Fourth Day's Trial-Fonvielle Sensenced for Contempt of Court-The Court Remands the LONDON, March 24 .- A correspondent at the High Court of Tours comments on the evident purpose of all the witnesses to suppress or distort facts. Towns, March 24.—In the High Court of Justice to-day witnesses for the defense were examined to show the previous bad character of Noir and Fonvielle, and the good character of the accused. Their testimony on the first point was not convincing. Other witnesses were brought up to testify to the good conduct of the Prince as an officer.

While one of the lawyers for the prosecution was conducting the cross-examination he used an expression offensive to the Prince, who violently interrupted the proceedings, and, turning to the lawyer, denounced him and his party as a faction. Fonvielle, terribly excited, called the Prince an assassin. This caused great confusion among the spectators in the Court. Forvielle was forcibly taken out by two officers, and the Procureur General demanded his punishment, but the Court decided to postpone the matter until the end of the sitting.

M. Flouquet then commenced his argument for the prosecution, reviewing the lives of Noir, Fonvielle, and Prince Bonaparte, and pointed out the difference in their characters. He dwelt on the reputation of the Prince as a man of violence, and asserted that he was known to have killed four men, and related how he left the military service without per-mission in 1849, for which Louis Napoleon dismissed hin from the army.

At this point the Prince became greatly excited, and exclaimed that there was a plot to aggravate him. He was severely reprimanded by the Court for interrupting counsel. At the conclusion of the argument for the prosecution Fonvielle was brought in, and the presiding judge sentenced him to ten days' confinement for contempt of court. The closing arguments will be continued to-morrow.

-It is a matter of record that "Old John Brown had" at least one "little Indian boy." A Mr. John Kelly is responsible for another. This precoclous little savage performs all the dances of the modern 'minstrel," including 'Shoo Fly" and the 'Big Sun Flower," we are told, 'with finish and precision." He is 'about seven years old," and the gushing description of the St. Joseph Herald informs us that his face is "expressive of innocence and purity, and "his moral character is above reproach."
All kinds of methods of getting rid of Indians have been devised in the West, but we doubt whether anything will finish the race more quickly than training their children for "infant phenomenon" exhibitions.
