MEWS SUMMARY.

City Affairs.

-The centennial anniversary of the birth f Baron Von Humboldt will be celebrated in this city on the 14th of September. The arrangements have been entristed to a committee, consisting of Messrs, William J. Horstman, chairman, C. H. Baumann, Julius Hein, Lorenz Herbert, Emil Herwig, Paul Fagode, J. Kinike, R. Koradi, N. O. Seidensticker, and F. W. Thomas. The committee has been aided by the Academy of Natural Sciences, which has agreed to invite the co-operation of the Philosophical, the Entomological, and the Horticultural Society, and of the Franklin Institute and the College of Physicians. The erection of a Humboldt Monument in Fairmount Fark, and the laying of the cornerstone on Monday, September 13, is to be the main feature of the celebration. The requisite application to the Park Commissioners for permission has been made some time ago, but has not yet been acted upon for want of a quorum, which, however, will likely be present at the meating to be held on Saturday next. More that one hundred literary, musical, benevolent, and other societies, and several military organizations, will parade on Monday, Sep tember 13, and proceed to the Fairmount Park, to attend the laying of the corner-stone for the monument. His Honor Mayor Fox and other dignitaries will officiate. An ora-tion will be delivered by Dr. G. Kellner, and the combined German musical societies, under the leadership of Mr. William Hartman, will execute the musical part of the programme. After the ceremonies a festival will be held at Engel & Wolf's Farm. On the next day, the birthday of Humboldt, a cele bration will take place at the Musical Fund Hall. Orations will be delivered in English and German, the first by Dr. H. C. Wood (who was selected by the Academy of Natural Sciences as orator), and the second by Dr. Reinhardt Schmidt, of Burlington, About three hundred selected singers and a large orchestra, both under the leadership of Mr. William Hartman, will perform the musical part of the celebration.

-Ameeting of the Philadelphia Produce Association was held yesterday afternoon at their rooms, on South Delaware avenue, A. B. Detwiler, President; Henry Carr, Secretary. A report was presented by the Secre-tary, by which it was shown that nincteen different firms had been reported since previous meeting who were suspected of doing business without license. An examination of the books of the Assessor proved, however, that sixteen of this number had been regularly assessed, and those who had not been assessed were referred to the Restraining Officer of the District for prosecution. The report also showed that two persons engaged in the provision business, who had been arrested on the charge of conspiring and attempting to defraud S. M. Cooper, a member of the association, of fifty-two barrels of potatoes, had been discharged on a writ of habeas corpus. It was also reported that a man named Joseph Burns had been arrested on the charge of obtaining goods under false pretence, and, after a hearing, had been committed to prison.

In General Quesada's command, beside a few skirmishes between small parties, it is reported that there has been no engagement. Adjutant-General Townsend says he cannot be present because of business engagements at Washing-ton. General Meade last week wrote a letter that he wants and expects to be here unless prevented by business. Charles Marshall, late Lieutenant-Colonel and Acting Assistant Adjutant on the staff of General Robert E. Lee, says:-"'I beg leave most respectfully to decline the invitation to attend the proposed meeting." This morn-ing, in accordance with a previous arrangement, a party proceeded to examine a designated post of the battle-field. It consisted of General Slocum, Governor Geary, Generals Greene, Barnum, Selfridge, Kane, Fowler, Shaler, Meredith, Von Amsburg, Dana, aud Steinwehr, and Colonels Ricketts, Dudley, Flanders, McFarland, Freauff, and Assmusser, Major Selfridge, and many others, including Doctor C. The party examined the positions at the cemetery Culp's Hill, and the immediate neighborhood embracing the positions held in that locality on the days of the battle by the 11th and 12th Corps, and a part of the 1st and 6th Corps Several disputed positions were settled, i being conceded by one party to the other that a misapprehension had existed. The adjustment of the questions was preceded by narrations of sircumstances happening at the points in controversy. In the afternoon a party, consisting of General Slocum, Greene, Kane Barnum and others, visited the vicinity o Round Top. A large part of the field of bat tle being owned by private citizens, prominent military men and civilians, who examined the ground, to-day had a conference, with a view of purchasing and adding it to the sections now under the control of the Battle-field Memorial Association. It was thought that the Legislatures of States which sent troops to this field should subscribe in part the required amount of money to effect such purchase, and that Congress also be asked to assist. In addition te this, it is also devired that the breastworks and other defenses be preserved from farther

Manifesto by the Cuban Leaders.

In a manifesto to "Our Brethren at Bayamo, Jiguani, and Manzanillo," the Cuban leaders peak as follows :--

These Spaniards are the same as ever; they are all despots; humiliating themselves before the strong, they are insolent to cowards, and asking pardon of the conqueror; they are fero-cious in the hour of triumph. * * * * Our war for independence demonstrates this fact. Worthy companions of Lolo Benitez, Manuel Beytor, Francisco Casals, and other spurious ons, the shame of this lovely land, they have committed every kind of excess: have enused to flow torrents of our people's blood; have sacrificed barbarously persons without arms, mostly children, women, and old men: have filled with mourning and desolution every family, and now tell us, "Come and embrace your brothers who have ever been such: those who forget ; thousand injuries at the smallest manifestation of affection." Brothers, answer them thus:-"What is there in common between assassin-and their victims? Get behind us, excentioners who have not yet sufficiently glutted your thirst for blood, and still seek to wreak upon us you vengeance. We abhor you; we despise your fiers, as we contemn everything that comerom you, and we would likewise despise the Savamans who have affixed their names to this aper, if we did not know that their signatures have been procured by violence and deception And no doubt the Count gives them complete liberty, without exacting the slightest conditions

The heavy exactions, the vandalism which the Spanlards employ in rulating the country the humiliations which these mandarins have caused the Cubans to undergo, caused us to take ap arms in order that we might conquer rights that had been constantly denied us, and, with them, holy liberty. The savage proclamation of Valmaseda, and the gloomy results which have followed it, should have caused to fall from your lips these words:-"We must save the country or perish in the attempt.

4 Boy Crushed by Ponderons Rollers.

Yesterday morning at 7:10 o'clock a boy named ohn Armour was drawn into the ponderous rollers of a machine used for rolling steel in the Adirondack Steel Works, at the foot of Warren street, Jersey City, and instantly killed. When the accident occurred the lad was engaged in oiling the machinery, and necessarily while in motion. He had temporarily removed the guard, a broad fender, for greater facility in oiling, and the spout of his can got caught in the rollers, and foolishly retaining his hold upon it. his hand was caught and he was drawn into the machinery, at the time making 120 revolutions per minute. The poor boy did not have time to cry out, and before the machine could be stopped he had gone through and been dropped out into the pit beneath, a mangled mass of matter, the head being the only part bearing any resemblance to a human being, a portion of the remains still adhering to the rollers. The sudden stopping of the engine drew the attention of all the employes to the spot, and they gathered around in a sorrow-stricken crowd, cach one remembering some good trait in the unfortunate lad, and speaking to one another in a subdued The remains were gathered up, and by voice. permission of the Coroner, removed to the residence of the mother of deceased, and will be interred to-day. The proprietors of the works ordered a funeral at their expense. Last fall another boy was crushed to death by the rollow by the rollers in the same works, and at the uggestion of the Coroner's jury in that case, the proprietors caused guards to be placed around the rollers, for the prevention of like accidents; but to oil the rollers, which amour was engaged in doing, it was necessary to re-move the guards.-N.
