THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1870.

THE EVENING TELEGRAPH, from Its original establishment, has been in the receipt of telegraphic news from the New York Associated Press, which consists of the Tribune, Times, Herald, World, Sun, Journal of Commerce, Evening Post, Commercial Advertiser, and Evening Express. The success which has attended our enterprise is, in itself, a sufficient evidence of the ireshness, fullness, and reliability of the news which we have received from this source. Last March we entered Into a special contract by which THE EVENING TELEGRAPH has the exclusive use of the news furnished in the afternoon by the Associated Press to its own members. the North American, Inquirer, Ledger, Press, Age, Record, and German Democrat, of this city, and the leading journals of the East, North, West and South; and hereafter THE TELEGRAPH will be the only evening paper published in this city in which the afternoon despatches of the Associated Press will appear.

THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF.

Some of the enemies of the Republican candidate for Sheriff, William R. Leeds, finding that his uublemished official record furnishes no point of attack, are assailing him on the ground that he has for years devoted his best energies to the advancement of the interests of the Republican party. The fact that he has been an unfaltering partisan worker, that he has labored zealously to detect Democratic frauds, to rally the supporters of the Union cause to the polls, and to infuse vigor and success into active political campaigns, is tortured into a crime instead of a virtue by his assailants, and Republicans are asked to withhold from him their support because he has struggled too zealously for the triumph of their great principles. It is not pretended that he has committed any dishonest or illegal actif he had, his adversaries would speedily trumpet it to the world. The main point of their objections is in that instead of regarding the struggle on which the welfare of the nation was dependent with a feeling of philosophic indifference, he was the hardest of the hard workers for the Republican party, and the keenest of the keen detectives of the frauds by which its adversaries sought to win illegal triumphs. This objection carries on its face its own answer. If a party does not bestow a fair proportion of its lucrative rewards upon men who serve it faithfully, and who combine irrepreachable personal character with remarkable partisan activity, it will fare as badly as an army in which unfaltering resolution and courage fail to win promotion, and it will speedily be annihilated by a foe which possesses sufficient common sense to employ proper incentives to vigorous effort. It is no houses business to organize and vitalize the forces on either side in our city campaigns. There is a bewildering succession of caucuses, delegate elections, conventions, registrations, etc, etc., all of which have to be attended to vigilantly by somebody to ensure success; and when the men most familiar with all these operations select, as they have in th case of Mr. Leeds, a nominee on the ground that he has been the useful agent, par excellence, in organizing victory and in b: filing the fraudulent schemes of the foes of the great party of the Union, he gains the strongest claim to the support of every member of that organization. If we had picked our nominee for Sheriff from the drones, we could have found thousands of men qualified well enough to discharge the duties of the office, but there would have been no good reason for choosing any one of them in preference to any other; while, by nominating a man who unites all the qualifications of a faithful and excellent officer with gallant. continuous, and efficient partisan service, we not only bestow a reward where it has been earned, but prompt thousands of the rank and file to do a good share of hard work in the present and future campaigns, by the hope that their zeal will not go unrewarded. When the Republican party gets ready to die, it can rapidly hasten its dissolution by turning a cold shoulder upon the men who work for it in sunshine and in storm; if it wishes to live, it must recognize and reward their services.

nese idea were adopted by the voters of the Fourth district, his vain ambition cou'd ne ver be gratified, and under these circumstances we cannot be surprised at his zeal in opposing their " imigration," his apprehensions of the "consequence of the evil consequences resulting from their contact with us to our morrals or politicks," and his emphatic declaration that they have "no right to come hearr at all." The pestiferous Heathen Chinese would be wicked enough to insist that candidates for Congress should know how to spell a few words in their own language, and to force aspirants who write "hearr" for "here," "verry" for "very," "morrals" for "morals," "imigration" for "immigration," and "emigrats" for "emigrants," to take a few courses of instruction in the primary schools before they ventured to solicit the suffrages of an intelligent community. No wonder that the Ganeral wishes to "ouild a Chinese wall on our Western coast so high that it would be imposible for them to scale ft !" If their system prevailed blockheads would be ruled out of the Capitol, and the high places in our "politicks" would no more be aspired to by men of the intellectual grade of our doughty anti-Chinaman. The Chinese idea would be "distructive" to all his aspirations. he has the and best of reasons for denying to them "the right to come hearr at all!" It remains to be seen, hewever, whether the voters of one of the most intelligent districts in the Union will fully sympathize with the General's horror of literary attainments and his deep aversion to the Chinese standard of political preferment. The specimen he has given of his own acquirements is faithfully copied from the Press of this morning, and that journal vouches for its accuracy, so that his claims to support as a murderer of the President's English are fully verified:-

[COPY.] PHIL'A, Oct. 4, 1870 John Leach Esq President Trades Union Anti Coolie

League DEAR SIE I am so much much pressed for time DEAR Siz I am so much much pressed for time that I am only able to answer your interogatories very briefly, but as I have spoken so often on the Coolie question I think my opinion must be already well known Sufficient to say that I am in favour of passing to most stringent laws against their intera-tion either under the contract system or by individ ual effort. So much am I opposed to their coming, in consequence of the evil consequences resulting from their contact with us to our morrats or politicks, and our labour, that I would if it were within my power build a chinese wall on our Western coast so high that it would be impossible for them to scale it. Whills twe cordially invite emigrats from Germany, Ireland, France, Prussia, &c. who come hear to Whilst we cordially invite emigrats from Germany, Ircland, France, Prussia, &c. who come hear to cast their lot with us, become naturalized and lay down their bones in our soil, we have a right to apply a verry different rule to those who come hearr for a few years to interfere with dur laboar, cellect together a sum of money and then go back to China They have indeed no right to come hearr at all.

I am altogether opposed to voting the public lands to corporations or speculators, or, indeed, in very large quantities to any one. The people have been swindled by the present and former Con-gresses out of millions of acres of the public domain, the members themselves in most cases received a large interest in the corporations created as a consideration for their votes.

No one man should be allowed to passess himself of an unually quantity of land, at least upless to reside upon it and cultivate for the reason that it is calculated to produce that condition of absenteeism so distructive to the interest of the peasantry of some of the old country. I enclose herewith a speech delivered by me at 19th question is discussed more at length that time will permit me to do on the present occasion. I am Very Respectfully Yours, WM B THOMAS THE COOLIE QUESTION.

very lowest grade of offices. If this Chi- | simple, agreeing to let the natural Chinese immigration, like that from Europe, take care of itself, they can easily settle the whole difficulty at once and forever, before it assumes such proportions as are likely to occasion serious trouble.

> As at most meetings of this kind, there was a good deal of nonsense set forth, and the very loose manner in which workingmen are in the habit of reasoning upon great principles of political economy was strikingly shown in the protest .embodied in the platform against the granting of the public lands to corporations, coupled with the demand that they shall be reserved for actual settlers, and also in the idea expressed by one of the speakers that the Pacific Railroad is responble for the increase of Chinese immigration, and that it is therefore an evil to the working classes. The men who reason thus, because they can see no direct gain to themselves from the completion of a great national work like the Pacific Railroad, lose sight altogether of the fact that the laboring population, more than any other, must be indirectly benefitted by the stimulus given to all branches of industry by the opening of a great avenue for trade, and that these benefits must very much outweigh any disadvantage that may result from any increase in the Chinese population that is likely to occur at present.

> With regard to granting the public lands to railroad companies, we do not pretend to deny that there can be such a thing as too much of it, but if great railroads like that which now exists and those which are projected to connect the Atlantic with the Pacific seaboard, are to be built, it is absolutely necessary that Government aid should be extended; and this aid can best be given in the form of land grants. At the present time, at least, the workingmen of the country have nothing whatever to complain of in this respect, for there are millions of acres of unoccupied public lands that anybody can settle upon at Government rates, but any workingman who desires to obtain a homestead in the great West will, if he has no more than enough intellect to enable him to wield a spade and hoe, select his farm on the line of a railroad, instead of burying himself in the wilderness, and in so doing he will be a practical exemplification of the wise policy of the Government in granting lands in aid of great national enterprises whereby the public are quite as much benefitted as the individual stockholders.

> Messrs, Leonard Myers and William D. Kelley, in their letters read at the meeting last night, both expressed sound common sense views on this subject, that it would be well for working men to consider with attention.

WILLIAM B. THOMAS ON THE HEATHEN CHINEE.

THE Press has been cruel enough to publish perbatim the letter which William B. Thomas wrote to the Anti-Coolie mass meeting held at National Hall last evening. It throws a new light upon the causes of the intense hostility of this rabid foe of the "Heathen Chinee," which will be readily understood by our readers when they parase the document appended to this article. The Chinese are absurd enough to make political promotion depend upon literary attainments, and the rigid enforcement of a similar rule in this pountry would exclude Thomas from the

BEFORE the troubles arising out of slavery culminated in the Rebellion it was clearly foreseen that the Chinese question would be the next great subject for agitation, and that a contest with regard to the importation and employment of Chinese laborers, if it lacked some of the disturbing elements of slavery, would be characterized by others scarcely less dangerous to the peace of the country. A combination of circumstances, the chief of which is the completion of the Pacific Railroad, have precipitated the Chinese question upon us even sooner than was expected; and the only policy that we can pursue, if we hope to avert disaster in the future, is to deal with it promptly on the broadest principles of justice and humanity. Leaving out of consideration the narrow-minded and bigoted ideas of the least intelligent classes of workingmen and the miserable demagogism of trading politicians, there is one plain and practical method of dealing with the Chinese question that will commend itself to all who are capable of forming opinions on the subject. The importation of coolies under contract for a term of years ought to be forbidden under the severest penalties, and their importation under any circumstances by labor speculators ought to be discouraged in every way that it can be done legitimately and without violating the natural rights of any one. At the same time it would be worse than folly to attempt the exclusion of the Chinese from the country while we welcome immigrants who come to us from every other part of the world. The principles upon which our Government is founded and our whole policy for nearly a century are against the idea that any discrimination can or ought to be made by our laws for or against any class of foreigners who may desire to settle here: and if the Asiatics, like the Europeans, are left to follow their natural impulses in leaving the Old for the New World, we will receive what will prove to be in many respects 'an exceedingly valuable addition to our laboring population. while there will be no occasion to fear that the labor market will be improperly crowded. The workingmen of the United States have no right to object to the Chinese of their own option emigrating to our shores, and no combination, however powerful, can prevent them from doing so. but they have a right to protest against the coolie trade, and in their opposition to the revival of slavery under this new shape they will have the cordial support of the best and most intelligent people of the country, whether they belong to the so-called working

We are pleased to see that the platform adopted at the anti-coolie meeting held last night at National Hall embodies substantially the same ideas on this subject as we have always advocated; and if the workingmen throughout the country will thrust aside all demagogism and take their stand fairly and squarely against the coolie trade pure and

THE PENN SQUARES AND THE PUB-LIC BUILDINGS.

Do the citizens of Philadelphia clearly understand and realize that the selection of any other site than the Penn Squares for the new Public Buildings will give away for nothing, irrevocably and forever, these valuable squares of ground to private incorporated monopolies, in which the public have directly no part or parcel ?

Is it not monstrous to think that in the one instance it is proposed to take from the people Washington Square, that has so long been their and theif children's play-ground-this health correcting greensward, dedicated to the immortal Father of his Country-and in the other instance to give away for nothing at all the people's Penn Squares, worth millions of dollars, and to whom? Why, incorporated monopolies-rich men's pet institutions, the thresholds of which the poor man cannot enter without fee and charge.

See to it, citizens of Philadelphia, that you are not thus robbed, and by the false representations of selfish aristocrats and managers of moneyed institutions defrauded of your inherited rights and pro-JUSTICE. [10 5 2t perty.
