STATIONERY.—A chap named Theo, Teipher vesterday visited Mann's stationery store on Fourth street, above Chesnut, and, presenting a forged order on Goldsmith & Co., procured a la ge-sized receipt book. He then proceeded to Rice street wharf and sold the same to a secondhand dealer. He next returned and visited Moss' stationery store on Market street, where he offered a similar order and procured a similar book, which he also sold to the dealer at Race street wharf. Returning again, he obtained a book from Moss's, which he disposed of to Leary, at Fifth and Walnut streets. Had he now stopped he would have been all right, but he did not. Walking up Fifth to Chesnut, he turned the corner and visited the firm named Moss, on the latter street, and here he played the same game with the same success. He then started for Race street wharf. Meantime, dealer No. 1 had begun to suspect that all was not right, and had therefore placed a policeman on the watch. Theodore soon arrived and offered the book for sale. He was at once arrested, and this afternoon will answer for the theft, at ANOTHER VICTIM.-Annie Kennedy, a female whose particular avocation is the patrolling of whose particular avocation is the patrolling of Eighth, Ninth, and Walnut streets after nightfall, last evening succeeded in enticing a green-horn into a den at Ninth and Locust streets, where, after spending some time, he was met by Annie's man named J. McGeary, Some conversation ensued, when Greeny found himself minus $60. Like a flash he shot out of the house and hunted up a policeman and the two house and hunted up a policeman, and the two returned to the den. Annie and McGeary were still therein. Greeny charged them with theft, and they denied it. Both were then searched, but the money could not be found. The officer, but the money could not be found. The officer, however, was not to be baffied. There being no females about, he proceeded to examine Annie himself. Before proceeding far, he found that the job was too uncleanly for his hands. He then procured a pair of tongs, and in a few moments drew forth the money. Both the parties named were then locked up, and will have a hearing at the Central to-day. at the Central to-day.

LODGING AND THEFT.—Situated at the north-east corner of Nineteenth and Ohio streets is a finely-furnished dwelling, owned by a Mrs. Rice, who lets the same out to families. Her last tenants vacated the premises a few days ago, and Mrs. Rice yesterday returning from the country, temporarily stored a trunk therein, filled with valuable clothing, silver spoons, forks, etc., she going to spend the night with some friends. Some time during the evening a couple of prowling individuals entered the house by forcing open the back door, and feeling tired they laid down on one of the beds to rest. Morpheus took a strong hold of them, and when they awoke they found old Sol peeping through the blinds, Nothing disconcerted, they boldly shouldered the trunk and march out of the front door and away, the neighbors meanwhile looking on and suspecting nothing.

FIGHTING WHISKY.—Yesterday, John Anderson and a friend named Luke Sanders, succeeded in obtaining about enough of the poison styled whisky to make them "feel their oats," and on, arriving in the neighborhood of Twentieth and Fitzwater streets, thought they would kick up a row just for the fun of the thing. One of Mayor Fox's pollcemen, named Forsyth, who stood by, thought it was his duty to inter-fere, which he did, whereupon Luke gave him a "left-hander" over the eye. At the same time, John, not to be outdone, threw off his cost and hat, and sailed in likewise. Mr. Officer ran a fair chance of becoming an inmate of the Peunsylvania Hospital, when Officer Mullin fortu-nately arrived and aided in the suppression of the rebellion. The two were then taken before Alderman Dallas, who held them in $700 ball

ERRONEOUS .- Some of the morning papers contain a despatch announcing the arrest of a young man formerly bookkeeper for Messrs. Homer, Colladay & Co., Chesnut, above Broad street, at Jersey City, on the charge of embezzling $9000 of the firm's funds. This morning one of our reporters called upon the firm named in order to ascertain the true facts of the case, and was by them informed that the amount had been grossly exaggerated, the sum missing not amounting to more than $2500. The firm at the same time stated that they were not disposed to look upon the matter in a criminal light; that they always reposed the utmost confidence in the young man, who had been in their employ for years, and were of the opinion that the matter would all come right in the end.

THE SANGERBUND BAL MASQUE is announced to come off at the Academy of Music on Tuesday evening, March 15, 1870. A FIZZLE.—A meeting of a legislative committee was to have been held this morning in the Port Wardens' office. Owing to some misunderstanding, however, it did not take place. One member of the Legislature was present, but he not considering himself a quorum, left, and then there were none.

LECTURE ON ROME.—We listened last evening, with much gratification, to a lecture on the "Eternal City," delivered at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, by B. S. Comerys, Esq., Cashier of the Philadelphia National Bank, who has recently returned from his travels in Europe. The lecture was fraught with both interest and instruction. It was given in a plain, unstudied, colloquial manner. Original in every feature, and presenting an almost photographic picture of "mighty Rome," the audience were riveted in their attention and almost spell-bound by the interesting details furnished LECTURE OR ROME .- We listened last evenspell-bound by the interesting details furnished by the amiable and accomplished lecturer. Those who had the pleasure of listening to him owe a bt of gratitude for this voluntary contribution to their amusement and instruction. When gentlemen like Mr. Comegys travel abroad they do not "hide their light under a bushel," but dif-fuse its radiance in the most philanthropic manner, thereby doing good in their day and generation. The lecture was a grand success, and we hope that it may be repeated again at the earliest convenience of the kind-hearted

SUDDEN DEATHS, -About 9 o'clock this morning a respectably dressed gentlemen was seized with a sudden illness at Third and South streets, and removed by some of the neighbors to the drug store on the northwest corner, where in a few minutes he expired. On the inside of his vest was marked W. J. Riley, No. 1605 Beulah street, and in his pockets were found $67 in cash, a gold watch, a large brass key, and a padlock key.

Thomas Seater died suddenly this morning at

No. 9 David's court. An infant but three months old died suddenly this morning at No. 1225 Philip street. The Coroner has been notified of the above cases.

AN EMBEZZLER. — Yesterday an individual named C. C. Fisher, alias King, alias Tracy, alias French, alias Fairbanks, alias Freeman, was arrested on a warrant issued by Chief Kelley of the Detective force. The complaint was lodged by Messrs. Wilson & Bradbury, No 207 Chesnut street, who charged Fisher with defrauding the firm of Field, Oegood & Co., of Boston, of $1500. The prisoner has been employed as a travelling agent by the firm, and has secured a number of subscriptions from parties in this city for works issued by Messrs. Field, Oegood & Co., receiving part payment on the same, which have thus far footed up $1500, none of which he returned to the firm. none of which he raturned to the firm.

A SMASHER .- A burly and muscular descendant of Ham, named Thomas Hill, last night paid a visit to a drinking saloon on Letitia street, for the purpose of obtaining some ben-zine. The proprietor refused to admit Thomas, whereupon he smashed in the door, and raised a dust generally. Whilst he was trying to discover the difference between the strength of his head and the counter, by the "butting" process, an officer arrived and took him into custody. Aldarman Godbou this morning held him in $1000 bail to answer.

ON TO RICHMOND!—This morning a posse of revenue officials paid a visit to the whisky dis-trict of Richmond, which they scoured from one end to the other, securing a number of worms, stills, etc., and destroying some 15 or 20 tubs of mash. The Hibernian residents, as usual, endeavored to frustrate the purposes of the officers, but they soon silenced all such efforts by a liberal display of firearms, yelept pistols. No whisky of any account was captured.

HAMS.-Two ebony-hued characters named Stephen Girard Brown and Benjamin Franklin Jackson were arrested yesterday afternoon at Ninth and Pine streets, while endeavoring to get away with a couple of hams which they had stolen from a store near by. Alderman Kerr will hear their statements at the Central station

ATTEMPTED ARSON .- About 2 o'clock this morning a dastardly attempt was made to fire a stable in the rear of No. 713 Arch street, but through the vigilance of an officer it was frustrated. The villain had so carefully covered his tracks that he succeeded in escaping unde-

Gourt of Quarter Sessions—Judge Petree.

This morning an old woman, on whose head the snows of sixty winters have fallen, was tried for iarceny. She had been employed in the house of a lady as domestic, and one night went into her mistress' chamber and stole a watch and several articles of jewelry. The case was a plain one, she having acknowledged her gullt, and doubtless she would have been convicted of the felony, had not the District Attorney stated to the jury that he knew the poor woman, that she had been in his service formerly, where she had committed a number of petty thefts, and from her conduct then, and from the testimony of one of the witnesses in the present case, he was convinced that she was more a fit subject for the Insane Arylum than the Penitentiary. He thought it but justice that she should be acquitted on the ground of insanity, in which event the Court could make the proper disposition of her. As some misunderstanding has arisen concerning the course adopted by Mr. Stephen Remak, who at first represented this relator, it is perhaps proper to state that the proceedings instituted by that gentleman were not based upon the act of April, 1800, bringing into question the sanity or insamity of his client, but were founded solely upon the regularity of the mode by which the relator was brought from Olifo and placed in Dr. Kirkbride's hospital; and had be been permitted to pursue this course be was conhe been permitted to pursue this course he was confident of obtaining a judgment of the Court in his favor. The Infelicities of Isabella. The French Roman Policy a Mistake, TO-DAY'S WASHINGTON NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Advices from the North Atlantic Fleet. Washington, March 12a—Despatches have been received at the Navy Department from Rear-Admiral Poor, commanding the North Atlantic Fleet, dated Cape Haytien, February 12. The United States steamers Severa and Dictator arrived at Port-au-Prince on the 19th of February of February. Admiral Poor had called upon the provisional President, and, after the usual ex-change of civilities, acquainted him with the object of his visit to that port.

The President summoned his Cabinet, and the Admiral explained the instructions he had received from this Government, namely:—That negotiations were pending between the United States and San Domingo, and that while they were pending this Government had determined, with its whole power, to prevent any interference on the part of the Haytien or any other government with that of the Dominicans, and if the attempt should be made upon the Dominicans during the negotiations, under the Haytien or any other flag, it would be regarded as an act of hostility to the United States flag, and would provoke hostilities in return.

The President and Secretary of State ex-pressed the hope that the friendly relations now existing between Hayti and the United States would not be interrupted, and that while they were aware of their weakness they knew their rights and would maintain them to the best of their ability, and that they must be allowed to be the judges of their own policy. Admiral Poor afterwards learned unofficially that the authorities were displeased with what they considered a menace upon the part of the United States accompanied with force. The day before the arrival of the Severn at Port-au-Prince there was a report in circulation in the town that a collision had occurred at Cape Haytlen between the Nantucket and the Haytlen man-of-war Terror, late the Pequot, in consequence of the protection given by the former to the American Consul. It was also reported by the two pilots who brought in the Severn and Dictator, with a discrepancy as to the result. An investigation by the Admiral proved the rumor without foundation. The following Haytien vessels were at anchor at Port-au-Prince:— Maratanza, Quaker City, Alexander Petion, Galeta, and the Mount Vernon, a transport. The Quaker City is dismantled.
