The Receivers of Personal Taxes—The Naturalization Business—The Extra Assessments—The Splits in the Legislative Districts.

The Splits in the Legislative Districts.

There seems to be some doubt as to the right of the Receiver of Taxes to appoint for the present campaign the receivers of the poll tax. Under one of the provisions of the Registry act, it is provided that all acts with reference to the collection of personal taxes inconsistent with that act be repealed. Mr. Melloy, the present Receiver of Taxes, was desirous of having the question settled, and he therefore submitted it to the consideration of three prominent Democratic lawyers, who at first declared that the Receiver had no power under the Registry act to appoint receivers. However, within a few hours, one of the three stated, on a reconsideration of the subject, he had come to the conclusion that the Receiver possessed the right to appoint the receivers to receive the tax from those who were on the regular assessment of this city, but that the new act debarred them from collecting the poil tax from those who have been placed on the extra assessment. Mr. Melloy, not being willing to act on the decision of this one gentleman, has again submitted the matter to the three, who are now holding it under advisement. A decision will have to be given within a few days.

But few persons availed themselves this morning of the privilege of obtaining their naturalization the matter to the three, who are now holding it under advisement. A decision will have to be given within a few days.

But few persons availed themselves this morning of the privilege of obtaining their naturalization papers. Judges Ludlow and Stroud, however, sat the day through, but the numbers applying were comparatively small. Many people are under the impression that yesterday was the last day on which residents could be put on the assessment list, but on reviewing the law, it seems that Ostober 2d and 4th are still left for that purpose. On these two days the canvassers appointed by the Board of Aldermen sit. The assessors were kept busily engaged yesterday and last evening in hearing the applications of those desiring to appear on the list of voters. In many of the wards the line was kept up until midnight, though the doors of the apartments had been closed at 7 o'clock. Difficulty after difficulty arose from the ignorance of the citizens of the provisions of the Registry act, but everywhere the best of order was observed. Noticeable at all the head-quarters were the blue uniforms of the policemen, who, though they were on duty to preserve the peace, took as active a part as any of the citizens in seeing those of their kind through the mill.

The divisions in the various Legislative districts in both parties still continue, and the prospect is the citizen will have, in many of the districts, several candidates from whom to chose. All the disputed districts have been referred to the two Executive Committees, both of whom have rendered their decisions, notwithstanding which the different candidates still remain in the field. Overtures have been made, but to no purpose. In several cases the ward committees have waited upon the aspirants for legislative honors (?) and offered them the chance of agreeing upon a new man, but these offers have not been accepted.

Interesting Occasion.—Some time since Captain

Interesting Occasion.—Some time since Captain J. Parker Martin, of the Grey Reserves, who has commanded Company I of that regiment since its organization, resigned from its command. Last evening he was made the recipient of a handsomely engraved series of resolutions from the officers and men of his old company. The presentation ceremony took place about 9 o'clock, at the Armory, at Broad and Race streets. The company being assembled, Captain David Beust, the present commander, came forward, and in a neat and well-delivered speech, presented the following series of resolutions, which were handsomely written by G. K. Snyder, one of the Committee:—

Headquartens "I" Company,
1st Redment Ispanter, 2d Bridger,
1st Division P. V. M.,
Philadelphia, Sopt. 29, 1889.

Wherear, This company, by the resignation of our late Captain, J. Parker Martin, has been deprived of the services of an officer who has been connected with us for many years, and who, by his military deportment and gentlemanly conduct, has wen the confidence and esteem of his fellow-members; and whereas, it is incumbent upon us, on his retirement, to express in some manner our appreciation of his services in our behalf, therefore be it

Resolved, That the thanks of this company are due and are hereby tendered to J. Parker Martin, late Captain of "I" Company, for his active and untiring exertions for the benefit of this company during the long period of his command. Also

Resolved, That we heartily regret the occasion that led to his resignation, and earnestly hope that although deprived of the advantage of his military knowledge and experience, we may in the future enjoy the pleasure of mesting him socially at our headquarters.

SAMUEL WINKWORTH,
THOMAS E. KIRBY,
GEORGE K. SNYDER, Jr.

On receiving the resolutions, Captain Martin thanked the company, and introduced Colonel Harmanus Neff, who, in behalf of the recipient, made an address of some length, which was listened to with marked attention and loudly applicated. The company was soon after called to "grub" and the inner man refreshed. Numerous toasts were drunk and responded to. Fine music enlivened the scene. The party dispersed at a late hour, highly delighted with the ceremonies of the occasion.

THE CRAWFORDS IN TROUBLE .- Yesterday, at the house of John Martia, on Frankford road, above Norris street, the extra assessors were spinning out their lists. A certain James Crawford came there, their lists. A certain James Crawford came there, bellicose and unruly, and inclined to go for a head wherever he saw one. He took his station on the stairway of the house. A man ascended, and when his mouth had got to the level of James' boot James' leg unwound like a watch-spring. Result, the dislocation of three or four of the stranger's front teeth, and the tumbling of the stranger's body down the stairs. Policeman Levy chanced to be standing near by, and of course he took James into custody. Alderman Heins then held him to answer in the sum of $400.

James not being restrained of his liberty, and smarting under his arrest, determined at any cost to batter somebody. In company with another Crawford, christened William, he got hold of Mr. James Horner, pulled him into a house not far from the scene of the former affray, and there unmercifully "went for him." Horner retired with a cut on the eye, another one on the head, and a perforation in the cheek, evidently made by some implement like an ice-pick. He was too severely wounded to appear against them after their arrest, and consepear against them after their arrest, and conse-quently Alderman Heins held them in $1500 ball each for a further hearing.

each for a further hearing.

James, beginning to realize that he was paying dear for his whistle, grew desperate. He returned to the house of John Martin. A Dutchman there encountered him—whereupon James' wrath waxed flerce. He struck straight from the shoulder, and caromed with his knuckies on the dark side of the aforesaid Dutchman's nose. The Dutchman spun round awhile, and then scored one on the sidewalk. For this little game, James was held in an additional $500 ball, and then, thoroughly disgusted with his ill luck, went home, and retired to his virtuous couch.

THE PEACH MARKET.—Our report from Delaware avenue this morating states that inferior fruit is very inactive at 30 to 40 cents per basket. Losses were made by philars of the philars of the philars of the philars of the philars. by shippers upon their last shipments. The following are the particulars of the arrivals this morning, which aggregate 23,955 baskets:—

Rows at Another Place.—James Lucas went yesterday to a place of extra assessment at Fourth and George streets. He had bent his chow rather too frequently during the morning, and therefore was a little "how come you so?" He walked up to a certain John McDougall, and let drive. Day Sergeant Jeffries, who was present at James' elbow, stopped the blow beautifully, and then collared James. On searching him at the Station House a six-barrelled revolver was found on his person. Alderman Eggleton held him to answer on the charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, assault and battery, and carrying concealed deadly weapons.

At the same place, Fourth and George streets, during the evening, another fuss occurred. Some seven chaps, alleged to be Twentieth ward knucks, kicked up a disturbance there. One of them, George Stoneman by name, had a shooting-iron on his person. They were all arrested and carried before Aiderman Riddell. George was held in $1500 bail, on account of his weapon, and the others in a less sum for rioting. ROWS AT ANOTHER PLACE,-James Lucas went

HIS NAME.—A notice has already appeared in THE TELEGRAPH that a man suffering from a gunshot wound in the leg was admitted into the Episcopal Hospital, and therefied. The Coroner held an inquest upon his body, at which it was ascertained that the name of deceased was Thomas Murphy, that he was thirty years of age and married; and that the wound which resulted in his death was received by the accidental discharge of his own gun while birding at Pennypack creek, near Bridesburg. A verdict was rendered in accordance with the facts.

COMMITTED.—Julia Curtis, alias Emma Smith, the young woman who, incited by the "green-eyed monster," inflicted several stabs last night, at Tenth and Coates streets, upon her deserting lover, had a hearing before Alderman Kerr this morning. The fact being made known that the young man was more seriously wounded that at first supposed, Emma was committed for a further hearing to-morrow afternoon at the Central Station.

THE VERDICT.—This morning Coroner Daniels held an inquest upon the body of a deaf and dumb lad, named Edward O'Neill, who was run over and fatally hurt by a pair of horses attached to a wagon driven by John McAnally, on Eleventh street, below Federal, on the 18th inst. A verdict was rendered in accordance with the foregoing facts, the jury attaching no blame to the driver.

Drowning Cases,—This morning a man was drowned in the Schuylkill river at the steamboat landing, Fairmount, and a lad, about six years of age, was found drowned, floating in the Delaware at Vine street wharf. The Coroner was notified in both

THE LATE CASPER SOUDER, JR.—To-morrow afternoon a meeting of the Press Club will be held, at which a memoir of the late Casper Souder, Jr., will be read by Thompson Westcott, Esq.

CUBA.

Efforts of the Spanish Regency to Excite Hos-tility against the United States.

This was telegraphed from Washington yes-terday to the N. Y. Tribune:— Letters have been received here recently from an active Spanish republican connected with the Madrid press, which speak at some length of the efforts made by the regency to excite hostility against the United States on account of Cuban affairs. The object is really, according to the writer, to enable General Prim and his coadjutors to put some foreign prince upon the throne, and thus bar the forward progress of the Democratic party. It is asserted in the letters that the Republicans have been growing more formidable daily, and at any opportune moment they would be ready to assume the initiative. They, according to this writer, world be perfectly ready to accept Cuban independence. The government are encouraging a war spirit against the American republic, because it is really the best way out of its internal difficulties. The Republican leaders are determined to oppose this outburst, but from the indications manifested at the date of the correspondence, it would be difficult to keep even their followers intact on the Cuban issue. The Democratic party have lost all confidence in Prim, and think that his visit to France is designed only to arrange for some regal candidate of whom Napoleon will approve, and he (Prim) can control. There is no friendship lost, these letters assert, between Serrano and Prim. and it is believed that the former would not be unwilling to accept the mediation proposed by General Sickles on the part of his Government.

The Fictitions Victory. Correspondence from Havana, dated the 11th, says:—On the 7th Instant, the Spanish journals published the private and official accounts of the battle of Les Tunas. They put the number of the insurgent forces at 6000 men, while their own, they say, did not amount to as many as 450, counting veterans, volunteers, and firemen. The Spaniards insist that they were the winners in the fight. This seems strange, for Boniche, the telegraph operator, the Commissary of War, the Health Physician, and the Postmaster, all from Las Tunas, are now in our city. A part of the garrison of Las Tunas is here, and the re-mainder with Benegasi. These facts being true, how could it happen that the victory was gained by the Spaniards?

Official Mail Robbery. The Government is at present playing an ex-traordinary card. When the Columbia, on her last trip, was ready to leave here, many persons. as is always the case, went to the house of Drain & Co., the consignees, with their hands full of letters for New York, France, England, Germany, and other foreign parts. Arriving at the door, they encountered the police, who took in hand every letter; and as there were, downstales and matters in the office way broken. stairs and upstairs in the office, many brokers and collectors also, these latter were examined for letters, and many were compelled to open their purses and pocket-books in order that hid-den treasure might be discovered. Many of the letters were written in languages very different from Castilian; and as, perhaps, not one of the police could read anything but Spanish, you can readily understand what sort of confusion was brought about. The consequence was, that a very short mail was taken by the Columbia, and doubtless the same will happen with the Missouri, which leaves at 5 o'clock to-day for Nassau and New York. The Mariposa, which bears this to you, will carry a large part of the Columbia's mails. This is not the only difficulty in the way; for letters from New York and abroad to Havana people are frequently detained at the post office, and sometimes never reach the persons addressed. The feeling against foreigners, particularly Americans, is growing more and more bitter every day. A foreigner here at present has no safety other than in a well-section with the control of the well-scaled mouth. Fiftbustering Expeditions. Contrary to expectations, the Havana journals affect to treat slightingly the sailing of fillbustering expeditions from the United States, and the reported departure of the Hornet has not caused that extreme excitement which characterizes the press here when they are called on to chronicle anything which they consider derogatory to la dignitad Espanola. The Prensa says, speaking of the departure:—

 We have said it a thousand times-these questions should be examined calmly, making very little use of charlatanism and bravado. In the United States a fillbuster may oad a vessel with those articles which best suit his convenience, embark passengers, and despatch vessel and cargo for some port in the Antilles or the neighboring continent, and afterwards give orders for it to change its course and discharge its freight on the coast of Cuba. The Government of the United States has nothing to do with a vessel despatched for Colon, Kingston, Sisal, or Hondaras. The Spanish Government, if its cruisers should encounter the vessel in Spanish waters, or if the soldiers and volunteers who, in Cuba. defend the cause of Spain, should capture the fillbusters, they may inflict the chastisement they merit without fear of what foreign Governments may say or do in the premises. This is the proper course, and we ought all to pursue it, adopting measures that will insure the capture of the expeditionaries by our land or naval forces, which, by the way, is not as difficult of accomplishment as it appears. The Voz de Cuba, in referring to the circum-

The steamer Hornet is entirely free, and it is believed that her destination is the coast of Well, let her come; we are tired of list-to reports of fillbustering expeditions, when prepared, do not leave; when they leave, do not arrive; and if they arrive, disappear as if the ground opened and swallowed them. Let them come in good time all those that wish; let the fillbusters disembark by thousands. Perhaps the Catrofacciosas will now pluck up heart, and we will have the pleasure of seeing their faces, and succeed in defeating them in formula combet." in formal combat.

Return of Powell, the Colorado Explorer. Chicago, Sept. 21.—Colonel J. W. Powell, the Colorado explorer, returned to this city yesterday morning, having successfully travelled the entire grand canon from Queen river, the point where Colorado debouches into an open plain, in the Territory of Arizona, from the point where Colonel Powell's last letter was written. The expedition descended over about four hundred miles between walls almost vertical, ranging from five hundred to fifteen hundred feet in height, the exterior of the canon being from twenty-five hundred to four thousand feet above the bed of the river. More than two hundred waterfalls and cascades, emptying themselves over the walls of the canon into the main river. were seen in this district, presenting almost every variety of natural scenery and geological formation. The canon consists principally of limestone, sandstone, and granite, found only at three places, and in limited amount.

No discoveries of precious metals were made, and no indications of gold or silver found in the bed of the river. One section of the canon was proved to consist of very fine and beautifully polished marble, which is at present entirely inaccessible. The country traversed was barren beyond description, and is pronounced by Colonel Powell not susceptible of cultivation,

SHERMAN.

Some Astute Criticisms on Female Apparel. It will be seen, from what we are about to relate, that the General, although immersed almost head over ears in matters pertaining to the military condition of the country, has yet not lost sight entirely of society and its reforms. Let skeptics scoff-but Sherman nevertheless is, and most likely ever will be, weak when a woman confronts him with a petition. He would rather face a battery than refuse them. This is the latest relative to his last interview with little Doctress Walker, which the Cincinnati Commercial reports. She petitioned for a place, and he, like a great soldier, changed his tactics in the face of the enemy.

That Toggery. "Why don't you wear proper clothing? That toggery is neither one thing nor the other," said the General, as he pointed his finger to the non-descript garb of the doctor.

"Well, General," replied the young woman, "I suppose you would like to see me in hoops.
