

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

Mr. J. S. Clarke as "Jeremiah Beetle." Mr. Tom Taylor has tried his hand at nearly everything in the way of play-writing—tragedy, comedy, farce, melodrama, and nondescript sensationalism—but he has seldom, if ever, produced anything better in his way than the lively little three-act comedy upon the theme of "The Babes in the Wood" which was represented to a crowded house last night at the Walnut. The misadventures of the young runaway couple, whose innocence and inexperience make them genuine babes in the wood when they find themselves disowned by their relatives and cast upon the tender mercies of lodging-house-keepers, pawnbrokers, and discounters of bills, are conceived in the true comedy spirit, while in "Jeremiah Beetle," the hepecked husband of the elderly female with rooms to let, there is a full-length comic figure that affords an actor like Mr. Clarke ample opportunities to create an indelible amount of innocent laughter. "Jeremiah Beetle," in some respects, resembles "Henry Dove," but there is a difference, as "Beetle" is, in his proper sphere of life, the hepecked factotum of a lodging-house, and his eccentricities are as much in keeping with his surroundings as those of "Mr. Dove" are opposed to them. Mr. Clarke's personation of this character, whom adverse fate has made the guardian angel of the babes in the wood, is infinitely amusing, and throughout the three acts of the play last night the audience was kept in a roar of laughter. Mr. Clarke has improved much during his absence from this city, and while his acting is as broadly farcical as it ever was, he shows a greater appreciation of the finer elements of comedy than he was wont to do. Always an immense favorite in this city, the crowds that are now filling the Walnut every night prove not only that he has maintained his hold upon the regards of the public, but that he is appreciated to an even greater extent than at former times. Mr. Clarke has done a genuine service to dramatic art by proving that low comedy can be funny without being coarse, and for any one afflicted with the blue devils no better prescription can be given than a visit to the Walnut to witness one of his laughable personations. Independently of Mr. Clarke "The Babes in the Wood" was very cleverly acted last evening. Mr. and Mrs. Walcott making excellent representatives of "Frank Rushton" and "Lady Blanche" in the question.

The City Amusements. At THE WALNUT this evening Mr. John S. Clarke will personate "Jeremiah Beetle" and "Timothy Toodles." To-morrow evening Mr. Clarke will have a benefit, when he will appear as "Jack Humphries" and "General Jocko" in Poole's comedy of "Turn of Mind." At THE ARCH the comedy of "M. P." will be represented this evening. This play will be withdrawn after the present week, and on Monday a new comedy, entitled "The Two Roses," will be produced. At THE CHESTNUT the burlesque of "Ernani" will be performed this evening. On Monday Madlle Janansek will commence an engagement of English tragedy, during which she will appear as "Mary Stuart," "Deborah," "Lady Macbeth," and other tragic characters. At THE AMERICAN the French Athletes will appear this evening in conjunction with other attractions. At THE ELEVENTH STREET OPERA HOUSE burlesques, songs, dances, and Ethiopian eccentricities will be performed this evening. At THE ARCH STREET OPERA HOUSE an amusing variety of burnt-cork comicallies will be presented this evening. At DUPREZ & BENEDICT'S OPERA HOUSE Mr. Andrew Redifer, supported by Miss Susie Schenck, will appear this evening in "Charles II" and the farce of "Judy Baker." At the Grand Opera House a combined managerie and circus will exhibit this afternoon and evening at the corner of Broad and Wallace streets. The following, from the Weekly Times, is strong evidence of the manner the Londoners received our Philadelphia favorite: "Mr. John S. Clarke who has personated Major Wellington de Boos has been a source of intense amusement to playgoers for some months, and has just appeared in a new piece with most remarkable success. It is seldom an audience are so interrupted and continuously pleased. At the first scene laughter commences, and never ceases until the curtain falls, and scarcely then. The piece is full of whimsicalities, quaint sayings, odd expressions, and funny ideas; and the part Mr. Clarke exacts will become as celebrated as any of modern times, and the new comedy, for so goodly will retain its place in the Strand for some hundred nights to come. Although the piece is extravagant in its nature, it gives opportunities for fine acting, and nothing better or more humorous than Mr. Clarke's performance has been seen for some time."

THE GREAT WHISKY ESTABLISHMENT OF THIS CITY.—H. M. DALY'S great whisky warehouses are located at No. 322 South Front Street and No. 139 DOCK Street. The building, which is probably the largest of its kind in the United States, is five stories high, and runs through from Front to Dock street, a distance of at least 315 feet. Whiskies of the rarest and purest brands are stored on every floor of this huge structure, and the secker after the genuine article can there find Bourbon of old date, wheat ditto, and that champion of all whiskies, the Golden Wedding. It is of some importance to the liquor merchants of this and other cities to know that Mr. DALY'S stock embraces the productions of the celebrated distilleries belonging to Thomas Moore & Son, Joseph S. Finch & Co., and Thomas Moore. Their whiskies are always made from the best grains, double copper distilled and put up in season, heavily-charcoal, iron-bound barrels. As agent, therefore, of these well-known firms, Mr. DALY justly claims that he can supply the trade with the finest whisky in the market, and in the original packages as received direct from the manufacturers. This he will vouch for, and this is a point which deserves the notice of all purchasers. 9 12th St.

CIRCULAR TO THE LADIES. FRENCH DRESS FABRICS. Although both Great Britain and Germany furnish this country with a very large amount of Dress Textures, nearly all the finest and most fashionable are of French manufacture, and hence a great scarcity of French goods, owing to the war, was anticipated early in the season. All the French goods that can possibly reach us this season are now here, and after a careful examination of the market we find that although the BULK is not quite so small as we expected, yet, to a considerable extent, it is made up of large INDISCRIMINATE purchases of UNRELIABLE MAKES, which would not have found a market here had it not been for the anticipated deficiency. This is more particularly the case in the article of BLACK SILKS. We, therefore, advise particular care to purchasers in the selection of these goods. In Fine Worsted and Woollen Dress Goods there will be a DECIDED SCARCITY, and we would invite an early examination of our stock while it is replete in the most recherche textures we have ever imported, and CAN NOT BE DUPLICATED. Our BLACK SILK STOCK contains nothing but the most CELEBRATED and RELIABLE of Lyons makes.
