

NEW YORKISMS.

From Our Own Correspondent. NEW YORK, Jan. 12, 1870.

Mr. Fechter. I will assume that you are not indifferent to hearing about Mr. Fechter at "first mouth" from one who was all there, instead of at second-hand through the New York newspapers.

I had been said that Mr. Fechter would be a fashionable success, but the audience on Monday evening partook more largely of intellect than it did of fashion. The short scene between "Don Salluste" and "Don Cesar," prelude to the entrance of "Ruy Blas" for Ruy Blas was the play of the evening - was paid very little attention by the audience, who manifested none of the expectant disposition to be thrilled, characteristic of American audiences assisting at a debut, until "Don Salluste" attendant, obeying a direction, went up the stage and summoned "Ruy" on.

Then a profound hush fell upon the vast assemblage, and it was known that in another instant Mr. Fechter would be facing them. There was a momentary pause - a pause just sufficient to give one twist more to the highly-strung nerves of the observers - and then spontaneous thunders burst from every part of the house, as "Ruy Blas" advanced from the wings, and bowing to the house, stood experiencing all the emotions of a metropolitan "recep." Critical as the moment was - for nothing is less true than that an experienced artist experiences no nervousness on a first appearance in a strange city - he manifested no symptom of confusion, but at once addressed himself to the business of his part. I can understand why he should be called the representative actor of the romantic school. It is because no other actor possesses the faculty of dashing off the expression of emotion with such picturesque rapidity. He is more like a painter of rapid and brilliant sketches than of large and laborious pictures. His "Hamlet" will be an impassioned and impulsive collocation, rather than the philosophic Dane of tradition. There are no intrinsic beauties in his elocution as such. He never declaims. He is a forcible illustration of how completely the genius of eloquence, like any other kind of genius, may be of set rules. "Ruy Blas" is not a role fitted to display the intellectual character of an actor, but in it Mr. Fechter gives no indication of the capability of being intellectual in anything else. His acting is melodrama's most refined and exquisite expression. In reviewing another performer's interpretation you might say that he had thought out his part; in reviewing Mr. Fechter's you perceive that he has felt it. Mr. Fechter is picturesque in much the same sense as a hot-blooded man is more picturesque than a cold-blooded one. His face, his hands, his figure are incessantly at work, depicting the ever-changing emotions supposed to take place in the soul of the character he has created. As Mr. Beecher would say, he has a tubful of feeling in a bucket's capacity, and feeling perpetually "stops over." As "Ruy Blas" Mr. Fechter "stops over" all the time. As for Miss Leclercq, I am at a loss to understand why the newspapers should speak of her in the eulogistic terms they do. She is an ordinary actress, and an extremely good-looking woman of thirty-five. She has an abundance of beautiful auburn hair, and acts judiciously, with a thorough acquaintance with stage business. I could mention a dozen native American actresses who would rank above her. Finally, Ruy Blas was put upon the stage at Niblo's in the most execrable style - a style totally unworthy the reputation of the theatre and of Messrs. Jarrett & Palmer.

That Demi-Semi-Obituary. I wrote last Saturday in regard to Colonel Du Solle. I hereby amply apologize for it. If he ever finds me out I think he'll forgive me. He is not dead, but is slowly and painfully recovering from a malady which threatened to speedily remove him. I hope he may live as long as the bamboo, and that the enforced rest his convalescence will secure him will send him back to his editor's desk with all his powers recuperated.

La Coterie To-morrow Night. "La Coterie of New York" is to give its second annual masquerade ball to-morrow evening at the Academy of Music, under the care of the gentlemen connected with the offices of the principal hotels in this city. There are to be three bands of music, orchestra, promenade, and military, together with tableaux vivants characteristically grouped, in two hundred costumes, so as to represent the five senses. No gentleman is to be admitted to the floor unless in fancy costume; all masks are to be lifted at the door of the Academy before the wearers are permitted to enter, and to be permanently removed at midnight. "La Coterie" may not be so popular as the French balls, but it will be more "piert."

The Rev. Horace Cook. Of course "Volunteers" will have informed you long ere this that the Rev. Horace Cook, pastor of the Seventh Street Methodist Episcopal Church, of this city, has accomplished the sanctimonious seduction of one of the sweetest lambs of his flock. The lamb was attached to a Sunday school belonging to Mr. Cook's church, and such was its affection for its shepherd that everywhere that Horace went the lamb was sure to go. It has gone with him - ran away from the parental roof - and the "guilty pair" are now probably getting religion at the fashionable hotel of some distant city. Mr. Cook has a son about fourteen years of age, and the girl he has run away with is just about three years the senior of this boy. Think of it! ALI BABA.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC. The City Amusements. ITALIAN OPERA. - This evening Bellini's opera of Norma will be given, with Madame Briel as "Norma" and Signor Massimiliani as "Pollio." Ferrar's new comic opera of Pique is announced for to-morrow, with Miss Kellogg and Signor Ronconi in the leading roles. AT THE THEATRE A new drama by Boucault, entitled Merry Bachelors, will be performed this evening, with the comic drama of A Husband to Order. On Friday Miss Keene will have a farrow benefit, previous to her departure from the city for a brief season, and on Monday Miss Susan Galton and her troupe will commence an engagement. AT THE WALNUT the military drama of Not Guilty, with its great battle scenes, will be repeated this evening. AT THE ARCH the drama of Little Bo'ys will be repeated this evening. AT DEWEES & BENDER'S OPERA HOUSE an attractive minstrel performance will be given this evening. AT THE ELEVENTH STREET OPERA HOUSE a variety of entertaining features will be presented this evening. SIBSON BIRGE and his son will exhibit some of their most curious feats of magic at the Assembly Building this afternoon and evening. AT THE GERMAN THEATRE, Colton street, near Franklin, a concert will be given on to-morrow evening for the benefit of the German Hospital. BECK'S PHILADELPHIA BAND will give their twenty-first quadrille party at the Musical Fund Hall this evening.

CITY ITEMS. BROTHER OVERSEERS AND BOYS for Men, Women, and Children, can be had at retail at the very lowest prices. Good's manufacturer, 551 Chestnut street, lower side.

YOU CAN BUY DEER AND OSHANER GLOTTING OF BENNETT & CO. 215 MARKET STREET, HALFWAY BETWEEN FIFTH AND SIXTH.

JAMES M. LADD. - We call attention to this gentleman's card, to be found in another column. Mr. Ladd can once more be found giving his special supervision to his time-honored old stand, situated at the S. W. corner of Ninth and Sanson streets. From the well-known character of the proprietor, together with the quality of his liquors, cigars, etc., gentlemen will find this a quiet resort and the "right man in the right place."

THE LIVING MACHINE. - Injure the main spring of a watch and every portion of the works becomes disordered. The human stomach is to the human system what that elastic piece of metal is to a chronometer. It influences the action of the other organs, and controls, to a certain extent, the whole living machine. The comparison may be carried further; for as the weakness or other imperfections of the mainspring is indicated on the face of the time-piece, so also is the weakness or other disorder of the stomach betrayed by the face of the invalid. The complexion is sallow or faded, the eyes are deficient in lustre and intelligence, and there is a worn, anxious expression in the whole countenance which tells as plainly as written words could do, that the great nourishing organ whose office it is to minister to the wants of the body, and to contain and regulate all its parts, is not performing its duty. It requires renovating and regulating, and to accomplish this end HOSKETT'S STOMACH BITTERS may be truly said to be the one thing needful. The broken main spring of a watch may be replaced by a new one, but the stomach can only be repaired and strengthened, and this is one of the objects of the famous vegetable restorative which for eight-and-twenty years has been waging a successful contest with dyspepsia in all climates. As a specific for indigestion it stands alone. When the resources of the pharmacopoeia have been exhausted, without, at best, doing more than mitigating the complaint, a course of this wholesome and palatable, yet powerful, stomachic effects a perfect and permanent cure. In all cases of dyspepsia the liver is more or less disordered, and upon this important gland, as well as upon the stomach and bowels, the Bitters act singly and in combination, regulating and renovating every secretive and assimilating organ on which bodily and mental health depends.

THE LUNGS ARE STRAINED AND RACKED by a persistent Cough, the general strength wasted, and an incurable complaint often established thereby. JAMES'S EXPECTORANT is an effective remedy for Coughs and Colds, and exerts a beneficial effect on the Pulmonary and Bronchial Organs. Sold everywhere.

DRY FEET. - The most effectual way of guarding one's health is to keep the feet dry, and that can only be done by the use of India Rubber Overcoats, and as the inclement season is upon us, we would advise our readers to buy none but the best quality, which can only be had at GOODYEAR'S Headquarters, No. 328 Chestnut street, south side, Philadelphia.

JEWELRY. - Mr. William W. Cassidy, No. 12 S. Second street, has the largest and most attractive assortment of fine Jewelry and Silvers in the city. Purchasers can rely upon obtaining a real, pure article, furnished at price which cannot be equalled. He also has a large stock of American Western Watches in all varieties and at all prices. A visit to his store is sure to result in pleasure and profit.

HALEY, DAVIS & CO.'s Orchestral Grand Piano best everything in the shape of pianos, and are very properly called the king of pianos. Go and hear them on No. 227 Chestnut street.

FINANCIAL. FIRST MORTGAGE SINKING FUND. Seven Per Cent. Gold Bonds OF THE Frederickburg and Gordonville Railroad Company of Virginia. Principal and Interest Payable in Coin, Free of United States Government Tax.

These Bonds are secured by a First and only Mortgage made to The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New York, as Trustees for the Bondholders.

The Mortgage covers the entire road, Right of Way, Franchises, Rolling Stock, Equipments, Lands and Property, real and personal, now belonging or which may hereafter belong to the Company. A SINKING FUND is also provided, which will reduce the principal of the debt TWO-THIRDS of the entire amount in advance of the maturity of the Bonds.

The Road is 62 miles long, connecting Frederickburg with Orange Court House, with Charlottesville, which is the point of junction of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad to the Ohio river, and the extension of the Orange and Alexandria Railroad to Lynchburg. It forms the shortest connecting link in the system of roads leading to the entire South, Southwest and West to the Pacific Ocean. It passes through a rich section of the Shenandoah Valley, the local traffic of which alone will support the Road, and it must command an abundant share of through trade from the fact of its being a SHORT CUT TO TIDE WATER ON THE POTOMAC AT THE FARTHEST INLAND POINT WHERE DEEP WATER FOR HEAVY SHIPPING CAN BE FOUND ON THE WHOLE LENGTH OF THE ATLANTIC COAST.

From Charlottesville to Tidewater by this route the distance is 40 miles less than via Alexandria; 45 miles less than via Richmond and West Point; 124 miles less than via Norfolk.

A limited amount of these bonds are offered at 92 1/2, and interest from November 1, in currency. From an examination in person, and also by competent counsel, of all the papers and documents relating to this loan, we are enabled to pronounce them entirely correct and satisfactory; we have also had the work and property of the company examined by our own agents, and whose reports agree with those made by the officers of the company, and we therefore recommend these bonds, the issue of which is limited to $15,000 per mile of complete and equipped road, AS A FIRST-CLASS SECURITY IN EVERY PARTICULAR, and as a most desirable investment, giving a large increase of income over investments in any description of Government bonds.
