THE PARTY DVELLEY OF THE REPLECE OF THE AUGUST SHEETING THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY O

THE OCEAN YACHT RACE.

Mr. Ashbury's Cambria and Mr. Bennett's Em intless-The Vessels, their Histories and Victories. The safe arrival of the yachts Dauntless and Cambria at New York-the English craft ahead, but that is no matter-invests the subject with fresh interest. We subjoin sketches of these beautiful yessels:-

THE DAUNTLESS.

The Dauntless, as almost every one in America or Europe knows, is owned by Mr. J. G. Bennett, Jr., Vice-President of the New York Yacht Club. She was sailed in this case, as in her previous ocean contest, by Captain Samuels. She has excellent bearings, a beautiful shear and a clear run, and is capable of carrying a heavy press of canvas. Prior to 1866 she never had a square race. On the cruise of the fleet of the New York Yacht Club in the preceding August, when going from New London to Newport, it was thought that for such a heavy vessel in a light easterly wind she worked remarkably well. On that occasion she was the third yacht in at Newport, and was behind the winning boat only bout an hour. Some time after the great ocean contest, in which the Vesta, Fleetwing, and Henriett were the competitors, the owner of the lastmentioned vessel purchased l'Hirondelle, and her name was changed to the Dauntless. Having undergone some alterations, she figured in the races given under the auspices of the New York Yacht Club, especially on the annual cruises. It is unnecessary to follow up her career until the time when she was completely changed and rendered altogether a different vessel. This occurred at Noank early in the spring of last year. It should be remembered that in November, 1868, the Dauntless sailed from Norfolk, Virginia, to Staten Island in thirty hours.

Further alterations were completed in May, 1869. They were of such a radical character that very little of the former boat was left. Last year she crossed the Atlantic, and entered in the Channel race for yachts of all nations, from Cherbourg round the Nab Light and back, for a cup of the value of 2500 francs, given by the Emperor of the French through the Societe des Regates de Cherbourg, with a prize for the second vessel, value 1000 francs and a gold medal. The other yachts were the Guinevere, Shark, Egeria, Mystrie, and Deane. The yachts were started under way at 2 o'clock in the

About an hour after the start the Dauntless carried away her foretopmast bringing down her foregaff-topsail. Although thus disabled, the Dauntless kept on the course, and after all came in third, being beaten only by the Guinevere and Egeria—the former taking the first prize. This was the only race in which the Dauntless was engaged since her advent in Great Britain, with the exception of the international contest. The Dauntless was again over-hauled at Cowes last April in preparation for the ocean race. She was newly coppered, her foremast was placed four feet att, and she underwent some other alterations. Her draught of water aft is now twelve feet three inches.

THE CAMBRIA. The Cambria, the property of Mr. J. Ashbury, of the Royal Thames Yacht Club, was built by Mr. Rotsey, of Cowes, and was launched in May, 1868. The Cambria is rated 248 tons by the New York Yacht Club, but she is generally rated as 188, Thames measurement.

The Cambria was expressly designed for speed, and every expedient that experience could suggest was resorted to to insure that ob-Her first appearance as a racing craft was on the 2d of June, 1868, when she had for competitors the Egerla (152 tons), Gloriana (132 tons), and Fleur de Lis (100 tons). In this race the Cambria was the first to reach the winning post, but lost the prize, having to allow her smaller opponents time for difference in tonnage.

On August 4th the French and English yachts were one and all beaten by her; but her crowning performance for the year 1868 was on August 25, when she sailed against the American yacht Sappho, beating her, and at the same time the three fastest English yachts-the Aline, Olmara and the Condor. On August 5, 1869, when sailing for the cup presented by the tradesmen of Cowes, she beat the famous Alarm, a vessel that has won more prizes than any other afloat, and was the only one that could contend with the America.

On August 10, 1869, she was the first of twenty-five yachts that sailed for the Royal Vic-toria Plate. In this race she beat almost every known clipper yacht in England. On July 23 she won the first prize in the Royal Yorkshire Regatta: but her career in this year was cut short by her carrying away both her masts. When there were no matches to be sailed, Mr. Ashbory sent the Cambria to the Mediterranean. and she took part in the ceremony of the opening of the Suez Canal.

Her career as a racing schooner has been quite remarkable. Hunt's Vachting Magazine of December, 1868, says of her--

"On her first appearance in the Thames she was considered a beautiful model, but owing, no doubt, to her want of proper trimming, was judged to be no fiyer. She has since reaped a world-wide fame, beating all the 'cracks' and gaining the championship of the seas."

On January 3, 1870, the Cambria once more returned to Cowes, having experienced very heavy weather after leaving Gibraltar, during which she was hove to for four days and behaved well. She was taken to the slip at Cowes, where she was hauled up to dry and prepare for her struggle with the Dauntless. Her alte rations were not numerous; her bulwarks were raised, and more shear given; additional lug port holes on each side and three or four tons of ead added to her keel comprised the material alterations. There has been no reference to her contests with the Sappho in this sketch, because the public have them still tresh in mind.

RAILROAD OFFICE REMOVALS. The Proposed Removal of the Pennsylvania Railway Offices—The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company to Occupy the Old Location—Interesting Particulars.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will in a few weeks abandon their fine office building at the corner of Third street and Willing's alley for another and still finer one, at the corner of Fourth street and Willing's alley. When the Pennsylvania Rairoad Company built the building that it now occupies, only a few years ago, it was supposed that it had ample office accommodation for all time; but it has spread so wonderfully in acquiring control of the Fort Wayne, the Northern Central, the Philadelphia and Erie, the Elmira, the Cumberland Valley, and some half dozen other smaller railroads, together with the Pennsylvania and Wyoming Canals, that its present accommodations are far short of what is required by its army of clerks with their immense folios of accounts. To meet the increasing wants, the larger building on Fourth street was projected, which will soon be completed. Possession will be obtained some time in the fall, and the company will then immediately remove. The new building is larger and superior in every way to the old, and is better adapted in every particular to the wants of the company. The Lehigh Valley Railroad has bought the old building on Third street, and will take possession as soon as the Pennsylvania evacuates the premises.

-The accounts of the Lehigh Valley Company have, for the last two or three years, been a good deal scattered—some of them in this city, some at Mauch Chunk, some at Bethlehem, and ome, more recently, at Wilkesbarre. It is greatly to be desired to have them all centred at one point, which may be done when the com-pany comes into the possession of its purchase. Though the trade of the Lehigh Valley Railroad is not in scope and magnitude equal to that of the Pennsylvania road, it is nevertheless very large and growing steadily.

Its main and lateral roads now traverse the entire Lehigh coal region, touching almost every coal mine worked in it, and is gradually stretching its rails in tortuous course into the Schuyl-kill region, threatening the Reading Railroad Company with competition for the coal freight from the more northern mines of that prolific field. The new office accommodations of the company will be a great convenience to the public in the transaction of business.

VILLAINOUS.

Female Depravity.

Emma Curtis, aged 16 years, regularly inden-tured to a Mrs. Koeseritz, residing No. 842 North Eleventh street, arose from her bed about 5 o'clock this morning, and making a bundle of almost everything of value in the house, decamped. The first intimation the family had of the matter was a strong odor of gas. An examination disclosed the fact that after gathering ogether all the clothing, jewelry, etc., she could find, she had turned on every gas burner in the lower stories, with a view of smothering the in-mates of the house. Mrs. Koeseritz at once visited the Eighth District Station House and informed Lieutenant Steinauer of the affair, at the same time mentioning a certain locality in which she thought the girl would be found. The Lieutenant detailed two officers to hunt her up. and a few hours subsequently they found her in bagnio on St. Mary street, above Sixth. She was taken before Alderman Massey, who sent her to prison.

FISHING EXTRAORDINARY .- This morning, as the Cape May steamer Arrowsmith was taking in freight and passengers at Arch street wharf. a carriage, loaded with trunks and other seaside paraphernalia, belonging to Mr. E. C. Eby, Market street merchant, by some mishap slipped from the wharf or boat and fell into the water. A rich scene, occasioned by the fishingup process, ensued, much to the amusement of the small boys and others of the lookers-on. driver's full brass-buttoned livery coat, accidentally left by the owner on the seat, accompanied the carriage in its bath, and was fished up with considerable difficulty. Tackle was then procured, and the carriage was landed with about as much difficulty as it would take to land a whale or other monster of the deep, much to the relief of the anxious individual in charge, who the owner of the brass-buttoned coat, which article he took good care to secure first.

S. P. C. A .- Robert McNally was yesterday arrested by Reserve Officer Lynd for cruelty to a horse. Robert, it appears, brought the animal from West Philadelphia early in the morning, and bitched him to a post at Third and Market streets, where he allowed him to remain until late in the afternoon without food or water. Several merchants in the neighborhood complained to the officer about the matter, who arrested Robert as soon as he returned. Alderman Kerr imposed the usual fine.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Important Military Regulations. Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph.

WASHINGTON, July 28,-The Secretary of War has issued instructions for the guidance of officers of the army under the act making appropriations for the support of the army and for other purposes, approved July 15, 1870, which directs: First. Officers who wish to avail themselves o the provisions of sections 3 and 4 of the act are desired to apply for discharge or retirement at the earliest day practicable, and to accompany their application with a statement of reasons of the circumstances, which may serve accurately to determine their cases.

Second. Regimental commanders are directed to assign the lieutenants who hold the appointment of commissary to companies where vacancies exist, or attach them temporarily to companies for duty until vacancies occur, and make special report of their action to the Adju-tant General of the army.

Third. Regimental commanders will discharge the non-commissioned officers referred to in section 10 of the bill, or if the men so elect may appoint them to vacancies in the existing grades of non-commissioned officers, or permit them to serve out their terms as privates.

Fourth. The commanders of the several geographical and military departments will, as soon as they can be prepared, forward to the Adjutant General of the army the names, rank, regiment, and corps of staff or regimental offi-cers who should be brought before the retiring board. In each case the cause, degree nature, and duration of the disqualification will be stated as clearly as possible, and the documentary evidence and list of witnesses necessary to sustain the allegation of unfitness will be furnished.

Fifth. Department and regimental com-manders may recommend for sufficient cause such meritorious officers as from choice or peculiar fitness may be advantageously transferred from one of the arms-cavalry, artillery, or infantry—to another.
Army Orders.

Major L. C. Bootes, unassigned, has been relieved from duty as Indian agent, and will await orders. First Lieutenant George M. Fleming, unassigned, has also been relieved as Indian agent and directed to proceed home to await orders. Lieutenant-Colonel James Totten, Assistant Inspector-General U. S. A., was tried by court-martial at Louisville, April 19, 1870, Colonel C. S. Lovell, 14th United States Infantry, being President of the court, and was found guilty of three charges, viz., disobedience of orders, neglect of duty to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, and conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. The sentence was that he be dismissed the service of the United States, and the proceedings, findings, and sentence having been approved by the President, Lieutenant-Colonel Totten ceased to be an officer of the army from the 22d of July, 1870.

Indian Affairs. Major John Green United States Jarmy, writes to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs from Arizona in regard to the Cayotteras or White Mountain Apache Indians, at their request, and gives a very favorable account of them. About a year ago he was sent out there with a command to punish these Indians for depredations said to have been com-mitted by them, but upon his arrival finding them living peacefully upon a reservation, he thought best not to disturb them. The tribe numbers some 1400 or 1500, and are in a very destitute condition. The Major expressed the belief that if the Indian Bureau would establish an honest agent there and give them a reservation, their civilization would a perfect success. He closes by saying that there "is one thing certain, if we wish to make civilization a success we must make the condition of those desiring it better than that of the hostile Indian, for as long as the wild Indian lives better by marauding than the tame one by planting, it is but little encouragement to the latter, and has a very bad influence.

Inspectorof Mines.

Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph. WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 28. - Thomas M. Williams, Esq., the newly appointed Inspector of Mines, under the recent Mine Inspectorship bill, entered upon the duties of his office to-day. His headquarters are at this place.

THE RECENT DISASTROUS CONFLAGRATION-A CASE FOR THE CHARITABLE .- A visit to the ruins of the recent destructive fire on Race street this morning showed that a portion of the wall on Race street had fallen down, and that the remaining portion on both Race and Crown streets is in imminent danger of toppling over. The police still maintain a clear passage way from Fifth to Fourth streets by means of ropes. Two lines of hose are in service, cooling the bricks and debris surrounding the safes, so that those articles may be taken out.

To the north of the sugar refinery, on Crown street, lived a family by the name of Campbell, consisting of the husband, wife, and two children. Mr. Campbell is in very delicate health, and his wife succeeded in maintaining her family by keeping a small candy store, which was principally patronized by the school children. When the north wall of the reinery fell, on the right of the fire, it carried away the roof and third and second floors of the Campbell dwelling. The bedding, sheeting, etc., which had been removed previously, was made use of in carrying away the injured firemen, and of that which was returned, the most is in a condition rendering it untit for further use. The Campbells had nothing else than the store to depend upon, and have been thrown out of a home. The members of the Neptune Hose Company have opened the doors of their house to the family, and they are now being supported by the contributtons of this organization. Matthias Fury, one of the ilremen admitted to the hospital on Tuesday evening, suffering from injuries received at this fire, died last evening. The other injured firemen admitted at the same time are all in a fair way of recovery.

Pugilistic .- About 123 o'clock this morning a row occurred in the groggery of Michael Morgan, corner of Blackberry alley and Locust street, during the continuance of which one John Kennedy was badly beaten about the head and body. Subsequently Samuel Williams, John Smith, and Sallie Gross were arrested for being concerned in the affray and taken before Alderman Morrow, who sent them to prison. The North Carolina Troubles. RALBIOH, N. C., July 28.—Governor Holden has refused to deliver up the prisoners arrested by Colonel Kirk in Alamance county on the mandate of the Chief Justice. The counsel of the prisoners moved to attach the Governor. The motion was refused by the Chief Justice.

The counsel then moved to attach Colonel Kirk. This motion was also refused. They then moved to send the Marshal of the Supreme Court to Kirk's camp to bring the prisoner in. The motion was refused, the Chief Justice saying it would be idle, as the order would not be obeyed; and that the counsel for the petitioners might take it as a fact that the Marshal had been sent and the prisoners not surrendered. If, as was said by the prisoner's counsel, they intended the application for relief, it should be made by them to the Chief Justice of the United

N. Y. MONEY MARKET YESTERDAY.

"There was a more buoyant tone to the Wall street markets to-day consequent upon better reports from London, where, despite several failures incident to 'settlement day' and arising out of the recent sharp decline in all kinds of securities, American Five-twenties were dealt in at higher prices. The recovery in prices of stocks was quite sharp in the afternoon, but the dealings were on a limited scale owing to a lack of general confidence pending the war in Europe, and hence the markets were dull at "The course of speculation at the Gold Exchange was towards lower quotations. The earliest dealings before the board were somewhat excited on the announcement that the Empress Eugenie had been made regent—a fact suggestive of a vigorous war policy on the part of the Emperor—and gold sold as high as 129%. From this point it receded to 121% on ing bids for more than a million gold at the Sub-Treasury sale at noon. The disproval of this story produced no reaction, for meantime the London telegrams reported five-twenties as advanced to 82, the effect of which was a further de-cline to 121. Afterwards there was a reaction to 12: 12 on the large shipment of specie—the largest of any single day since the beginning of the present European complications. The total shipment was $2,277.65., of which the Scotia took $2.547.557, and the Wisconsin $730,000. The bids for the Government gold were for a total of $6,240,000, at prices ranging from 120 to 121 51. The million was awarded

'There was a still further relaxation in money, and borrowers on call, with piedge of miscellaneous col-laterals, were accommodated at five to six per cent. On Governments the rate was three to four per cent. double name acceptances at seven per cent.

THERE ARE MANY SOLDIERS AND Sailors, their orphans and widows, and their beirs, who have good claims for arrears of pay, bounty, prize money, commutation of travel or commutation of ra ions, which ought to be paid them.

In many such cases applications have been made, but remain unsettled for want of proof or from neglect, and frequently from incompetency of the agent who filed the claim. We will give advice to our comrades when written to for it or called upon, free of any charge, gladly.
