THE IRON MOULDERS. The Second Day's Session of the Iron Moulders' Union-The Proceedings of the

The Iron Moulders' Union assembled : Is morning at 8 o'clock in Common Counci. cham-ter, F. J. Myers, President, in the chair. After the reading and approval of the misutes of vesterday, the convention, on motion of John Mc-Mahon, of Brooklyn, N. Y., proceeded to the election

Mahon, of Brooklyn, N. Y., proceeded to the election of an assistant secretary.

The election resulted in favor of James Cammings, of Troy, N. Y., for that position.

On motion, the convention decided to hold its morning see App from 8 A. M. to 12 M., and the afternoon sessic a from 2 to 6 P. M.

On motion of Thomas Waish, of St. Louis, it was seculded to drape the President's desk in mourning, in memory of William H. Sylvus, the late president of the Union.

H. J. Wais, of Philadelphia, presented a communication from Union No. 1, inviting the members of cation from Union No. 1, inviting the members of the convention to attend a picme to be held at Smith's Island this afternoon. The invitation was accepted, and a vote of thanks passed to Union

A motion of William C. Bradley, of Cincinnati, was wassed, inviting the attendance of City Councils at the proceedings of the convention.

The President then read a report of his official action during the term of his administration as, President of the International Union. After alludang to the unexpected death of the late President, whilem H. Sylvis, which he characterizes as a great calamity to the organization, so intimately was Mr. Sylvis identified with it. The was Mr. Sylvis identified with it. The report states that new charters have been granted to Union No. 206. Kent, Ohio; No. 207, Marietta, Ohio; No. 208. Meadville, Pennsylvania; No. 269, South Norwalk, Connecticut; No. 210. Little Falls, New York; No. 211, Hannibal, Missouri; No. 212, Port Deposit, Maryland; No. 213, Grand Rapids, Michigan; No. 214, Lehghton, Pennsylvania; No. 216, Brooklyn, New York. The unions reorganized were:—No. 14, Pittsburg; No. 18, Louisville, Kentucky; No. 63, Elizabeth, New Jersey; No. 77, New Haven.

The losses of the New England unions have been very heavy, but the President hopes for better things. The introduction of coolies among the Crispins may awake the moulders to their danger and may teach them a lesson worth learning.
In point of numbers the various unions have fallen off considerably. In October of 1868 there were re-off considerably. In October of 1868 there were reported 113 unions and 4885 members, in January, 1869, there were 110 unions and 3903 members, in April 116 unions and 3860 members, in July 109 unions and 3916 members, in October 98 unions and 4966 members, in January, 1870, there were 104 unions and 4582 members, in April 103 unions, 4216 members. The greatest number of unions reported since last convention was in April, 1869, there being 116, and the smallest number of members 3630. On July 1, 1870, 110 unions reported a membership of 4669. The amout held by 104 unions was $13,777.04, and there were overpaid $241.79 by other unions.

In a business point of view the past six months In a business point of view the past six months have been unprecedented. With money almost a drug in the market, coal and iron much reduced in price, there has been a complete stagnation through-out the country, and this has enabled employers to force down wages from ten per cent. in some cases to fifty per cent. in others; while, with the exception of fuel, flour, and sugar, in the prices of the necessaries of life there has been very little reduc-

Since July, 1869, there have been received $3712.38. and the expenses have been $3505.34. Of the above receipts $191.75 have come from members of suson motion of W. C. Bradley, of Cincinnati, the report of the President was filed for future action by the convention. On motion, 300 copies of the President's and clerk's report were ordered to be printed.

The Treasurer then submitted his report, after which the onvention adjourned.

RACING.

Probable Fatal Result. Some days ago we called attention to the fact that the Mayor had issued orders for the arrest of all drivers of our steam fire engines found driving at an immoderate gait. Had these orders been carried out faithfully, we should not have been called on to record the following accident from racing, which will probably end fatally:-As the Vigilant and United States steam engines were running up Eighth street to the fire last evening, the United States engine, which was ahead, when near Parrish, turned off the track to the left, and the Vigilant to the right. The Vigilant struck the hind wheels of the United States, receiving a heavy jar, which threw the driver, Hugh Dougherty, who resides at No. 327 Dilwyn street, from his seat. The steamer then ran into a hack which was standing in front of a private residence. The back was badly smashed up, and Robert Lloyd, the driver, seriously injured by being thrown from his seat to the ground.

Dougherty was taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital, where he now lies in a critical condition. It is supposed that the United States must have passed over him, as his head is badly bruised, both legs fractured, and the cap of one knee destroyed. This morning George Baker, the driver of the United States, was arrested and committed to prison by Alderman Toland to await the result of Dougherty's injuries.

A NUISANCE.

Sub-letting City Property. Within the past ten days a number of stands have been started along Chesnut street, at which the thirsty can procure a dirty drink of soda water for five cents. Emboldened by the exam-ples set, some individual has erected one along the Chesnut street front of the Receiver of Taxes' Office, and has swung an awning in front thereof. The stranger in our city viewing this magnificent (!) arrangement will be apt to believe that instead of the building being city property, it belongs to some second-class circus company; therefore, for the sake of our respectability, our official in charge, whether it be Peltz or Mr. Hill, should at once do away with this cheap and dirty stand, else Councils will have to be called on to prevent the sub-letting of the property.

CAMP MEETING .- A national camp meeting will be held at Oakington, Md., beginning Tuesday, July 12, and continuing ten days. Trains will leave for the grounds by way of the Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad at short intervals during the continuance [of the meeting. Round-trip tickets can be purchased at reduced rates at No. 828 Chesnut street.

PUGILISTIC.-Pat Gallagher yesterday at-tempted to raise a row at Twenty-fourth and Spring Garden streets. Officer Dougherty attempted to prevent him. Pat, objecting to foreign interference, administered to the officer a severe beating. Subsequently Pat was arrested, and Alderman Pancoast sent him to prison.

FELL FROM A LADDER.—Mr. Richmond Dukes, plumber, fell from a ladder while at work yesterday, striking his head and hip, and inflicting injuries of a dangerous character. He was taken to his residence, No. 205 Christian JUVENILE DEPRAVITY .- John McKenna, aged twelve years, has been sent to prison by Alderman Kerr for the theft of some wool from a warehouse on Letitia street.

ROBBERY.

Daring Attempt to Hob a House-Fxetting In-cidents-Capture of the Would-be Burgiars. Last night about 1 20 o'clock a daring attempt was made to rob the residence of Mr. Rosser, situated on the west side of Sixteenth street, oclow Master. It appears that Mr. Rosser went ont of town some days since, accompanied by his family, and carefully locked up his premises and his valuables. Notwithstanding these precautions, however, the gentry who usually hang around the city during the summer looking out around the city during the summer, looking out for chances, discovered the fact that an entrance might be effected into the premises, and last night appears to have been the night set apart for "cracking the job." Accordingly, an en-trance was effected by forcing a window looking trance was effected by forcing a window looking into the back yard, and, once in, the thieves commenced rausacking the closets and bureaudrawers for such articles as suited their fancy.

They did not appear very choice in their selections, but carefully bundled up almost everything that came in their way, enough to fill a furniture car. Not being satisfied with what they could find below, they proceeded up stairs, and while engaged in packing up some bedding were accidently seen by a woman rebedding were accidently seen by a woman re-siding on Liza street, who was ironing. The lady immediately gave the alarm, and in a few moments the entire neighborhood was fully aware of the fact that strange men were seen, acting in a strange manner, in the house which was supposed to be tenantless. The police were promptly on hand, and accompanied by a posse of citizens, a raid was made through every room in the house, but without discovering anything save the fact that an attempt had been made to rob the premises, and that the thief or thieves had somehow or another mysteriously disappeared. Leaving the goods pretty much as they found them, the police carefully went through the house and locked up all the windows, and then departed, much to the grief of the neighbors, who had set their minds on having a real first-class thief-taking excitement.

Most things have an end, and after the people had taken a view of the top of the house, everything settled down to its usual quiet, and the people went to bed, and, as they hoped, to sleep. But in this they were doomed to disappointment, for about an hour after, as Mr. Buckley, of the Tax office, was composing him-self to sleep, he was startled by the pounding and rumbling of a brick which came down his chimney at a rather disagreeable rate of speed.

Jumping out of bed, Mr. Buckley vigorously sprang his rattle out of a second-story window, which had the effect of bringing a couple of police officers and some citizens to his door. He inquired of the officers if they had seen any of the men on the roof, and being assured in the negative, a new inspection of the premises was made, both exterior and interior, but without discovering anything new. At this juncture Mr. John Cloud appeared upon the scene and suggested that the roofs of the houses had better be searched. A ladder was procured from an adjoining unfinished house, and Mr. Cloud and the police ascended to the roof, and there, much to the astonishment of all, two gentlemen were found snugly ensconced behind the chimney of Mr. Rosser's house. They were immediately conveyed to terra firma and thence escorted to the station-house. It appears that when the villains were disturbed they immediately sought the roof by means of one of the windows, which was subsequently closed and locked by the police on their first visit to the premises. The gentlemen made efforts in different directions to descend from the roof, but were foiled in every direction. At length the happy idea of sliding down the chim-ney and into the house crossed their minds, and ney and into the house crossed their minds, and they immediately proceeded to put the idea into execution; but, unfortunately, just as their efforts were about being crowned with success, a loose brick on the adjoining chimney of Mr. Buckley was knocked off, with the result hereinbefore described.

A Man Found Dead in Frankford under Very Suspicious Circumstances—Two WomenfAr-rested on Suspicion.
This morning, at a quarter after 8 o'clock, informa-tion was received at the Frankford Station-house of tion was received at the Frankford Station-house of a man having been found dead at a house on Old Front street, near Nicetown lane.

The information was received from the father of the deceased, who is a milkman, living about half a square below the house where the death took place. He went there this morning to serve milk, and was told that the death had taken place. Suspecting foul play on the part of the wife of the man, who is a loose character, he went to the station and lodged information against her.

on the receipt of this Lieutenant McClee and Sergeants Shields and Shuster proceeded to the spot and made an examination. The man was found lying on a bed in the second story, wrapped in the one arm was thrown over the head and the other lay on the breast in splints, it having been broken by a fall from a wagon about two weeks ago. The head and breast were very much discolored, as i from suffocation.

There were two women living in the house, one known as Mrs. Hooley, who is said to be the wife of the deceased, and another named Ann Hays. Both of these bear very poor characters. They were both taken in charge by the officers to await an exami-nation, and the house was put under guard until the Coroner, who was immediately summoned, should The dead man's name was Charles Brown. He was about twenty-nine years of age, and was for-merly a soldier. He has not been engaged in any occupation for some time past. The woman Hooley is said to have had some seven or eight hus-bands, all of whom have been made away with in some unaccountable manner. The woman Ann Hays, who was living in the house, and who has always been very intimate with the wife of Brown, was formerly married and lived on Nicetown lane, near Frankford road. Her husband some time ago was murdered under very suspicious circumstances, and a man named William Gormley was arrested, tried, sentenced, and served his time out in prison for complicity with the crime.

The women were both in liquor when arrested, but stated that the man had been alive at 7 o'clock this morning. The officer, however, thinks that this can hardly be possible, because of the great stiffness He thinks that he must have been dead at least ten hours before the fact was discovered, which was about eight o'clock. It is thought that the man may perhaps have died in a fit, he being subject to them though the evidence points strongly in another

When the father came to the house he found crape on the doors and windows, but the women had not sent for an undertaker or taken any other action. The father of the man is strongly of the opinion that foul play has been used. The Coroner will hold an inquest this afternoon, when further information may be elicited.

INTERESTING EXERCISES. -The Sunday School exercises of the Trinity Presbyterian Church, corner of Frankford road and Cambria street, will be repeated this evening, by request. When these exercises took place a few weeks ago, they were largely attended, and many who de-sired admittance were debarred. Persons desiring to witness the performances should go

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Tax Bill. Special Despatch to _ne Evening Telegraph.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The Senate amendments to the Tax bill were, on motion of General Schenck, referred to-day to the Committee of Ways and Mean . The committee will meet this afternoon for the purpose of considering the amendments. It is thought they will agree to the majority of the amendments made by the Senate, or at least the important ones. The amendments about the income tax, the shipment of imported goods in bond, and several others of similar character, will be accepted. It is the intention of General Schenck to report the bill to-morrow.

Funding the Debt. The committee of conference on the Funding bill has now been appointed by both houses, and will meet to-day. The feeling in favor of uniform four per cent. bonds seems to be growing among Senators and members, though Secretary Boutwell is still opposing it with all his might. The contest in the conference committee will be on this feature of the bill. The Secretary is very anxious to have some amendment added compelling the national banks to exchange their six per cents for the new bonds, but this is generally regarded as out of the question now.

The Pat. Woods Case. The case of Pat. Woods, charged with assaulting Congressman Porter, of Virginia, was taken up this morning, and Mr. Bingham made a long speech on the importance of making an example of Woods. The House, by one majority, refused to adopt the resolution of Butler to imprison Woods until the end of the present Congress. The report of the majority of the committee, to imprison him for three months, was then adopted. The Democrats voted solid in favor of Woods being sent to Richmond to await the action of the criminal courts for the offense. Woods was taken in charge by the Sergeant-at-Arms, and will be confined in the District jail.

Another Indian Delegation. Despatch to the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 7 .- Red Feather Little Swan, Black Tomahawk, and other chiefs composing the delegation from the bands of Sioux near Fort Sully, visited the Capitol this afternoon, under charge of Major Randall, and remained some time both in the House and Senate. They were afterwards taken up into dome, and then shown various other portions of the building.

Custom' Receipts for the week ending July 2:- New York, $2,036,-567; Boston, $329,837; Philadelphia, $120,166; Baltimore, $134,520; New Orleans to June 25, $71,511; San Francisco, $153,672; total,

On motion of Mr. Schenck, the House insisted on its amendment to the funding bill, and agreed to a committee of conference, and the Schate amendments to the Tax bill were referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

tee of Ways and Means.

Mr. Davis (N. Y.) asked to have the Senate amendments to the Naturalization bill taken up.

Mr. Finkelnburg said he would object, unless the amendments were to be concurred in.

Mr. Dawes said he proposed to ask the House to non-concur, and he moved that the rules be suspended. The amendment was non-concurred in, and a committee of conference ordered. The rules were not suspended—77 to 52, less than two-thirds in the affirmative.

The House then resumed the consideration of the case of Patrick Woods, in custody of the House for an assault on Mr. Porter, a member from Virginia.

Mr. Brooks, of New York, made the point of order that the prisoner should be present while his case was being tried in this police court, as he termed the House.

The Speaker overruled the point of order.

Mr. Woodward stated the legal objections that he entertained against the resolution reported by the Judiciary Committee. Mr. Potter argued against the idea of there being a question of privilege involved in the assault, and consequently against the jurisdiction of the House

Mr. Bingham closed the discussion by an argument in defense of the propositions contained in the majority report and lagainst those laid by the minority.

The question was taken on Mr. Butler's amendment to extend the term of imprisonment until the 4th of March next, and it was rejected—yeas, 88;

nays, 89.

The vote was next taken on the resolution reported by the minority, directing Woods to be immediately turned over to the Hustings Court of Richmond, Virginia, to be dealt with according to law, and it was rejected—yeas, 56; nays, 120, a party Nr. Davis (of N. Y.) moved to reconsider the vote whereby Mr. Butler's amendment was rejected.

Mr. Butler in that connection desired to have a letter read, but as the previous question was operating the reading was precluded.

Mr. Eldridge moved to lay the motion to reconsider on the table, and on that the year and nays were ordered.

Mr. Brooks (of N. Y.), remarking that it was evident that the day was to be fooled away with this case, moved that the House adjourn.

Mr. Maynard inquired whether Mr. Brooks was

The Spanish Complication. LONDON, July 7 .- There is much excitement not only here, but on the Continent, in view of the threatened European complication on the subject of Prince Leopold's candidature for the Spanish throne. Despatches from Paris say there is a strong feeling in France even outside of official circles against the bestowal of the Spanish crown on any Hohenzollern. The tranquilizing assurances of the French Emperor have exerted a beneficial effect in Paris, particularly on the Bourse.

This Morning's Quotations. Rentes this morning opened at 70f. 95c., or 15 centimes higher than the closing of yesterday. British Consols opened decidedly lower to-day, in sympathy with French Rentes, which have declined heavily within the past few days. A Franco-Austrian Alliance. Paris, July 7-2 P. M.—It is asserted in well informed circles that an alliance between France and Austria has been effected.

The Spanish Complication. Paris, July 7 .- The authorities have been assured that fully three-fourths of the members of the Spanish Cortes are favorable to the elevation of Hozenzollern to the Spanish throne. There seems to be no doubt that the King of Prussia is also favorable to the project, and refuses any explanation in reply to the notes from the French Government. Despatches from Madrid announce that at a Council of Ministers held yesterday, the course Prim had taken was unanimously approved of and the candidacy of Prince Hohenzollern accepted. They authorized the Minister of Foreign Affairs to present the name of the new candidate to the Cortes. which will probably be convened expressly for that purpose.

The Council of Ministers hope that the Prince will receive more than 170 votes, the minimum required by the resolution passed by the Cortes on the 3d of June.

The Prince is expected to arrive at Madrid early in November. The Spanish fleet will be despatched to bring him.

The Gauleis (independent organ) has the following in its issue this morning:-"General Prim, in reply to the despatch of Senor Olozaga, Spanish Ambassador in this city, asserts that he acted with the consent of Regent Serrano, unofficially and outside of diplomacy. Finding a difficulty in obtaining a candidate for the Spanish throne, he addressed the Prince of Hohenzollern, who unites many desirable qualities. but whose personal importance was thought insufficient to give umbrage to France. As such an emotion has been created, General Prim retreats, and assures the French Government of the sincerity of his intentions."

The Gaulois adds:- "This question is settled so far as Spain is concerned. It remains to be seen what Prussla will do after the scene in the French chambers yesterday, and the unequivocal declarations of the Duke of Grammont."

FROM WASHINGTON. Important Revenue Decision.

Special Desputch to The Evening Telegraph. WASHINGTON, July 7 .- The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in reply to an inquiry addressed to his office respecting the liabilities of wine manufacturers from grapes, berries, or fruits of their own growth, renders the following decision:-Manufacturers of wine from grapes, berries, or fruits of their own growth are not liable to special tax as manufacturers or liquor dealers for selling such wine at the place where the same is made. Where such wines are sold, however, at any other than the place of manufacture, liability to payment of tax as liquor dealers is incurred; and where wines are manufactured from grapes, berries, or fruits not of their own growth, they should pay special tax as manufacturers and as liquor dealers for selling their products, whether selling the same at the place of manufacture or otherwise. This ruling reverses the decisions of former Commissioners. The Currency Bill.

Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph. WASHINGTON, July 7 .- The House agreed to the conference report on the Carrency billyeas, 100; nays, 76.

Rumored Defeat of the Spaniards-Opposition to Emancipation.

HAVANA, July 6, via Key West, July 7.—Derodas will probably go to Santiago de Cuba. Salmazada has left Bayama to go there also. Troops in the vicinity of Santiago de Cuba are acting altogether on the defensive. Colonel Balmes, who is in command of Santiago de Cuba made demand for reinforcements, but is unable to get any. -

Various reports represent positively that the Spanish troops had been defeated in several engagements recently with the insurgent leaders, Diaz and Gomez.

The situation of the Spaniards in the Eastern Department is unfavorable. The planters are holding meetings, and nearly all of them refuse to obey the emancipation laws, and will resist freeing their slaves. Large amounts of money have been raised to send to Spain in order to avoid the execution of the law, and to secure its

and is progressing rapidly. THE PHILADELPHIA AND ERIE LEASE

The Meeting of the Railroad Committee This Afternoon.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon a meeting of the Committee on Railroads of Councils was held to consider the proposition to modify the lease held on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The mercantile community had been invited to be present and give an expression of their views upon the subject, but at the hour named but few perthe subject, but at the hour named but few per-sons outside of the committee had arrived. The Pennsylvania Rallroad Company was represented by Colonel Thomas A. Scott and Edmund Smith, and J. Alexander Simpson and James D. Whetham, two of the city directors, were pre-

Mr. Franciscus, chairman of the committee, stated that the document which had been referred to the committee showed that the city directors knew of this important matter on February 14, 1869, and yet they had not called the attention of Councils to the subject until June 30, but one week prior to the adjournment for the summer vacation.

J. Alexander Simpson, one of the city direc-tors, explained that, although the stockholders of the Philadelphia and Eric Rallroad knew of this modification on February 14, the directors knew nothing of it until the Saturday prior to June 30.

Colonel Scott explained at length that the change which was proposed to be made in the lease was to pay all of the net earnings to the Philadelphia and Erie instead of 30 per cent. of the receipts, as at present. This he conceived to be a necessity for the development of that years of the State.

part of the State. C. D'Invilliers, a stockholder of the Philadelphia and Erie, opposed the modification. No action had been taken when our report.

N. Y. MONEY MARKET YESTERDAY. From the N. Y. Herald.

"Wall street is all at sea again, owing to the revival of the currency and funding questions in Congress, and the markets closed heavy and extremely dull.

"The gold market has suddenly assumed activity, and closed strong this evening on the apprehension of complications between France and Prussia concerning the succession to the Spanish throne, while it was thought that France and Russia would declare war against China unless satisfaction was afforded for the recent massacre of Christians in Pekin. Little credit would be given these reports were it not that the quotations for five-twenties abroad have declined, which in financial circles is interpreted as an indication that there is really some foundation for the unfriendly attitude of France towards Prussia. The earliest quotation is really some foundation for the unfriendly attitude of France towards Prussia. The earliest quotation of gold was 111%, from which there was a decline to 111%, just before the sale by the Government. The bids at the Sub-Treasury being limited to a trifle more than two millions assisted the weaker feeling, especially as the Acting Assistant Treasurer, Mr. W. G. White, advertised that, in accordance with instructions from Washington, he should, on Friday next, receive bids or $2,33,686-27 in gold, being the July interes on the United States Five-twenty bonds held by the Treasurer of the United States as custodian of the sinking and special funds, and on Monday receive offers of United States Five-twenty bonds for Avestment of the proceeds of such sale of gold. On receipt of the newsfrom Europe the price suddenly ran up to 111%, the bears' being frightened at the turn the market took, particularly as they had seen nothing to discourage, but were, on the contrary, encouraged by the duliness and in lower rates for exchange to add to their speculative sales.

"The early decline in gold rendered Governments dull. Its subsequent advance led to more activity, and prices improved, the best being made at the close of the day.

"The money market was easy and unchanged as to rates. The general rate on Governments was three and on stocks four per cent. on call loans. Prime commercial paper was quoted 5% to 6% per cent. discount. Foreign exchange was dull on the basis of 109% ($109% for prime bankers' sixty day, and 110% ($110% for sight sterling bills."
