DESTRUCTIVE FIRE. An Extensive Carpet finantiactory in Ruins-Loss Over $100,000 - The Insurances - Spon-

The extensive carpet manufactory establishment situated on the N. E. corner of Jasper and York streets, in the Nineteenth ward, owned and occupied by James Bromley & Brothers, was totally de-stroyed by fire shortly after 5 o'clock this morning. The main structure was, including a basemens, four stories in height, to which there was a two-story attachment used as a drying house, in which the boilers were located. Still in the rear was a one-story dye-house. The bailding occupied a space of 47 by 150 feet, and its construction cost $22,000, The basement was used for the cost $22,000, The basement was used for the storage of wool and undyed yarns. On the first floor were the office, sample-room, and card-room. The second floor was devoted to spinning and picking machines. On the third floor were a number of looms, warping mills, specing frames, and a quantity of dyed yarns. The fourth-floor was the main weaving apartment, staining some 95 looms. It is now the height of the season, and the factory was in full operation. The stock was very heavy, it being the intention of the firm to start night as well as day work next week. As it was there were 150 hands who have been thrown out of

Of the main building nothing but the walls remain, and of the drying-house the first floor was saved and the dye-house escaped the fire. There seems to be no doubt that the fire originated from spontaneous combustion. The watchman, after daylight, fires up the boilers and gets up steam for the engineer, who arrives shortly before 7 o'clock. He had done this work this morning, and gone to do some aweeping in the office. On returning to the drying-room he discovered the contents, jute yarns hanging on poles, all in flames. Jute being of a decidedly inflammable nature, the flames soon spread through the roof, and then they communicated with the main building through the windows on the north side. Several of the workmen, at the time of the discovery of the flames, were at their looms, and a hurried exit saved them their lives.
In addition to the immense quantities of stock in the process of manufacture destroyed the firm lose 10,000 yards of carpets which were ready for shipment and 5000 yards which were in the looms.

The firm estimate their loss at above $100,000, as follows:—On buildings, $22,000; machinery, $30,000; The insurance reaches $75,000, divided among the

The display this year promises to be more grand and beautiful than anything which has before been gotten up by the organization. A special effort has been made, and there is little doubt but that the effort will be crowned with success. A Suspicious Case.—On Thursday night one Henry O'Neill, residing No. 1414 Belgrade street, died at the Episcopal Hospital, from injuries alleged to have been received from the kick of a horse. Deputy Coroner Saes, on being notified, made an examination of the matter. At first he was told that O'Neill had been kicked at the stable of John Gallagher, on Edgemont street, but on inquiring there this was discovered untrue. It was then rumored that the deceased and his wife had been engaged in a quarrel and fight on Tuesday night, during which Henry's head came in contact with the stove. In order to get at the truth of the case, an inquest will be held this afternoon.

THE COAL TRADE.

The State of the Trade Dissatisfaction with the August Rate of Wages—Questations, Etc.

The state of the trade during the past week has been unsection. The prices remain about the same, but there have been decided symptoms of weakness. In New York 2 good market is reported. The rates of freights on coastwise vessels have been tending downward. Barges were in good demand and their rates are steady.

rates are steady.

The disagreement between the Schuylkill operators and men on account of the August award of wages still continues.

It seems that the men, being misinformed by their It seems that the men, being misinformed by their leaders or by injudicious firms, had not expected any reduction, and consequently there is great dissatisfaction. A stoppage on Monday is talked of, but will probably amount to nothing. If, however, it should be necessary to further reduce in the September rate, which is probable, trouble may be again expected. The men are satisfied with the existing rule when the rates are over $8.5 but think it is a very zero one when the price is lower. The men very poor one when the price is lower. The mer also say that the late award was made in an irregular and unfair manner, in regard to choosing the representative firms from an examination of whose business the rate was to be reckoned. In reply to a request from the officers of the W. B. A. that the question of rate for the August should be reopened, the committee of the Anthracite Board of opened, the committee of the Antiracite Board of Trade have written a letter of which the following is an abstract:—"We cannot see any just ground for any further discussion on that subject, it having been closed by each committee signing an agreement on the part of their respective associations. This agreement we hold to be bindled that the part of the part of their respective associations. This agreement we hold to be bindled that the part of their respective associations are composed to the part of the upon us, and cannot be broken at nout the consent of all the parties thereto.

"In relation to the point raised on the question on the advance and decline, requiring coal to fall or advance fully twenty-five cents in price before a reduction or advance of 8% per cent, can be made, we have to say that your own committee suggested and agreed that the plan in force last year should govern the fixing of the rates this year. To this our committee assented, and these points were settled by unanimous consent of both committees. "In reference to the point raised, that the selection of John Lucas & Co. was irregular, they not having shipped over 40,000 tons last year, we reply that the three collieries in which Mr. Lucas is interested shipped last year, according to Bannan's Coal Regis-ter, 40,985 tons. From this register the list was ter, 40,985 tons. From this register the list was made up, from which your representatives selected three operators and our representatives two. Be-lieving that list should be amended for the next month by adding thereon all parties capable shipping over that rate this year, you and Mr. Ken-drick were appointed a committee to so amend this list, thus virtually agreeing to the list from which the selections were made for August. Should we agree to the statement of Messrs. Lucas & Co. being thrown out, we would of course have the choice of another, and as you distinctly stated that you knew of parties whose average for coal was less than that of Messrs. Lucas & Co., our selection, according to our right, of one of these parties, would leave the wages exactly as they now are, though the wages would be less. "A violation of your contract with us at this time will result in a perfect loss of confidence in anything that may be done by your committee in the future, and can only prove disastrous. "For the reasons, given, we therefore decidedly decline reopening questions so fully and fairly discussed and unanimously agreed to by both com-

This shows exactly how the matter stands. The question is not yet settled. According to Saward's circular, the Schuylkill region to Thursday, Sept. 1st, was 768,191 tons behind its last year's business. To Saturday, August 27th, the Betaware and Hudson Canal Company were 998,669 tons ahead of their last year's production. The Pennsylvania Coal Company, 116,636 tons; the D. L. & W. R. R. Company, 802,508 tons; the Lehigh Valley Railroad had carried 872,364 tons more; and the Lehigh and Susquehanna Railroad and Lehigh Canal, 222,576 tons. It is to make good this deficiency that the Reading Railroad Company think best to raise the tells so heavily. It remains to be seen whether, with the present state of the market, a smaller ad-vance and a still greater increased business would not make it up more quickly. At Mauch Chunk the shipments by all routes, for the week, were 180,05979 tons, against 180,106-11 tons for previous week, and 197,559-15 tons for cor-Wholesale Dealers' Tax.

Despatch to the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The Acting Com-missioner of Internal Revenue has reversed the recent ruling respecting the sales of wholesale dealers. It is now held that such sales are included among those exempted by section two of the act of July 14, 1870, and that those made after the 30th instant are not to be taxed. Sales of leaf tobacco, manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, foreign and domestic distilled spirits and wines continue to be liable after that date.

Tobacco and the Revenue. The acting Commissioner decides that every cutting machine used in manufacturing tobacco. whether worked by hand or any other kind of power, must be bonded by the manufacturer in $3000, under section 63, act of July 20, 1868. He also instructs manufacturers that tobacco kegs must be so made as to leave sufficient space between the hoops round the centre of the kegs as to admit attaching the stamps prescribed by regulations, series five, number

They may, to accomplish this, use thicker hoops and less of them in number. With the knowledge of frauds perpetrated on the revenue by using stamped heads, the bureau will not consent to the stamping of any kind of wooden package, as a rule, on the heads.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

Detective Belligerent and Editor in Trouble. Court of Quarter Sessions-Judge Panson. Our readers will recollect the fact of Colonel Enoch Greene, of the Sanday Transcript, being met in the street last Monday by Detective Joshua Taggart and being threatened by him. Of course Mr. Taggart was arrested on complaint of Colonel Greene, and Alderman Dougherty bound him over in the sum of $500 to keep the peace until next month.

bound him over in the same of the same of the month.

Colonel Greene deemed this amount 'insufficient' for his personal safety, and therefore this morning moved the Court to increase it. Mr. Taggart appeared in response to the notice of th's motion. Colonel Greene narrated to the Court the circumstances of Mr. Taggart accosting him in the street, using the most abusive language, and telling him to prepare himself, for he would surely kill him.

A number of witnesses testified to the same matter.

Mr. Taggert admitted the whole thing in open court.

He said Colonel Greene had endeavored to blacken his character in his paper, and he throatened to kill him if the libel was repeated.

Colonel Greene denied that the threat was accompanied by any such qualification, but asserted that it was absolute.

The Judge condemned the course adopted by Mr. Tag-gart to redress a supposed wrong, and increased the secu-rity to the sum of $3000.

CAMORS. A LOVE STORY.

OCTAVE FEUILLET Author of "The Romance of a Poor Young Man."

TRANSLATED FROM THE FRENCH OF

"Camors" has created an immense sensation in Paris. It is the last romance of Octave Feuillet, and is incomparably his most interesting work. It is a perfect panorama of Parisian life, with all its bright lights and sombre shadows. The Count de Camors is to French life to-day what Pelilam was to English. Young, handsome, rarely gifted, rich, suc-cessful, the Count de Camors is the typical Frenchman of the late Empire. All who wish to see the inner life of Paris as it is in its higher spheres, and the social rottenness concealed under that glittering pageant-French society-should read this book. In the whole range of fiction, no nobler characters were ever painted than those in this work.
