—A meeting of property-owners on Coates street was held yesterday afternoon, at the southeast corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Coates street, for the purpose of taking some action in regard to the blockade of the entrance to the park at Coates street, and also to consider the means whereby the value of property situate on the line of the street has been decreased. Mr. Samuel Forder pre-sided, and Samuel W. Raudall acted in the capacity of secretary. Mr. Randall read the following communication, which he had submitted for the approval of the meeting before presenting the same: -

PHILADELPHIA, October 24, 1870.—Hon, Morton McMichael, President Park Commission — Sir:— At a meeting of citizens held at the southeast corner Coates street and Pennsylvania avenue, on Saturday, October 8, 1870, a committee was appointed to confer with your commission relative to its views as regards the opening of the Coates street entrance to the park; also, as to the removal of the railroad depot from within the limits of the park. In accordance with their duty, the said committee would most respectfully offer the following questions for your

First. Is the Coates street entrance to the park to be entirely closed for travel for light wagons and ther vehicles? Second. Are the unsightly sheds used as a car

Third. Is it the intention of the commission to allow private corporations to lay railway tracks within the limits of the park and run their cars

In conclusion, said committee would most respectfully ask an interview with your honorable body at its next meeting to obtain answers to the above

-Last night there was a another beautiful display of the auroral lights. It began at about six o'clock, and formed two archesone (of the usual pale opaque light) across the northern horizon, and the other (of the deepest crimson) across the middle sky, just south of the zenith. A remarkable feature was the emission, as if from a separate aurora from a point in the east, of pale spears of light along the path of the crimson belt. The aurora lost brilliancy soon after nine o'clock, the northern arch alone remaining. About midnight, however, the spears and undulations of light again shot upward, and the beautiful phenomenon was renewed, its colors being brighter, but more delicate in tone. The telegraph wires between this city and Harrisburg were operated without batteries during the electrical storm.

THE WAR.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

ENGLAND'S PEACE EFFORTS-OPINIONS OF FRENCH NEWSPAPERS-GAMBETTA AND TROCHU-THE OCCUPATION OF ORLEANS-ALL QUIET AT PARIS -THE SOISSONS AFFAIR.

Some of the journals give particulars of the alleged massacre of the French garrison which recently capitulated at Soissons. According to the journals, the soldiers were all shot in the woods near that city, butchered in cold blood. The Government has faith enough in the story to make it the subject of an official inquiry, with a view to retaliation.

A despatch from Rouen yesterday has the following: "At Ivry, in the department of Eure, the entire population, men and women, have arisen against the Prussians. A desperate struggle had occurred there with heavy losses on both sides."

The Prussians are concentrating at Gisors.
The following news is made public by the ministry:

try:
The Prussians, while preparing to besiege La
Ferte St. Aubin, suddenly retreated, leaving behind all their utensils and quantities of stores.
They went toward Laon. It is said a messenger They went toward Laon. It is said a messenger arrived in the German camp, and the intelligence he carried caused their sudden departure.

It is also reported that the Prussians suffered defeat with heavy loss at a point in the neighborhood of La Ferte, and the troops were hastily withdrawn to reinforce their beaten army.

News from Paris to the 18th inst. refers generally to the preparations making for offensive move-ments on a large scale, but no particulars are given for fear the intelligence may be of service to the Pourtalis, editor of La Verile, has been impris-oned for publishing talse news. It appears from an explanatory letter in that paper that it was Cheva-lier Wyckoff who farmished notes for the report for lier Wyckoff who furnished notes for the report for which Pourtalis was punished.

The Figaro gives details of the affair of Maguerite Bellanger, proving that she assumed the maternity of the child of a great lady and the Emperor, to calm the jealousy of the Empress, and that Monsieur Devienne was involved in the affair.

The publication of private documents found in the Tuileries contain letters from Clement Duvernois to Oliviar clearly stabilishing the liberal nois to Olivier, clearly sstablishing the liberal views of the former, who makes the remark, while urging reform, that France is enervated as a man would be who drinks coffee and spirits without eating substantial food.

Private as well as official accounts praise Gen. Trochu for his good judgment and unremitting activity. His energy provides for everything. His popularity is unbounded. Paris feels the utmost confidence in his patriotism and ability.

The Journal Official says all parties accord praise to Minister Gambetta for what he has accom-plished, and adds: Since his arrival in Tours he has organized armies, restored military discipline, aroused the public to the necessities and dangers of the situation, hastened armaments, settled many dissensions, made judicious appointments, and worked constantly, and a more confident tone is noticeable in the journals and the public in consequence of the manifest improvement of affairs brought about by his vigorous administration.

News has been received from Verdun that the garrisoff made a sortie, in which they drove the enemy from some of their positions, killing many and capturing two mortars and twenty-two can-

Advices from the invaded provinces show that the Prussians continue to shoot Francs-tireurs who fall into their hands.

BESANCON, Oct. 23, via Tours, Oct. 24.—General Cambriel's dispatches to the government state that the Prussians have again attacked Chatillon-le-Duc, where they were repulsed the day before. At night they retreated. We hold the position. We have taken many prisoners.

The bombardment of Schlettstadt commenced Tuesday, the 18th. Some houses have been burned

La France newspaper says England was not solicited again by France, whose application she at first refused. France asks not for an armistice and has not authorized England to ask for one. Since the failure of Favre, France has thought only of organizing for defence. Whatever motive she may have, England must see that we are determined, have. England must see that we are determined, she must notice the mustering of our Mobile Guards and the spirit of Paris, Lyons and other large cities. As England now proposes an armistice, it must be because she understands that proposals will be made that we may accept.

The Sizele more violently refuses to admit the good intentions of England, and believes that she is acting salely for Prussia, who at last finds that she has undertaken an impossible task. England is advised to tell Prussia to make the most reasonable demands, else war a la outrance will be the only result.

The Gazette de France speaks to the same effect, and the Union has no confidence in the present and the Union has no confidence in the present move of England.

It is reported here to-day, in explanation of the visit of Boyer to the King of Prussla, that offers of peace were made to Bazaine, and he was invited to send an emissary to Versailies.

People in official circles here dwell on the circumstance that the present move of England follows close upon the circular in which Bismarck affects such concern lest the Parislans may suffer the horror of famine, and they declare France must | regular barges, light, left this port yesterday for Balact with courage and determination now; she must | timore. act with courage and determination now; she must accept no humiliating conditions.

Some apprehension is expressed by persons con-nected with the government here, that Paris will refuse any peace the terms of which do not provide for the withdrawal of all Prussians from France. Orleans is now occupied by 25,000 Prussians, with sixty pieces of artillery. The enemy have made fresh requisitions on the city. The Government carefully avoids giving information of the French forces on the Loire, but it may be stated that they are in motion, and the result will soon be known.

London, Oct. 24.—At Luxemburg a permanent committee has been constituted to defend the neutrality of the Duchy. The population is indignant at the willingness of the Tours government to cede the Duchy to Prussia instead of Lorraine.

There are rumors here that conditions of peace have been arranged between Marshal Bazaine and

King William, by which it is stipulated that the Empress Eugenie, who has given her consent, shall go to Versailles and sign the treaty, as the representative of the only government recognized by

LONDON, Oct. 24—[Special Despatch to the New York Herald.]—Ex-Queen Christina of Spain and her husband, the Duke of Rianzares, are in London, and have paid a visit to James Mac Hewen. Prince and Princess Murat and Princess Caroline are also

It is stated under good authority that the movement of England for an armistice was induced by apprehension of ulterior designs on the part of Russia and Prussia to form a close alliance. The fact that Russia is quietly and effectively arming is well known despite her official denials. England begins to see that the utter prostration France would deprive her of the only strong ally to be depended on for the frustration of Russia's political scheme in the east. An uneasy feeling prevails in financial circles. It is anticipated that should the efforts of England fail, she will adopt other stronger measures to secure a cessation adopt other stronger measures to secure a cessation of the war.

London, Oct. 24—[Special to the New York Tribune.]—There is authority for stating that the negotiations thus far are proceeding satisfactority. Granville proposed a meeting between Thiers and Bismarck, and both assented. Bismarck sent Thiers safe conduct, but no basis has as yet been suggested. Granville expresses himself gratified with the manner in which his overtures have been received at all hands by other pentral powers as well as by at all hands by other neutral powers as well as by the belligerents, but to-day, as yesterday, avoids expressing any confidence of their success. Nothing

London, Oct. 24.—[Special to N. Y. World.]— Greevy, as spokesman of sixty noted Republicans, made an appeal to Gambetta at Tours, on Friday, in favor of peace. He said: "We shall not be likely to obtain, a month hence, better terms than are now extended to us. In a month hence thousands more will have perished; France will be completely ruined; it will be more difficult for her to find auxiliaries in Europe, and we must not de-ceive ourselves by supposing that an actual gov-ernment is at all likely to be recognized." This appeal was received respectfully by the govern-ment, but produced not the slightest effect either upon the ministers or the public.

On the 20th the bombardment of Dijon began, with no results of importance so far.

It is now generally announced in the German camps that the bombardment of Paris is fixed to begin the first of November; that 134 slege guns are already with the army before Paris, and 20 more were expected on the 20th. An or er has been issued from the German headquarters commanding all German princes and nobles who are hanging about the army drawing pay and rations, and occupying quarters, to report for military duty at once or go home. BRUSSELS, Oct. 24.—Although the truce at Me-St. Quentin, Oct. 24.—This city was evacuated yesterday. The siege of La Fere has been also abandoned, the corps of the Duke of Mecklenburg returning to Paris.

The mutiny among the Soissons prisoners re-sulted in bloodshed. Seven mobiles were killed and
