They paraded with banners, flags, and bands of music, o the number of about a thousand, from St. Peter's Church, at Fifth street and Girard avenue, and Holy Trinity, at Sixth and Spruce streets, to St. Alphonsus' Church, where the ceremony of blessing the banner took place. -On Saturday evening a large number of

-The alarm last evening about 9 o'clock was caused by the burning of a two-story stable on Olive street, above Broad, occupied by Budd Doble. The flames originated in the second story of the building, and burned until the interior of the structure was pretty well destroyed. There was a large number of horses and vehicles in the stable, all of which were rescued. The structure belonged to Joseph Harrison, and was valued at $10,000. The parties have not for a long time been on good terms, and on Saturday last, as Malone's daughter alleges, Dr. Price, who was attending one of Malone's little boys, who is sick, was refused admittance to and driven away from the house by Mrs. Burk. Yesterday, Dr. Price came, having been assured by Malone by letter that he would be protected, to visit the child. Malone went down stairs to meet him, having been informed that the doctor was at Bread and Arch streets, and, while passing out, Mrs. Burk threw a piece of a brick at him. He returned with Dr. Price and was going up stairs, when Bridget Burk threw a large piece of brick at him, striking him on the right side of the head, back of the ear. Dr. Price dressed the wound, and pronounced it to be of the most serious character. Mr. and Mrs. Burke were both arrested and locked up in the Fourth District Station House.
