The general appearance of the interior or church proper is at once bright, beautiful, and commodious. The first thing that strikes the eye is the profusion of stained glass of variegated colors. The windows on either side of the chancel, six feet by four in size, are marvels of artistic skill. In either window are 365 pieces of stained glass of different colors. A centre medallion in each consists of sixty three pieces in a space of sixteen inches in diameter. One of these medallions represents a descending dove surrounded with a gloria, and the other Agnus Dei, or the Lamb of God, both emblems being beautifully wrought.

The glass composing these diamonds is corrugated, which gives a peculiarly-jewelled effect to them, and around them, or surrounding the edge of each window, is a rich green border representing a vine. The general effect of these windows is remarkably brilliant, and through them 1.15 a soft, subdued light, in admirable keeping with the sacred character of the building.

The windows in the galleries are of the same general character, but have but one section each.

The chancel has been newly frescoed and ex-tended, and is covered with a bright vermillion Brussels carpet of handsome design. Five beauti-tifully-made oiled walnut chairs, covered with velvet plush of a rich dark color, are placed in the pulpit and chancel. The pulpit is of most beautiful and graceful design, and painted white, tipped with gold; it is ornamented with Corinthian scroll-work, gold: it is ornamented with Corinthian Scroit-work, and contains a desk so arranged that gas jets shed light on books or manuscript placed on it, while the jets are hidden from the view of the congregation.

In front of the pulpit in the centre of the chancel is placed a handsome table, painted white, picked with gold, and covered with a slab of white Italian marb'e. The gas-fixtures throughout the building are entirely new, those in the body of the church being triplet style of burners and containing ground glass shades. The organ has been completely repaired, repainted, and ornamented. The walls of the entire interior of the church are painted a dove-colored tint relieved with white. Altogether, the audience-chamber of this church is scarcely excelled for beauty and comfort by any other in this city.

For many years Trinity Church has been a principal place of worship of the most refined and cultured members of the Methodist denomination in the city, and the effort is now being made, under the new pastor, the Rev. H. A. Cleveland, to maintain the high reputation for usefulness this church has ever maintained in the city, and to provide for the steady spread of Methodism in this community.

THE COAL TRADE.

The Trade and its Prospects—The Situation in Schuyikill—Quotations, Etc.

The trade at this port is reported in a slightly better condition, but with no change in prices as yet. The fall demand has now commenced, and a somewhat better business is looked forward to for the rest of the month. The fear of a possible partial strike next month has the effect of adding somewhat to the demand.

what to the demand. In the Lehigh region the trade is said to be in about the same condition as it was during last week. The business done was not extraordinarily large considering what is generally expected, but last week there were 2000 more tons shipped from Lehigh than from Schuylkill. This is largely owing to the advanced rates of toll on the Reading road. This advance has not been very favorably received in all overstar. The market at the present timeses in any quarter. The market at the present time can ill afford it. Beside the talk of the stoppage by the men on account of a too low rate, there are also rumors of a stoppage by the operators, so that the prices may be run up sufficiently to cover the advance. Very many concede that Schuylkill cannot long keep up at present rates, and a better market

Is much longed for.

There is still some sign of trouble among the Schuylkill men, though the more sensible of them are advising that no stoppage be made on the part of the men even if the September rates are much lower than those of August. It has been said, and possibly truly, that the men have had enough striking for the present, and will continue work. Time will show what the issue will be. They certainly would show common sense by so doing. show common sense by so doing.

ItThe men, however, generally regard the late agreement in the light of a big mistake, and so express themselves. Some few advise one another very sensibly that if this one mistake has been made, it is no reason that they should rush blizdly into another by striking again. This is as good advice as has come from that source for a long time. The drought has seriously interfered with the operation of some of the Schuylkill collieries. Some have not sufficient water to supply their boilers by reason of the diminishing and drying up of the mountain streams.

The transportation at Mauch Chunk during the week, over both railroads and canal, amounted to 122,257-17 tons, against 180,059-19 tons the previous week, a decrease of 7,802 02 tons. In the corresponding week of 1869, the amount was 75,827 11 tons, an increase for 1870 of 46,430 06, The following are the prices of coal by the cargo

TERMINATION OF AN IMPORTANT SUIT .- The Court of Common Pleas, on Friday, confirmed the audi-Boker, deceased.

It will be remembered that Mr. Charles S. Boker was to his lifetime President of the Girard Bank, and after his death the bank made a large claim aga M-t the estate, amounting to nearly a million of dollars. The case was referred to Furman Shep-pard as suditor, and several years were consumed in taking testimony and hearing the argument of counsel for and against the claim. Mr. Sheppard several months ago, made his report, a voluminous document, allowing a claim of about $13,000, but reporting against the balance of the charge. Excep-tions were filed by the bank against this report, and an elaborate argument followed. Yesterday the Court decided in favor of Mr. Sheppard's report, and therefore the present litigation, which has ex-tended over a period of ten years, has been closed.

DEMISE OF A WELL-KNOWN CRICKETER.—The death of William Hammond, the well-known professional cricketer, is announced. Previous to the breaking out of the war Mr. Hammond was profesbreaking out of the war Mr. Hammond was professionally engaged with the old Germantown C. C., and many of our most skilful cricketers, now to manhood grown, will remember that in their boyhood days he was looked upon as one of the most formidable exponents of the noble game. He was at one time professional bowier of the New York Club, and a few years since was attached to the Boston Club. At the time of his death he was Manager of the Union Base-Ball Club. His death was occasioned by congestion of the lungs and typhola fever. Mr. Hammond was esteemed by all who knew him.

FORGER CAPTURED.—John Muldoon is the driver of a coke wagon. Yesterday he presented to a man doing business on South street an order for $5, purported to have been signed by George Ritchie, the keeper of a feed store at Passyunk road and Eighth street. The order was cashed, and subsequently discovered to be a forgery. John was arrested and admitted the fact. Alderman Bonsall sent him below.

HOMICIDE.

Victim a Freman on the New Jersey southern Railroad and a steadent of Manchester, Crean county, N. J.

The Eleven's ward was the scene of another homicide last night, the victim being a respectable citizen of Manchester, Ocean county, N. J., named Charles Carrigan, aged about 30 years. He was employed as fireman on a freight train on the New Jersey Southern Railroad, and is represented to have been an industrious and hard-working man. The facts of the sad affair, as far as ascertained, are these: Mr. Carrigan reached this city about ten o'clock last evening, in the company of Wm. Layton, a fellow workman on the New Jersey Southern Railroad. They landed at Market street wharf. Passing up Water street, they were attracted by the music of a fiddle to the dance house of Daniel McCarty, just above Callowhill street, into which place they entered, never dreaming for a moment of the character of the shebang.

A dance was in progress at the time, and Carrigan joined in the festivities. Of the noted characters present there were two longshoremen named Reddy Mullin and Pat Callahan. With Mullin Carrigan had some words, and the latter made a pass at the former, but did not strike him. Mullin struck back, whereupon Callahan interfered. The latter pulled Mullin away and dealt Carrigan a heavy blow on the side of the face, felling him to the floor. Mr. Carrigan was a heavily built man and nearly six feet high. In the fall his head came in contact with the floor, and he died in a few moments after. Mullin and Callahan soon after the occurrence fied and have not yet been arrested. Ocean county, N. J.

and Callahan soon after the occurrence fled and have not yet been arrested.

Lieutenant Brurein, when notified of the affair.

ordered the arrest of the proprietor of the place and William Layton, the friend of deceased, and and William Layton, the Friend of deceased, and retained them as witnesses before the Coroner's jury. Deceased was married only a month ago. He was a firemen on the Delaware and Raritan Raticad for three years previous to the sale of that road to the New Jersey Southern Railroad Com-road for three years previous to the sale of that road to the New Jersey Southern Railroad Compary.

THE INQUEST.

At eleven o'clock this morning the Coroner summoned a jury and held an inquest on the body at the Seventh District Station House. The testimony elicited before the jury was as follows:—

Charles J. Quimby sworn—I reside at Manchester, Ocean county, N. J.; I knew deceased; haw him last at 10 o clock last night when he landed 2. Market street wharf; he was sober at the time; he said he was going to buy a suit of clothes; he was apparently in good health and perfectly sober; know nothing of the occurrence.

William Layton Sworn—I reside at Farmington, N. J.; I am a brakestan on the New Jersey Southern Railroad; saw him last evening; when we came to Pemberton Carrigan got on our train; he came to Camden, and then crossed the river, saying that he wanted to get a suit of clothes; we passed up Water street near Callowhill, and stopped at a dance house there and took a drink; a dance was proposed and Carrigan took part; don't know the name of the parties there; I did not dance; I saw Carrigan throw his arms at some tall man; a little man, with red hair, then struck Carrigan; the big fellow pushed the little man away and struck deceased; I saw no weapon used; I picked Carrigan up, and found him dying; deceased cnly had three drinks during the evening.

Daniel McCarty sworn—I reside at No. 403 North Front street; keep a tavern there; know Mullin and Callahan; Mullin visited my heuse several times; Callahan was only there twice; I was home at the time of the occurrence last night; Layton and Carrigan came in about half past 10 o'clock; they had a drink and went out; they returned when four men were dancing; Carrigan struck at Mullin as if to knock his hat off; Mullin struck back, when Gallahan are the only persons who participated; Layton and deceased had three drinks in my house; Carrigan a blow in the face; I here sent for an officer; this affair only occupied three or four minutes; there were fourteen or dollars; Callahan then struck him twice in the face; the second blow felled him to the floor; Callahan then walked out; he returned in a few moments, and seeing the condition of the man, he said, "I am sorry for this—I would not have this to occur for anything;" did not see Mullin do anything, except pub out his arm.

Margaret Thomas and Michael Kyle were examined as witnesses; their testimony was corroborative of that previously elicited.

Dr. Shapleigh testified—I made a post-mortem examination of the body; I found a bruise in front of the left ear and slight abrasion over the right cheek bone; there was a slight abrasion over the right cheek bone; there was a slight abrasion over the right cheek bone; there was a slight abrasion of the brain and a bruise upon the back of the head; this latter bruise was about one inch in diameter; the external bruises were slight; I found a great congestion of the brain and a large amount of effused blood above the base of the brain; deceased came to his death from compression and congestion of the brain caused by violence—either from blows or a fall.

The Coroner's jury rendered the following verdict:—That the deceased came to his death from violent blows on the head received at the hands of Patrick Callahan and Reddy Mullin, at No. 402 North Water street, on the night of Sept. 16, 1870,

MEETING OF REPUBLICAN CONFEREES .- At noon to-day a meeting was held at the Bingham House, Eleventh and Market streets, of the Congressional Republican Nominating Conferees of Montgomery and Lehigh counties, 'Mr. George W. Corson in the chair. These counties constitute the Sixth Congressional district. Mr. John H. Oliver, of Lehigh, was ominated for Congress by a unanimous vote. Mr. Oliver being informed of the result was brought before the conferees, and thanked them in a short speech.

He mentioned the relations of himself and party in the district. He thought that a systematic effort, and particularly the keeping of the tariff question before the constituents, would do much in carrying the district, and especially Montgomery county. The county should be as one in favor of the tariff. Mr. Oliver was replied to by several members of the conference, who thought that the prospects were very tavorable. The Democratic majority had been coming down steadily at every election. The district was rich in mineral resources. A protectionist only could be favored.

The chairman announced that the Democratic nominee had a strong free trade record.

At the same hour and place a meeting of the Reware and Chester counties was held for the purpose of mominating a candidate for State Senator. The names of Messrs. Evans, of Chester county, and Yeakel, of Montgomery, were before the meeting, but up to a late hour no decision had been arrived at. THE MORFALITY OF THE CITY.-The number of deaths in the city for the week ending at noon today was 279, being an increase of 12 over those of last week, and an increase of 12 over those of last week, and an increase of 37 over the correspond-ing period of last year. Of these, 143 were adults; 136 were minors; 207 were born in the United States; 65 were foreign; 15 were people of color; and 12 were from the country. Of this number, 42 died of consumption of the lungs; 10 of disease of the heart; 17 of marasmus; 10 of old age; 16 of typhoid fever; 10 of convulsions; 1 of scarlet fever; 6of inflammation of the lungs; 3 of congestion of the brain; 12 of debility; and 19 of cholera infantum. The deaths were divided as follows among the different wards :-
