LOCAL PREACHERS.

Vesterday Afternoon's Session. The session of yesterday afternoon was opened with prayer and singing. Rev. Mr. Tasker addressed the Convention in reference to the Methodist Home, after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

The Business Committee, to whom was referred certain resolutions, made a report recommending the adoption of the following resoluthe formation of District Associations of Local Preachers in every Presiding Elder's district throughout the bounds of the conferences.

Resolved, That we are of opinion, as woman was created as a help-meet for man, she should be employed to aid her brothers in every effort in which man is engaged to extend the knowledge of Christ throughout the world.

Considerable discussion then took place on the adoption of the report, in which Rev. Messrs. Cuttier, Fricket, Applegate, and others took part. Rev. Mr. Ingraham, in referring to the past work of local preachers, said that the Local Preachers' Association of this city had done a great and good work during the past season, hundreds of pulpits of the different religious denominations having been supplied by them. He hoped, therefore, the resolutions would be adopted.

The delegates from the Preachers' meeting at this juncture entered the church, and their chairman expressed the feelings of pleasure which were felt by the members in the proceed-ings of the Local Preachers' Association, and desired the future welfare of the body. He was responded to by the President of the association. who welcomed the delegates to seats in the convention

The resolution relating to female aid was then laid on the table, and that relating to the formation of district associations was unanimously adopted.

A resolution calling for the publication of the address of Bishop Simpson was presented and unanimously adopted.

A motion to lay on the table the resolution relating to the evangelizing the Indians was adopted.

Resolutions relating to the death of Rev. Richard Holt, and expressive of the deep feelings of sorrow felt by the members of the assoiation at the loss thus sustained, were presented by B. Schofield of Manayunk, and unanimously adopted. Prayer was then offered by J. Hefner, of Baltimore.

Rev. Dr. Holtz, of the New York American Bible Society, was introduced, and made an address in relation to the Bible cause.

A report was presented embracing the following questions:-How many times have you preached during the last quarter? Have you been the means of forming a Sabbath-school or schools within said quarter, either alone or with the assistance of others, and if any, what is their present condition? When you go to fill an appointment, do you pay as much attention to the Sabbath-school work, visiting the sick members' classes, if it is within your power? The report was adopted. Rev. C. Pierson, Chairman of the Finance Committee, presented a report showing a small balance in his hands. The report was adopted. Adjourned.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

The stated meeting of the Board of Trade was held last evening at their rooms, No. 503 Ches-nut street, Mr. J. C. Hand in the chair.

A communication was received from the American Artisans' College, stating they intended to establish a museum of the products of art and industry in this city, and asking the board to appoint a committee to neet at the college. Eighth and Buttonwood streets, to-morrow light. Referred to the Committee on American

Productions, with power to act. Mr. John Price Wetherill, from the Committee on Direct warrants Mr. Mann was at Elk river, it is said, on a fishing excursion, but upon hearing of the pro-ceedings he telegraphed to the Mayor that he would surrender himself by 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Prompt to his word, he appeared before the Mayor about the time designated and was in the custody of the law to answer the charges preferred against him. Immediately he was surrounded by a number of his professional friends, tendering him their aid, and from among these he chose as his counsel L. C. Cassidy, J. T. Pratt, C. H. T. Col-lis and Samuel C. Perkins, Esge. A writ of habeas corpus was at once obtained from Judge Allison, directed to Chief Mulholland, who had him in charge, and made returnable forthwith.

charge, and made returnable forthwith. The Court of Quarter Sessions had some time before adjourned, and the District Attorneys had to be sent for to watch the Commonwealth's inter-ests in the investigation about to be had. Mr. Mann was escorted into court by the Chief of Police, attended by counsel and followed by an immense throng, making the court-room, which was so recently deserted, densely packed by the excited multitude. At four o'clock, while the Co-roner was holding his inquest in regard to the death of Nolen, the hearing of Mr. Mann's case upon habeas corpus was begun by the court. The chief of police made return to the writ that he held Mr. Mann by virtue of the two watrants above mentioned, for the offence therein specified. The first witness called by the District Attorney was Charles M. Hurley, who said that during the sitting of the return judges last Thursday, in the Nisi Prius court-room, he was in the vestibule in front of the door, being there in the interest of a candidate in his district. Between twelve and two o'clock-he was not positive as to the precise time--Mr. Mann speared at the door in newer to a call o'clock-he was not positive as to the precise time-Mr. Mann appeared at the door in answer to a call from the board of judges, and demanded admission. from the board of judges, and demanded admission. John Ahern, who was standing there, insisted that he should wait for Mr. Cassidy, who had been sent for by the other side, saying that he had promised to wait. Mr. Mann said he had not so pro-mised, and intended to go in. Ahern said he had the same privilege, and would go in jif Mr. Mann did. Both became excited, and Mr. Mann went through the little room between the two court rooms, tried the door there, and then returned to the vestibule. At that time a man calling himself a return judge came up a man calling himseif a return judge came up and demanded admission; the door was opened, and Mr. Mann, thrusting the individual aside, pushed himself inside, followed by Ahern, who was jammed by the closing door; the witness was forced in by the pressure of the crowd, and then he saw parties beating Ahern about the head with blackjacks, as he was fastened in the door; he suc-ceeded in extricating himselt, and then the door was forced open and the crowd poured in; he says blackjacks and pistols were numerous; some of the blackjacks and pistols were numerous; some of the partics inside having a weapon in each hand; Crawford was standing in the jary-box, and Nolen was near the east end of the judges' bench; he heard Mr. Mann say to Crawford "Shoot, shoot," and, looking at him, saw him pointing toward Nolen; then he saw Crawford fire the shot, and saw Nolen fall; this witness said he saw nothing in Nolen; a hand a stall saw no blow struck and Nolen's hands at all; saw no blow struck, and nothing thrown; there were policemen standing on the stairways all the way up before the difficulty occurred.

Charles C. Wilson, who was present at the meeting of the return judges in the capacity of reporter, said he did not see Mr. Mann when the shot was fired, and did not he r him say anything to Craw-ford; he heard the word "shoot" attered, but could not tell by whom; he thought Ahern had in his band a piece of railing torn from the wall; when Nolen was endeavoring to enter the room three or four blows were struck at him; he saw several blackjacks, and remembered that when the shot was fired the man who held the railing dropped it was fired the man who held the railing dropped it like a hot potato; he was not very positive that Ahern was the man who held the railing. John J. Carlin, return judge of the Sixth ward, was next examined. According to him, Crawford was crossing the room followed by Nolen, and got into the jury-box, from which he fired the shot. Nolen was not doing anything at the time of the shot, nor was Mr. Mann heard to say anything. After the occurrence, Alderman McMullin said to Mr. Mann, "You told him to shoot;" and Mr. Mann said, "I did not; I told him to defend him-self."

J. Gordon Showacker, return judge of the Twen-J. Gordon Showacker, return judge of the Twen-tieth ward, said Crawford retreated, pursued by Nolen, and when he got into the jury box he called out, "Colonel Mann, shall I shoot?" and Mr. Mann replied, "Defend yoursef." After this Nolen picked up a heavy spittoon and threw it at Craw-tord, who dodged it, and it was broken into frag-ments against the wall. Crawford then took de-liberate aim and shot Nolen. He saw no black-jacks or pistols in the hands of the judges, but saw the doorkeepers using them on Ahern' head. Here the Commonwealth proposed to offer in evi-dence the dying declaration of John C. Nolen. The evidence necessary to its introduction proved that Alderman Colgan, who took the deposition, did not indite it as the language of the deceased, but he put interrogatories, and then took down what he understood to be Nolen's declaration. understood to be Nolen's declaration. After hearing counsel upon this point the Court ruled that the paper had not been established as the genuine dying declaration of Nolen, but simply as the Alderman's interpretation of it, and there-fore it could not be received in evidence. Alderman Colgan was then examined as to the verbal statements of the deceased, and testified that Nolen had said he thought he meedings that Nolen had said he thought he was dying, that Aleck Crawford had shot him, and that the shooting was induced by Wm. B. Mann, the late District Attorney. N. F. English, president of the Board of Return Judges, described the forcible entrance of the crowd into the room, and said that Crawford re-treated to the eastern end of the room, pursued by Nolen and several others. He was alone, and when he got near Mr. Mann he looked at him in an im-ploring manner and asked him something, and Mr. Mann said "Dafand" or "Protect mousel". Attorney ploring manner and asked him something, and Mr. Mann said "Defend," or "Protect yourself." At that time a man was standing near Mr. Mann, with a piece of railing in his hand; another was close by with a blackjack, and a third hurled a spittoon at Crawford, which missed him and struck the wall. Then Crawford fired the shot which killed Nolen. Nolen stooped, as if he expected Crawford to shoot. Mr. English saw a hand fastened in the door, with a pistol pointing inside, which Mr. Beitler, one of the judges, seized and turned toward a vacant corner. Mr. Beitler was examined and stated the facts as Mr. English gave them. He saw Ahern running about very much excited, begging somebody to give him a "pop." He did not see Mr. Maun point tohim a "pop." He did not see Mr. Mann point to-ward Nolen, but had he so pointed he would have seen him.

The Charges against the Rev. J. D. Fulton, of Beston-Explanation of the Accused.

of Besion - Explanation of the Accused. BOSTON, Oct. 16. - Tremont Temple was crowded at the morning service to-day, as it was generally supposed that Mr. Tilton and lager-beer would be among the subjects which the Rev. J. D. Fulton would consider. Before the sermon, he referred to those subjects, and said he had been to New York since Wednesday, and found that there was no Bos-ton merchant who could testify that he (Fulton) drank lager-beer in a Bowery saloon. Mr. Fulton said he found the so-called Boston merchant was a showman, and the charge was that he drank the beer during his college days, 15 years ago. This was not true of him in his college days. It was alleged to have occurred in Dr. Armitage's church, and Dr. Armitage testified that he (Fulton) was never in his church till two years ago. In the course of his prayer Mr. Fulton referred to the matter several times, and prayed most earnestly

In the course of his prayer Mr. Fulton referred to the matter soveral times, and prayed most carnestly for his chemics, and asked especial blessings on Mr. Tilton and the showman. He announced that in the evening he should treat the matter at length, and by 7% o'clock the temple was packed by 2500 people, several hundred being unable to gain ad-mittance. His subject was 'Christian Temperance," and when he had concluded he areas referred to the and when he had concluded he again referred to the lager beer story, and said a statement was due to himself, his church, and the public. He first read the letter purporting to have been written by him-self concerning Mr. Tilton, Mr. Thton's statement, and his own denial, and then spoke substantially as OWE :-

Personally I intended to leave it there, but some of my brethren and friends thought differently. I never preached but once for Dr. Armitage, and that was two years ago, on my return from Europe, when I was accompanied to and from the church by some of the brethren of this church. They said my ac-cuser must prove his statement. Since Monday morning, when the statement was first published. have received numerous letters from all sections of the country, from ministers of different denominations, telling me that Christ and his cause called upon me to disprove the charge. My brethren started the libel suit, and not myself, on Thursday evening. When the papers said a Boston merchant would prove the slaten ent, a mutual friend came to me and said Mr. Tilton evidently believed it, and thought it would be best for me to go on and see Mr. Tilton.

followed his advice, and went, in company with the Rev. Drs. Taylor, Cuyler, and Simmons, and asked to see the Boston merchant. Mr. Tilton sent for him, but as he did not come, Mr. Tilton went to the Independent office, and there saw him. I had known him at the University in Michigan, and had seen bim once since as a showman in Crystal Palace in New York showing a California tree. I asked him if I had the reputation of being a temperance man at the University. He said "Yes." I asked him if I did not aid a man who drank, took him to my room, and tried to reform him-and he him to my room, and tried to reform him-and he said "Yes." The time alleged was back in 1865, when I lived in St. Louis, and was unmarried. I said to him, "Do you say I went and preached in Dr. Armitage's Church, and went from there with you to a Bowery saloon and drank nine or ten glasses of lager-beer with you?" "No," he replied, "I said several; that statement and some others in the Tribune were incorrect." others in the Tribune were incorrect." "Do you claim that I went into a lager-beer saloon?" "I do." "Will you permit me to send for Dr. Armitage, to assure you that I never preached in his church till two years ago?" "No," he re-marked, "I only said it in fun." I then said, "I charge you with being a false witness to an old col-lege friend." Turning to Mr. Tilton, I said, "There will be no libel suit; I will not have my society turn aside from its work to follow the statement of this man."

I subsequently met Mr. Tilton with Drs. Taylor and Simmons, and endeavored in vain to have him retract. I said I should go home and lay the matter retract. I said I should go home and lay the matter before my congregation, and should pray God that right may preval, whatever the consequences. There is a man on this platform who came for me, when I was in Albany, to come here. The resolu-tion was formed at his house to prosecute this thing until the charge was retracted. I leave it with the American people, and call upon my brother George N. Chipman to close in prayer.

Importation, presented a report setting forth, in response to a communication of Mr. Pultze, a merchant of No. 17 Bank street, Philadelphia, complaining of certain grievances, that on obtaining a copy of the intructions of the Secretary of the Treasury for the guidance of custom-house officials, under the law of July 14, 1870, the Secretary therein appears to be disposed to give the provisions of that law a fair and liberal interpretation.

The committee refer to the following as the steps necessary to be taken by the Philadelphia importer who desires to avail himself of that mode of importation: --First. He is to present his involce to the Collector of the Port of Philadelphia, and upon it to make an entry of merchandise named for immediate transportation from the port of arrival and this, and give bond that the same shall be forthwith put in transition.

Second. The collector to forward this bond. approved and certified by the collector of this port, to the collector of the port of arrival, upon whom it is made obligatory immediately to issue a permit, to be countersigned by the naval officer, directing the inspector in charge of the vessel to deliver the merchandise to an inspector having the proper supervision, to be transferred directly from the importing vessel to the bonded vessel or railroad car designated in the entry.

The committee say they regret that although the provisions of the law and the directions of Secretary prescribe for the carriers who shall propose to bond their lines between New York and Philadelphia the same conditions have been obligated on the lines crossing Maine from Portland and Canada since 1866, geographical difficulties render it necessary over the principal line between here and New York a transshipment at Amboy, has prevented the bonding of any transportation line between here and New York up to the present time, and large quantities of merchandise have from this cause had to come through the New York Custom House. The committee believe the difficulty can be obviated, and ask that they be continued with the addition of four other members. The report was agreed to, and the following gentle men appointed on the committee :- Messrs. William F. Reed, Edward Johnson, Thomas Ashwood, and Edward Lafourcade.

Mr. J. C. Grubb presented the following:-Resolved, That a new department of govern-ment, having for its functions the cognizance of all matters relating to foreign and domestic trade and navigation, is, in the opinion of this board, worthy of continued effort for its esta-blishment by the National Board of Trade, which was adopted after being discussed by Messrs. Grubb, Wetherill, and Durborow.

Mr. Grubb also presented the following Resolved, That the National Board of Trade be requested to renew its efforts for the common abandonment of all restrictions on internal domestic trade, and all laws discriminating ogainst non-resident traders and agents, whether enacted by State or municipal authority. Adopted. Mr. Frederick Fraley presented the following: Resolved, That the National Board of Trade be requested to take measures for securing uniformity in the levying of duties on imports in the several collection districts of the United

Mr. Fraley explained the purpose of the reso-fution and showed its necessity, giving examples illustrative of the case. He was listened to with much attention, and the resolution was adopted. Mr. T. Morris Perot made an interesting statement as to railroad discrimination recently brought about through the endeavors of the Penesylvania Railread. Messrs. Washington Butcher, Israel W. Morris. and James Dougherty were announced as the Committee of the Month, and on motion the Board adjourged.

THE CASE OF COLONES MANN.

His Case in the Court-He is Discharged His Case in the Court-Hels Discharged. Yesterday two warrants were issued by the Mayor, one on the oath of Lieut. John Curly, for the ar-rest of William B. Mann, William McMullen and John Ahern, on the charge of inciting to riot at the meeting of the return judges, on Thursday last, ard the other on the oath of John C. Noles, con-tained in his dying declaration, charging Mr. Mann with having induced alexander Grawford to shoot him (Noles). At the time of the issuing of these legal responsibility for his conduct on the occasion inquired of. He hardly thought the District Attor-neys would, upon this evidence, ask that Mr. Mann could be held to answer for anything. If they did make such a demand he would reply to it. Mr. Sheppard said this case was to be treated ex-actly as other cases, and no matter who were the parties concerned, it was to be treated as other hearings upon habeas corpus. He simply desired to perform an official duty here; nay, he did not desire but was bound to do it. Now this investigation was not a trial of the question of guilt or innocence, but simply an inquiry to ascertain whether there was a prima facie case established fit for a matti jury. He had examined parties upon all sides. He thought had examined parties upon all sides. He thought there was proof of a riot, proof of a killing, and proof of the defendant's presence at and participation in the occurrence of that day; and there was evidence which, if believed, would warrant a conviction, and this was all that was necessary to be established. This being a most important case, he was bound to say he thought it should be sent to a petit jury, and is saying this he said no more than his duty as an officer of the State constrained him to say. Mr. Cassidy said that the proposition of the Com-monwealth was that its Judge should believe two witnesses who swear to one state of facts, and dis-believe eight who swear to another. This was to believe eight who swear to another. This was to stultify the common sense and the conscience of the Judge. The Judge was to decide this matter by the proof, and that showed William B. Mann to have been guilty of no offence known to the law of the land. of the land

Mr. Mann was there lawfully, at the call of the board of return judges, and no one had the right to hinder him; in fact, all those who opposed him were liable to an action for assault and battery. Being there by lawful authority, no act of his sup-ported the allegation of inciting to riot. Then as to the killing, was not Crawford proven to have been pursued to the wall by Nolen? and then, when his life was in the most imminent peril, he appealed to Mr. Mann and received that advice which the law of the land gave him, that he had a right to defend himself. He was not to be indicted as accomplice in a murder, for uttering that which was taught in every law book in the land. Mr. Mann asked for no favor in this matter, but simply asked to be judged fairly and calmly. [Judge Allison in desiding the case said he agreed with the District Attorney that where in a prelim-inary hearing there was a conflict of testimony, reinary hearing there was a conflict of testimony, re-quiring in the mind of the judge the case to be sent to a jury, the relator should be remanded, but not where there was no such conflict. And in a hearing upon habeas corpus the guilt or innocence of the defendant was not to be tried, but simply whether upon the whole testimony a prima facie case is established. He did not see how the charge of riot or inciting to riot was sustained; as well might the same charge be made where a man forces his way into his own home. But as the matter stood before the Court there was not the shadow of such a charge made out. In regard to the other charge of acces-sary to the killing of Nolen, the case was the same, and if the case were sent to a jury the Court would feel obliged to say a conviction upon this testimony could not be sustained; he therefore discharged the relator.

condemns the provisional government for not im-mediately repressing the movement. Cornuschi, the celebrated Italian banker, has been proposed as the successor of Roland, as Governor of the Bank of France.

The archbishop of Tours publishes a denial of the statement, in the Tours correspondence of the London Daily News, that he went to meet Gari-dbaldi. The Archbishop says he considers Garibaldi an adversary of the Church, and he refused to meet him officially.

The Moniteur publishes a singular report made by Rouher, in 1867, on persons whose names had been suggested in connection with the Ministry of the Interior. Another report, found in the Tuilleries, speaks plainly with regard to Haussman, Pietre, speaks plainly with regard to Haussman, Pietre, Magne and other prominent men of the Empire. LONDON, Oct. 17.—The correspondent of the New York Herald at Tours writes that there is a great lace of arms. After the loss of 200,000 stand at Sedan, the government sent to England to purchase as many rilles as possible. They obtained some, but nothing like the number aaticipated. The French agents at Birmingham found that the Prussian au-thorities had advanced large sums to secure nearly all the stock in the gun trade. France now offers all the stock in the gun trade. France now offers to buy any number of rifles in America at 250 francs each, delivered in a French port.

francs each, delivered in a French port. Late advices from South America show that a re-volutionary crisis was impending at Montevideo. The government troops had been driven into Retz, and the town was invested by the rabels. Monte-video was distracted by factions. The "red" gov-ernment was expected to resign, as popular sym-pathy had declared itself unmistakably for the white nerty. bite party. Franc-tireurs near Epinal, on the 13th, checked an advance of the Prussians on the lath, checked an advance of the Prussians in that direction in an engagement which lasted three hours. A squad of thirty uhlans was repulsed by franc-tireurs at Laureat d'Eaux, on the left bank of the Loire. There is reason to believe that the army which captured Soissons, 22,000 strong, will attack other strong places in northern France.

A balloon from Paris, with a quarter of a ton of letters, has fallen at Namur, and another alighted at Valenciennes with two hundred pounds of correspondence.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 17 .- The report that General Boyer has left Metz for Versailles to negotiate for the surrender of the fortress is considered authentic here. The rumor that negotiations are pending for peace on the basis of the cession of Alsace and Luxemburg to Prussia is also believed to be well founded, and it is stated that another interview between Bismarck and Favre to that end will soon be held. LONDON, Oct. 17.- The capture of Solssons opens a second railway route to Paris, and the Prussians will put it to use at once. The other line only reaches Meaux. The absence of power in the garrison of Paris to act on the offensive becomes daily more evident. No sorties have been made since September 30. The Prussians have not yet opened with their artillery, while the Frenchmen fire incessantly. Kern, the Swiss ambassador, has informed his

A letter to the New York Herald from Rome, dated the 12th inst., says, Transtenere, a quarter adjoining Leonne eity, was the scene of a deplorable disaster on Saturday. A peasant from Cagarola willage, drunk or mad, ran against all the priests he met, shouting "vengeance," and brandlehing a dagger. He stabbed three priests, one dangerously. He was secured by gen d'arms and will be punished with the full rigor of the law.
Loxnox, Oct. 17.—[Special to the New York World.]-Garibaldi was yesterday received at Besancon with immense enthuslasm. He reviewed a large force of Gardes Mobile, Gardes Nationale and franc-tireurs. He made the following satimated address, which was responded to with extreme ardor by the troops and the people.
"Soldiers of free France, I see In your gallant battalions the nucleus of an army of the United States of Europe—the arms to-day for the last time. The monarchies of the old world are condemned. They are in arms to-day for the last time. The monarchy in Europe fiel at Sedan, and is dying forever before Paris. I see among you not Frenchmen only, but men. In your ranks are American youncers, the soldiery of Washington and Lin.colo.
