A BLUNDER-ARREST OF A SPECIAL OFFICER. Special Officer Breneiser, whilst at Thirtythird and Green streets yesterday afternoon, noticed one John Leary in the act of robbing a countryman. The officer arrested Leary, whereupon the friends of the latter set upon him and heat him and rescued his prisouer. Breneiser followed up the crowd, and at Thirty-sixth and Market streets he made a second attempt to arrest Leary, and he was served in the same manner. At this time Constable Holladay, of the Twenty-fourth ward, came upon the scene, and instead of arresting Breneiser's assailants he captured the special officer and marghed him to the Sixteenth District Station-house. Here the officer was identified by Lieutenant Leech and at once released. The Lieutenant acco mpanied Breneiser down Market street, and at Thirty-third street they came across Leary and secured his arrest. The countryman, it appears. had been robbed of eighty cents. The prisoner will have a hearing at the Central this after-ROOD. ALMOST A BURGLARY.—Last night, between 9 and 10 o'clock, Sergeant Whartman, Officer Loag, and Tipstaff Coulston, being in the neigh-borhood of Louraine and Green streets, were informed that partles of doubtful appearonce had been observed skulking about the residence of Mrs. Benners, on the corner, the family being temporarily absent from the city, having notified the Sergeant of their intention to go noway. They saw a man hiding is a dark recess. 200 quick for them, and ran off like a scared An investigation of the premises disclosed the fact that an attempt to force open the back door with a ilmmy had been made, which would have been successful had not the burglar been interrupted is his work. The officers searched the interior of the house and found everything in-tact. At that hour not a public lamp in the meighborhood was lighted, which fact prevented the recognition of the man who ran away. ATTEMPTED ROBBERY. - About half-past 2 o'clock this morning an attempt was made to enter the hair-dressing establishment, Ninth and Arch streets. The thief or thieves forced open a back window-shutter, and in effecting an entrance several panes of glass in the each were broken. The noise aroused a man who slept on the premises, and on making an examination he found the window open and a "jummy" lying on the window-sill. The thief or thieves had disappeared.

MILITARY REUNIONS.

The Army of the Potomac.

The second annual reunion of the Society of the Army of the Potomac will be held in the Academy of Music at 1 o'clock to-morrow. The proceedings will be of a very interesting char-acter throughout. They will be opened by Philip H. Sheridan, Major-General United States Army, who is the president of the society. An oration will be delivered by Major-General John H. Major-General John H. The music on the occasion will be furnished by the celebrated band from Gover-nor's Island, and Rev. W. R. Grier, of Allen-town Pa, has been chosen as Chaplain. Subtown, Pa., has been chosen as Chaplain. Sub-committees were appointed, with reference to arranging all proper minatiæ connected with the occasion, who have given great attention to their duties, and now have all their arrangements nearly completed. The annual banquet of the society will be held on the evening of the same day, at 8 o'clock, in the Continental Hotel.

The Sixth Army Corps Legion.

This afternoon at 1 o'clock a large number of the 6th Army Corps Legion met in the fover of Horticultural Hall. The following is the list of the present officers of the Legion:---Mojor-General William B. Franklin, President, Major-General H. G. Wright, Vice-President, Excentive Committee-General T. H. Neill; Col. ehn W. Latta, Colonel P. C. Elimaker. Treasurer-Colonel Samuel Trosdell, of the 65th New York. Secretary-General Joseph Jackson, N. Y.

The following gentiemen were among those pre-

Generals Vickers, Clark, and A. E. King.

Thank you for the great honor conterfect apoin me by my selection as the first President of the or-ganization. I consider it the greatest bonor which it has been my lot to receive. Although this meet-ing contains a goodly number of officers of the old corps which was so dear to us all, the mouraful procession which is now moving in Troy has taken off many who would otherwise have been here. In many who we regret the necessity for their ab-sence, it is entirely proper that every soldier who could go should be present in Troy to-day. General George II Thomas, by his high character, his wis-dom, his geniality, by his military record, which was unsurpassed (I had nearly said unequalled) by that of any living general, would have been one that of any living general, would have been one whom this country would have delighted to honor. Colonel as the has been in his prime, I believe that his loss is severer to this country than that of any Ame-rican who has died in the last generation. Colonel Green was appointed temporary Secretary. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved.

Colonel Latta presented the report for the year.

Colonel Latta presented the report for the year. It stated that the corps had during the year ap-neared three times in public, once at the organiza-tion of the Society of the Grand Army of the Pole-mac, once at New Yerk, and once at Norristown, at the consecration of the monument erected to the memory of the braves from Montgomery county who had follow in the war.

who had fallen in the war. On this occasion the largest number of the society's members that had ever turned out were present. members that had ever turned out were present. The display attracted great attention. A recurrence of these occasions is desirable, on account of the spirit of friendship which they foster among the members. The attraction of a banquet is said to be the best for the purpose of bringing the members together. The financial condition of the legion is satisfactory. It has at least been self-supporting, but the expenses have been light. In case of the sickness and need of any one of the members, he would be helped as far as the funds would allow, and special efforts would be made to raise more. No such necessity has yet occurred.

The Thomas Obsequies:

TROY, N. Y., April 8 .--- The city is thronged with military men and strangers to participate in the obsequies of the late Gen. Thomas, or to witness them. Upon the coffin is placed a portralt of the deceased, with his sword and an American flag draped about it. Captain Willard, of General Thomas staff, is in charge of the remains, and has been all the way from San Francisco, and was accompanied from Omaha by General Sheridan and others. At Schenectady a delegation of fifty citizens of Troy met the body. Generals Sherman, Schofield, McDowell, Hazen, Granger, Forsyth, Barnett and other distinguished men are also here. Such of them as are not guests at private houses enjoy at the hotels the hospitalities of the city.

The city was thronged last evening, and the numbers at the funeral to-day will be very great. Many of the public buildings are draped in mourning and all the flags are displayed at half mast. General Grant and several members of his Cabinet arrived this morning. The President is the guest of the Hon. John M. Francis.

The McFarland Trial.

Continued from the Second Edition, New YORK, April 5.—At the time Richardson was pistolled by McFarland he (McFarland) was not re-sponsible for his actions either in the eyes of God or by the laws of man. It was necessary to look into the antecedents of the prisoner in order fully to understand the case and arrive at satisfactory con-clusions. In this inquiry it would be proper not alone to regard the history of McFarland, of his an-cestors and family, and the circumstances immedi-ately preceding the homicide. The counsel then alluded to the cases of Cole and Huntingdon, and contended that men apparently same, in a moment of extreme excitement are Hable to yield to an unof extreme excitement are liable to yield to an un-controllable impulse for which they were not responsible.

He was eminently a domestic man; a man of a warm heart and ardent impulses, and his wife was his idol, and if that idol were shattered his life was wrecked and his reason shattered. In the summer of 1866 this woman became acquinited with free lovers and Fourierites, with whom every Jack had somebody clac's Jill. She went to their parties and reunions while he remained at home and cared for his children. About this time a woman appeared on the scene, Mrs. Calhoun, a conspirator, appeared on the scene, Mrs. Calhoun, a conspirator, pander, and procuress, who commenced the work of rendering Mrs. McFariand dissatisfied with her husband, and in the train of that feeling came misery and ruin. In 1838 Athert D. Richardson was born, an evil hour for this man. He was corre-spondent during the war, was taken prisoner, and subsequently published several interesting works. He was a man well calculated to charm the wornan with whom he acout this time became acquainted. Then commenced the plot to alienate Mrs. McFar-land from her husband.

It bad been sent to him by a distinguished lawyer of San Francisco, and he had introduced it without examination. He had since found that the papers of Calafornia of both, parties had been assalling him for that act, because the proposed boundaries were not what they ought to be. He had not intended that he bill should pass in the shape he found it. After it was printed the Bar of San Francisco had sent him a document remonstrating against the passage of the bill, and he now presented that re-monstrance and wished it referred to the Judiciary Committee. It had also been charged by the press there that he was attempting to legislate Judge Committee, it has also been one consisted Judge Hoffman out of office. That gentleman was a dis-tinguished Judge, not a politician, and it was not very likely that he (Mr. Johnson) was inclined to legislate him out of office for the advantage of two Depolements.

The Fate of the City of Boston. LONDON, April 8 .- Mr. Inman, one of the proprietors of the Liverpool, Philadelphia, and New York line of steamships, commonly known as the Inman line, publishes a communication in Mitchell's Maritime Register of this week, in which he expressed his disbelief that the City of Boston foundered in a gale. He says the City of Boston and City of Antwerp were twin boats, and they encountered the same gale, the latter without damage or serious difficulty. All things considered, he thinks the City of Boston collided with one of the icebergs so numerous to the northeast, off Cape Race, and went down

The Loss of the Richmond.

Sr. Louis, April 8 .- The steamer Thompson Dean, which arrived last night, brought further particulars of the disaster to the steamer Richmond. It seems that as she entered Rushton Bend she was caught in slack water and took a sheer and ran her bow 20 feet on the bank, and, with a report like a cannon, she sagged on the centre, opening the butts the entire length of the hull.

The water poured in, but by throwing overboard much of her freight and by the use of her steam pumps, she righted. Her passengers went ashore, and all their baggage was saved. and most of the freight will be transferred and. ent to its destinat

Rev. Nathaniel L. Frothingham.

The Rev. Naturallel Languon Frothingham, D. D., father of the Rev. O. B. Frothingham, of New York, who figured so prominently in the Richardson McFarland affair, and of Miss El's Frothingnam, the McFarland affair, and of Miss El's Frothingmann, the translator and author, died at his residence in Bos-ton on Monday morning. He was born in Boston in July, 1795, graduated at Harvard University a classmate of Edward Everet, and was ordained pastor of the First Church m 1815. He re-signed this charge in 1850, after thirty-five years of faithful services, on account of ill health. Since that time his life has been devoted to the cul-ture of a scholarly taste and to literary pursuits. Doring several years past he has been a sufferer in the seclusion of a sick chamber, but his interest in his work and studies continued unabated, and he was seidem idle except when entirely prostrated. Dr. Frothingham has published several volumes of prose and poetry, besite contributing frequently to The Christian Examiner and The North American Re-

"The duiness in the Wall street markets con "The dulness in the Wall street markets con-tinues. When the speculative fever is so allayed that stocks and gold are utterly quiet the public mind is given to more ignifimate pursuits. Dulness in Wall street is a healthy sign for the commercial world. If Congress would only adjourn instanter the financial situation is just exactly prepared to give the utmost buoyancy to business and trade of all kinds. Money is in plentiful supply and evenly distributed at all the great business centres. Chicago and New Orieans are shipping it to New York for lack of em-ploying West and South, New York has more

Mr. Pomeroy introduced a bill to transfer the Cherokee and Creek Indian constries in Indian Tor-ritory to the Western District of Arkansas. Mr. Stewart introduced a bill relating to a survey for a military railroad on the west bank of the Poto-mac from Georgetown, D. C., to Harper's Forry. Mr. Tipton introduced a bill to anthorize the Bur-lington and Missouri Railroad Company, or its as-signees, to change the established line of said road in Nebraska.

United States Ministers for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1870. Parsed. The calendar was taken up, and the concurrent resolution for a joint Committee on Indian Affairs was discussed, mainly upon the propriety of commit-ting to a joint committee a subject which involved the treaty-making power. Mr. Harlan favored the proposition as a means of adjusting the difference of opinion between the two houses. Last year the House refused, after a certain date, to carry into effect Indian treaties by withhold-ing appropriations, and the Scante had been weak enough to yield the point to the House. Mr. Drake believed that the resolution covered a vast scheme of rascality, though he did not mean that any member of either house who advocated it was aware of the fact, nor could be himself put his finger upon the proof for his assertion, but such was his conviction.

his conviction. Mr. Stewart said the proofs of the rascality, which was known to exist, might be more readily forth-coming than was generally supposed. It was be-cause corrupt practices did exist, and that careful investigation upon ladian affairs was more than ever imperatively demanded, that he favored the proposi-tion for a bolt committee. his conviction.
