FIRE .- About 1 o'clock this morning the alarm bells were rung for a fire on Walnut street, west of Twentieth. On reaching the locality the firemen discovered that the premises No. 2023 Wainut street, occupied by Mr. J. Hayes Lavville, were on fire. The circumstances were as follows:—Mr. Linville and his family started yesterday morning for New York, leaving the house in charge of two domestics, Annie Campbell and Susan Lee.

They built a fire in the grate of the sitting-room in the second story, and kept it burning during the day. At night a blower was put in front of it. Susan was out during the evening, and returned home with a friend—one Sallie McFagan—who, after serving as a domestic in the house of Miss Biddle, had amassed enough money to carry her to Ireland, and was about departing thither. When the three were in the house for the night, the dwelling was looked up and all went to bod. Susan and her friend slept in the attle—Annie in the third story. About 1 o'clock, as mentioned, the fire broke out, and they were all aroused by the suifocating smoke. Annie escaped through the front door, the other two through the trap in the roof, thence into a neighboring dwelling. They built a fire in the grate of the sitting-room in ing dwelling.

During the afternoon a strong odor of something scoreding or burning was perceived in the house, but as, on a search being made, no fire was dis-covered, the matter was not deemed of sufficient importance to give any alarm.

It has now been ascertained that the odor was caused by the burning of the trimmers and girders caused by the burning of the trimmers and girders ander the low-down grate in which the girls had built a fire too hot. From these timbers, after the servants had retired, the fire communicated to the sitting-room, consumed the back stairway, worked its way into the back parior, and into the entry. In fact, the whole building was badly smoked and burned, and in addition fairly deluged with water. The low-sit the lowest estimate, capront fall short. The loss, at the lowest estimate, cannot fall short of $5000, but as Mr. Linville is not in the city, the precise figure is wanting. The building is presumed to be insured as well as its contents. The place had a Mansard roof. It is the first time that a fire in this city has occurred in a building so covered, and, as has been feared, under such roofing the fire proved very stubborn.

One of the servants in the house, in her hurried flight, left $150 in money behind. The money was lost. Miss Sallie McFagan likewise lost the sum of money she had saved to pay her passage to the "ould country." The insurance patrol curried the piano and other valuable articles of furniture, uninjured, out of the burning dwelling.

The dwelling No. 2021, adjoining to the east, occupied by Mr. George N. Allen, was damaged both by fire and water.

cupied by Mr. George N. Allen, was damaged both by fire and water.

That of Judge Porter, No. 2025, was also injured. The Judge and his family are still out of town, not having yet returned from their country seat.

The house of Mr. C. B. Mount, No. 2027, was likewise slightly damaged by water.

THE RUSH LEGACY.

To the Shareholders of the Library Company of Philas elphica:—The undersigned, members on behalf of the shareholders of a joint committee of directors and shareholders, appointed on the subject of the bequest and legacy of the late Dr. James Rush, respectfully ask your attention to a few matters connected with the question of the acceptance or rejection of the munificent donation of the testator.

The value of the property bequeated to the library equals nearly one million one hundred thousand dolars; and, from its nature, we believe that it will considerably exceed that value before it will become necessary to transmute it into money. We think that all will agree that there is no institution more wanting in our large and beautiful city than a great public fibrary, in which may be collected for public use those works of literature and science so necessary for intellectual development. In the magnificent donation of Dr. Rush an opportunity is afforded to accomplish an object so much to be desired.

The reasons which should lead to the rejection of such a legacy, and thus defeat this great public good, ought certainly to be clear, grave, and imperative. The Joint Committee of Directors and Shareholders has given those assigned a long, most VALUE OF THE BEQUEST.

holders has given those assigned a long, most anxious, and careful scrutiny; and have come to the conclusion that none of them separately, nor all combined, are adequate to such a result. THE SITE OF THE PHILADELPHIA LIBRARY NOT TO

- BE CHANGED. The principal objection to the acceptance of the legacy arises from the proposed site of the "Ridgway Branch" of the library. It is true that the committee would have preferred a more central cite for the building. But the executor of Dr. Rush, both from the expressed wishes of the testator during his life, as well as from his own judgment of the suitableness of the selected site, is indisposed to change it. The committee did not enter into the consideration whether the proposed site, situated as. It is on the linest avenue of Philadelphia, might not at an early future be survenued with the firest and any early future be survenued with the firest could be any early future. rounded with the finest public and private struc-tures, and thus become most eligible, because a simple solution of the difficulty presented itself. This was to keep up and maintain our present library on its present site, retaining in it all books of general circulation; transferring to the Ridgway Branch only such works as are sought for Rranch only such works as are sought for by sta-dents and profounder a holars; and if necessary erecting a fire-proof building on our present, or som-equally convenient site, for the reception and distri-bution of works of general circulation.

THE RIDGWAY BRANCH SEPARATE AND SELF-SUP-

Among the other objections to the legacy is one that the Library Company of Philadelphia cannot, consistently with the will of Dr. Rush, retain any portion of their books in their present building. None of the objections taken seem to us more unsound than this. The Library Company of Philadelphia, its property and estate, are totally different things from the "Ridgway Branch of the Philadelphia Library." Dr. Rush distinctly provides for their always being kept separate and apart. The accounts of the "Ridgway Branch of the Library Company of Philadelphia" are by the will to be kept separate PORTING. of the "Ridgway Branch of the Library Company of Philadelphia" are by the will to be kept separate and distinct from "all other accounts of said Library Company." The books to be purchased for it are to be of solid literary character. In the clause providing for the change of trustees, in case of abuse of the trust, the books and furniture belonging to the Ridgway branch of the library are, together with the other estate, to be transferred by the new trustee. Without keeping the estate, property, books, etc., of the out keeping the estate, property, books, etc., of the lidgway branch of the library apart, the will could not be carried into effect. In the opinion of the committee, after the a ceptance of Dr. Rush's leguey, the hibrary Comp ny will continue in as full right of its property as it possessed before; and in no respect will it be mingled with, or embarrassed by the appearing of the trust.

by, the property of the trust.

IMPORTANCE OF LEMEDIATE DECISION. It is also orged that the time has not yet arrived It is also orged that the time has not yet arrived for the acceptance or remail of the legacy, but that such election is only required to be made when the library building, intended by the executor to be placed under the care of the Library Company of Philadelphia, is erected and completed. This position was not regarded by the joint committee as well founded, it is true that, as part of the duties of his office, the executor is directed to erect a library building, to be placed, when finished, in the care and control of the company. But if the Library Company of Philadelphia should "outle or decline" the executor is constituted a trustee to "found and endow a public Philadelphia should "outle of decline" the execution of the trusts of the will, then the executor is constituted a trustee to "found and endow a public library, entirely distinct from the Philadelphia Library, to be named and called the Ridgway Library," The building he would erect for the Ridgway Library would necessarily be a differen one, in cost and extent, from one erected for the Ridgway branch of the Philadelphia Library. Surely the executor, having such a double duty to perform, cannot, under such circumstances, be required to expend the bulk of the estate in a building for the occupation of the Philadelphia Library, without knowing whether, when such building is completed, the Philadelphia Library will ent it, and enter into the execution of the trust, The Joint Committee, therefore, were of opinion that the executor had the legal and moral right at once to know what position the Philadelphia Library in-tended to assume in regard to the acceptance or re-meal of the trust, so as we enable him to carry out the alternative duty imposed on him by the will, in the event of a refusal.

One or two other objections started may be disposed of in a few words. It is said that under the language of the will, book might be introduced of questionable morality. But as no books can be placed on our shelves except by the consent and with the approbation of the Directors, the high social and moral character of these gentlemen is a governing a graph such a incompary days.

guarantee against such an imaginary danger. FREEDOM OF THE COMPANY PROM PECUNIARY RE-

There is nothing of practical value in the notion that the library company may incur pecuniary institutes in accepting the simple execution of the trusts of the will. The estate is immense, and will come into our hands free from debts or liabilities. The only obligation the illurary company will assume in accepting this trust will be the obligation to execute its duties with fidelity. Your committee therefore advise that the lirst four resolutions submitted to the stockholders he voted on affirmatively.

THE FIFTH RESOLUTION A VIRTUAL REJECTION. The fifth resolution, if adopted, amounts to a rejection of the legacy, and was, it seems to us, so intended. Members, to refore, favorable to accepting the legacy will, or course, write No opposite the last resolution.

The freach harvest is ended, to the great relief of overtasked men and beasts. The "long agony is over," and there is leisure for summing up the over," and there is leisure for summing up the results.

These are quite satisfactory. The yield of fruit has overpassed all estimates previously made. The shipments over the Delaware Railroad have been more than 4000 car loads, at 500 baskets per car—an aggregate of 2,000,000 baskets or mere. The line of outside steamers from one point, Mahon's river, have taken to New York 400,000 baskets, doubling the amount of shipments they had counted on, and demonstrating the superior advantages of the Atlantic route for shipping fruit to the metropolis.

Polis, From Appoquinimink creek 400,000 baskets, and from other landings along the Delaware 200,000 baskets were shipped. This sums up 1,000,000 baskets finding water conveyance to market, and with the radirond shipments, 3,000,000 baskets from Delaware. Unless the railroad company shall consent to reduce their tariff of freights, the proportion of water ship-Unless the railroad company shall consent to reduce their tariff of freights, the proportion of water shipments will go on increasing. Is the business of peach-outure overdone? A decided negative to the question is given by experienced peach-growers. 3,000,000 baskets from Delaware, with a reinforcement of perhaps 1,000,000 from other Stales, have failed to glut the market. Yet so immense a crop of this fruit has never been gathered before, and will not be again probably in fifty years. Various unfavorable circumstances complined to forbid the hope of remunerative prices his season. The trees were too overloaded to mature first-class fruits. The market was early depressed, almost irrevocably, by the premature and unripe fruit thrown upon it without stint. Then unprecedented drought and heat combined hastened the ripening of the mature crop, so crowding it upon the market too rapidly. Notwithstanding, the returns have been such as not to put the producer out of humor. The average net preceeds have been at the lowest estimate 30 cents per basket—others say 60 cents. The average profits of a friend of ours, after paying 35 cents per basket freight, was 76 cents, proving the good policy of sending to market only selected fruit. A medium between the prices named—say 50 cents—may be taken as the average net proceeds per basket. At this estimate two men. only selected fruit. A medium between the prices named—say 50 cents—may be taken as the average net proceeds per basket. At this estimate two men. Daniel Corolt and S. F. Shalleross, of Odessa, have realized the sang sum of $50,000 each for a crop of 100,000 baskets. The net profits to the peach growers of Delaware have been for $00,000/paskets no less than $1,500,000. Then, nearly as much more has gone into the hands of the basket makers, the transportation companies, pickers, and other employes. We hardly exaggerate in saying that the Diamond State is the better financially by $3,000,000 to-day for her peach crop of 1869.

In fact, this crop had been looked forward to to redeem the State from the financial ruin that threat-ened it in consequence of crops cut short by two successive wet seasons-an anticipation justified by the results. Peach-culture is, and for a term of years will be, a mine which the Diamond State will not fail to work diligently and with profit.

THE WEST INDIES.

Facts About Coolie Immigration. KINGSTON, Oct. 1.—Jamaica and Demerara con-tinue to receive large additions to their laboring population by frequent arrivals of ships with coolles from India. Four vessels with coolles are now on their way from Calcutta to those colonies, and at their way from Calcutta to those colonies, and at the latest advices from that place, several more were about being taken up capable of conveying 400 or 500 emigrants each. In Jamaica the coolies are giving great satisfaction to the planters, working steadily, and demeaning themselves in an orderly and peace-able manner; but in Western Demarara these people have recently become exceedingly turbulent and troublesome. On one sugar plantation they at-tempted to kill the manager, several of them falling troublesome. On one sugar plautation they at-tempted to kill the manager, several of them falling upon him and beating him to within an inch of his life. Upon his being rescued from their clutches, the whole ody of coolies on the estate broke out into open riot, setting the police and authorities at deliance, all efforts to quell the disturbance proving denance, an enoris to ducil the disturbance proving unavailing, until the troops were called out. In this part of Demarara wife-murder has become so common among the coolles that a Georgetown paper notices it as something worthy of record that for a whole fortnight there had been but one coolie woman murdered by her husband. In other parts of the colony both the cooles and the Chinese are doing well. The former are the largest depositors among the laboring classes in the savings banks of the colony, while the Chinese stand lowest of all. The coolie earns, it ing classes in the savings banks of the colony, while the Chinese stand lowest of all. The coolle carna, it may be, 24 or 48 cents each working day, and lives on 12, depositing the balance. John Chinaman in-dulges too freely in cow heads, cow heels, and pro-visions of various kinds, to save much of his earn-ings; but these are spent in the colony, and there-fore do good to others. The logwood trade has had an extraordinary increase, owing to troubles in Havi.

A Sudden Depression.

From the Albany Argus, Oct. 11.

We have received considerable information concerning the state of affairs upon the Isthmus of Panama from Mr. Charles E. Perry, United States Consul at Aspinwall, who has just arrived from that port. Mr. Perry says that business generally was very doil upon the Isthmus, and a further decline is even looked for. This state of affairs is consequent that the preside Rajirond, and even looked for. This state of affairs is consequent upon the opening of the Pacific Railroad, and the transportation of large quantilities of goods and many passengers by that route instead of by the way of the lethinus and the Panama Railroad as formerly. The business of the increhants of Aspinwall and Panama, who have always depended largely on the custom of the California passengers, has been materially reduced, and the hotels are also suffering from the withdrawal of a large portion of that traffic. Instead of four steamers a month, as formerly, the Pacific Mail Steamship Company now send but two, and but comparatively few passengers are now being conveyed by this route. The establishment of the Pacific Railroad has been a severe blow to the traffic upon and by the way of the Isthmus, and the foreign residents of that locality are not inclined to look with favor upon that great enterprise. There is a prospect, however, of Panama being made the capital and seat of government of the United States of Colombia, and that, with the addition of the commencement of the proposed ship canal, would tend to not another face upon matters. mencement of the proposed ship canal, would tend to put another face upon matters.
