THE ECLIPSE.

How the Philadelphia Corps Worked, and What They Did. Ment They Did.

A letter has been received from Professor Henry Morton, dated Monday last, Mount Pleasant, Iowa, detailing the arrival of his party of eighteen astronomers and photographers at Burlington, Iowa, and their subsequent distribution and operations. In accordance with the orders of Professor Coffin, of the Nautical Almanac Office, they left at that place the High School telescope, with a party consisting of the Nautical Almanac Office, they left at that place the High School telescope, with a party consisting of the Nautical Almanac Office, they left at that place the High School telescope, with a party consisting of the Nautical Almanac Office, they left at that place the High School telescope, with a party consisting of the Miller, Mr. H. C. Professor James McClune and Professor Gummery. The remainder arrived at Mount Pleasant about hair-past twelve, and here landed their own division, consisting of Messrs. R. L. Wilson, H. C. Clifford, James Creemer, and W. V. Ranger, and were joined on Thursday by Mr. John Carbutt, a photographer of Chicago. Professor E. C. Pickering, with his apparatus for general 'physical' observations, accompanied them. The rest of the party, with the Gettysburg telescope, then continued some fifty miles further to Ottumwa, where a station had been fixed for them: this last division consisted of Professor C. F. Hines, Mr. J. Zentmayer, Mr. E. Moelling, Mr. J. C. Browne, and Mr. W. J. Baker.

On Thursday morning, Professor Morton's party was joined by a corps under the charge of Professor Watson, of the University of Michigan, consisting of

Mr. W. J. Baker.

On Thursday morning, Professor Morton's party was joined by a corps under the charge of Professor Watson, of the University of Michigan, consisting of Professor Watson, Professor J. M. Van Vieck, of Professor Watson, Professor J. M. Van Vieck, of Middletown, Conn.; Professor Merriman, of the University of Michigan; Hon. J. D. McIntyre, and Mr. W. A. Johnson. These gentlemen were provided with telescopes and a spectroscope for astonomical observations. The "fair grounds" outside the city were selected as the best location for observations; and by the courteous permission of Mayor Strawn and the Agricultural Society, a "photographic darkroom" was constructed, and the larger instruments placed in position during the afternoon. Not a glimpse of the sun was caught during the day, and a drizzling rain on the succeeding Friday dampened the spirits as well as the clothes of the party.

Professor Morton says:—"An ancient inhabitant rather triumphed over us, saying that it served us right for trying to peer into the works of Providence. When, however, Saturfay, notwithstanding an unfavorable wind, dawned clear as crystal, our worthy friend stood true to his colors, and told us this was to show us what Providence could do, and that we would be fixed off before afternoon. Fortunately, Providence had kinder intentions, and in answer to petitions that on the part of some of us, at least, were hearty and sincere, gave us such an opportu-day long we were busy at our preparations and preliminary trials, and as the momentous moment approached I feit no small anxiety, though the beautiful working of chemicals and apparatus, in sun-pictures which we kept taking from time to time for practice, gave us confidence. At last fessor Watson announced that the first con fessor Watson announced that the first contact would come in six minutes, and each one went to his post. Messrs. Carbutt, Clifford, and Ranger shut themselves in the dark room to prepare and develop the plates. Mr. Creemer took the holders with prepared plates, from a window arranged in the dark room for the purpose, and handed them to Mr. Wilson, who placed them in the camera, while I kept the telescope on the sun by means of the inder, and managed the exposing slide and trigger. One minute of the contact came, and a plate was inserted; with one hand I worked the handles of the fine motion adjustment, and with the other on the trigger, was ready to make the first exposure at the instant that Professor Watson, by raising his hand, should announce the first contact.

t was a curious illustration of human faith, as well as human foresight and ability, in the direction of accurate calculation. There shone the sun, amid a sky so clearly blue that it seemed the grossest assurdity to suppose any dark body could be within a thousand miles of its direction; and yet, there we thousand miles of its direction; and yet, there we were, all waiting for the instant when we know a huge black hall would roll out of the azure space across this clear white disc. The moment came, at three hours, fifty-three minutes, eleven seconds. Professor Watson's hand went up; my linger went down; the trigger snapped; the exposing slide, with its one-fortieth inch opening, dashed across, and we had a picture of the jolly sun, with the least possible perceptible dent in the side of his feee.

"Picture after picture after this was exposed in pretty rapid succession, in inding four plates during the 252 of totality. One of these we lost by an accident, the others gave us strong impressions of the dent, the others gave us strong impressions of the 'solar flames,' though for want of clock-work the deflection is not good, it being impossible to give the telescope the proper motion by hand. The pictures obtained by the other fastruments of our party at Ottumwa and Burlington will, however, supply all the information needed in this direction, and these, which are fully as good as I hoped for, will be of great value, as showing how much may be done with even a small instrument, on future occasions, if it has a clock-work movement, and will be of great use in showing the effect of short exposures during

"I had little chance, as may be imagined, between the working of tangent screws and making expo-sures, to see the total eclipse. I got a glauce or two over my shoulder, and was rather disappointed. The corona was seemingly of a red color, and only formed a narrow fringe of rays about the moon—no far-reaching brushes of light such as are shown in many drawings taken on previous occasions. As regards the moral, or rather mental impression, it seemed to me like a great experiment, in which I was concerned, and had hard work to keep up to time. This was, however, from my peculiar position, which prevented me from giving my attention fully to anything but my work. The people around the grounds cheered as the totality came on, and Judge Vale told me that his little boy, about eight years old, jumped up and clapped his hands in de lighted approval of the sight. After the totality, we continued to expose plates as before, until the end of the eclipse, and made in all about forty good

From the division of our party at Ottumwa, I hear that thirty-four good negatives were taken, including four during the total phase, and from Burnington, that forty-two were obtained, including six during totality. We have thus, as the work of the Philadelphia party, an aggregate of one hundred and sixteen good negatives, including ten or the total phase with three inferior but valuable creek. total phase, with three inferior but valuable ones of

This morning, at 10 o'clock, Professor Morton and his corps arrived safely in this city, in the special car kindly furnished for their use by the Pennsylva-nia Railroad. Professor J. H. C. Coffin, in charge of all the expeditions, has returned his thanks to then for their efficient services. The Philadelphia photographers comprising the party are already at work printing from their negatives, and copies illustrating the stages of the late eclipse will soon be on sale.

Those sitting with Sharkey say that, without speaking a word, the Crawfords commenced beating him with blackjacks. He got off the step and ran up Howard street to the corner of Oxford, where he entered the tavern of William Baker and then ran out into the yard, William Crawford followed him, and after passing through the door leading into the yard, fired a shot, the ball striking Sharkey in the hip and abdomen. Crawford then left, and the injured man was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where his wounds were attended to. This morning he was doing well, but the physician in charge would not certify to his being out of danger. THE CAPITOL.

What the Washington Buildings are Worth, Mr. L. T. Reavis, of St. Louis, communicates to the Democrat of that city the following inormation touching this subject. He says:-

Last fall, when I began to collect material for my pamphlet in favor of the removal of the apital, I addressed a letter to Secretary McCulch, asking him for the amount of expenditure made by the General Government in the District of Columbia. I received the following answer:of Columbia. I received the following answer:

"TREASURY DEPARTMENT, Sept. 28, 1868.—L. T.
Reavis, Esq., St. Louis, Mo.—Sir:—In answer to your inquiries, I have to say that the total amount expended in the District of Columbia, from the time the seat of government was located there to June 10, 1808, for public works of every description, including buildings and works of art, is $37,399,853 0s.

"The real estate, exclusive of buildings, was assessed at $13,412,223 26 in 1858. Since that time there has been no assessment of which the department is advised. Very respectfully.

"Hugh McCullock,
"Secretary of the Treasury."

Thus it will be some that the autire expense.

Thus it will be seen that the entire expense of the Government for public buildings and grounds in the District of Columbia since 1790 is been but a trifle for this great nation. Besides the expense, I received a letter from Secretary Browning stating that the Government owned in the District of Columbia, including grounds, parks, gardens, navy yards, etc., 578

In reference to the grounds owned by the General Government in the District of Columbia, the Hon. Henry T. Blow has put apon record a standing ofter of five hundred acres of land to the Government, whereon to erect public buildings, and, in addition, offers to put up a sufficient number of buildings, suitable for of-fices for clerks, etc., and rent them at as cheap rates as the same kinds of buildings are rented at in Washington City. But there are men who at in Washington City. But there are men who claim to be intelligent, and many of them in our city, who say it is a "serious question" with them whether the capital would not kill St. Louis

RACE EXTRAORDINARY.

Great Trot in Buffalo between Goldsmith Maid,

American Girl, and Palmer—The Fastest
Time, for Three Successive Heats, on Record
Goldsmith Maid the Winner.
Yesterday afternoon, in the presence of 20,000 persons, who had assembled on the Buffalo (N.
Y.) Driving Park, three trots came off, one of which proved the most extraordinary on record. The purse for this contest was $10,000, free to all horses; $5000 to the first horse, $2500 to the second horse, $1500 to the third, and $1000 to the fourth. This race was considered the great event of the meeting, and the attendance at the track to witness the race was immense. Goldsmith Maid was the favorite, American Girl the next choice, Palmer selling most nothing. Lucy did not start, she being lame. There were large amounts pending on the result. Palmer had a great deal the best of the send off. Goldsmith Maid the second, two lengths ahead of American Girl. latter did not get around the turn Goldsmith Mald gained on Palmer very fast, and was lapped on him at the quarter pole which was passed in thirty-five seconds. American Girl six lengths behind. Going down the back stretch Goldsmith Maid went to the front, and led four lengths to the half-mile pole in 1.08%. Palmer second, two lengths ahead of American Girl. Going around the lower turn Goldsmith Maid opened the gap, and Daniels did not seem to urge American Glrl, but let the others go on with the lead. As they ame into the homestretch Goldsmith Maid was six lengths ahead of Palmer, who was one length in front of American Girl. Goldsmith Maid trotted steadily on, and won the heat by half a dozen lengths in 2 1954, American Girl second, one length ahead of Palmer.

SECOND HEAT.—Dan Mace then took American Girl. Goldsmith Maid was a great favorite over American Girl. She got away with the best of the start, Palmer and American Girl head and head. As they passed around the turn Gold-smith Maid led one length, American Girl se-cond, two lengths ahead of Palmer. At the quarter pole, in thirty-five and a quarter se conds, Goldsmith Mald led two lengths, Ameri can Girl Second, three lengths ahead of Palmer Going down the backstretch American Girl shut up the gap, and was at Goldsmith Maid's wheel at the half-mile pole, six lengths shead of Palmer, time 1 09. Going around the lower turn American Girl worked her way up to Goldsmith Maid's shoulder, and when the latter came into the homestretch she led her half a length. most exciting struggle to the stand ended by Goldsmith Maid winning the heat by a head, in 2·19½. Palmer was ten lengths behind.

THIRD HEAT.—Goldsmith Maid broke up as soon as the word was given, and American Girl went to the front and led one length around the turn, Palmer second, Goldsmith Maid third. the quarter pole American Girl led one length Palmer second, one length in front of Goldsmith Time, thirty-four and three-quarter seconds. Going down the backstretch Palmer trotted close up to American Girl. At the halfmile pole, which was passed in 1 08%. American Girl led one length, Palmer second, two lengths ahead of Goldsmith Maid. Goldsmith began closing on the lower turn and was lapped on Palmer's wheel as she came to and was appea on raimer's wheel as she came to the three-quarter pole. She then broke up and ran into the homestretch; when she recovered she was a length behind Palmer, American Girl on the lead one length. American Girl began to show signs of quitting before she reached the draw-gate, and Mace commenced using the whip, when Goldsmith Maid came gamely along, losing at every stride, and at the distance stand was on even terms with the Girl. From there to the stand she left American Girl and won the leat by a length. American Girl second, more than a length ahead of Palmer. The Pacing Race succeeded this great trot. This was for a purse of $500 for pacers; $350 to the first, $100 to the second, and $50 to the third horse. There were five entries, W. Brown's c. g. Ynkee Sam, Thomas Roach's g. g. Dan Voorhees, John Dama's ch. m. Lamplighter, John Watson's g. g Coldwater Billy, Ed. Hart's r. m. Polly Ann. Dan Voorhees was the favorite.

FIRST HEAT.—The horses had a standing start, Polly Ann got away first, Dan Voorhees second, Lamplighter third, Coldwater Billy fourth, and Yankee Sam last. At the quarter ole Polly Ann led, Dan Voorhees second, Lamp ighter third, the others far behind and out of the race. Lamplighter cut down the others on the turn, and won the heat by six lengths in 2-22.7, Polly Ann second, Dan Voorhees third, Yankee Sam far behind, and Billy still further HAYTI.

They Purchase a Gunbout.

Negotiations have been pending for some time between the naval authorities and the Havtien Government (Baez branch) for a naval ressel, to be delivered to the latter Government at this port in a condition for active service. The affair culminates in the Haytiens being able to raise funds. Yesterday "General Roche, a Spanish negro, waited on Rear-Admiral Godon, commandant at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and effected the purchase of the United States steamer Algonquin, a vessel somewhat noted for her race several years ago with the United States steamer Winooski, in which the Algonquin was badly beaten. Since her race Algonquin has been supplied with new machinery at a heavy expense. The price paid for the vessel could not be ascertained. E. Biondi, formerly a volunteer master in the United States service, was offered the command and accepted it.—N. Y. Herald.

Difficulty Between the Government and State Authorities in New York-An Expected Conflict - The Southern Cotton Crop.

FROM NEW YORK.

The Money and Stock Quotations.

Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph, New York, Aug. 13.—The Vanderbilt stocks are all about 3 per cent, higher to-day than at the close last night. It is said the cause of the advance is in consequence of telegrams from Saratoga which state that the consolidation has been finally agreed upon between the different roads represented there. New York Central is now quoted 21216; Hudson River, 189; and Harlem, 165. The market is very buoyant and prices are advancing. Western stocks are steady at about previous prices. Gold continues dull, heavy grain and an abundant harvest having a depressing effect upon the premium. The price remains unchanged since the opening hour, and is still quoted at 134%. Governments are dull. Money is steady at 7 per cent. Foreign exchange is a trifle firmer at an advance of about 1/4 per cent. since yesterday.

Conflict of Authority-The U. S. Marshal to Resist the Judges with Armed Force,

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 .- Marshal Barlow has received an autograph letter from President Grant requesting him to use all the means at his disposal to resist any attempt by the State authorities to take John H. Pratt, the alleged murderer and traitor, from his custody. The Marshal is now in his element, and is making such preparations to resist any attempt to take Pratt from his custody as must speedily cause its fallure. The U.S. Court buildings in Chambers street are filled with marines, who are in waiting fully armed and equipped, and will resist any attempt that is made to take Pratt away.

LOST AT SEA.

Wreck of a Ship from Quebec for Aberdeen-Eight of Her Crew Lost-Sufferings of the Survivors.

From the Quebec Mercury, Aug. 9.

The ship Renfrewshire has arrived at Gree nock with the second mate, steward and five hands of the bark Harmonia, of Aberdeen, from Quebec for Aberdeen. The men were picked up at sea on the 6th of July. They had abandoned their vessel. The captain, mate, carpen-ter, sail-maker, and four hands were drowned. The following details regarding the abandon ment of the Harmonia have been furnished by the surviving members of the crew of the Ill The Harmonia, 643 tons register, Captain

Peter Ross, left Quebec for Aberdeen on 5th of June, with a cargo of timber. Her crew mus-tered fifteen, all told. Light winds were expe-rienced till Monday evening, the 5th instant, when a strong breeze from E. N.E. was ex-perienced. About 6 o'clock all the ship's small sails were taken in, and two hours afterwards the topsail was reefed; at nine o'clock stowed vind had increased to a severe During the with a heavy sea running. night the ship sprang aleak, and the crew were almost constantly engaged at the pumps. Early on the morning of the 6th all hands were called to take the foretopsail off the ship. The vessel as therefore hove to, the crew again renewing their exertions at the pumps in order to keep down the leak. All that day the gale continued to increase in violence, while the ship began to labor heavily in the tempestnous sea. About 5:30 P. M. all hands were called to set foreopmast staysall, in the hope of being able to wear the ship. This sail, however, gave way, and as it was found impossible to get the ship round, the crew were again sent to the pumps where they remained till called by the mate to go into the cabin (a poop one) and bring out a sail for the purpose of covering the quarter hatch, which was found to have burst. At this time the sea was washing over the ship's lee side, and the deck cargo was being washed about the deck. About 11:30 the vessel fell over on her beam ends, the mast being under water. Seven of the crew, who were eventually saved, managed to get on the outside of the ship's side, and they remained, washed by heavy seas, for about two hours, when the vessel righted in consequence of the masts going by the board. then ascertained that the poop cabin and every-thing on deck had been swept away, and that the master, mate, carpenter, and five of the crew were missing. It is believed that they were al swept away when the cabin was washed over board. The seven survivors ultimately succeeded in getting to the fore part of the ship and found shelter under the topgallant forecastle head. Meanwhile, the storm raged with unabated violence. When daylight came a corps was observed washing about the after part of the vessel. The ship was now completely water-logged. Confined to their narrow prison, the unfortunate survivors remained often standing up to their knees in water, and having neither food nor water till next day, when the weather somewhat moderated. On the morning of the Sth the maintopmast staysail was secured, and the crew succeeded in covering the topgallant fore castle with it, which gave them additional shel-ter from the plercing cold east wind. During the earlier part of this day no other ship could be seen, but towards the afternoon a vessel was seen to the westward approaching them. The "house flag" was quickly hoisted, and this signal of distress being observed, the ship, which nal of distress being observed, the ship, which ultimately proved to be the Renfrewshire, of Greenock, Captain Littlejohn, bore down upon them and promptly rescued them. When taken on board the Renfrewshire every kindness was shown the unfortunate men, who have lost all their effects. The names of those saved are Richard Cox.

Cuban Sensations.

Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph. Washington, Aug. 13.—The Cuban sensation story ublished in the most staid of your morning conemaprories about the appointment of a mixed commission to purchase Cuba, "exploits of a private gentleman," Marshal Serrano and Captain-Gene-ral Prim, and much more of the same sort, is slightly spoiled by being pronounced "bosh" by the authorities at the State Department. A'majority of the Cuban stories emanating from Washington should be received with caution; most of them have their origin in the dearth of news which prevails here just now.

Pratt, the Texas Ranger. The Secretary of War, it is understood, does not purpose releasing his hold upon Pratt, the Texas riter. The charges against him are of too serious a nature to allow him to be set at large, and the Secretary holds that the New York courts have nothing to do with him, and that he is still in charge of the United States.
