He would jump from his bed at night and make similar exelamations; he told me that he "had a devil in him;" he was in the habit of drinking heavily.

Arrival of a Southern Delegation-The Election in Mississippi Fixed for the Fourth Tuesday in November - The Yerger-Crane Murder-Application for a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

FROM WASHING TON.

The Yerger-Crane Homicide Case-A Writ of Habeas Corpus Applied For.

Despatch to The Evening Telegraph.
Washington, July 14.—Chief Justice Chase took his seat in the Chamber at precisely 11 o'elock, to hear the application of Yerger for a habeas corpus. Mr. Phillips, of Mobile, proceeded to read the application, as well as a copy of the charges upon which a military commis sion is now trying Yerger in Vicksburg, Miss Mr. Phillips cited the law giving power to the Justices of the Supreme Court to hear applications and grant writs of habeas corpus; the only limitation on such power being that the party applying must have been arrested under authority or color of authority of the United States. Mr. Phillips argued that any Supreme Judge could exeacise this power, without re gard to particular districts, there being no restriction in the statute limiting the power conferred. Any Judge of the Supreme Court could act in the case.

In the case of Merriman the application was made to Chief Justice Taney, who decided not to hear the case in Washington, but to hear it in Baltimore, in order not to take General Cadwallader, who held the prisoner, away from his military command. Judge Taney seems to have not doubted his jurisdiction. Mr. Phillips also cited a case before Judge Wayne, who exercised jurisdiction.

The merits of the case were then elaborately argued-counsel contending that not only the interests of the citizen, but also of the Constitution itself, were involved, the strength of our Constitution and the rights of British subjects under the Magna Charta were stated at length, the absolute right of trial by jury and the writ of habeas corpus were embraced in all the State Constitutions. The existence of these rights no one questioned, and the petitioner only claimed their benefit. Mr. Phillips proceeded to inquire into powers of Congress in passing the reconstruction acts; he quoted 3 Cranch, 361, to show that Congress is limited in its power, even in legislating for the District of Columbia, He next considered powers of Congress in legislating for the several Territories, and then passed on to a discussion of the legislative power of Congress over the Southern States, citing a large number of authorities.

The court-room is crowded with an attentive auditory. Attorney-General Hoar is present, and will follow Mr. Phillips in opposition to the application of Yerger. Mr. Carlile will close the YOUNG DEFIANT.

The Unparalleled Mormonist Threatens to Ex-terminate Government Officials in Utah-Scenator Trumbuli Lays Down the Law. Despatch to the Chicago Tribune.

Salt Lake, July II.—Yesterday morning ex Governor Oglesby, Senator Trumbull, and several other gentlemen of the commercial party, called on the Governor of the Territory. Mr. Durkee, and paid their respects. The other territorial officers called on our party and placed their services at our disposal.x

At 11 o'clock we called on Brigham Young, at his residence, when the spokesman, Colonel James H. Bowen, made a brief eddress, saying, in substance, that we congratulated him upon the anspicious completion of the railway, which has releved the Mormons of their profound isolation, brought them in contact with the Gentiles, cheapened the cost of their goods, and increased the purchasing power of their labor. He referred to the assistance they rendered in building the road, and the commercial objects of the visitors; complimented the Mormons on their material prosperity, and acknowledged the value of the important art of irrigation, which they had taught the Gentiles, whereby the great American desert was made to blossom as the rose, and to yield rich fruits in their season. The prophet, in behalf of himself and disciples, briefly welcomed the party, spoke warmly of the aid the Mormons had given in building the railroad, and said their aim was to press on diligently to perform the part allotted to them in the drama of life. and said their aim was to press on diligently to per-form the part allotted to them in the drama of life, having ever in view the rights of man and social having ever in view the rights of man and social in-dependence. Colonel Bowen then introduced the gentlemen of the party, and a general conversation ensued, lasting an hour. As Senator Trumbull was bidding adieu to Mr. Young, the latter remarked that, on returning to Congress, he might hear of some persons being put out of the Territory, and, if done, he might be sure it would be for just and good reatons. If such Federal officials are sent here as sometimes have come, they will be guilty, and in an sometimes have come, they will be guilty, and in an orderly way put out of Utah, for good cause.

Senator Trumbull—Before you take any step of that kind, allow me to request that you make known your grievances to President Grant. He is a just man, intending to do justice to all; but he will not permit a violation of law to go unpunished. It will not be safe to molest public officers in the discharge Brigham Young-What more will he do for us than Johnson did? General Grant has removed the only officer here who was a Mormon, and for no reason save that he was a Mormon. The United States judges who were here some time ago acted oavily. I told them what I thought of them, and they

Senator Trumbull-You will promise obedience to the Constitution and the laws of the Union?
Brigham Young-Adherence to the Union, certainly. One enactment of Congress, however, we shall not obey; that is the one forbidding polygamy. It is not right to interfere in that matter. It is much better for a man to have several wives, support, honor, and cherish them, than it is for a man to de-ceive one, and cast off, disown, and refuse to support her.

Senator Trumbull—That is a matter about which we must differ. We think the national Government and the States can rightfully pass laws against bigamy, and justly punish the offense. All the States make a plurality of wives a criminal offense.

Brigham Young—Yes; all the States have laws on the subject, and Utah, when a State, will have an equal right to make laws protecting polygamy. Until we came here the subject of polygamy was not broached. It was not until we had a revelation on the subject. We think we ought not to be interfered with in this matter, as it is nobody's business but our cwn. We have about 70,000 people. Con-but our cwn. We have about 70,000 people. Congress thinks we are unable to take care of ourselves as a State. When we number 300,000, as we soon shall, I think we shall be admitted into the Senator Trumbuli concluded the dialogue by re-marking that the laws, at all events, must be obeyed and upheld, and that the Chicago party was here on a commercial, and not a political errand. Mr. Young's remarks about expelling Federal offi-Mr. Young's remarks about expelling Federal officers from the Territory who do not please him, and his declaration that Mormons would not obey the law of Congress against bigamy, created considerable sensation among the members of the party.

In the afternoon the excursionists visited the four Walker brothers, ex-Mormons, and the leading merchants in the Territory. We received a princely entertainment. Toasts and speeches were in order for a couple of hours. Most of the Federal officers were present, besides many leading Gentile citizens. There was some plain talk, and all agreed that the national rallway renders it now entirely within the power of the Government to enforce the laws and protect American citizens here, which has not hitherto been the case; and that Grant is just the man to enforce the laws of the land.

To-day we all went to the tabernacle, where Brigham Young preached. He delivered an elaborate discource in defense of Mormon doctrines and practices, but made no threats against the Government.

Brigham Young has not returned the visit of the excursionists, or called on any of the emigent gentle.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The New French Cable. Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph. Washington, July 14 .- The Government has taken no active means to prevent the landing of the French cable off the coast of Massachusetts, nor is it likely that any will be taken. There was a story in circulation here to the effect that a revenue cutter had been ordered to proceed to Massachusetts and resist any attempt to land the cable. This, however, is without foundation. It is probable that next winter

Congress will take some action on the subject. The Yerger Case.
The argument before Chief Justice Chase on behalf of the habeas corpus for Yerger is still in progress, with no immediate prospect of termination. It is thought the Chief Justice will grant the petition, and release Yerger.

Mississippians here are very doleful over the refusal of the President to change the day of holding their election. They say the loss to the cotton crop will be very great, as it will be impossible to get negroes to work for some weeks before and after the election. This, it should be stated, comes from the Dent conservative wing of the Republican party.

Several rioters were wounded and one policeman had three ribs broken by a stone thrown by one of the mob. THE BOAT MYSTERY SOLVED .- After a thorough investigation, the mystery surrounding the bloody boat which was picked up adrift on the Delaware yesterday morning has been solved. It seems that a party of men stole the boat on Monday night, and on their way to Smith's Island were struck by a Camden steamboat, the bow of the boat striking one of the cocupants in the head. The injured man bled very profusely, thus accounting for the bloody condition of the boat. The injured man and his companions were taken on board the ferry boat, and the boat left

FROM HARRISBURG. Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph.

The Resolutions. HARRISBURG, July 14 .- A long delay ensued, after which Francis W. Hughes, of Schuylkill county, from Committee on Resolutions, made a report. The resolutions as reported, declared against the exercise of doubtful constitutional power; that Pennsylvania would never give up self-government; that the ratification of the Fifteenth amendment should go before the people; that the negro should not have the ballot: that the finances need reform; that labor reforms should be encouraged; that the whole reconstruction policy tends to destroy republican government and establish tyranny; that our soldiers should not be forgotten; that our sympathies should be given to nations struggling for liberty: and that our system of taxation is burdensome, and should be done away with.

The report was unanimously accepted amid some cheering. The Nominations for Governor.
