THE TWO NAPOLEONS.

Myren's Ode to the First, and its Applicability Some stanza - from Lord Byron's famous Ode to Napoleon Bonaparte will be read with pecu-Har interest, from the marvellous accuracy with which they apply to the circumstances of Napoleon III:-

"Tis done-but vesterday a king! And armed with kings to strive; And now thou art a nameless thing! So abject - yet alive! Is this the man of thousand thrones,

Who strewed our earth with hostile bones. And can be thus survive? Since he, mi-called the Morning Star. Nor man nor flend hath fallen so far. Hi-minded man! why scourge thy kind Who bow'd so low the knee? By gazing on thyself grown blind, Thou taught'st the rest to see,

With might unquestioned -power to save -Thine only gift hath been the grave To those that worshipped thee; Nor till thy fall could mortals guess Ambition's less than littleness! Thanks for that lesson! it will teach To after-warriors more Than high philosophy can preach, And vainly preached before. That spell upon the minds of men Breaks never to unite again, That led them to adore Those Pagod things of sabre sway With fronts of brass and feet of clay.

The triumph and the vanity, The rapture of the strife The earthquake voice of Victory, To thee breath of life. The sword, the sceptre and that sway Which man seemed made but to obey, Wherewith renown was rife-

All quell'd! - Dark spirit! what must be The madness of thy memory! The Desola o desolate! The Victor overthrown! The Arbiter of others' fate A Suppliant for his own! litsome yet imperial hope

Or dread of death alone? odle a prince -or live a slave-Thy choice is most ignobly brave! He who of old would rend the oak, Dream'd not of the rebound, Chain'd by the trunk he vainly broke --Thou in the steruness of thy strength An equal deed hast done at length, And darker fate hast found: He fell, the forest prowler's prey: But thou must eat thy heart away

The Roman, when his burning heart Was slaked with blood at Rome, Threw down the dagger, dared depart In savage grandeur home; He dared depart in utter scorn Of men that such a yoke had borne Yet left bim such a doom.

His only glory was that hour Of self-upheld abandoned power. The Spaniard, when the lust of sway Had lost its quickening spell, Cast crowns for rosaries away— An empire for a cell; A strict accountant of his beads, A subtle disputant of creeds, His dotage trifled well.

Yet better he had neither known A bigot's shrine nor despot's throne. But thou-from thy reluctant hand The thunderbolt is wrung —
Too late thou leav'st the high command To which thy weakness clung; All evil spirit as thou art,

It is enough to grieve the heart To see thine own unstrung, To think that God's fair world hath been The footstool of a thing so mean. And earth hath spllt her blood for him, Who thus can hoard his own! And Monarchs bow'd the trembling limb, Fair Freedom! we may hold thee dear, When thus thy mightiest fees their fear In humblest guise have shown. Oh! ne'er may tyrants leave behind A brighter name to lure mankind! Thine evil deeds are writ in gore, Nor written thus in vain— Thy triumphs tell of fame no more.

And thanked him for a throne!

Or deepen every stain: If thou hadst died as honor dies, Some new Napoleon might arise, To shame the world again— But who would soar the solar height To set in such a starless night? Weigh'd in the balance, hero dust

Is vile as vulgar clay;
Thy scales, Mortality! are just
To all that pass away;
But yet methought the living great, Some higher sparks should animate, To dazzle and dismay: Nor deem'd contempt could thus make mirth Of these, the Conquerors of the earth.

There was a day—there was an hour While earth was Gaul's—Gaul thine— When that immeasurable power Unsated to resign

Had been an act of purer fame Than gathers round Marengo's name And gilded thy decline Through the long twilight of all time Despite some passing clouds of crime. But thou forsooth must be a king And don the purple vest— As if that foolish robe could wring Remembrance from thy breast. Where is that faded garment? Where The gewgaws thou wert fond to wear? The star, the string, the crest? Vain, froward child of empire! say

Are all thy playthings snatch'd away? *Magenta's.

1st Dist —Chas, W Willard. 2d Dist —Luke P. Poland. 2d Dist.—Worthington C Smith. The Republican State ticket is made up of new men entirely, while the three names on the Democratic State ticket are the same that were defeated a year ago. The three Republican candidates for Congress are all members of the present Congress. The Democratic candidates street, next door to Post Office,

tor Congress in the Second and Third districts | have escaped our attention, but their names are not of the slightest consequence, as the Democracy do not expect to make gains sufficiently large to be of any use to them. was dissension in the Democratic ranks, the total opposition vote is included under the head of Democratic, and the lowest Republican plurality is given. The vote for 1867, marked thus (†), is that cast for Lieutenant-Governor. For Governor the vote then stood 40,359 Republican, and total opposition 51,993-Governor Haight's vote being 49,905, and his majority 9546. This was caused by the strong opposition of all the leading Republican journals to the nomination and election of George C. Gorham, now Secretary of the Senate, the nominal Republican candidate, against whom there was manifested an unconquerable prejudice in the ranks of his party. In 1868 it will be observed that the Republicans carried the State for President by the bare majority of 514 votes, while the aggregate vote for members of Congress the same year showed a Democratic majority of 675. In 1869 the only election held was that for Judges, which never takes place at the time for holding the ordinary political elections, and the vote polled was so small-aggregating only 67,628-that it is of no significance. The ublicans staid at home on the occasion, and the Democrats elected all their candidates, one of those for the Supreme Court having a majority of 5656, and the other 10,393. Wife-Everybody that I know is in ecstacy over Plantation Bitters, and I am going to try them myself. I am assured by several of my friends that the Bitters will cure my dyspepsis, and at the same time do away with that terrible nausea which you know I am at times subject to. The doctor was in yesterday, and says that all I want is a tonic, and that Plantation Bitters is the best that can be got. Charley-It is just the thing, my dear; and it

Do not no it, in fact you must not do it. It would be wrong for any lady or gentleman to attempt to purchase clothing for their sons or themselves without first examining the large and superior stock at Rockhill & Wilson's, and if they do not find it superior in quality, out, make, and trimming o and at lower price than any other clothing establishment in the city, don't purchase. Our beautiful and substantial all-wool heavy cloth and cassimore suits, for fall and winter, which are going off by thousands, both in the city and country, all for $15, coat, vest and pauts. They astonish the trade to understand how we furnish them at the price. It is hardly necessary to say anything in regard to our customer department. That is so well and favorably known that every gentleman in the city is ROCKBILL & WILSON,

A NEW AND HEALTHFUL ARTICLE OF FOOD,-The SEA MOSS FARINE, manufactured from Irish Moss. by the Rand Sea Moss Farine Company, has been placed on our table at different times, and proves to be one of the best, most nutritious, and easily digested of all the farinas now in use. It is palatable to the taste, is lighter and less compact than any other farina, and hence better adapted to weak stomachs, to dyspeptics, to invalids, and ad persons of frail constitutions. In cases where taploca, sago, barley, corn st-rob, maiz-na, and similar articles are beneficial, the Sea Moss Parine is not only a substitute, but has advantages which neither of them possess, because the main ingredient of the moss has been considered by medical men for many years as baving invaluable remedial properties. It is particularly recommended for pectoral affections, serofulous complaints, diarraces, etc. -Editor Hall's Journal of Health.

(Owing to the telegraphic interruptions the following despatches have not reached us until some hours after they were due. - ED.) The Aob at the Corps Legislatif.

Paris, Sept. 5-Noon,-An enormous crowd is now about the Corps Legislatif building, where the Deputies are to meet at one o'clock. Military Precautions to preserve order have been taken on a large scale. Though the people do not seem to be inclined to rioting, yet they are much excited and demand the "Decheance." At this time masses of people from all parts of the city are going towards the Legislatif buildings, shouting "A la Chambre!" "Decheance!" etc. Thousands among these are members of the National Guard, who, without arms, join in shouting and urge all they meet to go to the Legislatif buildings. It is hoped the measures taken will secure quiet. macMahon Reported Dead. It is reported that MacMahon is dead.

Paris, Sept. 5.—The members of the Provisional Government who were cited to appear and deliberate are now assembled at the Hotel de Ville. Henry Rochefort, who has been liberated, is assisting at this meeting.

Keratry has been appointed Prefect of Police, vice Pietri, and Etienne Arago Mayor of Paris . Extraordinary Excitement. The people outside the building are in a state of extrordinary excitement. From time to time

It is remarked that the soldiers of all regiments mix among the people unarmed, and are shouting "Vive Republique!" From the entrances and windows of all the barracks the soldiers salute the people. The Fing Lowered on the Tutleries. At four o'clock in the afternoon the flag was lowered on the Tuileries. It is said the Empress has gone, and the people are rushing through the Tuileries. Death to Thiers.

Placards have been posted in various places containing the words, "Death to Thiers!" Trochs Demanded by the People.

Panis, Sept. 5-5 A. M.—Manifestations were kept up during the entire night, crowds demanding Dechesnee. General Trochu was shouted for, and on appearing he spoke to the crowd, saying he had taken an oath and as an honest man he could not break it. The Chambers must answer them. At midnight crowds assembled before the Corps Legislatif building and shouted that the Emperor having fallen into the hands of the enemy, it was now time for the people to rise and chase out the invader. A Determination "Worthy of France." The Corps, however, adjourned till to-day, assurances baving been given that the day should not pass without some determination worthy of France. Later in the evening a large crowd assembled on the Boulevard Bonne Nouelle parading and shouting "Decheance" and "Vive France." The Police Fire on the Mob. They were charged by the police, who used firearms, and it is reported that some of the citizens were mortally wounded. At this early hour in the morning great crowds are in the streets, and the journals are sought with extreme avidity.

The Popular Agitation

is very great, and the feeling against the invaders is singularly unanimous. Bloting in the Streets of Paris. Paris, Sept. 5 .- Early this afternoon the crowd met a squad of police and shouted "Vive to Republique!" Those of the police who did not respond were immediately disarmed by the people and their swords broken, and they were then allowed to go unarmed and unharmed. The Boulevards at this hour are almost impassable on account of the crowds of people. The National Guard has succeeded in preserving order so far. The Ex-Emperor. BRUSSELS, Sept. 5-Noon .- It is positively asserted that the Emperor Napoleon has arrived at Bouillon, escorted by detachments of Prussians and French. Liege has been selected as his place of detention. Several of Eugenio's ladies of honor have arrived at Brussels.

LATEST. The Meb Destroying in Spite and Pury. Paris, Sept. 5-6-12 P. M.-Mobs continue to tear down signs containing the Imperial arms and medals. In some cases the people have climbed up the highest stories to tear from the theatres the word "Imperial." Extreme care is evinced to respect the arms of other nations. In one of the streets a large crowd was upon the point of tearing down a representation of the American eagle, who, upon ascertaining their mistake, shouled loudly, "Vive la Republique Americaine." The police are no longer to be seen in the
