NEW-YORKISMS.

From Our Own Correspondent. NEW YORK, March 19, 1870. The Purim Balt

that was given on Thursday evening was almost as brilliant a display as has ever taken place in this city. A good many Hebrew patricians were present, but they were unavoidably mixed up with some of the elements of the canaille. Towards half-past 2 in the morning some consternation was created by the discovery that one of the maskers, a man in the disguise of a French waiting-maid, had gained access to the ladies' dressing-room. The respectable female relatives of the floor-managers grew pale with anger at this irregularity, and the offender was remonstrated with. He expressed contrition, and proved that his penitence was practical by gathering his skirts around him and leaving the ball-room, shaking the dust off his feet, or more literally, the chalk off his gaiters. The floor managers, by-the-by, prided themselves upon the elegant yet simple style with which the entertainment was conducted. At supper, for instance, the usual French gibberish with which comestibles are baptized in the bills of fare was discarded. It was enough for the guests to be in masquerade, without the "goodles" being disguised. The delicacies of the season-and I am glad to say that this ball differed from the French ones in the fact of there being no female indelleacles of the season to eat them-were printed in plain English. Some of the viands were peculiar to the Jewish table, and had quite as much individuality about them as dishes characteristic of Protestantism have.

Our Relations with Spain. Since Zoe, the "Cuban sylph," has vanished from the footlights of New York, our relations with Spain have become somewhat complicated and bid fair to grow more so. For instance, next Wednesday week, a company of "real" Andalusian dancers are to appear at Tammany —the defunct Tammany from whose boards the secular blondes and the Sabbatic George Francis Train were swept at one fell swoop. Professor Risley, the same reputability who imported All-Right, and led the Japanese jugglers through All-Right, and led the Japanese jugglers through the country, has been taking his pick from the theatres of Madrid, Seville, Granada, and Malaga, and has got together some of the best men-dancers and women-dancers in all Spain. Professor Risley's love for the people of New York in particular, and the United States in general, is represented to be so great that he rejected with contumely the offers made him by managers at Paris and London, preferring to plump his troupe down at once upon American shores. Will brunettism frown down blondism? Who Will brunettism frown down blondism? Who knows? The brunettes open at Tammany on the 30th; the blondes commence at Niblo's on the ensing 4th of April. I should not be sur-prised if, after all, blondism has seen its best nights in this country for the present. Apropos of the dbut of the Andalusian ballet, the price of Spansh mackerel has gone up, and Castile soap is the favorite saponaceous deodorizer of young New York. The brunette regime will probably be succeeded in its turn by an auburnhaired era of beauties cast in the Lady Don mould—fitshed and ardent-tempered beauties, whose very ghosts would walk about in flesh-colored tights if they had a chance, and who squeeze all that is passionate out of life into their tropic natures, and breathe it forth again in the rhymed nonsense of burlesque.

Married Editors. There is no good in an editor being married unless he makes use of his wife. Some of the editors of struggling weekly papers here do so in a very practical and charming manner. For instance, in most of the New York weeklies there is a fashion department, which is usually presided over by a lady equally fluent of speech and pen, who, however, has to both talk and write up to the handle. These elaborate de-scriptions of the rarest modes which your wife reads with so supreme an expression of bliss transfiguring her features, are all written by ladies who devote their lives to the work, and accordingly do it very well indeed. Some of them are ladies, and some of them are-women. Some of them glide through their business du-ties concealed under the disguise of a nom de plume, and with their mission never for an instant suspected by the weary dry-goods clerks who hold up for their inspection article after article of lace and silk. Some of them, whose maiden or whose married names are too prosale to suit the purpose, adopt a fictitious name for the very purpose of obtaining notoriety, and while transacting their work for their papers, but ever so many irons in the fire for themselves. Now the editor who first put to practical use the idea of making his wife transact this business did an eminently good stroke of business for himself. He need pay her no salary; the lady would, of course, be faithful to his interests; and, besides, there could be no possible objection—as there would be in other cases—to her having as many irons in the fire for herself as she chose. Consequently the New York weekly editor's wife has found her sphere. It is that of fashion editress to her husband's newspaper, and appropriatress of as many per-quisites as fall in her way.

Mr. Wilkes' Story. There was an unusual rush yesterday to secure copies of the just issued edition of Wilkes' Spirit of the Times. Every one was naturally anxious to hear Mr. Wilkes' version of the caning which all the daily newspapers agreed that he had received from the hands of Major W. W. Leland, whom he had grossly scanda-lized in his paper. To tell the truth, Mr. Wilkes makes so extremely weak an explanation of what is popularly believed to have happened, and calls his antagonist such dreadfully coarse names, that sympathy with him is entirely removed from the breast of every reader who does not share in the honor of being his personal

"Where the Woodbine Twineth" It will probably not be long ere Mr. Fisk has the opportunity of repeating this and similar successful gags. For the present, however, he has made his last appearance in court as a funny man, a witty witness who dared to jest before the judge, and regale with original badinage the bench and bar. It often happens, in scenes in court, as represented upon the stage, that a witness is needed who understands the exigencies of the occasion sufficiently to be funny and keep the house on the "go" without becoming coarse Mr. Fisk has found that he would answer admi rably for this business, to which perhaps he may come some day when he shall have speculated away his wife's private fortune of two millions, his own of ten, lost the confidence and support of J. Gould, and ceased to fluctuate between Eric on the one hand and houri on the other. It such parts as "Where the Woodbine Twineth, I like him better than Leffingwell, Sam Hemple or the fair-haired Owen Fawcett. ALI BABA.

The Growth of the American Plane Trade. Notwithstanding the unusual and general depres-sion of trade, the total amount of sales in 1869 is fully equal to the business of the preceding year, and it is a noticeable fact that, in the instance of several it is a noticeable fact that, in the instance of several of the largest manufacturers, a large increase of business is exhibited. It will be seen that by the revenue statistics of twenty-six firms given below, they are residents of New York, Boston, and Baltimore, and that the aggregate total of their sales amounts to $6,248.577. Besides those given in tabular form there are a number of small firms in the three cities named, and also several in Philadelphia, Albany. Buffalo, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and even san Francisco, which will increase the total amount of annual production and sales of planes in the United States to fully 25,000 instruments, netting over seven millions of dollars ($7,000,000).

New York, the Empire City of the Union, possesses in the world-famed mammoth manufactory of Measrs. Steinway & Sons, not only the most extensive establishment in the United States, but beyond a doubt the largest in the world, as shown in the fact of this firm returning, as made and sold during the year 1809, no less than 2200 planes, for the aggregate sum of teche hundred and face thousand four hundred and sixty-three dollars ($1,205,463). Boston, the renowned "Hub," in the establishment of Measrs. Chickering, possesses the second largest Gentilement of your Spherical Chrome-Iron Safes, and in the meantime have succeeded in driffing every specimen of metal presented to me by the other makers upon which they rely for security sgainst burglars; but from the tests I have made on the 20-inch ball (your No. 2 Spherical) I purchased of you, I am satisfied that no steel drill can cut it, and as for sledges and wedges, I think its shape utterly precludes any successful attack with them. I will further say that I have been assisted in my tests by those claiming to be experta, and I have offered twenty-five dollars to any person that would drift the ball, preferring it should be drilled for pay, rather than by the burglar for plunder. They gave it up. You are at liberty to refer to me at any time in relation to said safe, and I shall be happy to impart any information in my possession to any one inquiring. Yours truly.

DEAR SIES:—The Spherical Safe I purchased from you (your size No. 3) arrived a few days ago and is now in the Bank. I can work the combination lock with ease, as its movements work like a charm. It affords me pleasure to announce its giving universa satisfaction to all the directors. I enclose my check. Yours truly. Yours truly,

A. J. SCHNACKENBERG.

HARRIBBURG, PA., June 8, 1869. Messes. Marvin & Co., Phila.

GENTLEMEN:—The Spherical Safe (No. 4) which we purchased from you gives entire satisfaction. We use it for the storage of our own Bonds and for valuable special deposits. We have entire confidence in its ability to resist any attack that burgiars may make on it. The combination lock is the smoothest working piece of mechanism of the kind that we have ever used. Very respectfully,

JOHN. A. BIGLER, Cashier.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF YORK,

Messrs. Marvin & Co., Phila.

GENTLEMEN:—The Spherical Safe (No. 4) was duly received and subjected to such tests as we required, and we are giad to say that it withstood all the assaults made upon it. It is now in use in our Bank vault.

Respectfully,

D. E. SMALL, President.

FROM THE YORE DEMOCRATIC PRESS,
YORE, June 4, 1859.

A BURGLAR PROOF SAFE.—The First National Bank on Tuesday placed in their Vault one of MARVIN & CO.'S CHROME IRON SPHERICAL BURGLAR-PROOF SAFES, which was purchased from their agent, Mr. Hervy Herman, formerly of this place.

The safe was sold to the Bank subject to such tests as the Directors saw fit to put it to. They invited machinists and others to try their hand at safe breaking and boring. The Bank employed Major Expley, one of the best machinists in this section of the country, to "drill the safe, if possible." The Major, with the assistance of his son, spent several hours in preparing his drills and tools, and having secured a strong leverage, went to work and after entirely using up his drills, and hardly making an impression on the safe, gave his opinion that drilling through, inside of two weeks, was out of the question.

The safe was then ettacked with heavy sledges.

The safe was then attacked with heavy sledges. Messrs. Small, Billmeyer & Co. were called upon for three of their best Blacksmith Strikers, who were three of their best Blacksmith Strikers, who were furnished with heavy sledges. After placing the safe in the middle of the sidewalk, they commenced whacking away in regular forge style, dealing blows that were heard for squares, but with no effect on the safe. It may be imagined with what strength they dealt their blows, when they were sufficient to crack their sledges and render them useless. The trial created quite an excitement and all were satisfied that a BURGLAR-PROOF SAFE HAD AT LAST BEEN FOUND.

BANKING HOUSE OF J. B. NEWTON & CO., EMPORIUM, PA., June 25, 1869. Messrs. Marvin & Co., Phila. DEAR SIRS:—We enclose draft on the Union National Bank in payment of Spherical Safe size No.

4. The President of the Lock Haven National Bank and Moore, Suppson & Co., Bankers, of Look Haven, were here yesterday and examined the safe. They were well pleased with it, and said they would each purchase one.

Yours, very truly,

J. B. NEWTON & CO., Bankers.

STROUDSBURG, PA., Feb. 2, 1870. Messrs. Marvin & Co., Phila.

Gentlemen:—The safe you sent me (No. 4 folding-door fire-proof with No. 1 Spherical inside) arrived safely, and I should have notified you of the fact sconer, but have delayed until I could have it tested.

slightest impression on the Spherical Safe. The operation was witnessed by a number of gentlemen, all of whom seemed entirely convinced that the little ball was invulnerable. Yours truly, THOMAS A. BELL, Banker.

FARMERS' DEPOSIT NATIONAL BANK, PITTSBURG, February 4, 1870. Messrs. Marvin & Co. Gentlemen: -We have had the two Spherical Safes which you furnished us (size No. 2) tested, and we take pleasure in informing you of the result. We had two experienced workmen from James we had two experienced workmen from James Marshall & Co,'s foundry and machine shop with good sledges and drills. The Safes were placed in our Banking room, and 'the men pounded away on them (making a great deal more noise than any burglars would dare to do) until we were completely satisfied that the Safes could not be broken by sledges.

This was done yesterday, and the result was entirely satisfactory. An experienced blacksmith with the hardest cold chisel he could make failed to make the sledges.

We then tried to drill them, and not succeeding in getting a drill fastened to work at the top, we placed one of the Safes between two brick walls, where the men worked at it without making any impression on anything but the paint. It affords us pleasure to state to you that we feel that our funds are perfectly secure when inside your safes.

Very respectfully.

F. L. STEPHENSON, Cashier.

Besides the above, we can refer to hundreds of persons, scientific men, experts, iron founders machinists and others, who have critically examined our SPERICAL SAFE, and willingly give it a preferrence over Safes of any other manufacture. PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE THE SPHERI
