earth is there such a deadly enmity against the colored voter as that entertained by the Intelligent Democracy of the Fourth ward. No sconer, then, was the line formed than "Mully" —he of the valiant "Moya"—paraded up and down its length with an Alexander Selkirk look in his mild and loving eye. At his back an unknown force would disrupt the line, and a colored voter would directly find himself in the street or at the tail-end of the procession to the polls.

With the close of to-day the destinies of the men which the close of to-day the destines of the men whose names have been posted everywhere within the limits of the city as the standard-bearers of the two political parties of the day will be decided, and at the same hour will end one of the most bitter canvasses that has ever been waged in Philadel-phia. In consequence of the extreme heat of the phis. In consequence of the extreme heat of the summer months the campaign has been a short one, but it has been decidedly sharp. For the past two weeks everything else seems to have been forgotten, and both parties have been busily engaged in the interest of their organization. While the Demo-cracy were paying no attention to mass meetings, they were active in other ways, and the principal feature in which they have been paragred feature in which they have been engaged has been the manufacturing of voters. Hun-dreds of men have been brought here from other cities and given a habitation which they have only known since the first days of the registry, and which they will never know after to-night. That hundreds of illegal votes will be polled no one will doubt, and the only trouble that will probably arise anywhere at the polls will be when these colo-nizers present themselves at the polls. However, as yet no serious difficulties have been reported, and the threatened roles of the Democracy have no. as yet no serious difficulties have been reported, and the threatened riots of the Democracy have not transpired. For many reasons the political contest now raging at the polis in this city and State is of the most exciting character. Parties are mixed and confounded; tickets are being scored and split; men are voting by judgment and con-science, not by partianship. When the day declines and the fight is over, strange develop-ments, unexpected returns, will startle many of the candidates and the citizens. It can already be seen, that Paxson and Price will hargely lead their respecthat Paxson and Price will largely lead their respec-tive tickets Men in these two instances seem to have laid aside party prejudices, and are voting for the merit of the candidates. The public buildings question is not a party one, but a sectional one, yet the Democracy, in folding their tickets, have included one for Washington colored voters, in the Sixteenth ward some twenty, and in the Nineteenth ward there are fifty-six. Before noon the colored vote was nearly all polled in the wards referred to.

Twentleth Ward.

Twentleth Ward. This ward, which polls the beaviest vote of any in the city, gave a majority last year of S49 for Geary for Governor. Comprising a rapidly improving dis-trict, there has been a material increase of voters, and in addition there are nearly 200 colored votes which have never been cast before. Extensive preparations had been made by the leaders of both parties to bring out a full vote, and for this purpose every house has been visited and its occupants urged to come out to-day. Inducements were also held out for the residents to make their appearance early in the day. As early as 6:30 o'clock there were lines formed at nearly all of the precisit houses, and in many instances when the polls were opened there were at least a hundred precinct noises, and in many instances when the polls were opened there were at least a hundred ready to cast their ballots. As is usually the case, the best of feeling was manifested and there were no unusual demonstrations tending to create a dis-turbance. Challenges were but few, and they seemed to be confined to naturalized citizens. In some cases those who were not to the manor born had neglected to bring their papers and they were consequently despatched to their homes for these requisites. So enraged did one of this class become, on being inentaged did one of this class become, on being in-formed that it was actually essential that he should produce his papers, that he ripped his ballot in half and swore "he'd be — ef he'd cum back." The colored voters behaved themselves it a very orderly manner. They came early in squads of a dozen, and nearly all had prepared their ticket in advance. It was amusing to see how active the Democratic standard-heavers would become when a colored mon intibearers would become when a colored man.inti-mated a desire for a Democratic sticker. These cases were few and far between, as nearly every one voted a Republican solid ticket. Their behavior while at the window was commendable indeed. They showed that they fully comprehended the new privileges which had been entrusted to them. They privileges which had been entrusted to them. They answered all questions promptly, and when their ballot was placed in the box they left the vicinity of the poils. The voting throughout this ward has been very brisk, and sithough there were some fears that it would be impossible to get all in, the chances are there will not be the same trouble as has hereto-fore been experienced in the latter part of the day.

Second Cougressional District.

The excitement in this district, comprising the First, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, and Twenty-sixth wards, is most intense. The great fight is between Creely and O'Neill, and the advocates of these two candidates are sacrificing all the rest of these two candidates are sacrificing all the rest of the ticket in their interest. Trading is the order o the day there

The leaders of the Republican party are congre-gated at No. 1105 Chesnut street, where the hourly returns are being made. These documents up to 11 returns are being made. These documents up to 11 o'clock exhibit a greater amount of cutting than has ever been known heretofore. William S. Price runs far ahead of his ticket, and the indications are that he will be elected. As to the other candidates, it is impossible to prophesy the result. Bunn has been cut in the lower part of the city, but ne more than makes up for this loss in the upper part.

A Perinry Case.

G. T. Sorber, Democratic canvasser of one of the divisions in the Twenty-second ward, was arraigned before Recorder Givin this morning, charged on the oath of William Hopkins with perjury. Defendant was held in $3000 ball for a further hearing.

Illegal Voting. Norris Harman was arrested this morning by the United States deputy marshals upon the charge of llegal voting. Defendant had a hearing before United States Commissioner Biddle and was held in 55000 bail to answer. The testimony showed that Norris appeared at the polls in the First division of the Twenty-eighth ward and represented himself to be George H. Harman, and voted under that name. His vote was accepted. It was subsequently ascer-tained that he had voted illegally.

At the Marshal's Office.

U. S. Marshal Gregory was this morning busily engaged at his office, receiving complaints from citi-zens and despatching his deputies to preserve the peace. In some of the localities the number of de-puties was found to be insufficient to preserve order, and several new appointments were made. At about nalf past eleven o'clock a delegation of citizens from the Fifth ward appeared before the Marshal and made complaint to the effect that at Fifth and Lombard streets the polls were blockaded by pollcemen, and the citizens were being deprived of the right of suffrage. The Marshal promised relief, and at once proceeded to the Mayor's office and held a conversation with the Mayor in reference to the matter warded to assist in the fight. Marshal suggested that they should both visit the locality mentioned, and there are for them. selves the state of affairs. To this the Mayor con-sented, but the Lieutenant of the Third district having been previously telegraphed for, the Mayo concluded to wais until that officer put in an ap pearance. After waiting some time, and the Lieu-tenant not appearing, the Marshal and the Mayor started for the scene.

In the upper part of the city the feeling seems to be almost unanimous in favor of the Broad street site, while in the central portion the same may be said of while in the central portion the same may be said of Washington Square. Great interest has been centred in this election owing to its being the first occasion on which the colored portion of the population has exercised the right of franchise. This community have been threatened and badgered from day to day, but that they had not been intimidated thereby was manifest at all the precinct houses. They were out early and in strong numbers. It had been said that the police had been instructed to make whole-sale arrests of them last night, but they, be it said to their credit, maintained the best of order during to their credit, maintained the best of order during the night, and but few were seen on the streets. In the Fourth, Fifth, and Seventh wards there were two lines of vorers-one colored and one white-and is order that there should be no difficulty, it was agreed that the votes should be taken alternately. Up to latest advices, good order has been generally monitored aintained.

The Fourth, Fifth, and Seventh Wards

It was regarded that in the lower section of the city there would be no places more interesting or exciting than at the polls of the Third and Sixth precincts of the "Bloody Fifth" and the First and Second of the Seventh wards. It was in these divisions that the largest colored vote was to be polled, much to the incifable disgust, disapprobation, and dismay of the flower of the great unterrified, who in the halcyon days of the past here put into such excellent practice the old Democratic maxim, "Vote early and often." It was prophesied that the tide of affairs would not run smooth, from the fact that the colored vote would make overwhelmingly Republican what hitherto were overwhelmingly Democratic divisions. But, quite contrary to all ex-pectations, at the polls of the precincts we have mentioned there were no riotous proceedings, but a number of lesser crimes and disgraceful occur-rences, which we will attempt to picture.

EARLY AT THE POLLS.

Monday night the colored voters in all of the divisions already named resolved to be at the polls and in line before the dawn of election day; and at Fifth and Lombard streets, the voting place of the Third precinct of the Fifth ward, they were in line at four o'clock in the morning, the line extending down Fifth street to Caskill. Every one was elated, and displayed in a conspicuous manner the Republican

THE TOOLS OF THE DEMOCRACY.

THE TOOLS OF THE DEMOCRACY. It was at this poll, however, that Mayor Fox's police violated the law in the most flagrant manner, and by their conduct gave a further demonstration of the fact that they constitute a great political or-ganization in the service of the Democracy. Not-withstanding that the law requires officers to keep away from the polis and not to interfere with the right of any voter, and to appear at the scene only when summoned to assist in preserving order, they stood not only on each side of the window, to chal-lence a voter or to order him away as ineligible, but stood not only on each side of the window, to chal-lenge a voter or to order him away as ineligible, but stood directly in front of the window, so that no colored voter could deposit his ballot unless at the option of a policeman. Although the line of colored men had the right of way to the window, the policemen formed a second line com-posed of the "unterrified," and kept the former back until each Democrat had deposited his ticket. Here was political strategy. The total number of registered voters in this pre-cunct was $50, of whom $72 were colored and about 200 white Republicans. Under the most favorable circumstances, hardly one vote could be polled a 200 while Republicans. Under the most favorable circumstances, hardly one vote could be polled a minute, which would only admit of 600 for the entire day. As the colored men had the right of way to the window, the strategic leaders of the Democracy at once discovered that if they polled all their strength the "unterrified" would be sadly worsted. The police were then brought into requisition to break the line at the window, shove back the negroes, and shove ahead the Democrats, and when-ever a newly enfranchised man entered a demurrer to catch him by the scruif of the neck, and with an exclamation, "You — repeater," jerk him from the line. All this depreciated the Republican stock and correspondingly increased that of the opposition. Sam Josephs, Dave Nagie and Lieutenant Haggerty were here busy, and regarded, undoubtedly, the work of the officers as wisely strategic and com-mentable.

O'NEILL AHEAD.

O'NEILL AHEAD. In the First and Second precincts of the Seventh ward the colored vote was respectively 336 and 492. There were no disturbances, and the full strength of the Republican forces was gathered in. The colored men were everwhelmingly in favor of O'Neill. These precincts were at first regarded as strongly in favor of Creeley, but the aximul of the change of iceling will be found in the circular of the Democratic City Executive Committee commending Creely to the support of the Democratic voters, which gave to the colored men the lively impression that Creeley had compromised with the opposition. The vote on the squares was equally divided.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

At Eighth and Shippen streets is the poll of the Eighth division of the Fourth ward, the "Old Re-hable" of the Democratic host. This is "Mully's" ward, and perhaps in no habitable portion of the hold of the Fourth ward, there was no disturbance whatever. The colored voting population here is 120, and this, as in the Eighth division, was nearly 120, and this, as in the Eighth division, was nearly all in during the first hour. The colored line was formed early, but here the white men did not wait so long for the colored brethren, but went in with them to a greater or less extent. Policeman No. —, on duty at this place, on being interviewed, expressed great sorrow to see these "hulking nggers standing up in a line with white men, just as if they were as good as we are. It makes me sick," says Policeman No. —, "it does, indeed. If I were a Republican I'd turn right round and yote the Democratic ticket." In a -, "it does, indeed. If I were a Republican I'd turn right round and vote the Democratic ticket." In a neighboring gin mill another line could be seen where white and colored men were standing side by side taking their bitters. No one here ap-peared to think of the incongruity of the two races being in the same line. If it is all right in the one instance, why may it not be in the othe?

BILLY M'MULLIN WHIPPED.

"Mully," however, went too far. There was in the line a dusky freeman by the name of Taomas Hall. Mully grabbed him with, "Come out here, you — —. You're no voter !" Whereupon Hall made no verbal response, but drawing back a huge arm administered a smashing blow to Mully's face, which keeled Billy the Great upon the navement.

upon the pavement. Mally jumped up, struck out wildly with his left, and again was persuaded to return to dust by an equally forcible blow. Being, however, overpowered, Hall was captured and taken to the Fifth District Station. The effect of the skirmish was salutary, and thereafter no more disturbances consumed.

THE NOTORIOUS EIGHTH DIVISION OF THE FOUPTI WARD.

WARD. In this division, the abode of McMullin the Great, the election is passing off in much the usual way, with the accompaniments of a fight or similar trou-ble overy now and then by way of variety. The great Mc himself early in the day so far forgot him-self as to engage in a personal encounter with a gentleman of color, as narrated above.

In this division the colored voters voted early in the day, and by nine o'clock scarcely a colored man the day, and by fine o clock scarcely a colored main was to be seen at the window. A long line of colored men was formed immediately on the open-ing of the pcll and the heaviest colored vote was then cast, the whites waiting until their colored brethren got through. At this poll, as well as at all the others in the down-town wards, a large poster was placed in a conspicuous place, of which the following is a conv:

"Beware of the

COLORED REPEATERS!

They have been engaged to distranchise you. They hey are the ignorant tools of corrupt politicians." Considering the source from which this poster emanated, the remark about the tools of corrupt politicians is particularly good. The line "Vote early and often." being in the largest characters, and visi-ble at a distance, where the rest of the poster could be the read looked year much life a command. The hot be read, looked very much like a command. The total colored voting population in this division is 237, and this number was very nearly all is during the first hour. The stickers around this poil seemed to have been but little disturced, nearly every one voting a straight ticket on either one side or the other. The colored voters nearly all came prepared with their votes in their pocket, and did not depend upon what they might obtain at the polls. By this means they satisfied their own minds that the whole thing was right. With the exception of the aldermanic affair, there was but little fighting early in the day; but from present appearances, and judging from the rate at which old rye and the like was being imbibed, there which out ye and the first was being finited, there is a fair prospect of trouble before the day is well over. One little colored damsel, playing with a com-panion on a doorstep, was heard exultingly to re-mark that it was "going to be terrible to-night, Won't there be some fun, though?" Probably there will for those who like it. There were but few policemen at this poll. When they showed themselves, which was at long

When they showed themselves, which was at long intervals, they kept on the other side of the street. Perhaps they thought that there were enough friends already there to watch things, and that their presence was more meeded at other points, as indeed it was. At other down-town polls a good pollee force was in attendance during the entire morning. The vote up to 11 o'clock was a strong Democratic material which meets the server and washing majority, which was to be expected, and Washing-ton Square was the favorite site almost to a man. This, however, was the case in all the lower divi-

A WOMAN IN TROUBLE.

In the Third division of the Fifth ward a colored man was arrested, on the charge of voting twice. The officer who arrested him, on starting to take the man to the station, was assaulted by a colored woman, who collared the officer and attempted to rescue the man.

With the help of other officers both parties were taken in charge, and this woman was doubled up in a sheet and carried to the station. The officer whom the woman collared had his shirt severely damaged

At this division the colored line during the whole act this division the control the number of colored voters being so great. A white man here was the exception. They (the whites) are probably laying off, waiting for the colored men to get through, when they also intend to go in and perhaps win. They have had a pretty long wait.

The Twelfth Ward.

In most of the precincts of the above ward the vote is light compared with that of last year. Very little excitement prevails, and, indeed, both Demo-crats and Republicans manifest little activity. In the Fifth division there are about 65 colored voters registered. This morning 55 of Lem marched to the pole and deposited the straight Republican ticket, not a scratch among them. Although the vote is light the Republicans are, up to 11 A. M., doing well. Mr. Myers is receiving good support, and the Re-publicans expect to return for that candidate a fair majority. majority.

Contrary to general expectation, there was very little scratching done. Mr. Bunn has fallen very little behind his ticket, and the same is true of Messrs. Leeds and Lynd. Among the Democrats, William S. Price seems to be the favorite. Good order prevalled throughout the ward, there not being a single disturbance. In the vote for the site of the new public buildings Penn Square has a heavy majority.

The Fourteenth Ward.

The indications up to 12 o'clock to-day are that the vote of the above ward will be small, when the increased registration is taken into consideration. In the Sixth and Thirteenth precincts the balloting, In the Sixth and Thirteenth precincts the balloling, compared with last year, was very weak. In the Second division, however, in which section there are 140 colored voters, the Republicans, of course, made a very handsome advance on their Demo-cratic friends. A good vote is being polled for the Congressional candidates, and General Thomas is receiving much better support than was anticipated, but the balloting, so far, is not calcu-lated to affect materially the prospects of Judge Kelley. General Thomas is not receiving as many Democratic votes as he expected, and the cutting Democratic votes as he expected, and the cutting of Mr. Kelley by R-publicans has not been as ex-tensive as many were disposed to imagine. All the Republican candidates are receiving excellent sup-port. The utmost good order prevailed. The vote for the site of the new public buildings was about three to one in favor of Penn Square.

Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nine-teenth Wards. Up to noon to-day no disturbances of any note have occurred in the northeastern section of the city. The voting has progressed rapidly throughout the entire morning, and the hourly returns show an increased vote as compared with the last election. increased vote as compared with the last election. Considerable scratching is being done, principally in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth wards. This will materially affect the vote for Congressman, and Leonard Myers, it is said, will suffer thereby; but it will not change the complexion of the Third dis-trict. In the Seventeenth ward William M. Bunn, for Register of Wills, is receiving a large number of Democratic votes, and he, in return, it is alleged, is showering his favors in the interest of Michael Mullen for the Legislature. This arrangement was entered into some time since, and the wire-pullers for both of these candidates were working harmoniously this morning, and with beneficial results, as far as their men were concerned. In the Thirdenth Legislative district, comprising the Seventeenth and portions of men were concerned. In the Thirteenth Legislative district, comprising the Seventeenth and portions of other adjoining wards, there was every chance of the election of Mr. Dumbell, the Republican candidate, Mr Mullen being a strong independent candidate on the Democratic ticket against John Forsythe, the nominee of the Democratic party. It was expected that the "unterrified" of the Seventeentif would not allow the colored vote to be polled, but this morn-ing the "newly enfranchised," of whom there are sixty-three in the ward, were at their places in the line, depositing their ballots. All these voters reside in the Fourth division, and vote at the northeast corner of Second and Thompson streets.

Signs of a Riot in the Fifth Ward-The United States Marshal and the Mayor Suppress It in Embryo.

The excitement at Fifth and Lombard streets grew fast, and drew to that locality a great crowd of people. About ten o'clock in the morning an agree-ment between the Republican and Democratic leaders had been made, by which two lines of voters, one composed of colored voters and the other of Democratic, were formed, and the votes depositor alternately. Under this regime the colored men were grossly deceived, for the policemen and their unofficial alles would block the way to the window, by which coup d'etat they were successful in having about five Democratic votes cast to one Republican. The colored men objected to this outrageous pro-cedure, and were either silenced by threats of arrest or thrown from the line and hustled off. Many of the officers, the more completely to shield them-selves from after recognition, took their numbers from their hater and then common and without from their hats; and then commenced, without hindrance, a rule by force. When colored men asked for Republican tickets they would have Demo-cratic ones thrust into their hands, and if they tore them jup, which they almost invariably did, would be brow-beaten or maltreated. All this conduct, so openly violent and flagrant, added fuel to the flame of indignation, and by 12 o'clock the street was blocked with colored men and white, one class frenzied with excitement and smarting under the wrongs inflicted upon them, and the other doing what they could by taunts to heighten it. To such a pass had things come, that word was sent to the United States Marshal, General Gregory, to send relief. This the Marshal did, in company with Mayor Fox, and in a moment almost the scene changed. The oil of peace was poured upon the troubled waters. The riot was killed in embryo. The officers suddenly remembered the duties of their office, has tened from the immediate vicinage of the polls, cleared from the immediate violating of the point, cleared the street, and stood like guardian angels upon the curbs. Again the colored men had the opportunity of voting, and all things betokened that for the rest of the day, at least until the Marshal should leave, right would again have sway.

The Marines Ready for Ugly Work.

At 1 o'clook a force of marines, under command of Major Forney, arrived in front of the United States Marshal's office, and were there stationed up to the time we go to press. They will be called into the service should emergency require.

The Police Electioneering.

Prior to the visit of the Mayor, and the United States Marshal, the police were boldly electioneering the Democratic ticket, and they were condervor-ing the Democratic ticket, and they were endeavor-ing to purchase negro votes with a yellow ticket, on which was inscribed "Good for a drink." These had been fornished by the Democratic politicians, and were honored at any of the neighboring rum-mills,

The Marines at the Polls.

Some time after the marines were quartered in front of the Marshal's office, an order was issued, and in accordance with this, the squad was marched to the polis at Fifth and Lombard streets and they are now quartered in the immediate vicinity of the precinct house. A Balloon Voyage. Tours, Oct. 11.—Reynolds and May, two

Americans who escaped from Paris in a balloon

They corroborate the flattering report of the situation of affairs in Paris given by Gambetta.

Reynolds describes his voyage , and scenes and incidents on starting from the beleaguered city.

The members of the Government and a great crowd of people collected to witness their start.

In a few seconds from starting the balloons were over the Prussian lines, and were greeted with a sharp volley of musketry. The hissing of bullets was heard on all sides, and rockets

OBITUARY.

Cornellus Wendell.

Cornelius Wendell. Cornelius Wendell, who died at Northampton, Massachusetts on Saturday last, after a few weeks' liness, was, at the time of his decease, in the fifty-ninth year of his age. Born in Albany, he served his time as a printer in that city, in the office of the Argus. He subsequently became identified with that journal at the time when it was conducted by the Regency, and was one of the most powerful political organs in the State. He subsequently removed to Detroit, Mich., where he continued in business for a brief period. About twenty years since he, in connection with New York Stock and Money Market. About twenty years since he, in connection with Charles van Benthuysen, of Albany, under President Charles van Benthuysen, of Albaay, under President Polk's administration, was appointed Congressional printer, and also held the same position under the administrations of Pierce and Buchanan. Always an ardent and consistent member of the De-mocratic party, in 1860 he espoused the cause of Mr. Douglas and labored earnestly for his nomination. Disappointed in this, upon the election of Mr. Lincoln, he retired comparatively to election of Mr. Lincoln, he retired comparatively to private life. During the war he was a strong Union man, and in both public and private life threw his entire influence in favor of the North, believing as a matter of right that the Rebellion must be sup-pressed. Most of the latter years of Mr. Wendeli's life were passed in Washington, in which city he chaimed his residence. He continued to carry on the private states and the building now used as the were passed in washington, in which they need to carry on the printing business, and the building now used as the Government printing-office was designed by him and erected under his supervision. He was for a number of years connected with the Globe, not, however, with the editorial part of the paper, but in the business department. Never holding any public office, except the one mentioned, few men were more widely known than ar. Wendell. Not having received the benedit of an early education, but possessed of great natural shrewdness, he was entirely what is termed "a self-made man," earnest in his purposes, possessed of great industry and perseverance, with desided traits of character, but at the same time generous almost to a fault, always honest and reliable. As a political manager he achieved his greatest success, and his power was of that kind which is felt but not seen.

A Duci Declined. RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 11.—The difficulty between James Barbour, editor of the Enquirer, and Major James W. Walker, a member of the House of Delegates from Madison county, growing out of an as-sault made by the latter on the former on the train of the Chesspeake and Ohio on Saturday, terminated last night with a peremptory challenge from Mr. Barbour, which was declined this morning on the ground that the State constitution disfranchises participants in duels. Colonel John S. Mosby bore Mr. Barbour's message.

Mr. Shrigley announced that the President of the society, John William Wallace, Esq., would read his paper on the life and character of the late Rev. Dr. Dorr, in the Athenæum Hall, on Thursday evening, the 27th inst.

It is expected that Judge Pearson's paper will be read before the society early in December ensuing.

NUTTING IN THE PARK .- The committee to arrange for the nutting at the Park had a meeting last week. Arrangements have been made with the Reading Railroad Company to take the children from Seven-teenth and Willow streets and Richmond Station to the Park and return for seven cents each, the sam as last year. A sub-committee was appointed to procure badges and dags for the children to designate the sections and dags for the children to designate the sections to which they belong. The 21st inst. was named as the day for the nut-ting, and all the schools will be closed on that day, to enable all the children to participate in the sport. At the meeting of the committee, Mr. Cresson stated that the yield of nuts will not be as large this year as last, but it is expected the children will enjoy themselves otherwise than in gathering nuts. The committee, which is composed of members of the Board of Education and the Presidents of School Boards, will hold another meeting. Boards, will hold another meeting.

A PHILADELPHIA VESSEL ABANDONED.—The British brig Ruby, Captain Trapton, bound from this city to St. John, N. B., coal laden, has been aban-doned at sea. She was fallen in with on the Sth Virgo, from Savannah for the port of New York, and the crew taken there yesterday. As it was blow-ing heavily from north-northeast at the time the brig was fallen in with, but for the timely arrival of the Virgo the fate of the crew would soon have been decided, as the disabled craft was then in a sinking

Captain Trapton states that on the 5th, off Fire Island, he took a strong gale, which increased to the sth, during which his vessel was seriously damaged in rigging, etc., the sea making a clear breach over In rigging, etc., the sea making a clear orean over ber. In spite of the pumps being kept constantly at work, she made much water, and at noon became unmanageaole, and at 3 P. M. all were taken off by the stearner's life boat. Captain Trapton compli-ments Captain Bulkley, of the Virgo, and his officers and crew in bravely saving them from a watery grave and for their kindness while on board the steamer.

LARCENY CASE .- Patrick Carroll was arrested on Water street, above Chesnut, this morning, upon the charge of the larceny of a cheese from the store of Mr. Koons, No. 29 South Water street. Defendant was taken into custody by Special Officer Crout. He will have a hearing at the Central this afternoon.

THERE is quite a curiosity now on exhibition in the window of Bailey & Co., southeast corner of Twelfth and Chesnut streets, in the shape of the largest silver button ever cast in this country, or probably in the world. The weight of this piece of precious metal is 18,492 ounces, and its value $25,000.

CORONER'S CASE.—At an early hour this morning the Coroner was notified to hold an inquest at the First District Station upon the body of an infant found on the lot at Eighteenth and Catharine streets.
