JAIL THEATRICALS.

How Thanksgiving Day was Celebrated in the Maryland Penitentiary. It has been customary for several years past for the Directors of the Maryland Penitentiary on the recurrence of Thanksgiving Day, Christmas, atc., to give the prisoners therein confined holiday, and to permit for their amusement certain divertisements. The officers of the institution state that this course has been greatly advantageous to the discipline, making the prisoners more cheerful and obedient at other times. The utmost precaution is taken, however, that this pfivilege shall not in any manuer be abused. The Front Street Theatre Comique Company of William E. Sinn volunteered their services for Thursday morning's entertainment, which came off in the large and new brick building within the enclosure, the upper portion of which is used by employes of the shoe department. The directors and officers sought to render the occasion one of enjoyment to the 689 convicts, of whom about one-third are white.

At the south end of the building there had been erected a temporary stage, with a dressing-room

A SEA HORROR.

Suicide of Over Two Hundred Coolies-Revolt of the Coolles and Escape of the Crew-Terrible Scenes on Shipbourd Despair and Death. ence of the N. Y. World.

Havana, Nov. 11.—A "drama of the sca" that, in scenes of horror and incidents of death, stands forth with unfortunate prominence, hag just been brought under public notice here.

Since Sunday, two vessels carrying coolles have arrived—the Salvadorian ship Macao, with fsur hundred Colonos Asiaticos, and the French barque Tamaris, with only sixty-eight. It is upon the latter vessel that the "drama" cocurred.

of that the "drama" occurred. Having left Macoa for Havana on February 6, with tree hundred indentured Chinese, a Chinese doctor, Portuguese interpreter, a captain and a crew of eighteen men, the vessel sailed to within two hun-dred and seventy miles of Java without anything notable on board; but, then and there, the inden-tured Chinese revolted and killed the captain (Rannie) and the interpreter.

The crew, powerless to resist the infuriated Celestials, took to the boats, which they launched, and then abandoned the vessel.

They were fortunate enough to reach Java in a few days, and reported the affair to the Dutch

A Dutch war vessel was at once sent in pursuit of the Tamaris, but had to cruise for her thirty days before meeting her. After a slight resistance the mutinied Chinese in possession of her surrendered, and the Chinese captain and other Chinese officials installed on board after the crew abandoned her, as well as the majority of the other Chinese on board, were loaded with chains and kept in the hold.

The Tamaris was then conveyed to Padang, where a new captain (Casolis) and the old crew of eighteen men were put on board, and then she started once more for Havara.

Of the 300 cooles taken on at Macao, flity-five perished in the mutiny and is resisting the Dutch war vessel, so that the second start was made with only 245 cooles on board.

When these cooles ascertained that they were after all to be taken to Cuba, they became desparents.

after all to be taken to Cuba, they became desperate, and at every opportunity jumped overboard. Many, deprived of the opportunity to drown themselves, committed suicide by actual starvation.

This felo de seing continued nearly the whole voy-ge, so that when the Tamaris reached Havana, age, so that when the Tamaris reached Havana, she had, as stated, only sixty-eight Chinese on board, no less than 232 naving perished during the eventful voyage of nine months duration.

It is useless to add that the trip has been a losing one to those who chartered the vessel and indentered the coolies.

Report of Operations Under Valmaseda—Shoot-ing of Jordan's Chief-of-Staff and Quartermaster-Spanish?Humanity-Cholera City. SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Nev. 5, 1862.—The publication on the listh uit. of the letter written by the unfortunate pri-soners who were massacred at Jiguani, before their re-moval from the prison here, and in which they implored help from the Consuls, has caused some little sensation among those who taste such ferbidden fruit as the foreign maners.

help from the Oonsuls. has caused some little sensation among those who taste such forbidden fruit as the foreign papers.

The voice of the dead men, which the Spanish authorities tried so hard to stifle, still finding utterance, though far from the scene of crime, cheers the depressed Cubans and may be of service in checking the atrocisies of the Spaniards, though this latter is exceedingly problematical, as they have long been beyond any sense of shame, and cherish a supreme contempt for public opinion at home and abroad. For some time past Valmaseda's columns have been hard at work, and the only tangible result, as known here, has been the daily arrival of sick and wounded, principally the former, as the cholera, small pox, and vomito, aided by dyseqtery and tow fever, are making fearful navoc in the Spanish ranks. Indeed, sickness has almost entirely cleared out the troops from Aserradero. Three days ago thirty three were brought in by a schooner, three bodies having been thrown overboard on the passage.

To-day the official paper publishes a report of operations, claiming the complete defeat and dispersion of the enemy, and clearing up of the country beyond Palo Picada and Juan Faron, causing a loss to the insurgents of 129 killed, among whom are Brigadier Tamayo, Captain Gonchet and two Americans named Harry Clevivey (in another despatch Henry Chase), and William Orosland, respectively chief-of-staff, and quartermister general, to Jordan. These two were captured alive, but very much worn out with hunger and fatigue, and, in fact, in such a deplorable condition that their humane captors, with true Spanish generosity, fed them for a couple of days to put a little life into them, and then knocked it out again, by the bysan's helical particular their names.

General Valmased is very confident as to the results of his operations and believes that he has got the insurgents pretty well surrounded. It remains, however, to be seen whether the will not fight better than hereofore, as in deed I believe they are doin sources and with the idea of creating a diversion in their favor.

The Spaniards say that in the various engagements which have taken place the insurgents mutilate the Spanish dead which fall into their hands.

On Sunday last a young man named Arthur Casimajon was found on the estate "Esperanza," near Guantaname, and on his person letters of marque and various documents and despatches from Cespedes. He was taken into Guantaname, tried on Monday night and shot on Tuesday morning.

Among the insurgents captured in the jurisdiction of Santias o de Cuba is a young man named Arthur M. Caramajon. He was found upon the "Esperanza" estate, mar Guantaname, and upon his person a letter of marque and other papers from Cespedes. He was, of course, shot. This document was forwarded to the Captain General, and has been published in certain of the Spanish papers. It is as follows.

Carlos M. DE CESTEDES, President of the Republic of Cuba.

In use of the faculties in me vested by the authority of the revolution, I give this letter-of-marque in favor of Arthur M. Cazamajon, who by these presents is authorized to arm one or more ships, and to capture those of the enemy on the sea, and when in possession of one or more of these iships, the citizen Arthur M. Cazamajon will proceed to put a crew in them and arm them for war, under his command, the forces and crew of which shall be composed of at least one-third part Cubans and two-thirds foreigners.

One ship being armed and manned, the citizen Arthur M. Cazamajon will proceed in the character of a privateer, under the banner or Cuba, against all ships that fly the Spanish flag, being strictly subject to international law as established and recognized by civilized nations.

This patent is personal, and not ransferable. The citizen Arthur M. Cazamajon will communicate his operations to his Government by every opportunity which presents itself Presents itself.

Senor Cazamajon, herein mentioned, was a young man about twenty-five years of age, and though a native of this island, had passed by far the greater vortion of his life in the United States. He was essentially an American in all his habits and characteristics. He was a civil engineer by profession, having been educated in Philadelphia, where many of his friends reside. He served during the war in the Engineer and Quartermaster's Departments, mostly in the Western army, and after the war was employed by General Ingalls when that distinguished officer was stationed in New York. He was a young man of much intelligence, speaking several languages with great fluency, but was much too caroless of habit, frank and open for a conspirator. His untimely end will be much regretted by a large circle of friends and acquaintances in the States.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

READ THE EVIDENCE.

"Facts are stubborn things," and it is to facts alone that it is desired to direct the attention of the readers of this article. Many years of severe and thorough practical trial have demonstrated beyond the peradventure of a doubt the fact that the medicines prepared by me, and known as SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC, and SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, have proved extraordinarily successful in the cure of diseases of the Pulmonary organs, or what is usually termed CONSUMPTION.

I am fully aware that there are many persons whose prejudices rule them so completely that "proofs strong as Holy Writ" would fail to convince them of the efficacy of my remedies; and that there are others who, under no circumstances, could be prevailed upon to admit their merits, simply because such an admission would prove detrimental to their particular personal interests. Fortunately for the welfare of mankind, these Fortunately for the welfare of mankind, these doubting people form a comparatively small portion of the community at large. They are to be found here and there, but, compared with the great mass of the world's population, their numbers are so small that I dismiss them, and address myself to those who are willing to listen to the dictates of reason, and who are disposed to admit the strong logic of well-established facts.

We are told almost daily that Consumption, the scourge of the American people, is incurable; that a man whose lungs are diseased must be given over to die; that he must abandon hope:

given over to die; that he must abandon hope; and that the arrangement of his temporal as well as spiritual affairs should claim his carliest attention. If there were not facts as undeniable at that the sun will shine in a clear heaven at midday to controvert these random and not unfrequently harmful assertions, I should feel unwilling to take up the gage of battle against them; but, fortified with results—facts—which neither theory nor mere assertion can overturn. I propose to prove that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED, and that the medicines I prepare—THE MANDRAKE PILLS, SEAWEED TONIC, and PULMONIC SYRUP—will, if used in strict accordance with the directions, in a majority of cases effect that which the faculty pronounces impossible-they will cure Consumption. An ounce of solid fact is worth a pound of theory. Let me, therefore, present the facts connected with my own individual experience. Many years ago I was a confirmed consumptive, and, like thousands of other unfortunates, was given up to die. Eminent physicians pronounced my case a hopeless one, and told me that if I had any preparations to make for the final solemn event, that I had better make them speedily. I believed this just as confidently as did the persons who thus affectionately informed did the persons who thus affectionately informed me that my days were numbered and that recovery was impossible. Still, the desire to live lingered in my bosom. I was young, and clung to life with the same tenacity that young men, and old men too, ordinarily do. I did not feel willing to abandon hope as long as a single vestige of it remained. I had full faith in the sad information, conveyed to me by my physicians. information conveyed to me by my physicians, but still there was a lingering belief that something could be done, though I knew not in what direction to seek for the much-desired relief.

It was at this gloomy and eventual period of my history that I first learned of the reots and herbs frem which my remedies for this dreaded disease are now prepared. I procured and used them, and, to the utter amazement of all—phy-sicians, friends, and neighbors—began to improve. My entire system commenced to undergo a complete renovation. Expectoration, which formerly had been difficult and painful, now became comparatively easy. I threw off daily large quantities of offensive yellow matter. At I ate freely of such food as was palatable to me, and which was at the same time nutritious and wholesome. Expectoration became less copious and less offensive; exhausting night sweats ceased; the racking and harassing cough abated; the fever broke; the pain departed; flesh planted itself on my sadly-wasted frame, and with flesh came strength and full health. From a mere skeleton I became a stout, strong, robust man and I have maintained both strength and flesh to this day. I weigh two hundred and thirty five pounds; I am blest with an appetite vouch-safed to but few men, while my digestive organs are amply equal to all the requirements of a healthful condition of my system.

Now, be it remembered, all these wonderful changes were wrought by the use of the medi-cines I prepare—MANDRAKE PILLS, SEA-WEED TONIC, and PULMONIC SYRUP. A cure seemingly so miraculous naturally create astonishment in the minds of those who kne me. I was riterally besieged on all sides. I had visitors daily who besought me to give them the remedies which had wrought the wonderful restoration and had wrested me from the vers aws of death. Letters were received by mportuning me to impart the secret and inform the writers where the specifics for consumption the writers where the specifics for consumption could be obtained. Others, who were too weak to travel, not satisfied with writing, sent for and consulted me in regard to their cases. To all these applications I responded as I was able.

I had fully regained my health, and gratitude for the happy result prompted me to turn my attention to the science of medicine, with the hope of thereby being able to be of service to my suffering fellow-creatures. I devoted mys closely to my studies, and more especially to that branch of them relating to the terrible disease from which I had suffered so long and so much. I investigated it in all its fearful phases in order to assure myself that my case was not an exceptional one. The closer my investigaan exceptional one. The closer my investiga-tions the more satisfactory were my conclusions. I felt convinced that tens of thousands of my fellow-creatures were dying annually from o sumption whose cases were not as desperate and apparently hopeless as mine had been, and I apparently nopeless as mile had been, and I argued from this that remedies which had proven so effective with me would prove equally so with others. I prepared my medicines in a pleasant and attractive form, and announced them to the world. The results are well known. Thousands of suffering men, women, and children, who were on their way to the grave, have been cured, and are to-day living evidences of the fact that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED and I think I may say, without arrogating to myself any more than is justly my due, that I have had as much experience in the treatment of consumption as any other person in the coun-try, and that my success has been wonderfully

Let the reader remember that these are not mere fancied statements. They are positive living facts of which I am the living evidence. There is an old adage which says, "What has been done may be done." I have been complately cured of consumption by the remedies I now offer to the public. Thousands of others have testified to similar happy results from their have testified to similar happy results from their use, and thousands of others still might be be use, and thousands of others said inight to beha-fitted as I have been could they but be prevailed upon to try the virtue of The Mandrake Pills, Scaweed Tonic, and Pulmonic Syrup. All that is necessary to convince the most skeptical of their merits is a fair trial.

Full directions accompany each of the medi-cines, so that it is not absolutely necessary that patients should see me personally, unless they desire to have their lungs examined. For this Durpose I am personally at my PRINCIPAL OFFICE, No. 15 N. SIXTH Street, corner of Commerce, EVERY SATURDAY.

Advice is given without charge, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the price is five dollars.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seawend Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a hal dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box.
