THE DAILY EVENING TELEGRAPH-PHILADELPHIA, TUESDAY, MARCH 8, 1870.

NEW-YORHISMS. From Our Own Correspondent.

NEW YORK, March 8, 1870. Mr. Fechter.

By this time I presume all Philadelphia has had its say on the acting of Mr. Charles Fechter. I shall await with anxiety the arrival of THE EVENING TELEGRAPH, in order to form just idea of what the verdict of intelligent griticism there is. The plain truth about him in New York is that he puzzled the critics and the actors. Professional writers upon the footlights and professional actors behind them were divided into factions, one affirming that he was the most eminent artist of the age, one that he was the most fraudulent, and it is hard to say which faction at the present date is the strongest. A bashful critic at the Hub says that New York gave him members and that Boston gave him brains. This blushing and embarrassed hint as to the real state of affairs cut us Gothamites to the core. What has Philadelphia given Mr. Fechter? Both members and brains, I hope. I regard him as a sort of refined and spiritualized Boweryism-the kind of Boweryism they might provide for sensuous angels in some intellectual heaven. I forgive his accent, and I don't mind his wig. He might almost wear a red one, without detracting from whatever artistic merit there may be in his performance. The fault I have to find with him is that he is a sensuous actor, not an intellectual one. What does THE EVENING TELEGRAPH think?

Tea in Lent.

Cowper never said a falser thing than when he wrote about the cup that cheers but not inebriates. A London chemist has just manufactured wine from tea, but I do not assert that anybody has a right to carp at this, since wine was made from water as far back as the marriage in Cana of Galilee ! However, I presume this is hardly the same kind of tea which fashionable New Yorkers drink in Lent. Of course you are aware that in no city in the Union are Lent observances so rigorously kept as in this city of New York. Metaphorically speaking, fashion abandons cosmetics for the chrism, and becomes decent and dutiful instead of remaining decolletee. She don't go out, except to church. She don't receive visits, except informal ones. If gentlemen drop in in the evening she regales them with tea. Nine-o'clock tea is one of the Lenten institutions of Gotham, and the institution has spread more this season than any other. Thin bread-and-butter is sometimes added, and the subject of salvation is discussed over sandwiches, and the Te Deum kept upon the tapis to an extent which is tea-dious!

Fanny Hobart. Have I ever said anything to you about Fanny Hobart? I ought to have done so, if I have not. She is one of the nattiest and sprightliest lady-writers connected with the New York press. Hitherto some of the best things she says have been necessarily associated with descriptions of fashion; but to mention her as a mere fashion-writer would be to do great injustice to her exquisite and original humor, her droll and genial conceits, the loving kindness of a large and sympathizing nature, the joyous bubblings-up of perpetual wit and good temper. For several years she has contributed one article a week, entitled "The Woman's Kingdom," to one of the most prominent of the New York Sunday newspapers. The article is, it is true, a resume of all that is new in the world of fashion, but the work of making such a resume is lifted up out of the hands of feminine Jenkinsism in which it too long reposed, and made to blossom forth in a sparking essayet, in which all that is necessary to be said about the fashions is said, but is made subservient to strings of smart and singular thoughts, generally funny, sometimes poetical, often full of irresistible wit. Mrs. Hobart likewise writes stories for children, many of which, I believe, appear in some Phila-sources as a writer. I do not belong, like Mad'lle Hortense Schneider or M. Emile Olli-vier, to the household of the Viceroy of Egypt. A prudent revolutionist should always keep a Turk for the last. If I dared, I would ask the Emperor to allow me to enter the workshops of Pelagie to make list slippers with the other prisoners. I have heard that by working for fifteen hours a powerful man may make five sous a day. But could I obtain this permission? I have so many enemies at the Tuileries. No matter; if the first circumscription is not satisfied with the manner in which its representative is treated, it must be hard to please. Poetical Politicians.

A lively little tilt took place in the Call-fornia Assembly b tween Mr. George R. B. Hayes and Mr. Martin, of Butte, when the Mercantile Library bill cance up on its final passage. The latter took the ground that the bill was unconstitutional. Mr. Hayes went after his opponent, burlesquing his legal knowledge in a refreshing style, and comparing him to Mr. Hagar of the Judiciary Committee of the Senate. This was voted a decided hit, and brought down the House Mr. Martin, after recovering from the effects of the shock, invoked the ald of Muses, and "got off" the following as Mr. Hayes' opinion of himself: -

"His pole seems of the sturdy oak, His line a cable that never broke ;

He baits his hook with tigers' tails And sits on a rock and bobs for whales." And the following as the public opinion of Mr. Haves:-

"His pole is of the peacock feather, lis line is of the finest leather; He baits his hook with mites of cheese, And rests on the bank and bobs for fleas."

This had the effect to close the debate, and the bill passed.

-The card of the chairman of the New Hampshire Democratic State Committee, denying the charge of "infidelity to the party," appeals to the Democracy to bring home their absent voters, and to rally at the polls; but it does not urge them to vote for General Bedel.

Defeat of the Bullock Party. Special Despatch to The Evening Telegray

WASHINGTON, March 8 .- The House has agreed to Mr. Bingham's amendment to the Georgia bill, which provides that no office now filled in the State of Georgia shall be vacated; that the official term of officers in the State shall not be extended beyond the time prescribed by the constitution. This amendment defeats the Bullock party, and renders the election of Blodgett to the Senate null and vold, and indirectly endorses the election of Miller and Hill as United States Senators. The bill, as amended. passed by a large majority.

Protection of American Colonists.

Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph. WASHINGTON, March 8.-The following is the official copy of a bill reported from the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations making it a misdemeanor to fit out or equip ships of war with intent that they shall be employed in the service of any European prince or State for the purpose of subduing American colonists claim ing independence, and providing for the forfeiture of such ship or vessel:---

Section 1. Be it enacted, that if any person shall within the limits of the United States, fit out, arm, or equip, or attempt to fit out, arm, or equip, or pro-cura to be fitted out, armed, or equipped, or shall knowingly be concerned in fitting out, arming or equipping of any ship or vessel with intent that such ship or vessel shall be employed in the service of any European Prince or State for the purpose of sub-duing American colonists chaiming independence, or delver a commission within the territory of the United States, for any ship or vessel, with the intent that she may be employed as aforesaid, every person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $5000, and imprisoned for a period not Section 1. Be it enacted, that if any person shall not exceeding $5000, and imprisoned for a period not exceeding two years, nor less than six months; and every such ship or vessel, with her tackle, apparel, and furniture, together with all materials, arms, am-munition, and stores which may have been procured for building and equipment thereof, shall be for-feited, one-half to the use of the informer, and the other half te the use of the United States. Section 2. And be it further enacted, that in every case where a ship or vessel shall be fitted out, armed, or equipped, or attempted to be fitted out, armed, or equipped, contrary to the provisions of this act, it shall be lawful for the President of the United States, or such person as he has empowered for that pur-pose, to employ land or naval forces or militia of the United States, or any part thereof, for the purpose of taking possession of and detaining any such snip

Senate. Continued from the Third Edition.

By Mr. Wilson, to promote the civilization of the Indians, and prepare them for the rights of cluzenship; providing for the appointment of five civilians who, with the Secretary of the In-terior and Commissioner of Indian Affairs, shall constitute a board, the Secretary acting as pre-sident, for the protection of friendly Indians, and to promote their civilization. This board shall supervise all expenditures, visit the various tribes, examine their condition and the conduof superintendents, agents, and all others n-pointed or permitted to dwell among them. It shall be a medium of correspondence be-tween the Government and the Indians concerning treatles, contracts, etc. The board may remove any person in the Indian service when the interest of the United States, or of any of the tribes, seems to require it, reporting the facts to the President through the Secretary of the Interior. It may also devise necessary codes and regulations to be submitted to Congress,

The little ones-and the big ones, for that matter-who have been intcrested in them, will be glad to learn that she has a face like a Madonna in social life, blue beaming eyes, hair aureated by the natural tincture known as sunshine, and that her manuers are in exact correspondence with the faultless freedom of her ilterary style. Ball-Room Bables.

At some of the balls which have recently been given, special accommodations were made for ladies accompanied with babies. Strange as the announcement may seem, it is literally true. One large room was changed into a nursery, and provided with cradles and cribs, so as to look more like a foundling hospital, or the infant department of an orphan asylum, than anything else. The other night a party of young men by some means obtained admission to the baby department of the ball, and set themselves to work at changing the babies. No less than fifty infants, between the ages of four months and four years, were changed in as many seconds, and the party made their escape just as the anxious mothers, fresh from the triumphs of the German, were making their way to the nursery to visit and refresh their "tootsy-wootsies." Such a scene as took place! Such a turning down of the right counterpanes, and turning up of the wrong cherubs! It was a great transformation scene, better than that of the Twelve Templations - that spectacle of low-necked Rachels weeping for their changed children. The wails of the cherubim rose above the swell of the orchestra; but I am glad to be able to add that the proper bables found their proper mothers in good time.

Dr. Thompson's Congregation.

At the service on Sunday morning Dr. Thompson, who preaches at the Broadway Taberoacle, said a very good thing, which caused a smile to overspread the features of his fashionable flock. It was to the effect that at the next sociable held by his church gentlemanly ushers would be in attendance, whose office it would be to introduce members of the congregation to one another. It is what the "flock" greatly needs. The nearest sheep don't know one another. "No Presents."

This is the latest and the neatest invention adopted among well-bred people who issue invitations to silver weddings. Tin, silver, and golden weddings, as they are generally conducted, are only a refined species of blackmailing, and we have had quite enough of them during the season just clapsed. ALI BABA.

Up to the present, impri-soned journalists have been allowed to send articles to the papers. It is true they were not representatives of the people. Mr. Wilson also introduced a bill for the temporary relief of the poor of the District of Co lumbia. Referred to the Committee on the District of Columbia.

Mr. Kellogg introduced a bill in aid of the freedmes and for the purpose of subdividing the public domain in certain States into forty acre tracts for homesteads for the colored race Referred.

Mr. Morrill (Me.) reported favorably the bill making appropriations to supply deficiencies in the appropriations for contingent expenses o the House of Representatives for the presen fiscal year.

The Funding bill was taken up and debated by Messrs. Sherman, Corbett, and Davis, the latter occupying the floor at 2.15 o'clock, with a prospect of continuing for some time.

House. Continued from the Third Edition.

As to the merest imputation of a sordid con sideration in the matter, the men who made i would not only have to break down his (Voor hees') reputation, but would have to assail a man who for forty years in the service of his country had never had the breath of slander to tarnial his fair fame. The House has recently been engaged in expelling some of its members. Fo the newspaper press and the newspaper re porters as a class he had a very high respect and had a personal regard for many of them but if the sluice-ways of calumny were to b thus opened by irresponsible men connecte with the press, the next expulsion that would be in order would be the expulsion of th slanderous and calumniating reporters from th galleries.

Mr. Logan, Chairman of the Committee o Military Affairs, remarked that there had bee no allegation of any kind made against M Voorhees, and no witness examined relating | hm.

Mr. Voorhees thanked Mr. Logan for h voluptary statement.

Mr. Rogers called the attention of the Speake to the violation of the rule which prescribe who are entitled to the privileges of the floo and complained that he was constantly annoye by railroad and other lobby agents. The Speaker directed the doorkceper to a that the rule was enforced.

The House then resumed the consideration the Georgia bill.

Mr. Wood protested against the bill, declarin that it was intended as a precedent for the est blishment of a Congressional oligarchy. It was a revolutionary, audacious, and monstron

Mr. Cox also protested against the measur and said that the States of the Union ha reached the very depth of humiliation in the measure. The Reconstruction Committee di tated to Congress, and the gentleman from Ma sachusetts (Mr. Butler) dictated to the Record struction Committee, so that the rights of States were all depending upon the whim of one man. He repudiated association with either side of the House by Bingham and Butler. The former embraced as bad doctrine as the latter. There was only a difference in shading, not in outline or color. Congress had enough to do without mixing in local wrangles and radical plunder schemes, but the House was
