ARRESTED ON SUSPICION .- Richard Ellis and John Roberts yesterday were held in $1000 ball each by Alderman Kerr for a further hearing, on the suspicion of having been concerned in the robbery of the store of S. S. Carlin, No. 513 Arch store of S. S. Carlin, No. 513 Arch street. It now appears that in the rear of the store is a one-story stable, with a side alley. The thieves entered this alley, ascended to the roof of the stable, thence to a one-story extenroof of the stable, thence to a one-story exten-sion of the store, and thence to the store. About 3 o'clock on the morning of the occur-rence (Sunday), Lieutenant Killacky accosted a couple of men (the prisoners) at Fifth and Race streets, and inquired of them their business. They replied that they had been out late, and They replied that they had been out late, and were just going home, giving as their residence a house in Race street, below Ninth. The Lieu-tenant rather doubted the fellows, but being accompanied by a citizen who desired aid, and who wished him to accompany kim, he directed an officer to proceed to the house named by them and ascertain if their story was a true one. The officer visited the boarding-house with them, and found that they occupied a room therein. Shortly after this the Lieutenant heard therein. Shortly after this the Lientenant heard of the robbery, and at once set watch upon the fellows. He found that they visited a place on fellows. He found that they visited a place on Arch street, near Second, where thieves congre-gregate, and he also found them visiting a sparring exhibition at Seventeenth and Ridge avenue. At length he concluded to arrest them, and accordingly had a bench warrant issued. A number of articles were found in their room, and also a card reading "Tailors S0 pieces, $900, Eleventh and Filbert streets." On the Sth of the month the store of John M. Floyd, at Eleventh and Filbert streets, was robbed of at Eleventh and Filbert streets, was robbed of about 80 pieces of cloth, and the supposition now is that the prisoners are the thieves.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE .- & bout 10 o'clock last night a fire occurred in the distillery of John Monroe, situated on Broad street, near the Germantown Railroad crossing. The premises, which consisted of a two-story stone building which consisted of a two-story stole building with brick extension, were soon enveloped in flames, as well as several vats which adjoined them. Owing to the scarcity of water, the firemen were almost unavailing and the place was entirely destroyed. The fire made an im-mense light, which was noticeable for miles around. One of the vats destroyed contained 100 barrels of whisky. The amount of property destroyed is worth about $30,000, of which $10,000 is covered by insurance. The remain-ing $20,000 is a total loss. $15,000 is the worth of the machinery and fixtures and $5000 that of the stock on hand.

SMOKE .- About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon no little excitement was created in the neigh-borhood of New Market and Callowhill streets by the report that the malt honse of William V. by the report that the mait honse of William V. Sweatman was on fire. The origin of the rumor was the issuing of a dense volume of smoke from the building. Although no alarm was sounded, yet several fire companies were soon on the ground. Their services were not needed, as an examination disclosed the fact that the fire was confined to a kiln. This being fire-proof, the proprietor ordered the doors to be closed, and the fire soon died out for want of fuel. By this wise action an immense loss by water was prevented, for, had the firemen been allowed to go into service, damage to the malt could not have been prevented.

"LIKELY TO BE A CONGRESSMAN YET."-This morning a rumor gained credence that General William B. Thomas, ex-Collector of the Port, Rour merchant, general commanding the 4th Brigade, P. V. M., and a would-be Congressional Representative from the Fourth district, was dead. One of our reporters was at once detailed to ascertain the truth of the ramor. He repaired to the rooms of the Commercial Exchange, Walnut street, above Fourth, and there he almost stumbled over the General, who to all appearances was worth a regiment of dead men. The General, we are happy to say, never enjoyed better health, and does not at present intend forming the acquaintance of an undertaker.

THE TALE OF A DOG .- Some time last night, whilst two citizens named John J. Heisler and Samuel Wentz were walking through Bank street, they were attacked by a dog belonging to an old private watchman named John Shea. Wentz, to protect himself, gave the canine a kick, which sent him yelping. This exasper-ated the old man, and drawing his revolver he fired at Wentz, the ball happily taking no effect. Shea was then arrested, and was this morning held in $1000 bail for a further hearing. HIGHWAY ROBBERY-Edward Reynolds and Henry Brown yesterday attacked a German at Fifth and Bainbridge streets, and knocked him down. Reynolds then held him by the throat whilst Brown robbed him of his valuables. Aa soon as released the "Deutsche" yelled loudly for help, and a policeman responding, the pri-soners were pursued and captured. They will have a hearing to-day before Alderman Kerr. "The more active speculation and rise in prices at the Stock Exchange induced a better inquiry for money to-day; and though the bulk of business was at four to five per cent, on Governments, and at five on stocks, new engagements on the latter collaterals were frequent at six per cent, particularly where the borrower sought the loan after half-past 2 o'clock. Commercial paper was in good demand at seven to eight per cent, for prime names. Prime bankers' sixty-day paper were quoted as low as 61% per cent. Foreign exchange was inactive on the basis of 108% for prime bankers' sixty-day stering. "The speculative feeling for higher prices wery strong in the Government room at the beginning of "The speculative feeling for higher prices was very strong in the Government room at the beginning of business, the firmness being due to what wills re-garded as authentic information from Wasiaington that the Funding bill was certain to be defeated in the House, where the national bank agents had been laboring assiduously for its overthrow. When at the Sub-Treasury it was discovered that the pro-posals to sell embraced a total of only $1,191,100 bonds the market became active and rose about one per cent." per cent.

Ocean Telegraphing.

Speet al Despatch to The Evening Telegraph. WASHINGTON, March 31.-Cyrus W. Field made an argument to-day before the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, against Wood's bill for a general law regulating the landing of ocean telegraph cables on the shores of the United States.

The Venezuela Claims.

The committee agreed to a bill for the settle-ment of the claims of Americans against Venezuela, which will be reported to the House. New Mexico as a State.

The House Committee on Territories has agreed to report a bill to admit New Mexico as a State in the Union. An effort was made to postpone it until the next session, but failed by a vote of 7 to 2.

The New Texas Members.

The Committee on Elections reported favor-ably on the credentials of all the Texan mem-bers. They were sworn in after the morning hour. The Senators from Texas were qualified to-day and took their seats.

Colored People and the Amendment.

The negroes in this district are making arrangements for celebrating the ratification of the fifteenth amendment. They hold a meeting to-night to consider the matter.

The Funeral of General Thomas.

The President and several members of the Cabinet will go to Troy to attend the funeral of General Thomas, as well as a large number of army officers.

The Funding Bill.

The national bank representatives had an in-terview to-day with the Committee on Banking and Currency relative to the Funding bill. They explained at length the effect the bill would have upon the banks, provided it became a law, and gave the committee a large number of statistics, showing that banks could not afford to do business on four and a half per cent. bonds. Secretary Boutwell was present and took notes. He intends to reply to the bank men as soon as they finish. Customs Receipts.

brief argument to show why the legal tender de-cision should be reopened. He was not insensible to the great weight of the Judiciary, its public reputation and its claums to the confidence of the country, but a more important de-cision and its consequences, both public and private, was never before pronounced. The statute on which it was based was passed by a large majority in Congress, approved by the President, having all the forms of law, and attention had been called in both houses to its constitutionality. both houses to its constitutionality.

There was this weight of authority to begin with, and a law substantially acquiesced in by the people for nearly eight years, and on which millions upon millions of dollars of contracts had been settled to the great loss of parties. A statute which, so far as he was aware, with one exception, had been held constitutional by every State tribunal, but at a time when by the law this court consisted of nine members there were seven only on the bench, there being two vacancles. The question was decided here by four against three judges. The question therefore stood, re-ducing it to its essence, that upon a judicial opinion of a single man the case was adjudicated. He sug-gested that it should not be left to a single man to decide upon the whole constitutional power affecting the legislation of such an important character. He pressed the reopening of this question because it concerned a great mass of private interests, but more especially because it seemed to him to involve more especially because it seemed to min to involve a fundamental principle, namely, the powers of the Government. He desired again to present it when the bench was full, so that they may forever settle what the law should be. Such cases of reconside-In the case of McCulloch vs. The State of Maryland, the Court, five years after an opinion was pro-nounced, allowed the whole question to be reopened and reargued. Kansas City and Memphis Railroad Company. At 1 o'clock the case of General Ames, as Senator elect from Mississippi, came up in order, and Mr. Vickers addressed the Senate upon the question of inhabitancy as a qualification of citizenship. He quoted from authorities to show the general interpretation of the terms inhabitant and resident, and argued that the alleged declaration by General Ames of an intention to become a citizen of Mississippl did not amount to anything, as no volum tary act on his part could be shown to make his intention valid.

House.

Continued from the Third Edition. The bill was not laid on the table--yeas, 63; navs, 92. And it then went over till the next morning Mr. Paine, from the Election Committee, reported that the credentials of the members elect from Texas were regular, and that they were prima facto entitled to their seats. Mr. Butle: (Mass.) opposed the swearing in of Mr.

Conner, one of the members elect, and read to the House various affidavits accusing him of whippin House various anonavits accusing min of whipping negro soldiers while he was a captain in the army, and of his having boasted that he bribed a negro to swear falsely before the military commission d him for the offens o affect the judgment of the House.

Mr. Shanks moved to refer the charges against Mr. Conner to the Committee on Elections. Mr. Stevenson, a member of the Committee on Elections, defended the report of the committee, and charged that the objection made to Mr. Connor was that he alone of the delegation was a Democrat-a that ne alone of the delegation was a Democrat-a bad Texan boy. That might be all true. He did not expect to see any very high specimen of Christian gentlemen sent up here from Texas; but what had they to do with that? How did that affect Mr. Conner's prime facie right to his sent? The member from Massachusetts who charged that person, on ex parts affidaving with subcharged that person, on ex parts affidavits, with sub-ornation of perjury, had himself defended a member of the Honse for a greater crime. It was, in his judgment, a farce and worse. It was a base partisan proceeding, and as such he denounced it.
