Shocking Murder in Huntingdon, Pa.-A Far-mer, His Wife, and Son all Butchered. HUNTINGDON, Nov. 18.—This unusually quiet neighborhood has been startled from its pro-priety by one of the most cruel and brutal mur-ders in the annals of crime. The crime was perpetrated near Pleasant Grove, about seven miles from this place.

The victims were a farmer named John Perghtal, his wife Sarah, and his son Scott Gardner, the latter a boy of about ten or twelve years of age. The deceased were universally known and respected by all in the neighborhood, and none but will individually feel their loss greatly.

Between six and seven o'clock last evening the cictims were quietly seated at the table enjoying their evening meal after a hard day's work on the farm. All unconscious were they of the impending fate hanging over them. Thinking of nothing but the work of the morrow, and quietly chatting together, they were progressing with their meal when Perghtal and his son were shot through the head and instantly killed. Mrs. Perghtal was also shot, but not fatally, and the illains-for there were two of them-sprang for a hatchet which appeared to be lying conve-niently close at hand, and with that despatched the wounded woman.

After perpetrating their bloody deed the villains proceeded leisurely to ransack the house from top to bottom, securing all the money in the house, amounting to several thousand dollars, which was in coins and greenbacks. Securing all the booty they could beside the money, they deliberately set to work to cover up their traces. Placing the bodies side by side, they piled on top of them all the old clothes and bedding which they could conveniently lay their hands on. Striking a match, one of the villains then set fire to the whole. But, fearful that they would be discovered by some neighbor, who might by accident visit the house to see the Perghtals, they made a speedy exit and fled from the neighborhood. In their haste, the fire was but imperfectly lit. Instead of blazing up and destroying everything, as they had fondly hoped, so as to create the impression in the neighborhood that the Perghtals had been burned up in their dwelling by an accidental fire, it smouldered on and on until some persons passing by were attracted by the light and large volumes of smoke which were issuing from the house, and ventured in and discovered the true state of affairs on investigation.

As all bad news does, this flew on the wings of the wind, and soon for miles around every one was acquainted with the fearful deed of blood which had been perpetrated in our very midst, and which, but for the timely discovery of the flames and smoke, might never have been discovered. The community was startled, and knew not what to make of it. Many who had, and many more who had not known the victims, flocked from all quarters to the farm-house to see the murdered family. Old and young gave vent to their feelings of sorrow for the three victims who had thus been cut off untimely in their career by the hands of assassins.

Rumor was quickly at work, and many were the surmises as to the cause of the deed, and who had committed it, but suspicion at once rested upon two sinister-looking men who had been seen lurking in the neighborhood during the day. As soon as this suspicion gained ground a messenger was hurriedly despatched te the depot, and by dint of inquiry, soon ascer-tained that two persons answering the description which he gave had taken the night train West. Ite then telegraphed to Altoona to intercept the parties on the train, if they had gone

Not long after the train arrived at Altoona he was gratified by the reception of a telegram an-nouncing that his request had been complied with, and the parties placed under arrest. noon to-day they were brought to this place where they were recognized by a number of perpremises of the murdered family. On the per-sons of the prisoners was found two hundred and seventy dollars, part in gold and part in greenbacks.

The balance of the money is supposed to be concealed in the neighborhood of the murder. where, it is thought, they intended to return for it after the excitement attendant on the deed had blown over. The men are Germans. Their names are Oliver Badenburg and Gottleib Bohrer, alias Charles Moore. The latter was convicted here three years ago for larceny, and served his time in the penitentiary. Badenberg has made a partial confession, but without this the evidence is sufficiently strong to convict

City Councils.

On Wednesday afternoon these bodies held their regular stated meeting.

In the Select Branch a resolution providing for a joint special committee to confer with the officers of the Philadelphia and Eric Rallroad Company, in regard to the reason why no dividends have been paid to the city, was agreed to. An exciting discussion was indulged in on the propriety of concurring in a resolution from the Common Branch, to ascertain the names of the stockholders in companies who have leases on the Girard estate. A motion to indefinitely postpone was lost. The resolution was then concurred in. Mr. Barlow offered a resolution to appeint a joint special committee of three to investigate the charges made by Mr. King in regard to the coal leases of the Girard estate. Mr. McCutcheon offered an amendment to strike out all after the word appoint, and insert, a joint committee of three to make inquiries and report to the Chamber, whether the leases were made for less per ton than could be got for them. Not agreed to. After another exciting debate between Messrs. King, Barlow, and others, the original resolution was agreed to.
In Common Council Mr. Oram, of the Committee on a House of Correction, offered an ordinance authorizing the purchase of a lot of ground in the Twenty-third ward for the puroose of erecting a House of Correction, It is what is known as the "George Clark Farm," and is situated between Holmesburg and Bustleton. It contains 196 acres and 30 perches, and is held $350 per acre. Of the purchase money, $18,670 is to be paid in cash, and the balance to remain on mortgage, the interest pay-able semi-annually. Mr. Willits offered a minority report approving of the Pearson Farm, in the Twenty-third ward, which contains 195 acres 8 perches, at $375 per acre; $25,000 to be paid upon delivery of the deeds, and the balance to remain on mortgage at interest. It has a frontage of 1000 feet on the Delaware river, and contains a large quantity of stone suitable for laying the Belgian pavement. Mr. Willits moved to postpone the whole subject for the present. It was stated that the city owns 145 acres of land next to the Clark farm, which was ceded to the city at consolidation. It is known as the Oxford and Lower Dublin Poor House property. Mr. Het-zell moved to recommit the whole subject for examination. Mr. Jenner moved to refer to the Committee on Law. Not agreed to. Mr. Huhn moved to recommit, and that, if the title to the Poor House property be valid, that the commit-tee be instructed to report an ordinance locating the House of Correction there, to report not later than two weeks hence. Agreed to. The President and members of Select Council were announced, and the two chambers went into joint convention, and the following persons were elected Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad:—John Auspach, G. Morrison Coates, and Lewis Elkin; Port Warden, vice John R. Pen-rose, deceased, Galloway C. Morris.

THANKSGIVING.

Its Observance in this City—The Military Dis-play—The Various Anniversary Meetings. Yesterday was observed as a day of thanks-giving. All Government and municipal build-ings and offices, as well as places of business, were closed from an early hour. The houses of God were opened, and were well attended. The weather overhead was all that could be desired, and the temperature was just such as induced thousands of our citizens in the afternoon to promenade through the principal thoroughfares. The streets were in a slightly muddy state, the consequence of the storm which had prevailed the day previous, but did not deter our military organizations from making one of the finest displays ever witnessed in this city.

The occasion was the annual reunion of many tentiles and appears to the day was families, and among the features of the day was the thanksgiving dinner. The theatres and va-rious places of amusement were open in the afternoon, and all were largely patronized by both the older and younger portion of the com-munity. The various homes for orphan children came in for their share of the amusements of the day. Anniversaries and celebrations were held at the various beneficial institutions throughout the city. Below will be found the more important observances. The 1st Division Pennsylvania Militia, Major-General Prevost commanding, assembled for parade on North Broad street. The command was formed facing west, right resting on Master street, and at a few minutes past 3 o'clock wheeled into line. The following organizations participated

First City Troop, Captain M. E. Rogers; Keystone Battery, Captain J. V. Creeley; Ar-tillery Corps Washington Greys, Captain W. C. Ward; First Regiment National Guard, Colonel Harmanus Neff; Grey Reserves, Colonel J. W. Latta; Harmony Cornet Band; Fritz Zouaves, Colonel Peter Fritz; Philadelphia Fire Zouaves, Lieutenant-Colonel S. B. The Church Extension Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church celebrated its fourth anniversary last evening at St. George's M. E. Church, on Fourth street, below New. The annual report was read and speeches were made by Rev. Dr. Fuller, of Atlanta, Rev. T. B. Leman, of Nebraska, and Bishop Simpson. The second anniversary of the Sunday Schools of the German Reformed churches of this city took place yesterday, and was celebrated by a public meeting, held at National Hall, Market street, near Twelfth. The annual report, read by the President of the Sunday School Association, showed that there were embraced in the different Sunday Schools of this body about 2000 children, and during the year many had identi-fied themselves with the different German Reformed Churches. The reading of the report was followed by the recitation of the Lord's Prayer by the entire audience and the singing of hymn of thanksgiving. During the afternoon, addresses were made by Rev. M. Gehr, who has addresses were made by Rev. M. Gehr, who has lately returned from Europe; Rev. Mr. Dahlman, Rev. J. G. Newber, Rev. Mr. Kloop, and others.

The United and Reformed Presbyterian Churches held a Union Thanksgiving service at 3 o'clock P. M. in the Fifth United Presbyterian Church, Twentieth and Spring Garden streets.

The Tenth and Fourth Baptist Churches held an anniversary meeting in the church at Fifth and Buttonwood streets, at half-past 10 A. M. Rev. Lewis P. Hornberger delivered the Rev. W. E. C. Wright delivered a Thanksgiving sermon before the members of the Central and Plymouth Congregational Churches, in the chapel Ninetcenth and Master streets.

The regular noonday prayer meeting was held at the Young Men's Christian rooms, No. 1210 Chesnut street. The First and the Central Churches united in the church on Coates street, elow Fourth, and were addressed by Rev. J. Y. The congregations of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches of Richmond assembled in the building of the former, at 10 o'clock in the morning. Addresses were delivered by Rev. Messrs, A. M. Jelly and J. V. Meredith. The St. John's and Hancock M. E. Churches celebrated the occasion in the church Third street, below Beaver, at 10½ A. M. The day was celebrated at the Home for Little Wanderers, No. 823 Shippen street, by a dinner and appropriate exercises in the afternoon.

The third annual celebration of the Sabbath school connected with the Wharton Street M. E. Church took place in the evening at the church building. The exercises consisted of singing and recitations by the scholars. The school was never in a more flourishing condition than

One of the most interesting scenes that transofred vesterday was that witnessed at the Children's Home, situated at Forty-first and Venange streets, in the Twenty-fourth ward.

The members of the Lincoln Institute, numbeing 116, marched from the institution, Eleventh street, near Pine, yesterday morning, to the Church of the Epiphany, Fifteenth and Chesnut streets, where, after the usual religious exercises, they were addressed by the Rev. Heber Newton. At the close of his remarks and brief religious services, they were formed in line and marched back to the Home, at which place interesting exercises took place adapted to the occasion, consisting of singing and recitations by the scholars and an address by Charles E. Lex, Esq. In the afternoon there was a trot at Suffolk Park between Hop and J. J. Bradley. The latter won in three straight heats. Time-2-35.

Horticultural Hall was crowded throughout the day and evening by those who were anxious to view the fair being held there in aid of the Homeopathic Hospital fund. This fair was thrown open to the public on Wednesday evening, and the introductory address was delivered by ex-Governor James Pollock. The entire lding is devoted to the purpose of the exhibition. It will remain open for two weeks.

The pilot beat Edmund Blant No. 2, at New York from a cruise, reports, 16th inst., saw sohr John McAdam, from Philadelphia for Boston, with signal flying for us to approach, which was accordingly done. The captain of the schooner wished to transfer the crow of the fishing smack James Lawrence, which had been run down and sunk by an unknown brig at 4 o'clock A. M. on the 16th inst. The crew of the smack had barely time to escape in their boat, saving nothing but what they stood in. The brig was apparently coal-laden, bound to an eastern port. She kept on her course, not stopping a moment to ascertain what damage had been done.

The iron bucys in New York Lower Bay will not be replaced by spar bucys, as stated in the notice of the lath instant.
