From Our Own Correspondent,

NEW YORK, April 30, 1870. The Gift Enterprises. There are so many swindling gift enterprise concerns in New York city, that it is Impossible to walk along any thoroughfare without running across more than one would care to keep account of in his memory.

Before some of them a policeman is stationed whose duty is simplicity itself.

If he sees you are about to enter, all he does is to tap you on the shoulder and tell you you had better not.

By this means Justice is satisfied. So is the policeman.

And the gift-enterprise swindlers escape. In fact, they are never brought up in court. It is one of the easiest means extant of making a living. Occasionally some gulled greenhorn, who has lost his last penny in responding to their swindling advertisements, writes to the Mayor about it, demanding that justice shall be done him and means taken to get him his money back. The trouble is that the fellow is afraid to do himself justice. In one hundred cases you will not find one who has the moral courage to have his name printed in connection with the affair. Hence the gift-swindlers of this city, which is the great centre of them, are notorious all over the Union. Complaints by the score are lodged at the Mayor's office, and are never pushed. The swindlers are successful because the swindled are ashamed of publicly owning their folly.

All Quiet in Houston Street. The four corners formed by the Intersection of Broadway and Houston street have hitherto been the most repulsive and dangerous of any quarter of the city at all pretending to respecta-

On account of a murderous fray which lately occurred in a saloon within hail of one of these corners, special policemen have been stationed there, with orders to allow no more than two people at a time to stand on each corner. Hitherto a well-dressed person was never certain of passing that corner in safety, particularly if he wore diamonds or a watch. People were jostled and robbed there at midday under the very eyes of the police; the atmosphere around was heavy with the aroma of panel-houses: and the neighboring street was named Murderers' Block. The True Story of Nilsson. A ridiculous puff has appeared in one of the daily papers here with reference to Christina Nilsson, the Swedish prima donna. The ridiculousness of the story does not consist in the announcement that she will come to this country in the fall.

That she will sail for this country early in September is pretty well determined. It is the statement about the salary that is so untrue and

That statement is to the effect that she is to receive fifteen hundred dollars, in gold, each You may safely set down the amount she is to be paid as just one-half that sum. In New York music is more a fashion than an art, but it is not the fashion enough to warrant any manager in paving any prima donna fifteen hundred dollars in gold for each per-

The Parks at Night.

Since the warm weather commenced all the parks of the city have been largely visited. mainly by two classes of people-working people wne go thither to learn what fresh air smells like, and vicious people who wait and watch there for wicked purposes.

The vicious people have been largely preponderating for the last two years, and means were never taken to repress them.

No decent woman or man either can sit in one of these parks half an hour at a time without hearing words and seeing sights which shock. There is a dark and oozy slime of depravity slowly feeling its way beneath the fountains and the green rustle of the trees. The police-those blue and brass purifiers of the metropolis-are to change all this, commencing with the first warm night.

Moving Day is presumed to be par excellence on Monday, but already the streets are threaded by every description of vehicle which can carry furniture. The New Yorkers cling to this institution of the first of May. One is ready to believe that they actually enjoy the misefy in taking possession of the fifth floor, at the same moment that another party is bundling out. It is impossible to persuade them that the Philadelphia plan is better. Did you ever meet a New Yorker who did not maintain that evil was good, if the evil happened to be one of Gotham's institutions? ALI BABA.

MISICAL AND DRAMATIC.

The Ulty Angustments? AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC this evening Miss Carlotta Patti makes her first appearance in this city in an operatic role. Mozart's Magic Flute is a favorite with opera-goods on account of its wonderfully graceful music, and in spite of a libretto that nobody pretends to understand. The role of the "The Queen of Night" is seldom given entire on account of its vocal difficulties. and the appearance of such a singer as Miss Patti as the mystical "Queen" is therefore an event of remarkable interest. As Miss Patti will only appear this evening, to-morrow, and Wednesday afternoon, the Academy will un-doubtedly be crowded to its utmost capacity. The remaining parts will be sustained by Mr. Joseph Hermanns, who will personate "Sarastro;" Wil-helm Formes as "Papagena;" Mad'lle Pauline Canissa as "Pamina;" and Mad'lle Dzuiba as

AT THE CHESNUT the new burlesque of The Fair One with the Blonde Wig will be produced this evening, with Mrs. J. A. Oates as "Graceful." The piece will be placed upon the stage in handsome style, and will include Hernandez's pantomime, Harlequin and His Magic Trumpet and a great variety of other features.

AT THE WALNUT Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams will appear this evening in the fairy spec-tacular drama of The Fairy Circle; or, Con-

O'Carolan's Dream, and the comedyof The Custom of the Country. The management announces that the drama of Not Guilty will be reproduced on Monday,

AT THE ARCH Mr. Joseph K. Emmett will appear this evening as "Fritz von Vonderblink-ensteffen," in a drama written expressly for him by Charles Gayler, entitled Fritz, Our Cousin

A WELCOME DISH AT THE TABLE, AND AT THE COUCH OF THE INVALID.—The countless ways in which the Sea Moss Farine may be utilized in cookery, the immense number of dishes some plain and simple, others of the most delicate and delicions nature—to which it imparts not only all that is desirable in quality, but a wonderful increase of quantity, are among its strongest recommendations. There is no kind of farinaceous preparations, no kind of soup or gravy in which it may not be used to advantage; and the blanc mange, puddings, custards, cresms, jeliies, gruels, etc., made from it are not only unsurpassed, but, in our opinion, unequalled. Invalida whose stomachs are so sensitive as to reject all ordinary preparations for the sick-room, find no difficulty in reaining and digesting the light and nourishing food of which this article forms the basis. On the score of economy the Sea Moss Farine is certainly infinitely preferable to any of the starches, farinas, gelatines, etc., made from the cereals or from maize. We are assured that a package of it, costing only twenty-five cents, will produce no less than sixteen quarts of blanc mange, jelly, custard, or Moss Farine cream. The quantity seems almost incredible, but the statement is made on good culinary authority, and our readers can easily test its accuracy for themselves.

SOMETIMES A COLD WILL NOT TIELD TO ORDINARY REMEDIES, because of the severe inflammation of the delicate lining of the tubes through which the air we breathe is distributed to the langs. This obstruction produces pain and soreness, hoarseness, cough, difficulty of breathing, hectic fever, and a spitting of blood, matter or phlegm, finally exhausting the strength of the patient, and developing very serious disease. Dr. Jaynes' Expec torant seldom fails to remove these symptoms by relieving the lungs of all obstructing matter, and healing all sore ness. Pleurisy, Asthma, and Bronchitis are likewise cured by this standard remedy, and the reputation it has maintained for over thirty years affords the best guaranty of its merit. Sold everywhere.

DRY FERT.—The most effectual way of guarding one's health is to keep the feet dry, and that can only be done by the use of India Rubber Overshoes, and as the inclement season is upon us, we would advise our readers to buy none but the best quality, which can only be had at GOODYEAR'S Headquarters, No. 208 Chesnut street, south side, Philadelphia,

The McFarland Trial.

After the recess Joel B. Next witness called was Mrs. Runxle (Mrs. Calhoun) who testified—I reside in this city; was formerly Mrs. Calhoun; I know the prisoner, and Mrs. McGarland; first knew him in January, 1836;

Question. Before going to the White Mountains what had been the subject of conversation between you? Objected to by Mr. Graham.

Q. Prior to her going to the White Mountains had she been in the habit of giving readings?

Mr. Graham, I object.

Judge Davis said he wished to how that it had been a subject of conversation between husband and wife, Mrs. McFarland giving readings. He could prove that in 1861 McFarland and wife went to Madison, Wisconsin, and lived on the proceeds of some property he had in New York. She gave some readings for the relief of wounded soldiers and having received some encomiums, it was decided she should take lessons from Mr. and Mrs. Vanden-hof. Mr. McFariand approved of all this, and was present at some of the representations given by Mrs. McFariand. He proposed to show that there was no conspiracy, but that Mrs. Calhoun acted in was no conspiracy, but that Mrs. Calhoun acted in a spirit of kindness.

Hecorder—I think the evidence of conspiracy is that this lady (Mrs. Calhoun), tried to get Krs. Mc-Farland away from her husband.

Mr. Graham—We have given no evidence against this witness, except what she furnished with her pen, and the question is, will it be allowed her to wipe out her pen with her tongue? If these letters do not prove that this witness induced Mrs. McFarland to go on the stage, they prove nothing. If the do not prove that this witness induced Mrs. McFar-land to go on the stage, they prove nothing. If the prisoner was made believe by his wife that she was consulting him, and that he found afterwards that it was all the work of Mrs. Calhoun, and that his deci-sion was not what led her to go on the stage, and that his denial would not prevent it; McFarland did not go to the theatre after his wife, but Richardson did, and went in by the Mercer street door, a privilege only accorded husbands or other protectors of ladies engaged there. When McFarland and his wife went into Amity street, they were a loving couple, and it was there that his wife left him. left him.

The Recorder said that the prosecution had a right to show that there was no conspiracy in regard to Mrs. McFarland going on the stage. Witness—I attended the reading given by Mrs. McFarland in April, 1864, at Steinway Hall, before she went to the White Mountains; I know that of my friends and myself took tiokets and Mr. Graham objected to showing that Mr. McFar-

Judge Davis offered to show that McFarland re-Judge Davis offered to show that McFarland re-ceived the bulk of the proceeds of this reading. Witness—Before going to the White Mountains Mrs. McFarland and I conversed in regard to her going on the stage. The first letter in which it was spoken about was on June 24th, 1866. I have no idea how many letters I wrote to Mrs. McFarland, Judge Davis desired witness to read the letter, and see if she could tell what month it was writ-

Mr. Graham—I object, as it is asking the witness to construe her letter, and that your Honor says she cannot do. If a person writes a letter, it is the person who receives, and not the person who sends, or at least a third party, that should construe it.

The Recorder said a person who wrote a letter ought to be the best judge of what was written, and it is right to allow witness to explain what it was she wrote.

Witness—The word is "you." Mrs. McFarland came with me to Mrs. Sinclair to get a dress from her which she was going to lend Mrs. McFarland to appear on the stage without going to the expense of buying one. He (McFarland) commented on the dress, and suggested some improvements. He said he had great confidence in her success. He himself had trained her, and he thought himself the best teacher she could have. I went to his house, No. 72 Amity street, the room Mrs. McFarland was in was hot and amoky; McFarland came in drunk, he spoke gruffly and rudely to me. I started to go out, but before I left McFarland turned on his wife and said "You must not have your friends here during

GOLD BONDS

OF THE Fredericksburg and Gordonsville Railroad Company, of Virginia.

Principal and Interest Payable in Coin, Free of U. S. Government Tax.

The road is sixty-two miles long, connecting Fredericks ourg, via Orange Court House, with Charlottesville, which is the point of junction of the Chesapeak a and Ohio Railroad to the Ohio river, and the extension of the Orange and Alexandria Railroad to Lynchburg. Is forms the shortest connecting link in the system of roads leading to the entire South, Southwest, and West, to the Pacific Ocean. It passes through a rich section of the Shenandoah Valley, the local traffic of which alone will support the road, and it must command an abundant share of through trade, from the fact of its being a SHORF CUIT TO TIDEWATER ON THE POTOMAO AT THE FARTHEST INLAND POINT WHERE DEEP WATER FOR HEAVY SHIPPING CAN BE FOUND ON WHOLE LENGTH OF THE ATLANTIC OCAST. From Charlottesville to tidewater by this route the distance is 40 miles less than via Alexandria; 63 miles less than via Richmond and West Point; 124 miles less than via Richmond and West Point; 124 miles less than via Norfolk.

tance is 40 miles less than via Alexandria; 65 miles less than via Richmond and West Point; 124 miles less than via Norfolk.

The mortgage is limited to $16,000 per mile of completed and equipped road—(the estimated cost of the road to the Company, furnished and equipped, will exceed $30,000 per mile, thus giving the bondholders an unusual margin, the bonded debt of the other Virginia roads being from $20,000 to $30,000 per mile)—and is issued to THE: FARMERS LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, AS TRUSTEES FOR THE BONDHOLDERS, and the security is first-class in every respect.

A SINKING FUND is also provided, which will reduce the principal of the debt TWO-THIRDS of its entire amount in advance of the maturity of the bonds.

We have investigated the advantages of this Railroad and the merits of the enterprise, and confidently recommend these bonds to our customers and the public.

DRAKE BROTHERS, Bankers,
No. 16 Broad street, New York.

A limited number of the Bonds (issued in denominations of $200 and $1000) are offered at $256 and interest from November 1, in currency, and at this price are the CHEAPEST GOLD INTEREST BEARING SEGURITIES IN THE MARKET.

Maps and Pamphlets, which explain satisfactorily every question that can possibly be raised by a party seeking a safe and profitable investment, will be furnished on application.
