IUBICAL AND DRAMATIC.

AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC Shakespeare's historical tragedy of Julius Owsar will, we are assured, be performed this evening, Mr. J. E. McDonough having volunteered to assume the role of "Casca" in place of Mr. Mark Smith. The entire company is now in the city, and we believe that the public can rest assured that there will be no disappointment this time. The cast for Julius Owsar is a very strong one, and a performance of unusual excellence may be a performance of unusual excellence may be expected.

THE HANDEL AND HAYDN SOCIETY .- The directors of the Handel and Haydn Society have secured the new Music Hall No. 445 North Fifth street, below Noble, as a rehearsal-room during the present season. This location is expected to prove more agreeable and convenient in every way, especially to the lady members of the society than the old one in Washington Hall, and it is hoped that the change will aid in exciting a new interest in the association. The first rehearsal of the season took place last evening, when the society began to practice for the oratorio of Daniel, which will be produced at the Academy of Music on the 1st of Decem-

[COMMUNICATED.]

William M. Bunn. To the Editor of The Evening Telegraph:-Your wellknown independence, and the fact that the columns of your journal are at all times open to an expression of "voices from the people," justify and encourage me in venturing to say a few words in favor of a gentleman who has many times offered the shield of his body for the protection of our Government, when it was so ruthlessly assailed by the traitors who sought its destruction. Appreciating that THE EVENING TELEGRAPH is an independent journal, I do not, of course, lose sight of the fact that you have no candidates to whose interest you are bound; but as I have ever found you, personally and as an editor, ready to espouse the cause of any one who is persecuted, I feel assured you will admit this hastilywritten communication into your columns.

Enemies, political and personal, have raised a "hue and cry" against William M. Bunn, the Republican candidate for Register of Wills. What for? On what account? What has he done to merit the crusade that has been instituted against him? Can any one tell? So far as I am informed, and I have watched the matter closely, there is absolutely no basis for a charge against either the integrity, the moral character, or the political fidelity of Mr. Bunn. It was charged against him that he obtained his nomination by fraud, and that the convention was "packed." I was a member of that convention, Mr. Editor, and although not elected to it in the interest of any particular person, I was the friend of Mr. Moran; but I must say, if you will a'low me, that I was never in a convention where the choice of the members was more fairly and deliberately made known.

Now, who is this Mr. Bunn? A modest and rather unassuming gentleman, who served the ordinary time of apprenticeship to the the business of a carver. His employer sent him out into the world as a good workman and an honest man, and immediately thereafter the Government called for troops to sustain it against the rebels who sought its destruction. Mr. Buun, as did thousands of other young men, responded to this call, and for three years fought his way under the flag of the Union, until, wounded and in an alhouse of the South known as the Libby Prison. On his return home, or shortly afterwards, he was elected as a member of the Legislature, and I challenge any man to produce a better record as a mem-

Mr. Bunn seeks an office for which he is altogether capable. Brave in the army, he is in civil life prudent and discreet, and will fill the office to which he aspires with credit to himself and satisfaction to the public. "A TRUE REPUBLICAN."

CITY ITEMS.

FALL OVERCOATS.—A Fine Assortment, very com-fortable in place of the Linen Duster, for travelling at this season. Prices moderate. BENNETT & CO., Half-way between Fifth and Sixth streets. No. 518 MARKET STREET.

A CROSS HUSBAND .- Mrs. Smith-The fact is, my husband is becoming so outrageously cross and nervous that there is no living with him. He pretends one day that he has got the dyspepsia; the next day liver complaint; the next is sick, with no appetitedeclares that there is nothing on the table fit to eat, and so on. It is all nonsense, and nothing but his confounded ugliness. From the very bottom of my heart, I believe he wants to worry me to death.

Lady Friend-Mrs. Smith, I think you are wrong. No woman has a kinder or more indulgent husband than you, I must confess that I have noticed a change in Mr. Smith; but am inclined to think that all he wants is a tonic; and if I were you, I would not be a day without PLANTATION BITTERS in the house. Make him take them moderately three times a day, and in a short time I think you will see a change. My experience is that Plantation Bitters is one of the best and most delicious tonics in the world; and that for nervousness, loss of appetite, dyspepsia, and all kindred complaints, there is nothing so good.
