An unknown white man, who was taken to the Fourth District Station House from Fourth and Race streets, on Saturday last, died in the cell yesterday morning. He was dressed in dark clothes, cloth undershirt and low shoes, and had black hair and whiskers. He was very much intoxicated when found in the street.

 On Saturday evening a man named James Parks was caught in the residence of Mr. Henry Meyers, corner of Clement and Car-penter streets. Before submitting to a capture he discharged four shots from a revolver at Mr. Meyers, three of which took effect in his arm. A lot of burglars' tools were found in the possession of Parks. He has been committed for trial.

death from injuries received while attempting to commit an assault upon his wife in the apartments of Thomas Guttridge, at No. 201 Manship street, February 6, 1870. From the conflicting testimony the jury are unable to decide whether death was the result of violence or a fall down the stairway."

-A meeting of the friends of the American Tract Society was held last evening, in the First Presbyterian Church, corner of Washington Square and Seventh street, Rev. Herrick Johnson pastor. There was a large congregation present. The object of the meeting was to hear the interesting statements of personal observations of several gentlemen of the American Tract Society during their recent extended tour to inaugurate the society's work on the Pacific coast.

—About one o'clock yesterday morning, while Lieutenant Gurke and Sergeant Lynch, of the Sixth Police District, and a man named Lovett, were in Alaska (formerly Bedford) street, near Seventh, on professional business, s man was observed climbing into a ground floor window of a house. When asked what he was doing there, he replied, "None of your business." Lynch arrested him, and ordered the arrest of ten others who were standing by. Mr. Lovett attempted to carry out the order, when the man he took hold of resisted, and a fight ensued between them. At the same moment a gang of from fifteen to twenty men suddenly appeared and attacked the officers. Sergeant Lynch drew his revolver, but in attempting to fire his thumb was caught between the cock and the barrel of his weapon. His hand was seized and held in that position while he was beaten about the head, and an attempt made to cut him in the throat, but he escaped with a stab through the ear. His clothing was torn, and his star and revolver were taken from him. At the same time Lieutenant Gurke was badly beaten by another portion of the gang. Domestic Affairs. -Gold closed on Saturday at 120.
