

BISHOP WHITEHOUSE AND REV. MR. CHENEY.

To the Editor of the Evening Telegraph. It may be a comfort to those of our fellow citizens who have the welfare of law-breaking clergymen of the Episcopal Church so much at heart to know that the proposed canon suspending ministers who have promised obedience to ecclesiastical authority, and who to escape punishment appeal to the civil courts, has not passed—though, to the credit of the ministers of the Church be it said, they passed it by a large majority. The lay vote was a tie, and the Bishop decided the canon lost. So the "great scandal and injury to the cause of religion and morality" which was feared is not so imminent. But it is perhaps rather loose phrasing to say that in speaking of the "reason for this fresh enactment," that it was to be found in the action of a clergyman who was arraigned for the "high crime of officiating in the church building of another denomination, or some similar offense"—unless in your judgment all offenses against church authorities are "similar." The case of Rev. Charles E. Cheney, of Chicago, to which you allude, is a matter of public record, direct, and without breaking his ordination vow whereby he promised in writing conformity in worship in the following words:—"I solemnly engage to conform to the doctrines and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States." These doctrines and worship are set forth in the "Book of Common Prayer," which his minister is obliged to use on all occasions of public worship. Canon 29. This is among the "offenses for which a minister may be tried and punished" is included "any act which involves a breach of his ordination vows." Canon 2, Title II.

Now, Mr. Cheney undertook to alter the service to which he had "solemnly promised" in writing to conform, and made material omissions in a ritual office. This he notoriously did, and at the "Chicago Conference," so called, was so unwise as to boast of it. It was a matter of public comment. By the law of the Church it is made the duty of the Bishops in all cases where public rumor charges a clergyman with any of the offenses enumerated, to cause "inquiry" to be made, to ascertain the truth of the same. This Bishop Whitehouse did, and the result was a presentment in due form. Pending the trial, Mr. Cheney, with the evident consciousness of guilt, took the unusual course of applying to Judge Jameson (the distinguished jurist who grants the divorces for Chicago) for an injunction against further proceedings, alleging among other things that he was in receipt of an income of $4,000 from his occupation, and that it would be a serious interference with his business should he be suspended! He willfully commits a specific offense, and then seeks for "civil" protection from the penalty. A nice martyr for conscience sake. He entered the Church voluntarily, and assumed its obligations. No word of the Book of Common Prayer, which he agreed to conform to, has been since altered. He has altered his mind, says he cannot believe the plain words of the Service, but—cannot bring his mind to give up his salary. Other people who have been "consecrated" have left the Church: he wishes to stay and be a law unto himself. The Chicago jurist, like our city aldermen, decided for the plaintiff. An appeal was taken to a higher court, which is not yet decided.

The denunciations of Bishop Whitehouse for simply doing his duty are quite unwarranted. He suffers from the misfortune of having a perverse law-breaker in his diocese. If there was the slightest pretense that Mr. Cheney was innocent of the offense charged, there might be some ground for the "sympathy" so liberally bestowed in some quarters. The trouble is that he wants the sympathy and the salary, and wants permission to break the law too. He cannot be indulged in all these desires, and persons who understand the facts of the case must fall to see any "tyranny" in the refusal so to indulge him. The New York Observer, the leading paper of the Presbyterians, instead of joining in the clamor against the Bishop, came to the sensible conclusion that if Mr. Cheney continued to be a minister of the Episcopal Church he should abide by its rules and regulations, and that when he could no longer do so it was his duty to leave the Church.

A SUBSCRIBER. September 20, 1870.

[COMMUNICATED.] Our Candidate for Register of Wills. As time flies, the gentlemen claiming to be adherents of the Republican party, those who have endeavored to injure the prospects of William M. Bunn, Esq., and who are ever ready to howl when they deem it popular, are beginning to see their folly, and now they begin to inquire into the antecedents of that gentleman, that he is an entirely different man from the one of many of his professional friends represented him to be. When Mr. Bunn makes a promise you can rely on its fulfillment. How many men in this community can you depend on to that extent? How many men are there among us who will make a positive promise one moment and forget it the next? The writer of this happens to know they are a very numerous class, and he could name several, if it were necessary, who he himself overheard trading Mr. Bunn, in whom he could not place half the confidence he would in our candidate for Register of Wills, as those distinguished gentlemen have told him falsehood after falsehood when there was no occasion for it. Mr. Bunn's military career alone should carry him through, unless some of those jealous civilians insist on having all the offices for their own benefit. I am satisfied, from the experience of the past week, that there is no fear of Mr. Bunn's triumphant election. REPUBLICAN.

CITY ITEMS. FALL OVERCOATS.—A Fine Assortment, very comfortable in place of the Linen Duster, for travelling at this season. Prices moderate. Half-way between Fifth and Sixth streets, BARNETT & CO., TOWER HALL, No. 515 MARKET STREET.

ST. ALBAN'S PLACE is very properly described as an entire garden spot. Fifty-two houses, twenty-six on each side of a large and beautiful park, running the entire length of the square, and tastefully decorated with fountains, statuary, and flowers. The houses, although finished with the latest improvements, embracing Mansard roofs, walnut doors, plate glass windows, inside shutters, etc., are rented at about one-half what is ordinarily asked for such properties. Mr. JAMES, No. 801 GRAY'S FERRY road, and Mr. LESLIE, No. 717 SANSON street, announce that they will rent but a few more.

TO THE PUBLIC.—We ask all in want of clothing to examine our $15 suits and compare the goods, style, and trimming with the common trash offered for $15. We make this request, knowing that we have the entire stock that has been manufactured of which they are made. We advise all honest people to look to their interest and not to be led astray by false representations.

ROCKHILL & WILSON'S Great Brown Stone Hall, Nos. 605 and 605 Chesnut street, Philadelphia.

A WORD TO THE ELDERLY.—Nobody loves to be grey. That's human nature. Everybody detests the hair dye, and the sedimental "not-a-dyes." That's human nature too. PHALON'S VITALIA, OR SALVATOR FOR THE HAIR, which liberally restores grey hair, is free from the fifth and sediment which defile the dyes and "not-a-dyes." Sold by all druggists and fancy goods dealers.

MR. WILLIAM W. CASPIDY, the jeweller at No. 5 South Second street, has one of the largest and most attractive stocks of all kinds of Jewelry and Silverware in the city. He has also on hand a fine assortment of the American Western Watches. Those who purchase at this store at the present time are certain to get the worth of their money.

DEPEND UPON IT, MOTHERS, Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, for all diseases of children, is a safe and sure medicine. It has stood the test of thirty years, and never known to fail. It regulates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and cures wind colic; produces natural, quiet sleep, by relieving the child from pain.

The model Upholstery Store of Philadelphia, ALBERSON & Co., No. 1455 Chesnut street.

THOUSANDS of dollars might be saved annually by using the Old Dominion Sauce. It costs about one-half the price of imported sauces, and is acknowledged equal to the best of them. Give it a trial.

MARRIED. ALBURGER—ALBURGER.—On Wednesday evening, September 21, 1870, at the residence of the bride, No. 105 Calowhill street, by the Rev. Joseph F. Bent, D. D., Mr. WILLIAM H. ALBURGER to Mrs. MARY E. C. ALBURGER, both of this city.

DIED. DREXEL.—On Wednesday evening, the 21st inst., CATHERINE DREXEL, widow of F. M. Drexel. Her funeral will take place from her late residence, No. 1200 Rittenberg street, on Saturday morning, at 10 o'clock. The relatives and friends of the family are invited to attend, without further notice.

ROBERTS.—On the 20th inst., ELIZABETH ROBERTS, in the 57th year of her age. The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral, from her late residence, No. 141 North Ninth street, on Friday morning, at 10 o'clock.
