Not only has the trade not been hindered by the interference of the European war, but by referring to the table it will be found that the export of German ports, notwithstanding the blockade, has largely in creased. This is also the case regarding Beigium where the general armament interferes with trade In Holland and England, countries not disturbed by the war, the trade has decreased. In Spain, Cubs Ircland, and France there has been a much better demand. When peace is declared in Europe, a much larger increase may be expected. Petroleum is now one of the standard exports of the city, and it is the basis on which the foreign trade generally either

ANOTHER FORGERY.

Its Success and the Escape of the Perpetrators

-Rewards for the Arrest of the Forgers.

While Third street was in the sea of excitement While Third street was in the sea of excitement on Saturday last with reference to the arrest made at the establishment of Glendinning, Davis & Co., there was another little game of swindling going on further down that thoroughfare, which resulted successfully to the operators, and by which C. D'Invilliers, broker, No. 129 South Third street, is a loser to the extent of $7503-57. The facts of the case, are

On the 2d of September there arrived in this city from New York, at the Continental Hotel, an Individual who registered his name as J. W. Tweed. What his business was up to the 10th of this month is not known, but on this day he left the hotel, and at the same time there appeared in front of No. 311% Walnut street a sign which told passers-by that J. W. Tweed had opened an office in the second story, and that he was prepared to buy and sell all kinds of stocks on commission.

He opened an account with the Union National Bank, at Third and Arch streets, with a deposit of $3000, reserving in hand (as margin money) a like amount for operations on the street. Tweed purchased stocks, paid for them in checks on the bank, the latter were duly honored, and thus he succeeded On the 2d of Sentember there arrived in this city the latter were duly honored, and thus he succeeded in establishing for himself a legitimate business re-putation. To further increase the confidence of the business community Tweed resorted to a system of tactics at once very simple. He made large pur-chases of stocks (giving in frequent cases a bonus of $20 to secure the particular stock he desired, paid for them in checks, turned round and resold them, made his deposits before 3 o'clock, and thus he went on from day to day until the opportunity for a

On the afternoon of Saturday Tweed repaired to the office of Mr. D'Invilliers and bought four $1000 United States Government bonds and $2700 in gold, which, with the premium added, ran up the amount of the purchase to $7503 87, for which he gave a check, duly certified by the cashier of the Union Bank, in payment. Tweed's check was deposited, and when it was presented to the Union Bank for collection the signature of the cashier was disco-vered to be a forgery. Of course, since that time nothing has been heard of Tweed. The matter is in the hands of the detectives, and with a view to put parties on their guard against purchasing the bonds, we will state that they are five-twenties of the issue of July, 1867, and are numbered as follows:-Nos.

40,587, 40,588, 40,589, 40,540. The forger is apparently from thirty-five to forty years of age, is about five feet ten inches in height, has a small moustache and a small goatee, and is dressed in a dark mixed sult and wears a stiff black

There was an accomplice, who had registered himself at the Continental as T. C. Kendrick. He is about the same age as Tweed, has reddish moustache, dark complexion and no whiskers, large eyes, and of gendemanly demeanor.

Mr. D'Invilliers has offered a reward of $590 for the apprehension of Tweed and his accomplice.

At a meeting of the Board of Brokers held to-day, the following resolution was adopted:—

Resolved, That the board offer a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties concerned in the forgery whereby one of our mem-bers was swindled out of $7500 on Saturday, October 1st, by a forged certificate on a check on the Union National Bank of this city.

THE WATER SUPPLY OF GERMANTOWN,-The scarcity of water in Germantown still continues. On scarcity of water in Germantown still continues. On Saturday steps were taken to make Wingohocking creek a source of supply to the citizens of that sec-tion of the city, and Mr. Morrell. Purveyor of the Germantown Works, called upon the proprietors of the factories located in the vicinity, and requested that they desist from allowing the dye-water from their establishments to empty into the stream. This request, with a single exceptional instance, was obligingly complied with. The construction of the temporary works will be commenced forthwith. Purveyor Morrell conferred with the Chief of the Department, and the point on the creek selected is between Haines and High streets. A temporary dam will be constructed by throwing a breastwork across the meadows at this point. A portable engine will be placed at a convenient spot, and a pump brought into requisition.

The pipes, we understand, will connect with the Haines street water main. There is yet a two days' supply at the works proper on Tulpehocken street, and it will hardly be exhausted before the new works are completed.

THE NATURALIZATION BUSINESS.—The part taken by THE TELEGRAPH this time one year ago with reference to the indiscriminate manner in which the business of naturalizalizing foreigners was conducted has had a wonderfully good effect in reducing the manufacturing of citizens by the thousands to hundreds. Anything that he could say about the government fluances has al-ready appeared in the newspapers and is familiar to the people.

The President at Home. The President is at his office to-day receiving visi-tors and transacting business. During the morning most of the cabinet officers in town called upon him, and to-morrow there will be a meeting of the cabinet.

Admiral Porter's Reported Resignation. It is not true that Admiral Porter has written a letter to the Secretary of the Navy asking to be relieved from further duty in the Navy Department. It is the Admiral's purpose, however, not to take part in the conduct of affairs of the Department, as he has done since the inauguration of President Grant. Porter has probably come to the conduction Grant. Porter has probably come to the conclusion that remaining in the Department will not add to his fame, while it adds to his labors.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Election Cauldron-How It Bubbles, Boils and Steams-The Board of Aldermen's Appointments. Court of Common Pleas-Judges Allison and Ludlou

This morning at 12 o'clock the Judges sat to resume and complete their work of revision of the appointments of election officers made by the Board More Councilmen.

Counsel stated to the Court that by the extra as sessment it had been discovered that the Ninth Seventeenth, and Twenty-fifth wards were entitled to an additional member of Common Council, and the Court was asked to say whether the Sheri should issue a supplementary proclamation for the election of these members. The Judge said they had decided the same question last year, that the assess-ment was not complete until after the extra assess-ment was made, and that any wrong resulting from a defect of the law or oversight of the onlears should be remedied by a supplemental proclamation, which was accordingly directed to be issued.

The Removals and Substitutions. Mr. Mann obtained the following changes:-Fifth division of the Eighteenth ward—John Scott, Judge, removed, because not resident of division. I Ross Kemble substituted

Sixth division of the Twenty-eighth ward -Joseph Smith. Inspector, removed because of non-residence Joseph P. Young substituted. Twentieth division of the Nineteenth ward-George Deitz, inspector, removed because of non-residence. Joseph Crouse substituted.

In the matter of the Judge of the Saventh division of the First ward, who was said to have removed to Vermont, there being no competent proof of that fact, the petition for his removal was withdrawn, and the remedy will have to be applied by the choice of an officer at the pol.

Sixth Division, Twenty-second ward.—Jos. Demerter, window inspector, removed because not of the party, and Anthony Weisenberger appointed.

In the same precinct the petition for the removal of Thomas McCufferty, Return Inspector, was renewed on the ground that he was against the party.

This man said he was a Democrat, but felt himself bound in gratitude to Mr. Harmer because of a kindness done him sixteen years ago, and he could not bring himself to vote against that gentleman. Judge Ludlow said if this was the only reason for the removal, he could not consent to strike down a man and read him out of the party, because he possessed a sentiment of gratitude which should recommend him to every right-thinking man. Another reason was assigned, which was that he did not possess the confidence of the party. This was considered a good ground, and the removal ordered. Joseph Carpenter was substituted

Third division of Twenty-sixth ward—Thomas Robinson, Republican Judge, removed because of alleged fraud in the election last year.

First division of Eighth ward—Albert A. Gilbert,

First division of Eighth ward—Albert A. Gilbert, Judge, removed because a Republican and the division went Democratic last year. It appeared that after the election of 1869 Councils out up this division into three, and the Board of Aldermen acted sion into three, and the Board of Aldermen acted upon the basis that, no vote ever having been polled in these divisions as they now stand, there was nothing in the act of Assembly to govern them, and gave all three to the Republicans. The Judges said they believed the division, the First, numerically representing the old division, rightfully belonged to the Democrats, and therefore they gave it to them, but as to the other two they could take no action.

Twelfth division of the Tenth ward—John McGahan, Inspector, removed because of sickness.

Questions and Answers. The following questions were put by Mr. Dallas on behalf of the Democra,s, and answered by the Second. Cannot any person improperly placed upon the canvassers list, without production of the receipt, be stricken from the same list to-day in the manner provided by law? manner provided by law?

Answer. Yes, when they have been so placed Third. Is a tax receipt for a tax paid more than two years prior to the 11th of Octobe; 1870, a sufficient tax receipt to entitle the party presenting it to placed upon the canvassers' list? Answer. It is not

Fourth. Cannot any person improperly placed upon the canvassers' list, upon an insufficient tax receipt, be stricken from the said list to-day in the manner provided by law?

Answer, Yes,
Fifth. Are the duplicate returns of the election required to be made on the day after election to be made severally and respectively for each division in the several wards, or are said duplicate returns to be made by wards, and only one for each ward, to be made by wards, and only one for each ward, which shall include in it; the returns for all the divisions of the ward? (Section 5, act of April 6, 1870.)

Answer. Duplicate returns are to be made by wards, but precinct returns are also to be made as heretofore, and cannot be dispensed with. The precinct returns are to be filed by 12 o'clock noon, as heretofore, under penalty of an attachment.

Seventh, Whether, upon being informed of the removal from the precinct of persons upon the assessors' list, the canvassers may accept the testimony of persons sent by them to make inquiry at the former residence of the parties?

Answer. The canvassers must proceed upon satis-

Answer. The canvassers must proceed upon satisfactory testimony: if possible, by notice to the party himself; otherwise by the evidence of persons who know the fact, but never upon mere hearsay.

Register's Court.—Before Judge Paxson and Register Simpson. Mary P. Loxley's estate. This case, heretofore reported by us, came befare the Court this morning on an appeal of Mrs. Eliza J. Murray from the decision of the late Register, Ganeral Leech, awarding letters testamentary upon her last will and testament as proved before him. After argument by counsel and a reference to the volu-minous testimony taken by the late Register, the Court dismissed the appeal.

In the matter of the appointment of watchers for the coming election, counsel representing both par-ties came into court this morning and said they were endeavoring to act upon the Judge's suggestion by selecting the persons they desired to have appointed, but had not yet completed their labors. To-night they expected to be able to submit full lists to each other, and to-morrow morning would lay the matter before the court. This was approved by the Judge. Opening of the Term. Court of Quarter Sessions-Judge Ludlow.

This morning Judge Ludlow opened the October term of this court. He appointed William Cadwalader, Esq., foreman of the Grand Jury, and addressing that body assured them that by the combined and resolute action of the authorities crime had considerably decreased in this city.

There being no cases ready for trial the jurors were discharged until to-morrow morning Circuit Court of the United States-Judges Strong and McKennan.

At the opening of the Court, Judge Cadwalader, accompanied by Messrs. Perkins and Harding, the officers of the late bar meeting in reference to the memory of Justice Grier, presented the resolutions adopted on that occasion for such action as the Court might deem proper. Justice Strong said: adopted on that occasion for such action as the Court might deem proper. Justice Strong said:—
We received the amouncement made of the death of Junge Grier, and of the action, in view thereof, taken by the bar of this city, with much feeling, and we direct that the proceedings of the bar be entered upon the records of the court. Such an entry is a fitting monument te the memory of the deceased, and our records are the proper place for its erection. For nearly a quarter of a century Judge Grier presided in this court with unsurpassed ability and uprightness. Here much of the work of his life was done, and in the records of the bourt is to be found no small portion of his biography. We concur fully in the estimate which the gentlemen of the bar have made of his character. He was indeed a remarkable man. His mind seized whatever subject was presented to it with a vigorous and comurehen sive grasp, and he seemed to know almost by intuition not only what are sound principles, but which of them were applicable to any state of facts. His thoughts were always lucid and his reasoning was logical. It may be said of him most emphatically that he had in uncommon measure that rich endowment which we denominate a legal mind, Added to this he had ever an instinctive aversion to everything dishonorable—te everything morally wrong. He uniformly sought the right, and his feelings revolted against all injustice. No wonder that he confidence of those interested in the administration of justice was sofully bestowed uponbim, and that his removal from the field of his earthly career is so much lamen.ed.
