punished, before peace can be fully established published, before peace can be fully established and the reservation system made a success; but every effort will be made to avoid any necessity of this kind, with the strong hops that the savages may settie down on their reservation and adopt a more peaceful and civilized life. The Indians have ran riot along the lines of our Western settlements and the emigrant and comwerein settlements and the emigrant and com-mercial likes of travel for many years, murdering and plundering without any adequate punishment and the Government has hitherto sought to give pro-fection to some of its best interests by making pre-sents to these savages; or, in other words, while it found it necessary to enact the most stringent laws for the government of civilized whites, it was at-tempting to govern a wild bench and an ensere words.

found it necessary to enact the most stringent laws for the government of civilized whites, it was at-tempting to govern a wild, brutal, and savage people without any laws at all, or the infliction of any punishment for the most heinous crimes. This sys-tem was not a success. If a white man commits murder or robs, we hang him or send him to the pententiary. If an indian does the sale, we have been in the habit of giving him more blankets. The Indian is a lazy, idle vagabond; he never haors, and has no profession, except that of arms, to which he is raised from a child; a scale is con-stantly dangled before his eyes, and the highest honor he can asplie to is to posaces one taken oy himself. It is not to be wondered at, therefore, if he aims for the honor when he grows up, especially if there is no punishment to follow the barbarous act. The Government has always been very liberal to Indians, especially whenever they have settled on reservations; the lands allotted to them have been of the very best character, making them, perhaps, by far the richest communities in the country. The system of supplying the wild bands under the present management is working well; the Indian gets all that the Government intends him to have; he cannot now plead bad taith; and, if he does not now give np his cruel and desiructive habits, I see no other way to save the lives and property of our people than to punish him until peace becomes a destrable obsect.

people than to punish him until peace becomes a desirable object. The troops at the different points throughout the

The troops at the different points throughout the military division are quartered (officers and men) comfortably. The expenses for the ensuing year will be much less than the past; however, a very large portion of the expenses of the last year were very properly chargeable to the Indian Department. I cannot close this report without expressing my high appreciation of the efficient management of the present commissioner of Indian Affairs, and assure him that every effort will be made by the military to assist him in his difficult and highly responsible duties. I am General very respectfully your obeduties. I am General, very respectfully, your obe-dient servant, Lieutenant-General U. S. Army.

my charge, during which time money transactions were had that foot on the books of the office at a sum exceeding $44,000,000,000 (an amount of money so great that the ordinary human mind can scarcely comprehend it), and notwithstanding the fact that vast amounts of money have been and are every day handled by hundreds of persons in this office, yet not one cent has, up to this time, been lost to the people of the United States on account of the management of the Treasury, or on account of the conduct of any employe in this office. If this is mere luck, then certainly I have been the luckiest of men. Losses, it is true, have occurred; but thus of men. Losses, it is true, have occurred; but thus far they have been so small that they have always been made good to the Treasury by the persons re-sponsible for them, or by the voluntary contribu-tions of the associates of the unfortunate ones. Although I feel that I have the right to say that I have always done my whole duty to the utmost limit of my capacity for endurance; that I have worked unceasingly, in season and out of season, in the public service; and that I have never done an official act that I am not willing that the whole world should know, yet it is certain that without the aid of an overruling Providence, that has directed the choice of honest and competent perneeded the choice of non-stand competent per-sons to aid in the arduous duties that devolved upon me, or without the kindness at all times shown me by your predecessors and yourself, such a result would not have been possible. I feel that such a good fortune cannot last always. The barque of the most fortunate and skiiful mariner may at bast be wrecked on some hidden rock. The barque of the most fortunate and skiful mariner may at last be wrecked on some hidden rock. The law of chances is now strongly against me, I therefore now, more than ever, feel an anxious desire to retire from the perilous position that I hold, the holding of which I am sure has been of greater benefit to the good people of the United States than to Treasurer of the United States,

SHERIDAN.

"Little Phil's" Annual Report-What He Has Been Doing for a Year Past.

Been Doing for a Year Past. The report of Lieutenant-General Sheridan ac-companies that of the General of the Army. Gene-ral Sheridan commands the Military Division of the Missouri, which embraces the Departments of Dako-tah, the Platte, and the Missouri, commanded re-spectively by Major-General W. S. Hancock, Brevet Major-General C. C. Augur, and Major-General J. M. Schoteld. These three departments cover a territory of great extent, in which most of the civilized, semi-civilized, and wild Indians abide. The commander reports that all the commands have been economi-cally and successfully administered during the past reports that an the communistrate during the past year. The number of troops would be sufficient if the companies are kept filled to their maximum. The report then continues as follows:—A great many of the settlers in Montana have been nurdered, and five er six hundred head of stock captured and run off within the last fifty days, and much bitter com-plaint has been made by the settlers on account of non-protection, the few troops stationed in Montana being insufficient to meet the wants of the Case. There has also been a great deal of trouble along the Missouri river, and a number of people mur-dered in the vicinity of the military posts. The friendly Indians and the agents and employes at Big Cheyenne, Grand River, and Whitstone agencies, and the agent of the second se Cheyenne, Grand River, and Whitstone agencies, have been in jeopardy on several occasions, as the wild Indians have at times had their own way, driv-ing the employes into the agency buildings, taking possession of the annuity goods, and taking the cattle. Steps have been taken to remedy these evils, as far as we can, by the erection of block-houses. The post at Fort Buford has been in a state of siege for two or three years. In the early spring I hope to be able to send a few troops from the Department of the Platte to the Department of Dakotah. Atthough there have been unmerous depredations the Platte to the Department of Dakotah. Although there have obcen numerous depredations in the Department of Dakotah, and some, in fact, in all the departments, still the condition of Indian affairs is very much better than hast year. The policy of reservations adopted by the Indian Depart-ment is, in my judgment, the only policy that will put an end to indian nurders and depredations. I think that it may be necessary to punish some of the Bioux as the Cheyennes and other tribes south had to be
