THE INCOME TAX.

An Application to Commissioner Delano from Canal and Rattrond Companies-Are January Dividends to be Taxed ?

An application on the subject of the revenue tax has been forwarded to Commissioner Delano, signed by the presidents of all the principal railroad, canal, turnplke, navigation, and slack-water companies having their principal places of business in Philadelphia.

The petitioners state that the United States internal revenue officers in this city are insisting internal revenue officers in this city are insisting on the payment of a tax of five per cent. on in-terest or dividends payable by such companies, irrespective of the question whether such divi-dends were payable on, before, or after the first day of January, 1870. The petitioners are of the opinion that such tax is inapplicable to interest and dividends payable after December 31, 1860, and that income derived from such sources is no merce lictude to taxation than income accruing more liable to taxation than income accruing after December 31, 1869, from any other source. Legal opinions are quoted to this effect.

It is believed that the revenue laws cannot sanction a tax on an individual whose money is invested in railroad shares, while one whose money is not so invested is exempt from taxa-The injustice of such a course is evident. tion.

The officers contend that interest and dividends payable January 1, 1870, must be considered as income for the year 1809. This theory has been expressly repudiated by former officials, and occasions of the kind are quoted.

In view of the difficulties thus suggested, and of the embarrassments to which railroad and canal companies have been and will continue to be subject, by being obliged to retain a portion of the interest due on their bonds to pay a tax generally considered to be no longer in force, the petitioners request that for the purpose of defining the duties and liabilities of the companies which they represent, and relieving them from further responsibility and probable litiga-

The body arrived in this city this morning, and was conveyed from the train direct to the church. It was met at the door by Father Blenkinsop and acolvies, and was placed in the middle alsle in front of the high altar. It was enclosed in a highly-polished rosewood burial casket mounted with silver. The coffin was surrounded by six large candles and numbers of smaller ones. The church and altar were heavily and tastefully draped in black. A large audience was present. Some twenty of the clergy were within the altar rail and took part in the ceremonles.

The celebrant of the Mass was Father Sorrentini, of Pottstown: the deacon, Father O'Neill, of the Cathedral; and the sub-deacon, Father Power, of St. Mary's.

Father King was born in Washington City in 1818, and was educated at the college in Georgetown. He became a member of the Order of Jesuits in July, 1848. He held the position of Professor of Rhetorle for many years in Georgetown College, and also in Loyola College, Baltimore, He became a missionary priest several years ago. He was an eloquent speaker and a deep scholar, and was much esteemed among members of his denomination. The cause of his death was consumption.

FORTUNATE AND UNFORTUNATE .--- A Teaton named Augustus Rich a few months ago fell heir to an immense fortune by the death of a relative in "der Faderland." Legal formalities being completed. Augustus was yesterday notified to call at the attorney's office. With a light heart and buoyant step he did so, and emerged therefrom $300 richer than when he entered. Rich now felt exceedingly rich; so proceeding to a beer saloon at Third and Green streets, he called for a bottle of "Johannisberger" and some "Sweitzer kase." Augustus, as the wine in the bottle grew less, grew correspondingly happy. This bottle punished, Augnstus called for another and another, and kept up the celebra-tion until midnight. Concluding that he had fully celebrated his good luck, he started for his residence. This time his heart was gay, but his legs would tangle. Some pedestrian remarked that the "Dutchman was drunk." This exaspe-rated Augustus, and he drew from his pocket an old-fashioned howitzer, yclept a horse-pis-tol, and "banged" away at him, the ball taking effect in his wrist. The shot brought forward a police officer, and Mr. Officer marched Augustus to Alderman Toland's. In default of $1000 bail, he this morning went to Moyamensing.

AND IN THE PARTY AND A

A Long Chase-The Burgiar Fires Four Shots at a Policeman-More Light Needed. At an early hour this moraing the residence of Mr. John C. Davis, No. 338 North Thirty-second street, Mantnaville, was entered by three burglars and robbed of six silver spoons, eight caspoons, four forks, two butter-knives, and a salt-cellar. Having secured the above they were frightened by the cries of Mrs. Davis, who, hearng their movements, shouted lustily for help. Officer Duross, of the Sixteenth district, happen ing near by, answered her, and arrived at the door just as the three left. Seeing the officer they at once separated, two running towards Bridge street and the other across the "com-mons." This one the officer followed. After proceeding some distance the scoundrel fired two shots from a revolver at Duross, and turning fired two more. The officer then stopped for a moment, drew his "shooting iron," and discharged the contents of three of the barrels at the fugitive, none of which took effect. The chase was then continued, until, nearing an embankment, the burglar disappeared, and owing to the parsimoniousness of our City Gas Trust he could not be further tracked. On the way the burglar dropped his coat and hat, the former a dark mixed Chesterfield and the latter a round top. In the pocket of the coat was found a pair of "pea-green" kids.

U. S. COMMISSIONER'S CASE.-Before United States Commissioner C. P. Clarke, at noon today, was arraigned Emanuel Souza, residing at No. 409 Lombard streat, on the charge of illicit cigar manufacturing. Colonel Peter Sides, As-sistant Assessor First District, testined that he visited the place this morning in company with Revenue Officers Beall and Murray, and ascending to the third story found Souza attempting to escape through the window, he having seen the officers approaching. In the room was found a lot of leaf tobacco, cigars, etc., and also books showing that the business had been carried on since February. The accused was held in $800 hail to answer.

On leaving the thieves took a blue sack overcoat from the rack, and left the hall door wide open.

House. On motion of Mr. Lynch, the special message of the President in reference to American com-merce was taken from the Speaker's table and referred to the committee on that subject.

Mr. Logan, from the Military Committee, made a report on the subject of cadetshios, which was read. It states that the committee had taken evidence in a great many cases, and ascertained the existence of irregularities in appointing cadets outside of of the member appoi the district of the member appointing that in several cases money had been paid to parties negotiating such appointments, been but except in cases already acted upon none ap-peared to have been paid to the members, and that the facts proven were not sufficient to warrant the committee in reporting the cases to the House.

The committee was therefore of opinion that it might properly report in this general way, and feeling that it had discharged its duty faithfully and without prejudice against or partiality for any member of Congress or officer of the Government, it respectfully asked that it be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

The committee also reported a bill making a two years' residence on the part of the cadet in the district from which appointed requisite. Mr. Wood inquired whether any retroactive effect was intended by the bill. Mr. Logan replied in the negative.

Mr. Wood expressed the opinion that the committee had discharged its duty with fidelity, entire impartiality, and in a manner creditable to itself and the House. He thought that the report and the suggestions and recommendations made by the committee should be adopted.

The committee also recommend the adoption of resolutions:-First, declaring that General Schoepf, one of the Patent Office examiners, was engaged in lending himself as a medium for the passage of money for corrupt purposes, and directing that the evidence in the case be placed in the hands of the Secretary of the Interior, and that he be requested to remove Schoepf from his position as an improper person to have or hold so responsible a position under the Government.

Second. Mr. Logan remarked that since the report was prepared he understood that General Schoepf had resigned. It was not necessary, therefore, to pass

There were a great many people in New York and Brooklyn who hardly ever lived two years in the same district. Mr. Burr suggested that the term of residence be fixed at one year instead of two years. Mr. Logan said he was willing to have that amendmont offered. Mr. Word suggested that the cadet should not be required to reside in the district longer than the member appointing him. (Laughter.) Upon his own application Brevet Major-General William Hoffman, Colonel United States Army, unattached, having served over forty consecutive years, is, by direction of the President of the United States, retired from active service, to take effect May 1, 1870, and his name will be entered on the retired list of officers of the grade to which he now belongs, in accordance with section 15 of the act approved August 5, 1861.

Virginia Politics.

Several Republican members of the Virginia Legislature, accompanied by Representative Platt, paid their respects to the President today. The subject of affairs in that State was briefly discussed.

The President expressed no opinion, however, as to the merits of the controversy, but said that what General Canby did was to simply prevent riot and bloodshed, and would have rendered himself blamable if he had not taken such precautions.

San Domingo. The Senate, immediately after reading the tion, one or more test cases may be submitted to the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, and that until these cases are decided the internal revenue officers may be instructed to suspend further proceedings for the collection of the sums in dispute. This course has several times been adopted when there is reasonable doubt as to the construction of a law; and under the present circumstances, when large sums of money are at stake, and the interest of a large number of citizens is affected, it is thought to be especially appropriate.

A VIEW OF ROME .- The meeting of the CECumenical Council has attracted the attention of the public in an unusual degree to the city of Rome. The publication, therefore, of an en-graving from the fine picture by E. Emminger, now in the Dresden Gallery, is a matter of con-siderable interest. This view is taken from Mount Aventine, and it gives, perhaps, a better idea of the appearance of the Eternal City than any picture ever before published. The specta-tor, from the height upon which he is placed, is able to overlook the whole of the modern with all its great building out here and the city, with all its great buildings and historical monuments, and to catch a glimpse of the Cam pagna and the Alban Mountains beyond and in the distance. Those who have never visited Rome will in this engraving find all the characistic features portrayed, so that the points of interest can readily be picked out, while those who have seen the Eternal City will by means of it be able to revive pleasant recollections. The picture was much admired in Europe, and the fact that it was given a place in the Dresden Gallery is a guarantee of its excellence. The net size of this fine engraving, a copy of which we have received from the publisher, John Weik, No. 605 Sansom street, is 25 by $9 inches. The price is $4, or by mail, $4'50. Handsomely framed in black walnut, with a gold bead, the price is $10.

STONE FIGHTING .- Yesterday two lads, named Thomas Forser and John Stewart, were arrested on a warrant issued by the Mayor. For months past two rival gangs of boys have assembled in the neighborhood of Second and Arch streets on Sundays, and engaged in "stone fights." Not only did they endanger their own worthless "noddles," but also those of persons chancing in the neighborhood; and, in addition to this, the glazier's bills of the residents were somewhat enlarged. The above named are the sup-posed leaders. They will have a hearing to-day at the Central Station.

PUGILISTIC.—Yesterday afternoon Thomas Lynch and Thomas Maklu, having imbibed sufficient of "poison whisky" to arouse their brutal passions, engaged in a "rough-and-tumble" brawl at Front and Race streets, and by their antics soon gathered together a large crowd of spectators. The crowd in turn attracted the attention of two of the Fourth and took them before Alderman Dougherty, After a hearing they were held in $300 ball each to answer.

WHISKY AS A STIMULANT.-Three "jolly tars," named Stephen Foster, Philip Flynn, and Thomas Gough, having received the "advance money," yesterday went on a spree. Succeed-ing in obtaining enough "benzine" to raise their muscular courage, they engaged in a grand game of growl and fisticuffs at Beach and Coates streets. Officer Gunnison looked on for awhile, amused at the sport, but, finding it growing rather earnest, he arrested the parties and took them before Alderman Toland, who held them in $300 bail each to answer.

THE NORWALK BANK ROBRERY.

A Cine to the Burgiars Obtained at Last. On the 30th of September last the National Bank of Norwalk, Conn., was entered by a gang skiiful burglars and robbed of $160,000 of in United States coupon bonds and va-rious other securities. The outer doors of bank building were opened by means of false keys, the doors of the vault contain-ing the valuables were forced open with wedges and "jimmics" and thrown from their hinges. and the massive door of the luner vault, weighing over 4000 pounds, was forced open by guapowder and thrown a distance of ten feet by the force of the concussion. The burglars succeeded in making their escape, leaving a complete esortment of burglars' tools behind.

No trace of the missing bonds or of the burdars was obtained until quite recently. On last Monday Mr. Ebenezer Hill, the President of the Norwalk Bank, appeared before Justice Scott, at the Tombs Police Court, and made an affidavit that he had been informed by John Van Orden. cashier of the Stuvyesant Bank of this city. that one William Okell had placed in his handthree one thousand dollar five-twenty United States coupon bonds, numbered 24,242, 31,524, and 92,720, which were the property of the Norwalk Bank, and Messrs. Edward W Stewart and Edward Lockwood, depositors with the bank. The bonds had been placed in the hands of Mr. Van Orden as security for a loan, and had subsequently been sold by a broker named H. J. Imbrie, of No. 29 Wall street, on account of Okell. The affidavit set forth that the bonds alluded to above were a portion of those stolen from the bank, and appended to it was the official list of the bonds stolen on that occasion, issued by the bank officials and dis-tributed among the brokers and money dealers throughout the country, Mr. Hill applied for a warrant for the arrest of Okell.

Yesterday afternoon Okell, who is a diamond broker, doing business on Broadway, appeared in Court, and voluntarily surrendered himself to Justice Scott, having heard that there was a charge pending against him. On being informed of the nature of the complaint, he stated he would have no difficulty in proving his inno cence, and his counsel desired permission to give bail pending an examination, but the magis-trate refused to accept ball, and the accused was committed for examination.

After further discussion, the term was reduced to one year, and the bill as amended was passed. The resolution referring to Commander Upshur then came up for action, and gave rise to a long discussion.

Messrs. Voorhees and Starkweather took the ground that the proposed action was too harsh on Commodore Wpshur, who in employing and paying an agent to procure an appointment for his son did not thereby contemplate the improper use of the note interest contemparte the improper use of the money; and Mr. Starkweaker speaking of the long service of this officer, whose father and grandfather had died in the naval service, and who was a de-scendant of the Washington family, facts which warranted honorable conduct. Mr. Kelley-Some years ago, when I became a memb of this House, and had first the appoint-ment to a cadetahip, I became astisfied that a num-ber of my predecessors had sold their appointments at prices ranging from $1000 to $2000, and when I spoke to some of them about it they assured me that it was the usage of the House, and I want to add that in the investigations of this committee it came out that one of them (Mr. Millward) was engaged in pedding the appointments of other people. Mr. Maynard, resoming his remarks, said that in that view of the case he had not been able to sup-press a feeling that the House was dealing pretty rigorously with gentiemen who happened to be con-nected with transactions of that kind. He felt disposed, therefore, to be as lealent and tolerant under the circumstatices as a proper re-gard to the purity of the House woold admit, and to place on the record the strong censure of the House upon such practices.
