MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

The City Amusements. AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC the Parepa-Rosa AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC the Parepa-Rosa troupe will appear to-morrow evening in Flotow's opera of Martha. On Wednesday Weber's Oberon will be given, with Madame Rosa in the role of "Reiza." Most of the music of this peantiful work is well known to the public, and although the performance of the entire opera will be a novelty, those who attend will do so with the knowledge that it will be something worthy of their best regards. The production of such operas as this and The Marriage of Figaro, in good style, is the right kind of en-terprise, and that it is appreciated by the public is shown in the fact that all the seats have been secured with an eagerness almost unprece-

On Thursday there will be a matinee per-formance of The Marriage of Figaro, for which the sale of seats will commence to-morrow morning, at 9 o'clock, at the Academy

AT THE CRESNUT the drama of Victorine; The Seamstress' Dream, and the comedy of He's Not Such a Fool, will be performed this evening. To-morrow Mr. Vining Bowers will have a benefit, when Everybody's Friend will be given, with Mr. Bowors and Mr. E. E. Hulfish as "Major Wellington De Boots" alternately. The performance will conclude with the drama of Tom King and Dick Turpin. This is a bill that should fill the house, irrespective of the claims of Mr. Bowers upon the consideration of the playgoing public.

AT THE WALNUT Mr. Charles Fechter will apper this evening as "Hamlet," supported by Miss Carlotta Leclereq as "Ophelia" and Mr. E. C. Bangs as "Lacrtes." Mr. Fechter's engagement is limited to twelve nights, and he will per-Sonate 'Hamlet' every evening this week.

AT THE ARCH Lotta will appear this evening in six different roles in her new drama entitled

dians will appear this evening in Les Femnus Terribles, by Dumanoir, and Les Doux Avengles, by Offenbach. AT THE ELEVENTH STREET OPERA HOUSE the burlesques of The City Councils, Life in Paris, Shoo Fly, The Village Blacksmith, and other attractions will be repeated this evening for the benefit of those who were unable to gain admission last week. AT DUPREZ & BENEDICT'S OPERA HOUSE Hughey Dougherty has made a tremendous hit, and the management at immense expense have induced him to prolong his engagement for another week. This evening Tommy Dodd, Jimmy, Let's Go Home, and a variety of other other week. interesting novelties will be presented.

Signor Blitz and his son will give a magical exhibition at the Assembly Bullding this evening. "The Pilgrim" will be exhibited at Concert Hall this evening. This series of paintings, illustrative of Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," have aftracted large audiences during the last three weeks, and they fully deserve their popularity.

Charles Fechter, the Tragedian.

The first appearance in this city of Mr. Charles Fechter, the Anglo-Franco-Teutonic tragedian, which takes place at the Walnut Street Theatre this evening, will be quite an event in the theatrical world. Mr. Fechter's advent has been heralded by such a blast of trumpets that there is a great deal of curiosity on the part of play-goers to see him, especially in the role selected for the opening night-that of "Hamlet." Mr. Fechter was born in Hanwayyard, Oxford street, London, about the year 1823, and is consequently about fifty-seven years of age. His father was a German, his mother an English woman, and he was educated entirely in France, so that the three leading nationalities of Europe have contributed to his physical and intellectual composition. For some years his attention was directed to sculpture, but he early manifested an inclination for the stage, and when but seventeen years of age he made his debut in Le Mari de la Veuve at the Salle Moliere, Poris, a dingy little place. Although entirely without experience, his acting on this occasion was so full of promise that it insured him an introduction to Scribe. A series of lessons at the Paris Conservatory followed. But after a few weeks' tuition, we are told he despaired of acquiring valuable knowledge in an fustitution where four different professors, in as many weeks, had read to him one part after four different fashions. So he quitted the Conservatory and returned to his studio. He accepted directly, nowever, an offer to join a travelling troupe in Italy, and although compelled by the pecuniary ill success of the venture to again take up the chisel, he was so little disheartened as to set aside a diploma authorizing him to compete as a sculptor for the prix de Rome, and to profit, in preference, by an authorization entitling him to a hearing at the Comedio Francaise. From that day Mr. Fechter's career as an actor was uninterrupted. He was part of the company of the Comedie for eighteen months, and he laid on the stage of the first theatre of France the foundation of a thorough fa miliarity with his art. Leaving this house, he passed a year in Berlin, whence he transferred his services to the Vaudeville, then to the Ambigu, then to the Varietes, and then to the Theatre Historique. At the latter theatre he was the original personator of "The Corsican Brothers," and of "Horace" in Pauline. Subsequently, at the Vaudeville, he "created" the part of "Armand" in La Dame aux Camelias (Camille), and that of "Raphael" in Les Filles de Marbre, and then accepted the pro posals of the Porte St. Martin management, and fig ured there in Le Fils de la Nuit, La Belle Gabrielle, and kindred works. Suited by physical qualities and by early picturesque surroundings for the delineation of romantic characters, he won for himself in them a great popular reputation. This portion of his career was varied by a professional visit to Berlin, which occurred in the year 1846.

Having now reached the zenith of his fame as a French romancist, he turned his attention to the English stage, and, after studying the language with the Rev. Mr. Bellew, a sensational preacher of note, he appeared in 1860, under the management of Mr. Harris, in Ruy Blas at the Princess' Theatre, London. Whatever may be the merits of his acting, his success was so immediate and so decided that he at once determined to forsake the French stage and to give his whole energy to the easy task of delighting English audiences. He soon attacked "Hamlet," and, casting aside certain traditions of the English stage, created no little sensation by his innovations, especially that of a flaxen wig. His success in this Shakespearian character led him to essay "Othello" in 1861, at the Princess'. His success in this role by no means equalled that which had attended his "Hamlet," and soon after he reurned to his French repertoire, and during the remainder of his engagement at this theatre devoted his attention to a class of plays of which The Corsican-Brothers may be taken as a type. In 1862 he transferred himself to the Lyceum, of which he became tessee, his first important production here having been John Brougham's adaptation of The Duke's Motto, which ensured the success of his management. Bel Demonio followed, and at long intervals Hamlet was revived, with stage appointments of unusual excellence and attraction. He relied, however, mainly : upon the more fervid of the French dramas, until he brought out Bulwer's Lady of Lyons, creating a profound sensation in the part of "Claude Meinotte." His next great success was in the dramatization of No Thoroughfare, a Christmas story by Charles Dickens and Wilkle Collins, which had been written with the special view of supplying Mr. Fechter with a part in which his imperfections of pronunciation would not be inappropriate. No Thoroughfore was brought out at the Adelphi on Christmas day, 1867, during Mr. Dickens' last sojourn in the United States, the dramatization having been the joint production of Wilkie Coilins, Benjamin Webster, and Mr. Fechter himself. His personation in this play of the role of "Oberseizer," although not regarded as equal of his early triumphs on the London stage, was regarded as superior to any of his later achievements at the Last year it was announced authoritatively that Mr. Fechter would pay a professional visit to this country, and his advent was heralded by a highly enlogistic article in the August num-ber of the Atlantic Monthly, from the pen of Charles Dickens, which, of itself, would have been sufficient to ensure him a patient hearing before an American audience. He arrived in New York at out the first of the present year, and made his first appearance at Niblo's Garden, on the 10th of January. Two weeks were devoted to Ruy Blas. another fortnight to The Duke's Motto, and a single week to Hamlet, Mr. Pechter then journeyed to Boston, where he played "Hamlet" during his first week and "Ruy Blas" during the second, winding up his brief engagement with a single representation of The Lady of Lyons, on Friday evening of last week.

Such, in brief, has been the life of an actor who has had a very successful career on both the French and English stages. The diversity of opinion with which his performances in this country have been received is already familiar to our readers, and we forbear all comment upon it until he has made his debut upon the stage of this city.

HELMBOLD.-The St. Louis Republican comes to us with a large part of its space occu-pled with Helmbold's advertisements. It says that "while many of our customers shrug their shoulders at the price of a fourth, a third, or a half a column, Helmbold gobbles half-a-dozen columns at a time, and wishes the charges were higher, so that he, who can afford to pay hand-somely, might come nearer monopolizing all the space allotted to advertisements. 'With a good preparation," says Helmbold, 'judicious and liberal advertising cannot be too dear.' We With a good know nothing personally about the merits of his medicines, but it certainly is a fact that immense quantities of them are sold, and it suits our purpose to attribute the fact to the character and the amount of advertising done by the "Prince of Buchu."

MARVIN'S PARLOR SAFE TRIUMPHANT!!

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Feb. 26, 1870.

MESSES. MARVIN & CO., No. 721 Chesnut street. Gentlemen:-My house was entirely destroyed by fire on the 6th inst. The Family Safe I purchased frem you in 1867 was in the fire, and was opened yesterday. The contents were in a perfect state of preservation, and after taking into consideration the TREMENDOUS HEAT, the Safe lying for (12) twelve hours in a pile of some (30) THIRTY TONS OF BURNING COAL, I deem it very remarkable that nothing should be injured inside. The inner Steel Chest is all right. I this day send the Safe to your firm in New York.

These Safes are for rale by MARVIN & CO., 721 CHESTNUT Street (Masonic Hall),

OFFICE OF PISK & HATCH. BANKERS AND DEAFERS IN GOVERNENT SECURITIES,

No. 5 NASSAU Street, New York.

PREBUARY 15, 1879. The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RATE-ROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY, and the popularity and credit which these Loans have maintained in the markets, both in tois country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely-located and honorably managed Ratiroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

FIRST MORTCACE BONDS

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, FORMS THE ADDITIONAL EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other. THE IMPORTANCE OF THIS ROAD AS A NEW OUTLET FROM THE WEST TO THE SEA MAGnices it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia it possesses, along it own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILBOAD to the Oldo river, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and REN-DER IT THE MOST IMPORTANT AND SUBSTAN-TIAL RAILROAD ENTERPRISE NOW IN PRO-GRESS IN THIS COUNTRY.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, INSURES AN ENER-GETIC, HONORABLE, AND SUCCESSFUL MAN-AGEMENT. The Road is completed and in operation from of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 350 miles below Pittsburg. Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect

Richmond to the celebrated White Staphur Springs

the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO WITH THE EN-TIRE RAILROAD SYSTEMS OF THE WEST AND SOUTHWEST, AND WITH THE PACIFIC RAIL-ROAD. Its valuable franchises and superior advantages Will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILBOAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerfu and trustworthy corporations of the country; AND THERE EXISTS A PRESENT VALUE, IN COM-PLETED LOAD AND WORK DONE, EQUAL TO

THE ENTIRE AMOUNT OF THE MORTGAGE.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud. The Bonds are in denominations of $1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless reassigned to bearer; or The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only to the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:-First. "COUPON BONDS PAYABLE TO BEARER." Second. "REGISTERED BONDS WITH COU-PONS ATTACHED." Third, "REGISTERED BONDS WITH COUPONS DETACEED," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have TRIRTY YEARS to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent. per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK. The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and vestments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year. The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith,

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded, and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the markets, both of this country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.
