The Colored Vote. The colored population of Philadelphia num-Lers about 25,000, and the colored vote to be cast next Tuesday, for the first time, will reach about 5000. As nearly, if not quite, all of this | vote will be brought to the support of the Republican candidates, it will have considerable bearing upon the result of the contest. The following shows the number of colored voters in each ward of the city, as nearly correct as can be ascertained at present, together with the paigrities on the vote for Governor in 1869:-

The Site of the New Public Buildings. The voters of Philadelphia are also to decide the question of the location of the new Public Buildings, the choice between Washington and Pern Squares having been given them by the act of Assembly approved August 5, 1870. The following are the provisions of the act under which the vote on this question is to be taken:-"The Commissioners are hereby authorized and directed to locate said buildings on either Washing-ton Square or Penn Square, as may be determined by a vote of the legally qualified voters of the city of Philadelphia, at the next general election in October, one thousand eight hundred and seventy; and the Sheriff shall issue his proclamation, and the City Commissioners and other proper officers of said city shall provide all things that may be needful to enable the voters to decide by ballot their choice of a site for said public buildings; and the return clerks shall certify to the Prothonotary the result of said election in the usual form required for other elec-

The Temperance party have a State ticket in the field, but it was nominated by a convention of only forty members, and will amount to nothing. Cary, the Democratic candidate in the Second district, and Ball, the Democratic candidate in the Seventeenth, have been endorsed by the Werkingmen's party. In the Eighteenth district John D. Taylor has been nominated for Congress by the Temperance party, but no danger is apprehended from him to the success of Upson.

The Vote of the State. The vote of Ohio in 1860 was for Lincoln, 231,610; for Douglas, 187,232; for Breckinridge, 11,405; and for Bell, 12,194. The following has

The Past Vote of Indiana. The vote of Indiana in 1860 was for Lincoln, 159,088; for Douglas, 115,509; for Breckinridge, 12,295; and for Bell, 5306-a majority of 5923 for Lincoln over all. Since then the vote of the State has been as follows: -

The only elections held	in 1869	were for county officers, in which the Republicans had a small majority on the aggregate vote.

The vote for members of Congress in 1868 was as follows:-Dem. Maj. Dist. 15 116 1485D 7..... 18,779 6435D 8.... 18,965 762D 9. 18,287 116R 10... 14,683 1082R 11....

There can be no doubt of the election of the State ticket of the Republicans by a majority of at least ten thousand. Some of the Congressional districts, however, are very close, as will be seen by the above table, and there may be a change in the political standing of the new delegation, the present consisting of 7 Republicans to 4 Democrats. The Republicans hope to carry the Third and Sixth districts, which went for the Democracy in 1868 by majorities of 762 and 128; while the Democrats, in turn, count on gaining the Fourth and Seventh, which were Republican in 1868 by majorities of 116 and 457. In the Tenth district there is no regular Democratic candidate, and the bulk of the Democratic vote will probably be cast for Haskell, Independent Republican.

Since the organization of the Republican party, the Indiana delegation in Congress has

It will be unusually important for the Republicans to secure the new Legislature, as it will be charged with the duty of electing a successor to Senator O. P. Morton, who has accepted the mission to England, the term for which he was elected not expiring until March 4, 1873. Senator Daniel D. Pratt, whose term extends to March 4, 1875, has also expressed an intention of resigning as soon as it was certain that a Republican would be elected to succeed him. The candidates for Senator Morton's seat are General Walter Q. Gresham; General Godlove S. Orth, at present member of Congress from the Seventh district, but not a candidate for reelection; General Thomas H. Nelson, at present Minister to Mexico; and Colonel Will Cumback, at present Lieutenant-Governor, who received the caucus nomination two years ago, but was forced to withdraw from the contest before the Legislature, by reason of a bolt in the Repub-

10WA.

The Offices to be Filled—The Candidates—The Vote in the Past. On Tuesday next, Iowa will elect State offi cers and members of Congress only. There will be no election for members of the Legislature, and the vacancy which will be caused in the United States Senate by the expiration of James B. Howell's term in March, 1871, has already been provided for by the election of Judge George G. Wright.

The Candidates for the different offices are as follows, those marked thus (*) being renominations:-FOR SECRETARY OF STATE. *Edward Wright, Charles Dorr.

 The Republican State ticket will be elected next week by from 30,000 to 40,000 majority, and every Congressional district is certain, as the majorities range from 5000 to 10,000.

In the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Congresses, elected in 1852 and 1854 respectively, the Iowa delegation consisted of one Whig and one Democratic member. On the organization of the Republican party, both districts were carried by it in 1856, and since then Iowa has been constantly represented by Republicans, the number of her members being increased in 1862 to six.

THE GREAT WHISKY ESTABLISH MENT OF THIS CITY.-H. M. DALY building, which is probably the largest of its kind in the United States, is five stories high, and runs through from Front to Dock street, a distance of at least 215 feet. Whiskies of the rarest and pures brands are stored on every floor of this huge struc ture, and the seeker after the genuine article can there find Bourbon of old date, wheat ditto, and that champion of all whiskies, the Golden Wedding. It is of some importance to the liquor merchants of this and other cities to know that Mr. Daly's stock embraces the productions of the celebrated dis-tilleries belonging to Thomas Moore & Son, Joseph S. Finch & Co., and Thomas tilleries belonging to Thomas Moore & Son, Joseph S. Finch & Co., and Thomas Moore. Their whiskies are always made from the best grains, double copper distilled and put up in seasoned, heavily-charred, fron-bound barrels. As agent, therefore, of these well-known firms, Mr. Daiy justly claims that he can supply the trade with the finest whisky in the market, and in the original packages as received direct from the manufacturers. This he will vouch for, and this is a point which deserves the notice of all purchasers. 9 13tuths26t

THE LORRAINE VEGETABLE CATHAR-TIC PILL is far the best Cathartic remedy yet discovered. The most complete success has long attended its use. It never falls to accomplish all that is claimed for it. It produces little or no pain; leaves the organs free from irritation, and never overtaxes or excites the nervous system. In all diseases of the skin, blood, stomach, bowels, liver, kidneys of children, and in many difficulties peculiar to women, it brings prompt relief and certain cure. The best physicians recommend and prescribe it; and no person who once uses it will voluntarily return to any other cathartic. It is sold by all dealers in drugs and medicines.

THREE LECTURES A WEEK.

The management has determined to give three lectures a week, for various reasons, the principal of which is the difficulty of obtaining the Academy of Music for ten, or even five, consecutive weeks; and to have an interval of two weeks or a month in and to have an interval of two weeks or a month in the middle of a course is not only inexpedient, but the public is apt to lose its interest.

It is thought that three lectures a week is not too frequent, considering that the opera can be sus-tained with seven performances a week, and cer-tainly Mr. Sumner, Wendell Phillips, and George Wm. Curtis can all be heard, inside of a week, with
