DIRTY THOROUGHFARES.

The New Street Contractors and the Old Fifty Streets—The Immense Amount of Work that has been Done.

"Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," is an old, time-worn adage, and it is to be true, often very sickeningly so, in this case.

By the old rules of the Board, street cleaning and removal of ashes were made separate and distinct, there being eighteen street cleaning districts and nine ash districts.

THE TELEGRAPHIC STRIKE.

The Case Between the Western Union Company and the Operators—Card of the Operators to the Public.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6.—The Western Union Telegraph Company give notice that business is being transacted promptly, and that they have competent men at work.

This information comes from inside of the office, also that the business is badly delayed. All telegraphing is at a standstill, and we are being gradually strangled by the men brought from the country joining us.

THE NATIONAL RAILROAD.

A New Railroad to New York City—Quick Time and Good Connections—Steel Rails, Iron Bridges, and No Crossings at Road Grade—An Enthusiastic Meeting of Capitalists in Favor of the New Enterprise.

A new and most important enterprise of the great-est interest to the citizens of Philadelphia has lately been inaugurated, of which fact but few of the members of our community are aware.

Mr. Henry Lewis, the new President, occupied the chair, and gave a short address. He spoke of the determination to have been taken by the directors, which in construction and equipment would be second to none in this or any other country.

THE EPIPHANY.

Ritualistic Pageant in New York—Sermon by the Rev. Mr. Milnes.

A genuine novelty was presented to the New York ritualists last night at St. Albans Church, in the shape of an evo-epiphany celebration of solemn vesper.

With such a road, the running time will be equal to that of the best European roads. It was not thought to be much to say that the time between Philadelphia and New York could be reduced to two hours.
