CITY INTELLIGENCE. NATURAL SCIENCES.

Semething Abent the New Academy to be Erected at Nineteenth and Race Streets. To-day, after the summer receas, the Academy of Natural Sciences reopens. The Hall on South Bread street has been cleaned and renovated; all the galleries and cases wear a bright and inviting appearance, due to the broom and the brush, but nothpearance, due to the broom and the brush, but nothing more has been done. Neither an alteration nor an improvement has been made, nor has the collection of specimens been increased. All this for an increased, and the form ebvious reason. Disappointed in securing a site for a building on Penn Square, the Academy has not fainted in heart, but determined to erect a new edifice on the lot previously purchased at the south-west corner of Nineteenth and Race streets. The ground will be broken either in the latter portion of the present fall or during next spring. Whichever date is selected, the purpose is to push the project to completion, and consequently any money now expended on the old place would be but wasted.

completion, and consequently any money now expended on the old place would be but wasted.

The drawings for the new academy, upon which Mr. J. H. Windrum is now engaged, will be finished by the 20th instant. The proposed structure will have a frontage of 180 feet on Race street, and do feet on Nineteenth street. It will afford three times the accommodation of the present building on Broad street. It will have a basement, and rise to the height of two stories above. The lower story, to the accommodation of the present building on Broad street. It will have a basement, and rise to the height of two stories above. The lower story, to be circied by one gallery, will serve as the library of the institution; the upper, to be circied by two galcies, will be the museum. The library will be 60 by 134 feet. The space below the gallery will be divided into fifteen or twenty small rooms for the purpose of study, the remainder of the ground foor being occupied by apartments for, artists and the curators, and rooms for the society's publications. There will also be a printing office and bookbindery on this floor, together with every appliance for study. As mentioned, the second floor, with its galieries, will hold the museum. It will be excellently well lighted by tall windows reaching from the floor to the celling up past all the galieries without a break. Of these windows there will be forty.

Complete and spacious, however, as the new structure will be, it is only designed to serve as a wing to the main building to be creeted at some future time, when the needs and the resources of the society will warrant the undertaking. A fac simile of it will be built, when, the curators themselves don't know, at the corner of Cherry street and Nineteenth, Between these two will rise the main ed.

don't know, at the corner of Cherry street and Nine-teenth. Between these two will rise the main edi-fice, which we can well believe will be no shame to the architecture of the city when finished.

As matter of information, the Academy will par-ticipate in the celebration of the centennial anniver-sary of Humboldt's death, to be held in this city on sary of Humboldt's death, to be held in this city on the 13th and 14th inst. The Germans of the city, on the 13th, will lay the corner stone of a monument to this great man in Fairmount Park, upon the spot formerly selected for the Washington monument, On the evening of the 14th there will be a celebration in Musical Fund Hall, in which the members of the Academy will join. An oration will be delivered in German, and another in English by H. C. Wood, Jr., Professor of Botany in the University of Pennsylvania. A mighty orchestra will also be present. vania. A mighty orchestra will also be present.

Fame Fire Insurance Company, No. 809 Chesnut street, Philadelphia, Sept. 3, 1869.—Sir:—Our loss at the fire at Patterson's stores, August 4, was misstated at the time in some of the papers as $63,000, and as since fully adjusted and paid, it amounts to but one-third that sum, being $21,204.41. I would be pleased to have you publish these facts.

Respectfully,

Another Grand Excursion.—On Monday next, the 6th instant, another of that series of grand and celightful excursions around New York bay and up the Hudson river takes place, the party leaving Wal-nut street wharf at 7:30 A. M. As but a limited number of tickets will be issued, application should be made for them at once. These excursions, the route they take, and the pleasure they afford, are so well known that to the majority of us an announce ment that one will come off is sufficient; still to those few unlucky ones who never have enjoyed them, but now intend going, a few details of the pleasure that awaits them may, through anticipation intensify it when it comes. From Camden a specia train of cars carries the excursionists to South Amboy, at which point the magnificent steamer Wil-tiam Cook receives them and starts on her way. Passing around Staten Island, through the Narrows affording a line view of Fort Lafavette, Governor's Island, and the city of New York, up the Hudson river she steams. The famous Palisades are witnessed, many pretty town passed, and Sing Sing reached. Here she turns, swims down the river and bay again, passing by Sailors' Snug Harbor, along Staten Island; thence to South Amboy. Here a special train awaits the returning pleasure-seekers and brings them to the city at 9 o'clock P. M. The National Cornet Band of Camden will accompany the excursion, and dinner will be served on the boat. Under the perfect arrangements adopted by Mr. J. Warren Gore, of the Camden and Amboy Railroad, an unalloyed time of pleasure is enjoyed from the start to the return.

THE DELAWARE AVENUE PEACH MARKET .- Prices this morning are little lower, and the market is lau-guid, owing to two causes, first—the late arrival of steamers, and the absence of Boston purchasers. The first cause assigned causes dismay to sellers, and laxity in purchasers, depressing the market for the day, and prejudicing the market, in the absence of active competition, the whole of the next day. It should be remedied for the good of all concerned, first, by producers having their fruit promptly on time at the landing, that steamers may leave on time to make an early market. Certain information from New York gives the intelligence that the market was very active and remunerative, the depot bare, and prices advancing, which, with active intsare, and prices an about which which with a control of the supply on hand, will excite healthy movements to-morrow and Monday. The aggregate arrivals this morning were 40,087 baskets, as follows:—

Propellers Fanny Cadwallader, Diamond State, and Cygnet with 17,683 baskets. and Cygnet with 11,083 obsects.

Steamers Jersey Blue and Perry, both from Smyrna, Delaware, with 6025 baskets.

Schooners A. M. Harris and Franklin, from Odessa, Deiaware, with 2000 baskets. Sloops Rose, Hope, and Lafayette, with 263s

Barges J. Collins, Bine Mountain, Charles, Charles Lafferty, Madison, and Willie and Wallie, with 19,871

William O'Connor, residing in the lower part of the city, was arrested at Twentieth and Ellsworth streets, on the charge of shooting John Harduck, on Wednesday evening, while the latter was standing alongside a peach train on the Connecting Rail-way. The prisoner is said to have been a messenger on the train, and on seeing a man put his hands into one of the peach crates, discharged the pistol, the ball of which struck Hardnek. O'Connor will be at the Central Station this afternoon.

THE LYLE MONUMENT FUND,—Strenuous efforts are being made to raise the additional amount necessary to pay for the Lyle monument, which was or-dered a couple of years since by the Fire Depart-ment. At a meeting of the Phœnix Hose Company, held last evening, a resolution was unanimously adopted ordering the Treasurer to pay to the Fund Committee $100 in the event that nine other companies signified their intention of contributing a CORONER'S CASE.—Jacob W. Souder, aged seventy years, residing at No. 606 N. Thirteenth street, dropped dead last evening, at Broad and Callowhill streets. The cause of death was debilitation.

COMMISSIONER'S CASE,-This morning, before U.S. COMMISSIONER'S CASE.—This merning, before U. S. Comm issioner Clark, a preliminary hearing was nad in the case of the United States vs. General Samuel M. Zulick, charged with perjury. The case has already been heard before an alderman, who returned it to the Quarter Sessions for trial, and for this reason the defendant's counsel objected to the present proceeding before the Commissioner, which objection was however. objection was, however, overruled, counsel com-plaining that this left the same criminal prosecution before the State and Government authorities

The prosecutor, Hugh Kennedy, being sworn, testified that during the year 1867 he was a revenue officer. On the 11th of February of that year he saw a wagon loaded with barrels, which he suspected to be contraband, and which he therefore followed through many windings from Twenty-third and Ashurrion streets, which was in General Zoliet's collective. burton streets, which was in General Zulick's collection district. He wrote to the General, informing him of the matter, and subsequently went to see him. After some conversation the General introduced his brother and directed him and their man to accompany Kennedy to seize the barrels. They went to No. 868 North Fourth street and found 3 barrels of whisky without an inspector's mark, and by Kennedy's direction they were seized. He gave the information to the District Attorney, and in due course of law the whisky was condemned. He frequently called at the Marshal's office to inquire what had been done, and was repeatedly told that the liquor had not been sold. Recently, however, he learned that the sale had been made, and discovered that the defendant, General Zulick, had said that he was the informer against the whisky, and had thereby received the said that he was the said that the the said t and had thereby received the sum of $50-51, the in-former's molety of the net proceeds. This oath, the witness said, was perjury, as he and not General Zulick was the informer.

The Commissioner held the defendant for a further hearing on Monday, when, it is understood, exCommissioner Rollins will be examined.

PHILADELPHIA CONTRACTORS ABROAD,-However New York may bluste about its ownr overmastering business firms and their unsurpassed enterprise, it seems to be inevitable that they should call in some Philadelphians to their belp when that have "a big thing on hand." This is the case with their Post Office building, which is the case with their Post Office building, which is now actively under way. We notice with pleasure that Charles V. Horr, of Pennsylvania, was the successful bidder for supplying the concrete for $3.5; per cubic yard, and the contract for supplying the rubble stone was awarded to James E. Neal, of Philadelphia, at $5.72 a yard.

A Charge of Periusy.—General S. M. Zulich, late Collector of the Third district, had a preliminary hearing yesterday, before United States Commissioner Clarke, on a charge of perjury, instituted by one Hugh F. Kennedy, who alleges that the prisoner made a false return of a case to the department in which Mr. Kennedy claims to have been the informant. The case was postponed until Monday next.

THE WATER QUESTION.—The Schuylkill river has been constantly getting lower until this morning, when Licutenant Jacoby, of the Schuylkill Harbor Police, reports it at a lower stage than at any time heretofore. The wheels at Fairmount are able to work for a few hours a day, and by this means the water in the reservoirs is kept at a pretty respectable Advices by Steamer to August 24. At an early hour this morning, the Cunard steamship Rhein, from Bremen, arrived at New York, and from the files which have been furnished us, we take the following news items:-Rochefort the "Irreconciliable" on Napoleon's Annesty.

M. Rochefort, the leader of the "Irreconciliaoles," as he is now styled, writes as follows with regard to the late amnesty:—

"To-day my friends inform me that a sponge has been passed over my past career, and that an august clemency (Clemence, du reste, ls the name of my cook) has remitted the various penalties I have incurred during the last year, y dint of economy and good conduct. Who-What is it?—What do they want with me? To what penalties do they allude? What amnesty are you talking about? Have I been sentenced? It is not impossible. Have I been amnestied?

What law know nothing of it. and Governments decide courts has nothing whatever to do with me, and I have determined to remain quite unconnected with either the one or the other. The only sentence and the only amnesty I can accept are those awarded by the people. It forms the only tribunal and the only power before which it is my good pleasure to bow. shall only return to France when the people recall me by its vote. only re-enter my country in obedience to the imperative mandate which I shall presently soicit from the electors of the First Circumscription. presented to me." Excuvations at Rome Archicological Discove-ries—The Pope Delighted.

An undertaking highly interesting to archieoogists is about to be commenced with the sanc tion of his Holiness, being the clearance of the ancient monumental facade of the Marcian Aqueduct from the medieval fortifications and superstructures of the Porta San Lorenzo.

The present Pope's predecessor, Gregory XVI authorized a similar operation at the Porta Mag giore, which resulted in the extrication of the magnificent facade and inscriptions of the Claudian Aqueduct from rude towers and buttresses hastily thrown up in remote and troublous and the revelation of an interesting Roman tomb under the rubbish, erected to the memory of the wealthy baker, Vergillus Euryaces, and his wife—a monument decorated with portrait statues and bassi-relievi illustrative of the occupation of the defunct. Pio Nono is delighted at the continued success of the excavations at the Emporium. The marbles already extracted from that ancient wharf are valued at 2.000,000 francs; and as Baron Visconti predicts that the depot will be found to extend down the left bank of the Tiber, from the Aventine to the Church of St. Paul extra muras, the supply may be considered almost inexhaustible. Last week sixteen great masses were got out, one being of rose-colored oriental alabastes of great value, another of pavonazzetto, and several of giallo antico. The Emporium has upplied everything that the restoration of Agrippa's Pantheon required, and the same materials are being employed in the restoration and embellishment of twenty-one churches in Rome. The Pope has also seut presents of marble to various churches in different parts of Europe, and has promised Archei-hop Manning an assort-ment of the most precious kinds for the enrich-ment of the future Roman Catholic Cathedral or The Prussian Government has returded thanks for the munificence of his Holiness' gift to the Cathedral of Aix-la-Chapelle. Switzerland will not be forgotten in the dispensation of these long-hidden treasures. Only two columns of African marble of size and importance were hitherto visible in Rome, at the entry of the portico of 8t. Peter's. The Emporium has furnished fit-teen others, of which the largest has been des-fined to be the commemorative monument of the Council on the Janiculum. Thirteen pieces o the precious murrhæ, for which the ancient Ro mans paid fabulous prices, have also been discovered. The Belvedere court-yard in the Vatican is now the principal depot of these marble treasures, which are arranged there under the Pope's immediate inspection. Last week his Holiness witnessed the arrival of an enormous block of African, dragged from the Tiber bank to his palace by twenty shaggy black buffaloes. An Extraordinary Anecdate about Louis Napoleon.

The Salut Public, of Lyons, has just published a most extraordinary anecdate, for the truth of which it youches with great determination During the sojourn of Louis Napoleon in America he became very intimate with a family whose real name the Salut Public disguises under the pseudonym of Edwards, derived from the Christian name of its head. The friendship the Edwardses felt for the Prince was unvarying, and his feelings towards them when he became Emperor were as con-stant as they had been when he was an exile. In 1859 Mr. Edwards came to France to felicitate his friend on his Italian victories, and was received by the Emperor with much warmth. The interview was long and private; Mr. Edwards, however, made no secret of what passed between them, and repeated to several of his friends the following words of the Emperor. The Prince Imperial has only covered from a serious iliness, and his Majesty, still under the impression of his past fears, said to his old friend, "If I had the misfortune to lose my son, and all hope for an heir in a direct line were denied me, I should have put into exemples." cution an extraordinary project. should have given to France the privileges, the liberties, the manners of a republic. I should have wished to be looked upon as the first citizen of my country, after having given back to it those liberties which political necessity has obliged me to take away for time: in a word, I should have rendered impossible atter my death any other form of government than that of a republic— the only one which, wisely understood, and applied with energy, can suit France. But I ust give up this dream; a father of a family must not burn his son's roof over his head, and must try and conciliate two elements which now seem utterly inalienable—the Empire and liberty. My heirs shall reign, and France shall only lose a name—the name of republic. She will soon have, I hope, all the liberal institutions that I have so much admired in the New World. Such words as these, at such a time, certainly took Mr. Edwards by surprise, and created much astonishment and incredulity in the minds of those to whom he communicated

Francis I. A. Boole. Francis I. A. Boole, so well known some years since as a prominent Democratic politican in New York city, died at half-past 8 o clock yesterday morning, at the Lunatic Asylum in Utica, of softening of the brain.

Mr. Boole's advent as an office-holder was as

Councilman for a district located in the Eleventh ward. He was subsequently elected Alderman from the same ward, and afterwards held the position of City Inspector. While holding this last position he was nominated by Tammany Hall as a candidate for Mayor. The Republi-cans nominated Orison Blunt, while the Union Democracy and the McKeone portion of that party nominated C. Godfrey Gunther. The contest was one of the most exciting ever experienced in a Mayoralty election in this city. Almost every one except the select few who were well posted on the inner workings of the wirepullers expected that Mr. Boole would be elected by a large majority, and that Mr. Gunther would be the last man in the race, and very large amounts, at great odds, were bet by many of these sanguine individuals, and won by those who were "posted," and who were morally certain that Gun-ther was to be the winning man. When the votes were counted they stood about as lows:—Gunther, 28,000; Blunt, i4,000; and Boole, 19,000. Although Mr. Boole was nominated by Tammany he was also estensibly supported by Mozart: but he received very little if, any, support from Mozart, Mr. Fernando Wood having cfused to speak at the meeting called to ratify his nomination, and a report having gained ground among the Celtic followers of Mozart Hall that Mr. Boole was an Englishman, and held the same views on the negro question as his brother, Rev. Mr. Boole, a noted abolitionist. On the other hand the Germans, en masse, rallied to the support of Gunther, who also doubtless received a large Mozart vote and a small port on of the Tammany, and thus is explained the reasons why Mr. Gunther did what no other Democrat but Mr. Fernando Wood ever did, beat the Tammany candidate for Mayor. Shortly afterwards Mr. Boole's popularity had run down almost to zero, and he was legislated out of office as City Inspector, the Board of Health, which was then created, having assumed the duties and powers appertaining to the City Inspector's department.

Mr. Boole, from the effects of disappointed ambition and dissipated habits, soon became un-sound in mind, and was placed in the Bloomingdale Lunatic Asylum, where he remained until recently, when he was sent to the asylum in Utica. Mr. Boole leaves a wife and two grown up daughters. Mr. Charles E. Loew, County Clerk, and Mrs. Boole started for Utica yesterday, and will bring on the remains of Mr. Boole to this city to-day. Mr. George W. Roome, the keeper of the City Hall, has received instruc-tions to display the flags at half-mast from the City Hall to-day.—N. Y. Herald of to-day.

THE NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

The following extracts show the state of the New York money market yesterday:--From the N. Y. Herald.

"The great feature of interest in Wall street to-day was the speculative movement in gold, the price of which suddenly rose over two per cent, and scenes of excitement which have soldom been wit-nessed in the Gold Room since the wild speculation of the war days. The earliest sales were at 133 a 1334, but all that was offered at these figures was quietly absorbed, and the price at soon was sirm at 1331s. A few minutes after 12 o'clock the award of the Government gold was announced at the Sub-Transury. The whole amount was taken at 15306 by one firm, whose movements of the street. The effect on the crowd was electrical. They dashed out of the Treasury and down the steps into Wall street, and ran across at the top of their speed to the Gold Room. The news spread like wildfire, Up went gold to 1331. The 'bears' sold it back to 1331s. The clique brokers took all that was offered and bid for more. Buck went the price to 133), and thence it rose, point by point, sometimes slowly, sometimes quickly, but unreistingly, to 135). The consternation of the 'shorts' was terrible. The bid at the Sub-Treasury was regarded as an old trick of the cliques to un-load upon the market. Heretofore the latter had been taking up gold, but now they backed up their assertions that the premium was destined to advance by purchasing. At least ten millions was bought by them to-day. The street was distracted bought by them to-day. The street was distracted by reports that they would lock up gold to-morrow in furtherance of the 'corner' on the 'shorts, whose number is legion. Indeed the market is in a state which leaves it at the mercy of the 'bulls. In the general situation there is nothing to cause the advance. It is true the Paris Bourse is reported heavy, and rentes declined. There is nothing positive. All is problematical. Napoleon's health is doubtless not the rest, but nothing is definitely known concerning it. Should be suddenly die there would be a panic abroad, and gold would go up instantly. The only thing certain is that gold in the winter must fall before the natural influences of a heavy exportation of cotton and breadstuffs. Now the 'bulls' have all the gold, or nearly all of it. The banks last Saturday held less than twenty millions. This twenty millions will, it is feared, dwindle to ten next week, when the Comptreller demands the statement of the banks. The 'beats' have sold gold which they must borrow. Hence the panicky feeling among them this afternoon, when as high as 1.33 to 1-16 was hid for the among of gold to merrow. feeling among them this afternoon, when as high as 1-32 to 1-16 was bid for the use of gold to-morrow. The transactions to day were on an enormous scale, and it is thought by experts who viewed the market that the clearances to-morrow will approximate two hundred millions.

Post Office Appointments-President Grant's Plan of Rotation-Virginia Politics-Gen. Carby and the Test Oath-Kentucky Politics Discussed in the Cabinet.

Appointments by the President.

Despatch to the Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 3 .- The President has appointed Jesse M. Boyles Postmaster at Louisville, Ky., vice Dr. Speed, who has been in office eight years. This appointment, it is stated, is in accordance with a declaration of President Grant, some time ago, that certain persons who have held office eight years must give place to those who have suffered by the war, provided they are equally competent for the position.

The Cabinet and Kentucky. The condition of political affairs in Kentucky received some attention at the late Cabinet meeting, with a view to changes in the principal offices and to bring the incumbents fully in accord with the administration.

The Virginia Election-The Test Oath Not to be Enforced. It is ascertained from a source deemed reliable, that General Canby will soon proclaim the result of the late Virginia election, and that the fourth Tuesday thereafter the Legislature will meet, and that the test oath will not be exacted, but that the Legislature will not be allowed to act on questions beyond those required by law, preliminary to the recognition of the State by Congress. The latter includes the ratification of the fifteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

The Gold and Stock Markets. The bull movement in the gold market still continues, and the gold clique are said to have locked up nearly twenty millions yesterday and to-day. FROM THE WEST.

How Republicanism is to Meet with Defeat, Despatch to The Evening Telegraph. CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Nearly all of the city papers oppose the action of the Temperance Convention in deciding to form a new political party on the pro-abition basis. It will result in the success of the Democrats in many localities. The temperane men in this county propose to run a separate ticket.
The Republican party here is now distracted by efforts to form a people's ticket, and this in addition

The Removal of the Capital -A Call for a National Convention at St. Louis Shipments of Silver Ore.

FROM THE WEST.

The National Capital Convention. St. Louis, Sept. 3 .- From correspondence in the hands of the National Capital Convention Committee, it appears that Governor Geary, of Pennsylvania, declines to send delegates to the National Capital Convention, to be held here next month, on the ground that the people of Pennsylvania are not ready at present to sanction such a movement. Governor Baker, of Illinois, while he approves of the movement himself, questions his authority to appoint delegates in the absence of an expression of the views of the people on the subject. The Mayor of Memphis thinks the convention should be postponed one year. Henry S. Foote, of Tennessee, claims to have favored the removal of the capital for twenty years. Governor Warmouth, of Louisiana, and Governor McClurg, of Missouri, announce their intention of appointing full delegations. The convention will be held if no more than three States are represented.
