MISSISSIPPI.

Resignation of an Indignant District Attorney The following letter of resignation has been forwarded to the President:-

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10, 1869.—To his Excellency U. S. Grant, President of the United States,—Sir:—I respectfully tender my resignation of the office of Attorney of the United States for the Southern District of Mississippi. Though the office is not one of much importance, I cannot retain it without being identified to some extent, with an administration whose acts, so far as they relate to my own State, I cannot approve. Major Wofford, an officer of the late Rebel army, who, in defiance of the con-tumely and reproach heaped upon him by the Southern people, supported bravely and almost alone in his district the reconstruction policy of Congress, has been removed from office. From the late approved published statement of your views, I am justified in the belief that this is done in accordance with the established policy of your administration. From the same sources I learn your confidence in and support of General Ames, an officer who has degraded his position as military commander of the Fourth Military District by exercising its functions solely in furtherance of his own personal and partisan ends, unhesitatingly avowing that he desired to use the high office of Senator from my State as a stepping-stone to the appointment of brigadier general in the regular army, and whose whole course in that State has been marked by a tyrannical exercise of power utterly antagonistic to the spirit of the reconstruction laws. As a resident of Mississippi, and one of the founders of the Republican party of the State, though never a political aspirant, I would be false to my State and the Republican principles which I have always maintained, if I longer retained the office to which your kind preference has assigned me.

Flying Machines.

At a meeting of the Aerial Navigation Company held on Friday, July 24, in San Francisco, it was voted to raise the necessary funds to con-struct an improved Avitor of large size. The opinion of the engineers of the company was unanimous as to success so far, and the feasi-bility and success of the projected flying-ship. It will be about 150 feet in length, 20 to 40 feet diameter of the gasometer, with propelling blades on each side of the centre, describing radius of about 16 feet. The propellers are shaped like a steamship's, with two blades each, very light. They will be driven by a steam engine of five horse-power, weighing, with boiler, connections, and water, 430 pounds. The planes on each side for floating the machine will be about 20 feet wide at the centre of the machine, and made in sections, so they can be depressed or elevated at pleasure with the rudder or tall. The frame-work will be made by Kiniball & Co., the carriage-makers: the gasometer will be made in sections, so that in the event of accident to one the remainder will be sufficient for all practical purposes; indeed, it is claimed that the ship can fly through the air with such speed that the sustaining power of the planes alone will be sufficient to maintain the Avitor in mid-air. The gasometer will be made, probably, of thin muslin or silk, saturated with gutta-percha. It is to carry four persons, and will be ready for trial in 60 to 90 days. The result of this experiment will be looked for with great interest all over the country .- San Francisco Bulletin.

PIANOS. STEINWAY & SON'S UPRIGHT Planos. It will be welcome news to the mustical public that Steinways have succeeded, by the most gigantic improvements, in raising the Upright Piano from its well-known state of imperfection to that of the most perfect amongst the different shapes of pianos. The Upright Piano of Steinway & Sons now is more durable, keeps better in tune and in order, has more power, a purer and more musical tone, and a better touch than the square piano, and rivals in most of these points even the Grand Piano. Its advantages are so plain and striking that the most prejudiced against this shape of a piano are converted by examining them; and out of twenty who want to buy a Square Piano, nineteen prefer now already an Upright one of S. AS. Purchasers will do well to examine them, at the wareroom of BLASIUS PROS
