up huge masses of fire, and shes and lava are flowing abundantly from it. The inhabitants of the villages and towns within its range have fled from their homes to the fields beyond, and are in a deplorably destitute condition.

LONDON, July 10 .- In the House of Commons, last evening, Mr. Gladstone, in discussing the Central Asian matters, said it was English policy to rule subject countries by the adoption of measures beneficial to them. He was assured that the Lord Mayor's interview with Shere Ali did not involve any agreements on our part. Russia has expressed the opinion that Afghanistan should remain as a neutral zone between Russia and British influence

LONDON, July 10.—The Times of this morning as an editorial on the state of affairs in France. The editor says that if the Corps Legislatif is firm it will gain the powers which have been demanded by a large majority, and which the minority also desire. Old things are passing away, and another political dispensation is at The desertion of the monarchy by M. Mackau will show how deep is the general conviction that personal government is a lost cause. The Morning Telegraph says that the Emperor said the principle of ministerial responsi-bility was the right one, but it was the business of the Senate and not of the Corps Legislatit to regulate it. Time, however, will bring the measure. LONDON, July 10 .- The agitation in regard to the Irish Church bill threatens to become serious. Preparations are actively being made for imposing demonstrations against Mr. Gladstone who has hitherto hesitated to encourage the meetings, but has consented to give a official sanction, on the ground that the Lords attempted to qualify their opposition to the will of the Government and people on the ground of a pretended change in public sentiment. It is certain, however, that the Commons will refuse rield to the Lords their the small points not affecting the principle of the bill. It is expected that this open-air meeting will be the largest ever known. QUEENSTOWS, July 11.—The yacht Danntless, J. G. Bennett, Jr., commanding, arrived here at twenty-five minutes to three P. M. to-day, from New York. She had heavy weather, and made the voyage in twelve days, seventeen hours, six minutes and twelve seconds, PARIS, July 10.-The Patrie of to-day says that the recent negotiations between the Government and the Corps Legislatif have resulted in an understanding that the former will realize the projected reforms, and announces a Senatu Consultum to carry the same into effect. PARIS, July 10-Evening .- The Constitutionne of this evening says that the counsellors of the Crown are discussing the question as to whether t is advisable to reply to the interpellation, and thereby divulge the programme of the Govern ment. No decision has been arrived at, and therefore, reports as to the views of the Govern ment are premature PARIS, July 11 .- The conneil of Ministers and the Privy Council have held frequest meetings at the summons of the Emperor to deliberate upon the interpellation for political reform now pending in the Corps Legislatif. It is said the following programme has been agreed on, with the concurrence of the Emperor .--The Senate will be immediately convoked, when parliamentary changes of a liberal character will be proposed by the Government. These reforms will probably include an ex-tension of the right and faculty of interpellation and the creation of a responsible Ministry, the Emperor choosing his ministers from the Corps Legislatif, with a view of arriving at the par ticular responsibility of each member of his abinet MADRID, July 10.—The resignation of Her-rera as Minister of Justice has been accepted. MADRID, July 11.-Much political agitation prevails in Lisbon, and the government is taking unusual precaution to prevent an outbreak. VIENNA, July 11 .- Prince Von Auersperg has heen elected President of the Upper Chamber of the Reichsrath.

An American Drama in London.

A new drama entitled Edendale, by Mr. C. S. Cheltnam, on an American subject, was produced recently at the opening of the New Charing Cross Theatre in London. It is thus described by the Athenaum .--

This is a small and unpretentions piece, possessing, however, some solid merit. Its aim-that of giving in a few tableaux an idea of the difficulties and domestic disruptions caused by the late Rebellion in America. is thoroughly accomplished. Mr. Cheltnam hus laid the opening scene of his drama in Virginia, during the times immediately antecedent to the outbreak of the Rebellion. He has thoroughly caught the spirit by which at the outset of the campaign the Southerners were inspired, and has shown the dislike, bordering upon contempt, for the Yankee which at first prevailed in Virginian society. Very cleverly, too, he has depicted the family dissensions leading to strangest and most unnatural antagonism which distinguished this struggle more than almost any other domestic and internecine war. He has done this, moreover, in artistic fashion, and by the employment of means so small as to seem disproportionate to the task. One scene is sufficient for the whole action of his drama. It represents the house and gardens in Virginia of Mr. Vandeleur, afterwards Col. Vandeleur, of the Confederate army. Esmond Fairholt, a young United States officer of Virginia extraction, whose father had freed his slaves and removed to Washington, is on a visit at the house, and is betrothed to the Colonel's daughter Ada. News arrives that the Southern States have revolted, and Esmond prepares to join the army, to which he is summoned. Then all the Southern hatred flares out. For attempting to discharge an act of simplest duty, from which there is no escape, Esmond finds himself regarded with mistrust and hatred by those whose guest he is and whose relative he expected to be. He leaves sadly the pleasant scenes among which his happenst days have been spent. When he returns, it is at the head of a hostile force. The tide of war has swept over the Virginian estate, destroying and effacing its beauty, and he finds none but Mrs. and Miss Vandeleur, with a few negroes, in the house. His duty is to search for concealed provisions. This task, necessarily unpleasant, he endeavors to discharge humanely; but he meets with constant misconception and contempt. In the end he is taken prisoner, and feels bitter heartburning in believing that the woman he worshipped has been a second Dalilah to betray him. A short third act is placed in Washington, when the war is over. It takes up the threads of the story, and shows how the widow of Colonel Vandeleur is reconciled to General Fairholt, when, through his agency, her only son is restored to her arms and her estates are unconditionally returned. The wooing, rudely interrupted, of Esmond and Ada is renewed; and peace bids fair to cover with grass and flowers the scars and injuries of war. Though simple in plot and weak in termination, Edendale is a pleasant and moving play. Its dialogue has point, erring, indeed, at times in being a little over-epigrammatic; and the construction of the two earlier acts is good. Some comic scenes, in which negroes are the principal performers, are a little exaggerated. MARINE TELEGRAPH. For additional Marine News see First Page. ALMANAC FOR PHILADELPHIA-THIS DAY. -The Collector of Customs of the port of Georgetown, a few days ago, received a magni-ficent collection of solid silver articles, intended as presents for President Grant, General She man, ex-Secretary Seward, and Mrs. Lincoln They were sent to this country from Mexico by Sabos Iturbide, on behalf of a modest Mexican who refused to have his name made known, and who said that, in his transport of delight at the abolition of slavery, he was prompted to pre-pare these little tokens for some of the principal actors in that great work. Presi dent Grant receives a silver coffee set of thirty-six pieces and some dressed leopard skins; General Sherman an egg-boiler and hold er. For ex-Secretary Seward there is an inkstand and penholder, most ingeniously con-trived, besides a call-bell, and Mrs. Lincoln's portion of the lot is a heavy card-basket. All these articles are of solid silver, without any dearth of metal, and are of the most beautiful finish and workmanship. Pre/Ident Grant's and General Sherman's portions were delivered yestorday, and some idea may be formed of their value from the fact that the duty on the Presi-dent's lot was $748, and on General Sherman's *164.

Foreign Affairs.

HAVANA, July 10.-A quantity of correspond-ence, from the zebel army to parties in New York, designed to be sent by the steamer Moro Castle, has been intercepted at Bortabano, and the persons in whose possession it was found have been arrested.

De Rodas has issued a general order to the commanders of the different jurisdictions of the island. He enjoins upon them to respect the lives of all unarmed citizens, and to arrest no one on vague suspicion. He instructs them to rigidly respect all the legal rights of foreigners, and says that the Government will hold officers of the army responsible for the good discipline of the troops, and instructs them to forward to him despatches relative to matters in their de partment, containing only facts as they trans-

WASHINGTON, July 11 .-- Latters have been received in this city from prominent officers in the Cuban Army of the Republic, via Nassau and Key West, with advices to July 1.

The intelligence of the arrest of the members of the Cubao Junta, and others who desired to give practical aid to the Cubans who are struggling to achieve their independence, had been received, and produced a most profound impres-sion of surprise and regret. No other news could have caused such a feeling of despondency. One of the writers says:--"It came like the news of the death of your nearest and best friend-your only friend-and the feeling of all seemed to be, that we were alone and must expect no assistance. However, all seeing that it now liberty or death, for no mercy can be expected from the Spaniards, will fight as only men driven to such desperation can fight." Latons, who has succeeded Lesca in command of the troops garrisoning Nuevitas and Paerto Principe, and guarding the railroad between those cities, is reported to have met with a serious .

SUPPOSED MURDER.

A Man Found in Gunner's Rnn.

Yesterday morning, between 7 and 8 o'clock the body of a man, supposed to be a German, was discovered in Gunner's Run, near Girard ave nue, by Officers Glazier and Jeffries. Word Word was immediately sent to the Eleventh District Station House, Trenton avenue and Dauphin street, when the Coroner was notified of the fact. The police remained on the spot until the arrival of the Coroner, who had the body couveyed to the Green House.

From information subsequently received, suspicion was raised of foul dealing towards the deceased. It appears that on Saturday night, at a late hour, he was seen in the avenue, below Gunner's Run, in company with a number of young men, with whom he appeared to be engaged in an excited discussion. He soon left the men and ran towards Gunner's Run, exclaiming excitedly as he proceeded. William Smith, watchman at Leibrandt &

McDowell's stove works, stated that the men referred to were sitting a short time previous on the steps of the manufactory in company with the deceased. He afterwards saw deceased running towards the creek, and heard a sound near the water as though he was being choked. On examining the steps in the morning, blood was discovered upon them. A wooden snuff-box was found near the body, partly filled with snuff, but having no marks upon it by which the man could be identified.

Word was then sont to the Detective office. when the matter was given into the hands of the officers, who succeeded in arresting James Neing, Peter Engles, Morris Flaghey, Daniel Dearler, Martin Frederick, Charles La Count, Nicholas Painter, Francis Donnelly, Samuel Smezman, and Joseph McCandless, allas Langan, who were locked up in the Nineteenth ward Station House to await the Coroner's investigaOFN O.
