THE DAILY EVENING TELEGRARH-PHILADELPHIA, MONDAY, APRIL 11, 1870.

THE LATEST NEWS.

FROM NEW YORK. Awkward Political Blander.

NEW YORK, April 11 .- An awkward discovery has apparently just been made. Section seventh of article third of the State Constitution reads as follows:-"No member of the Legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this State, or to the Senate of the United States, from the Governor, the Senate, or from the Legislature, during the term for which he shall have been elected, and all such appointments, and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment, shall be void." The following persons nominated by the Mayor are now members of the Legislature:-Thomas C. Fields, Alexander Frear, William Hitchman, John J. Blair, Martin Nachtmann, William M. Tweed, and John J. Bradley.

FROM CUBA.

Latest Advices from the Scene of Conflict. HAVANA, April 9.-- A telegram from De Rodas, dated Puerto Principe April 8, published in the Gacela to-day, states that two columns of Spanish troops returned without meeting the enemy. The forces were then provisioned for two months and sent to occupy Gannac and Najaza. Two men and one woman spies were caught. The men were executed and the woman pardoned. A great amount of important correspondence was captured, and much property of the rebels destroyed. The insurgents' ad vanced guards surrendered voluntarily. They report that Enrique Agramonte, Fran-cisco Castello, Gaspar Betancourt, Diego Aguera. and an American named Magnet, were the chief leaders of the insurgents, and some of them had embarked and fied from the country, after having fought among hemselves. Some of the insurgents had issued an order punishing with death whoever reads De Rodas' amnesty proclamation.

Cespedes intends to leave the country. He Cespedes intends to leave the country. He will be actively pursued. Anarchy, panies, and desertions prevall everywhere among the rebels. Some have raised the standard of revolt against Agramonte, owing to his tyrannical behavior. Yesterday the leaders of this revolt assassinated fourteen of their own men for the purpose of rob-bery. This favorable news, which is justly re-garded as official, had caused great rejoicing here.

NEW-YORKISMS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NEW YORK, April 11, 1870. Close-Monthed Correspondents. Correspondents-particularly those who live

New York and communicate with papers outthe city-are often unjustly abused for being cool gossipy and candid. They are credited with telling all they hear-and more, and it is claimed that their imagination supplies the place of fact. I ask leave to say a few words in their defense. Some there are, many perhaps who have graduated from the slums of Bohemianism and who will never be able to shake off the rank flavor of that condition; but there are other some who are continually dreading that they shall prove uninteresting from the reticence which sentiments of gentlemanhood or ladyhood compel them to observe. What right have I, for instance, because I happen to correspond with a newspaper, to tattle in public secrets which came to me through private sources ? I may share the world's love of scandal. I may have no objection to listen and to repeat something that is not to my neighbor's advantage, but a sense of decency and justice causes me to recoil from simultaneously repeating to many thousands of readers what I have heard casually dropped in private discourse. This is where the conscience of the correspondent steps in. He has to determine where he shall draw the line between being a spicy seandal-monger and a wearlsome purveyor of platitudes and stale news. Perhaps more correspondents have this moral discrimination than the newspaper-reading world thinks. It is tantalizing to be in possession of interesting facts in regard to public characters and not to be able to use them; to know you might say something that your readers would slap their knees over and cry "devilish smart !" but that good taste and good feeling prevent. Give the correspondent his due, therefore, and acknowledge that he might sometimes be more readable if he were more violative of confidence. Lester Wallack and Troupe have returned within the last few days from their Eastern and suburban trip, where they met with some curious adventures, which Mr. Tayleure, their manager, ought to publish in pamphlet form. They would make a most relishable brochure. Broadway on Saturday Afternoon. The balm and beauty of Suburday afternoon brought forth throngs of well-dressed people. Broadway was unthreadable except at a very slow and tortuous pace. Two sumptuous belles, attired in very voluminous silk dresses, of the color of ashes of rose, paraded the thoroughfare from one end to the other, and attracted a vast amount of comment. At some points of their progress a crowd collected around them as large as though surrounding a puppet show, and the intervention of the police was necessary. New Jersey Morality. The New Jersey newspapers are very moral, and admit nothing which they conceive to be vicious into their columns unless it is extremely well paid for. It is thus that they make both ends of God and Mammon meet. Travelling theatrical companies they are particularly down on, so much so that they make out bills for theatrical advertisements so much an inch, and charge half as much again as for other advertisements. Vice may be said to "pay" in New Jersey-in fact, to pay in advance.

FIFTH EDITION ing them with my own eyes, I beg leave to contradict that slander, for three more hideous young men, according to Anglo-Saxon notions of beauty, it has never been my privilege to contemplate. They have been under the patronage of Captain Albert De Groot, the same gentleman who superintended the banquet of the poor man's pound cake and lemonade on the occasion of the unvelling of the Vanderbilt Bronze. Academy of Design. The annual spring exhibition of the National Academy of Design commences with the reception next Monday evening. These receptions are always attended by the most fashlonable people in New York, and the streets in the neighborhood are generally as blocked up with carriages as Irving place is on an opera night. Ole Bull takes his farewell forever of America next Saturday afternoon and upon the ensuing Saturday evening. On the 27th of this month he sails for Europe, as it is his intention to be at home in Norway by the 17th of May, in time for a national celebration which corresponds to a Norwegian Fourth of July. The old gentleman has just been made happy by the presentation to him of a golden crown, which was shown to me yestera golden crown, which was shown to me yestor-day afternoon by his son Alexander. It consists of fifty-four gold leaves each of which is tipped by a pearl and is clasped by a monogram con-taining fifty-six diamonds. It is a souvenir from ALI BABA. San Francisco.

Incidentals.

-A Southern paper calls upon the Republi cans to rally and place the "lap-stone" upon the splendid edifice they have reared. -A young woman in Montreal, who was ac cused of having caused the death of her brother in-law by sitting on him when very ill, has been acquitted.

-A country journal, speaking of a popular woman lecturer, remarks that her burning sen tences of denunciation were as rapid and fiery as sparks from a revolving emery-wheel. —The Boston Advertiser urges that Massachusetts legislators be elected for two or three years, believing that it would have a tendency to shorten the annual sessions.

-A Montreal telegram says that Mr. James Redpath, of that city, has subscribed $20,000 to endow a Chair of Natural Philosophy in McGill College.

Two on THREE COLDS in succession will, with many constitutions, securely establish the seeds of Consumption in the system, thus converting what was originally a simple, curable affection into one generally fatal. While ordinary prudence, therefore, makes it the business of every one to take care of a Cold until it is of, intelligent experience fortunately presents a remedy in DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT, thoroughly adapted to remove speedily all Coughs and Colds, and one equally effective in the primary stages of Consumption, Asthma, and Bronchitis. Sold b all Druggists.

IMPORTANT TO SUPPRESES FROM NERVOUS EXCITE-MENT. - A gentleman residing in Grammeroy place, New York (whose name it would not be proper to mention), was suffering terribly about three weeks ago from the effects of dissipstion. He could not sleep, vomited fre-quently, was tormented by horrible fancies, and could not keep a limb still. Opiates made him worse. While in this condition he was visited by a friend, who advised him to try PLANTATION BITTERS as an anodyne, stomschi to try PLANTATION BITTRES as an anodyne, stomaolic, and tonic. "Ne use," said the sick man, despondingly: "nothing will save me. I'm a gone case." "Pahaw!" said his friend. "you're worth forty daad men yot. I'm going to doctor you now." So saying, he put on his hat, and going to the nearest drugglat's presently returned with a bottle of the Bitters, of which he administered a dose forthwith. It had a soothing, cheering, tranquillizing effect. For a week thereafter the gentleman continued to take the tonic regularly, according to the directions, and at the end of that time was able to return to business in sound health, and with a clear intellect. This information is furnished by Aloxander T. Minthrom, of Morrisania, who furnished by Alexander T. Minihrom, of Morrisania, who will confirm it if addressed by mail.

Midsummer Novelties. During the midsummer holidays two plays which are old everywhere else are going to be produced in this city. One of them is Mr. Hemphill's Not Guilty, which was played so long at the Walnut Street Theatre, and is to be brought out at Niblo's. Another is Mr. Brougham's Red Light, and Mr. Gayler's Fritz, which are to fill up the heated interregnum at Wallack's. With their enstomary silly superciliousness, I suppose New Yorkers will pretend to ignore the fact of their having been produced elsewhere, and enjoy them all the more for having thrown dust in their own eyes.
