

WINTER IN THE CLOUDS.

The Proposed Encampment on Mount Washington.

A correspondent of the Boston Journal writes from the White Mountain House, dated October 3:—

Professor C. H. Hitchcock and Professor J. H. Huntington were here on Friday and Saturday making further arrangements for the winter sojourn of the latter gentleman and his party on Mount Washington. The necessary supplies are all at the railway depot awaiting transportation up the mountain side. The railway company have generously offered to carry them up, and will resume the running of their cars for this purpose as soon as the new rails are laid at the lower end of the road. The supplies consist of eleven tons of coal, two stoves (one for cooking purposes), cooking utensils, provisions of various kinds in numberless barrels and boxes, a variety of scientific instruments, a small snow sled, show shoes, and such other articles as are indispensable for comfort and scientific investigation. Half a dozen or more trips up the mountain will be necessary to transport the supplies to their destination.

The party will consist certainly of three, and possibly four persons, and two of these, Professor Huntington and Mr. A. F. Clough, photographer, of Warren, N. H., have already fitted themselves for their severe task by a wintered residence on Moosilauke. Professor Huntington and his daring associates propose to go into their elevated winter quarters about the tenth of November. As the lessee of the Tip Top and Summit Houses objects to the occupation of either of those buildings for fear of their destruction by fire, the party have made up their mind to fix their residence near the new road depot, which, though less adapted to keeping out the cold than the other structures, can doubtless be made comparatively comfortable. It is proposed to partition off an apartment, and make it so far as possible impervious to the effects of the weather.

The results of the investigation to be carried out at the summit of Mount Washington, like those instituted last winter on Moosilauke, are likely to prove of much value to science in the way of affording new facts regarding barometrical and thermometrical variations, the velocity of winds, the philosophy of storms, etc. Observations will be made in regard to storms, in connection with the system now being organized under Government auspices, and arrangements are making to have all the investigations, in whatever direction made, as full and complete as possible. As the ordinary telegraph wires running up the mountain can be of little if of any use, a telegraphic cable will be used to communicate with the outside world.

Professor Hitchcock and his assistants have been carrying on their geological investigations in the mountain region and in the northern extremity of the State with great diligence for the past few years, and have made many interesting discoveries. Only a few days since, Professor Hitchcock discovered, in a bed of lime rock in Littleton, some fossil coral. This is the first discovery of the kind, we believe, ever made in the State, and it has an important bearing upon the geologic construction of the granite hills. A careful survey of the State is also making under Professor Hitchcock's direction, and a carefully prepared map of the mountain region, based on detailed and accurate surveys, will be issued in the spring. It will be on the scale of two and one-half miles to the inch, and uniformly with a map eventually to be published of the entire State.

A model of the White Mountains is also in preparation at Dartmouth College, under Professor Hitchcock's direction, the eastern section being, in fact, about completed. A large model will be kept at the college, and smaller copies will probably be furnished other institutions desiring them. Professor Huntington, as well as Professor Hitchcock, has spent much time in exploring the mountain region, and also the section of the State lying north of the mountains in the direction of Canada, often spending days and weeks in tracing out streams and notches, and in geological investigations. He has, doubtless, visited many spots in and about the mountains, where no white man—not even the deer-hunter, who scours the seemingly inaccessible parts of the country in the winter season for game—had ever been before him. He is, to appearance, the very man, of all others, to undertake the bold adventure of spending the winter upon the bleak summit of Mount Washington.

CITY ITEMS.

THE CITIZENS OF WASHINGTON will smile when they read the report of the census-taker and his report of the amount of stock, color, shape, and price of the Great Brown Stone Hall of Reckhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chesnut street. Read his report:—

STOCK. Higher than the mountain's peak, Deeper than the ocean's deep, Stronger than the rock-bound coast, More numerous than the Philistine host.

COLORS. Colors of every tint and hue, Purer than the azure blue, Indelible as time and space, The hottest sun can't them efface.

SIZES. We'll fit the lad from three to ten, And all between that age and men; They fit the crooked, fat, and lean, And all the shapes that come between.

PRICES. Cheaper than the common trash, Better than the haberdash That is sold around the town By Tom, and Dick, and Jack, and Brown.

85 CENT LADIES' VEST, 85 CENT LADIES' VEST, Is of superior make, slightly and warm. Many sell it for one dollar.

SEA Moss FABRIK from pure Irish Moss, for Blanc Mange, Puddings, Creams, Custards, etc. etc. The cheapest, healthiest, and most delicious food in the world.

A CROSS HUSBAND.—Mrs. Smith.—The fact is, my husband is becoming so outrageously cross and nervous that there is no living with him. He pretends one day that he has got the dyspepsia; the next day liver complaint; the next is sick, with no appetite—declares that there is nothing on the table fit to eat, and so on. It is all nonsense, and nothing but his confounded ugliness. From the verbiage of my heart, I believe he wants to worry me to death.

Lady Friend.—Mrs. Smith, I think you are wrong. No woman has a kinder or more indulgent husband than you. I must confess that I have noticed a change in Mr. Smith; but am inclined to think that all he wants is a tonic; and if I were you, I would not be a day without PLANTATION BITTERS in the house. Make him take them moderately three times a day, and in a short time I think you will see a change. My experience is that Plantation Bitters is one of the best and most delicious tonics in the world; and that for nervousness, loss of appetite, dyspepsia, and all kindred complaints, there is nothing so good.

AN IMPORTANT MEDICAL DISCOVERY.—The new process by which the French make the human body transparent has been discovered, or a similar process, by the celebrated Dr. Hassenpflug, so that he can examine the human body accurately and discover the precise nature of the disease. All cases wrapped in mystery should at once call on the Doctor at his office, No. 422 N. EIGHTH STREET, Philadelphia. He cures when others fail.

Goods intended for exhibition at the Georgia State Fair, to be held at Atlanta, commencing on the 19th instant, and passengers going in charge of the same, will be taken at a liberal reduction from regular rates. The fair will continue eight days. For further information, apply at the office of the Philadelphia and Southern Mail Steamship Company, No. 150 S. Third street.

FROM ALEX. N. DOUGHERTY, M. D., late one of the Medical Directors U. S. A., Newark, N. J.—"Having been made acquainted with the composition of the preparation known as SODONANT, I have for some time past permitted its use in my family, where it has given entire satisfaction. It is an elegant toilet article, well worthy of the encomiums it has received."
