

NEW YORKISMS.

From Our Own Correspondent. NEW YORK, Nov. 10, 1893. Beautifully Announced. Some distinguished Americans like to be interviewed. If reporters don't interview them they interview themselves. They hunt newspaper offices; they hunt for a subject to write; they hunt for a subject to write; they hunt for a subject to write...

WANT CASH, so we are both still exacting. This was the very compliment to the audience, but it was to the point. If Miss Keene were to be called upon to give a reason for bringing out the magnificent specimen of the idiotic drama, now on the boards of the Chestnut, she would only have to quote John Brougham. We hope that the management will make money out of Boys; and although we never expect to see it again, we are at least solicitous to disturb the enjoyment of others, and we therefore advise all who have any curiosity to witness the performance of the worst drama ever written to call in at the Chestnut while Boys is on the boards...

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC. THE City Amusements. AT THE CHESTNUT Boys will be performed this evening, and doubtless to a full house, for the piece having been pronounced utterly worthless, there are plenty of people who will find it just to their taste. John Brougham, when he brought out The Lottery of Life a few years ago at the Walnut, came before the curtain and said frankly, "You want trash, and I want cash, so we are both still exacting."

THE GERMAN OPERA season announced by Mr. Gram to commence at the Academy of Music on Monday evening next, promises to be a brilliant success. The prices are very low, and the repertoire announced and the list of artists give assurance of more than usually fine performances. The price of subscription tickets for the eight nights and one matinee has been placed at the very low figure of eight dollars. Tickets can now be secured at Trumpp's.

THE BALL OF COMPANY E, SIXTY-NINTH VETERAN RESERVE CORPS, their first, will take place to-morrow night, at Broadway Hall, with less than forty-five floor managers. Captain Felix Talley and Lieutenant E. Robinson and Lewis Flanagan command the new company. The dress has made itself a full regiment, and all its staff and field officers have been appointed. It belongs to the 4th brigade, to which the 1st Pennsylvania Cavalry, numbering less than twelve companies, has just been transferred from the 1st to the command of General William B. Thomas. The officers and privates of Company E have already distinguished themselves by their skill in drill and target practice, and deserve credit for the rapidly which has commanded such success. The ball will be a splendid affair.
