Excitement Among the Brokers-Depreciation of Stocks. Special Despatch to The Recenting Telegraph. NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The stock market has been subject to another depreciation in values, and in-tense excitement prevails. The buoyancy was lost in consequence of the failures of Julian & Co., C. A. Meigs & Son, Fuller, Treat & Cox, and C. S. Sloan & Co. The latter was known as the broker for A. T. Stewart & Co., and generally attended to the gold purchases. The houses mentilened always ranked as first-class houses, and as soon as it was noised about in rela-tion to their insolvency, there was a grand rush to seil, and the market was unble to st-m the tide, particularly when the President of the Stock Ex-change announced officially the failures, and pro-ceeded to sell stocks out under the rule. All stocks declined and there was little disposition to purchase, but those having stocks were seemingly willing to make any sacrifice before being entirely rulned. GOING HOME.

Sorrowful and Affecting Scene in a Sleeping-Car From the Louisville Courier-Journal, Sept. 20.

The passengers on the Saturday night train of the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad for Cincinnati were startled from their slumbers at an early hour in the morning by the cry of "Mother's dead !" the tered in an agonizing shrick from the rear end of the car, by a woman who afterwards proved to be a daughter of the deceased. The circumstances at-tending the death were these: The old lady, who was tending the death were these: The old lady, who was quite an invalid, had been taken on board at the vil-lage of Jamestown, New York, where she was met by her daughter, her daughter's husband, a mer-chant in Cincinnati, and a granddaughter, with whom she proposed to spend the winter for the benefit of her health. The old lady, though quite cheerful, was too feeble to sit up during the day, and one of the sections was arranged for her to lounge upon till bed-time, and her children were unwearied in their attentions, watching her with such tender. upon till bed-time, and her children were unwearled in their attentions, watching her with such tender, thoughtful care as to attract the attention of those about them. In the evening, before they retired, the young people sang a beautiful hymn in an under-ione, while the old hady sat jocking out dreamily into the purple twilight with an expression which seemed to tell of yearnings for the spirif world, which was soon to be her home. At bed-time she was placed away nleely in a section all to herself, be-ng visited from time to time by her daugh-ier, to whose tender inquiries she replied away pleely in a section all to herself, be-ing visited from time to time by her daugh-ier, to whose tender inquiries she replied that she thought she should pass the night as comfortably as though she were in her own room at home. The last time that her daughter spoke to her was at 2 o'clock in the morning. When she went over at 4 o'clock again, the spirit of the mother had passed away to the better land, appa-rently without pain or struggle. It was a strange mother had passed away to the better land, appa-rently without pain or struggle. It was a strange scene, that of the bastling, talking crowd of early risers, crowding thoughtlessly about one end of the car, getting ready to disembark, contrasted with the other, where the corpse was laid out in the corner section, with the children kneeling and weeping at the bedside, and refusing to be comforted. The old lady was a general favorite in the village whence she came, and was escorted to the cars by quite a num-ber of friends and acquaintances, to whom she said, at parting:--"Tell them all, if I slip away on this journey, that I was ready and willing to go."

Details of the Late Indian Disturbances. Despatch to the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 .-- Governor Campbell, o Wyoming Territory, reports to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, from Cheyenne, September 23, details of the late Indian disturbances in that Territory on the merning of the 14th Instant. Eight Indians ap-peared below a military camp on the Papo-Agu river, where Co K, of the 10th Infantry, and Co. D, of the 2d Cavairy, are stationed. The camp is on what is known as the Wind River Reservation, being the reservation set aside for the Shoshone Indians, and the troops were sent there by Major-General Augur immediately after the raid made by the Sloux into the Sweet Water mining region on the 16th of May last.

New YOEK, Sept. 29-12 M.—The National Ex-change commenced the sale of gold at 10 A. M. and before 11 transactions aggregating $600,000 had been made, at rates varying from 130 to 131/3. The feeling in all circles is somewhat better this morning, but still there remains that dreadful uncertainty more hard to bear than even ruin It-self. The changes in men are noticeable. Money is still stringent, and fears are entertained that the scarcity of gold to-day will seriously em-barrass the workings of the clearing committee. Sales of $100,000 of gold were made at 11-05 at 1/33; afterwards fell to 1'31/3. The Gold Bank made no clearings to-day, but announced that it would pay checks held by other banks over the counter. The banks have voted to keep open till 4 P. M. Butter-field wrote to Boutwell last night in reference to an increase of the purchases of bonds. A committee is now in session at the Clearing House considering the affairs of the gold Exchange Bank. net.

The Indians were at first supposed to be Shoshones as the soldiers were expecting them at the reserva-tion, but a citizen made them out to be Sloux, and upon the fact being reported, Company D, 2d Cavalry, was sent after them. They had gone but a short dis-tance when they were attacked by about one hundred warriors, and a severe light ensued. Five Indians are known to have been killed, and a considerable number wounded. They were in full war dress, well armed, and with abundance of am munition. Some of them spoke English, calling themselves Ogailas. They had with them in a herd some fifty head of horses and mules supposed to have been captured, and these were guarded by about 50 Indians, in addition to the 100 engaged in the fighting, The fight lasted about two hours, when the Indians retreated.

ing by the policemen, At half-past 3 o'clock this morning fire was also discovered in the "New Jerusalem" Swedenborgian Church, on Cherry street, east of Twenty-first. Some passers-by perceived the smoke and informed Officer Keough of the circumstance, who went at once to the place and kicked in the door. The fames were started by the match of an incendiary among some kindling wood in the cellar. The damage way confined to the lecture-room on the first floor. The church library, there located, was destroyed, and also a collection of specimens of natural history be-longing to a former pastor of the congregation. A melodeon was consumed. Loss about $1290. Insured for $5000 in the Franklin.

A GRAND NUTTING TIME .- The Park Commission have had in contemplation for some time a proposi-tion to devote the new Park to the school children of the city, who should be allowed the privilege of making use of all the trees upon which nuts are growing. After several meetings it was concluded to extend the invitation to the various Sectional School Boards. In response to this invitation, a committee met yesterday afternoon, when a com-mittee was appointed to ascertain the sections which had or would accept the invitation.

Another committee was appointed to confer with the various railroad companies leading to the Park, as to the rate of fares to be charged the children.

It was resolved that the parents of the children be invited to participate in the recreations of the day, which was fixed as the Sth of October.

THE NEW ORLEANS TRADE WITH THIS PORT.-The ship Charles H. Sonthard, of Richmond, Me., 1100 tons, two years old, rate A 1, French Lloyds, is now loading in the well-established line of D. S. Stetson & Co. for New Orleans, and will sall on the 5th proximo. But few ships trading to this port are superior to this vessel, and a visit to her would prove interesting to our citizens. The Charles H. Southard was built and owned by Messrs. Y. J. Southard & was built and owned by Messrs, 1. J. Southard & Son, prominent shipbuilders and owners of Rich-mond, Mc. Great credit is due her chief officer, Mr. Woodworth, for the ability displayed in the general rig and condition. Messrs, Y. J. Southard & Son are rig and condition. Messrs, Y. J. Southard & Son are the builders and owners of a fieet of fine sailing ves-sels, such as the ship Jane J. Southard, Y. J. South-ard, Ellen Southard, Wizard King, E. A. Hussey, Flora Huriburt, Moses Day, Lizzie Southard, Po-mona, Mary C. Rosevelt, and others, most of which have at various times found good freights at this port.

ort. Our or THE FRYING PAN, Erc.—About "midnight George W. Bowers, a chap hailing from Potisiown, was arcested as he was issuing from the front door of Henraton's tavern, at Twenty-third and Meri-deth streets. George had effected an entrance into he place through the ceilar, ransacked all the rooms on the first floor, and in so doing made a noise load enough to waket the inmates. They leaped from hed, gave the alarm, and at the same time alarmed George, who took to flight through the front door. At this juncture Policeman Horan happened by, and ceived the burgiar in bis arms. George will have a hearing this afternoon at the Central Station.

UND TRAUBEN FESTE (A GRAPE FEAST).--Captain Henry Franz, of Company K, 1st Pennsylvania Ca-vairy, will give one of these unusual, in this coun-try, Teutonic fetes on Monday next, on his grounds, corner of Second and Venango streets, Coopersville, the invited guests being his old employes during the war of the Rebellion in the manufacture of uniforms for our troops. That Captain Franz is much be-loved can be gathered from the fact that, in addition to Company K, he has enlisted and enrolled a second, to be called Company M, among his old subordi-nates.
